Now the great danger is, while nourishing

CELAGA, MEX., Oct. 30 .- The town of San Juan was the scene last night of a blood; battle between 12 brigands under the leader laws are not brought into the physical world. Christ is dethroned by a refusal to obey His laws. When we try to bring the laws of Christ to bear on the temporal affairs of the church we are told by men of worldly wisdom that is all very fine in theory, but it is not business. Business means making money, and that is not the mission of the church.

"The trouble is that speakers are too frequently content to draw men to themselves rather than to Christ. Any one of a thousand tricks of oratory may do that, but only one thing will win souls to Christ. The world knows well enough that only the pure in heart see God. The nine other brigands returned the fire, and a pitched battle ensued, the outlaws fighting their way through the ranks of the soldiers. Six of them escaped and three were captured alive. Rev. Dr. Moffatt, President of Washington and Jefferson College, preached yesterday in the First Presbyterian Church. He took his text from I. Peter iii.;15. His discourse was an eloquent plea for consistency among Christians in their daily life. He said they should be firm in their faith, and by their deeds show that they were Christians in heart as well as in name. There are more followers of Christ, who live up to the standard of faith than get credit for it; but there are also many who use the name to shield them in their wicked ways.

He went on to show that a man to be a true Christain ought first to know why he embraced his belief, and secondly that he should be able to give some reason for tak-ing the position. Christianity was not de-rendent upon any form of surrestition or to Help Their School. The second lecture by Rev. J. Whitehead was delivered last evening at the New Jerusalem Church, Allegheny. The subject are given to teach men not of natural but of spiritual things; that creation means the new creation of man or his regeneration, and does not mean the creation of the natural world in six days of 24 hours each. A sketch of the literal interpretation of creation in six days was given, in which the lecturer showed that the various methods of explaining the narrative to agree with the facts of geology were untenable. Light, he said, could not exist before the sun, the origin of light. Prof. Guyot's explanation that it came from the incandescent atmo-

was "The Six Days of Creation." He pre-sented the idea that the Sacred Scriptures that it came from the incandescent atmosphere of the earth was untenable, for if the whole atmosphere gave forth light, evening, night and darkness could not exist. The theory of the origin of the earth, according to the doctrine of evolution and the nebular hypothesis, gave no ndequate cause for all the power and wonderful wisdom displayed in the universe, for a diffused, chaotic mist, or cosmic dust could not produce something emerica to itself. or cosmic dust could not produce something superior to itself.

The spiritual exposition of Genesis 1. showed that it treats of the regeneration of man, which is a new creation, the supreme and highest work of God, by which man during his life in the natural world is prepared for life to eternity in the heavens. By showing that the Word treats of spiritual things even where it appears in the letter to treat only of natural things, the Word is shown to be inspired, containing a spiritual sense within the letter, thus vindicating it as the Word of God, infinitely superior to any mere human writing. The Garden of Eden will be the next subject.
