

GROVER SPEAKS AGAIN

He Addresses the Democratic Business Men in New York

ON THE TARIFF ISSUE ALONE

Not One Word Says He About the Force Bill or Wildcat Banking.

SEVERAL OTHER QUESTIONS IGNORED

New York, Nov. 1.—Lenox Lyceum Hall was crowded to the doors to-night, and hundreds were unable to get inside.

Grover Cleveland spoke there to a meeting of the New York Business Men's Democratic Association, and was cheered from the moment he was introduced, after almost every sentence he uttered. His speech was as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS.—We have nearly reached the last hours of a discussion in a campaign characterized by many unusual features and incidents.

Why This is a Quiet Campaign. If we were sure that the quiet of this campaign is attributable to thoughtfulness among our people and a deliberate sense of patriotic duty in the exercise of their suffrages, there would seem to be no place for fear or misgiving as to the part of those who support Democratic principles.

A Humiliating Confession. It is a confession most humiliating to American citizenship, that with a cause so thoroughly entrenched in reality and commendable in itself as clearly to the intelligence of patriotic Americans, we daily hear pre-arranged and pre-arranged success, based upon the ability of those who are opposed to our party and its candidates.

Nothing Unnatural in the Situation. In the light of these considerations, there is nothing unnatural in the situation of the pending canvass. When our countryman yield to temptation and turn their backs upon the broad and disinterested patriotism that should characterize their citizenship, and when they reach the point where they are willing to subordinate political duty to business gain, it is a short step to active participation in schemes of corruption, having for their object the overthrow of the party by which unearned business profits are promised.

An Excuse for Corrupt Politicians. Since, therefore, the fair name of our business interests has been used in a disreputable service, I have deemed it appropriate to call attention to these things in an assemblage gathered together under the auspices of a business men's club. It seems to be peculiarly fit and proper that the patriotic business men of our country should repudiate the suggestion that care of the interests that they have in their keeping can be an excuse for a corrupt political practice; they can reach with special authority the lesson that interests are safest under a fair administration, an honest and just Government, representing the unbiassed suffrage of our people.

Beyond this, however, our business men and all other Americans who love their country ought to have no common cause in an effort to turn back the tide which leads to a perversion of the functions of our Government, invites the corruption of our voters, and menaces the sure foundations of political virtue.

In a sincere and disinterested advocacy of sensible tariff reform, we labor to remove the temptations that beset the integrity of our people, and to preserve that justice and equality which our Government was created to guarantee to all our countrymen.

Let us at all times bear in mind that it is the people's cause we have in hand; and, while warning them of danger, let us never lose faith in the irresistible power of their awakened intelligence and patriotism.

GRESHAM IS FOR GROVER.

A Letter From the Judge Settles the Question for Good.—He Writes It to Ex-Solicitor of the Treasury Wilson.—Why He Decided to Flip for This Time.

New York, Nov. 1.—Don M. Dickinson, Chairman of the Democratic National Campaign Committee, has received copies of the following statement and correspondence through Hon. Bluford Wilson, who was Solicitor of the Treasury during the administration of President Grant.

The statement and Judge Gresham's letter, which accompanies it, set at rest all question as to the fact and manner of the support of Cleveland and Stevenson in the ensuing election, but have been persistently denied, not only by the Republican press, but also by the National Republican Committee and upon the stump. It is due to Judge Gresham and his friends that the truth should be known, and I therefore take the responsibility of giving to the public his letter of the 27th of October, addressed to me. Bluford Wilson.

The Gresham Letter in Full. To Hon. Bluford Wilson, Springfield, Illinois: DEAR MAJOR—I have your letter of the 21st instant. I did tell you at Springfield that, after mature reflection, I had determined to agree in the main with his view on the McKimley bill, and do not believe in the principles embodied in the McKinley bill. I adhere to that determination, and have said nothing indicating a change of purpose. It is not true that with my knowledge or consent the President was asked to appoint me to any office.

It is not true that I requested any one to do anything to obtain the Republican nomination this year; it is not true that I voted for Mr. Cleveland in 1888. I voted the Republican ticket at every Presidential election since the party was organized, except in 1864, when I was not able to go to the polls.

The Republicans were pledged to a reduction of the war tariff long before 1888, and during the campaign of that year the pledge was renewed with emphasis, again and again. Instead of keeping that promise, the McKimley bill was passed, imposing still higher duties. It was passed in the interest of favored classes, and not for the benefit of the whole people. It neither enhanced the price of farm products nor benefited labor. Wages are and ever will be regulated by supply and demand. Duties were imposed upon some articles so high as to destroy competition and foster trusts and monopolies.

I think you will agree with me that this was an abandonment of the doctrine of moderate incidental protection. The tariff is now the most important question before the people, and whatever others may do, I shall exercise the right of individual judgment and vote according to my convictions. I think with you that Republican can vote for Mr. Cleveland without joining the Democratic party.

How I shall vote at the future will depend upon the questions at issue. Very truly yours, W. Q. GRESHAM.

The Judge Won't Talk About It.

A telegram from Chicago says: Judge Gresham was seen at his residence to-night by a correspondent of the Associated Press, and told of the giving out of his letter to-night. "Well, what of it?" he remarked. "Do you intend to take the position outlined in the letter?" "I have nothing to say."

"The letter is acknowledged by you, then?" "Who gives it out?" asked the Judge. "Don M. Dickinson, in New York." "Well, I have nothing to say about it." "You will neither affirm nor deny that you wrote the letter?" "I have nothing to say, myself."

Who of all those who believe our Government was created to bless American people and benefit mankind, will deny the corruption of our suffrage gives the way to these conditions? The time has surely come when those who see the beginning of this corruption should look beyond it and be warned, in an endeavor to discover the source of our danger and the forces which give it deadly strength.

Nothing Unnatural in the Situation. In the light of these considerations, there is nothing unnatural in the situation of the pending canvass. When our countryman yield to temptation and turn their backs upon the broad and disinterested patriotism that should characterize their citizenship, and when they reach the point where they are willing to subordinate political duty to business gain, it is a short step to active participation in schemes of corruption, having for their object the overthrow of the party by which unearned business profits are promised.

A Presentable Pair

Of shoes is an essential factor in one's dress. The most stylish and elaborate costume is fatally marred by the appendage of unsightly shoes which have visibly survived their usefulness. Think of your feet first, your dress second. More people look at the feet and how they are fitted than they do the dress. A defective fitting shoe is very noticeable, and certainly very uncomfortable. You can always rely on Verner having the very latest designs in shoes at the very lowest prices.
