THE PRESIDENT'S HAND

Guided the Attorney General in His Letter of Instructions.

A FREE AND AN HONEST VOTE

The Policy Mr. Harrison Desires for the Coming Election.

SENATOR QUAY QUIET AT THE CAPITAL.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Senator M. S. Quay and the Hon. Richard Quay arrived in the city at about 8 o'clock last evening, and so quietly reached the big mansion on the corner of Nineteenth a .d I streets as to avoid making their presence known to anyone except the members of the family. Later they slipped over to Chamberlain's and met Senator Cameron and one or two other friends, and spent some time talking over the political situation.

The Senator and ex-Representative remained quietly at home to-day receiving no callers, the Senator getting the first real rest he has had since he first went to New York. He is very much tagged out with his visit to the metropolis. He rooms at the Fifth Avenue, where day and night he is invaded by a stream of callers, who would scarcely permit him to either eat or sleep, and the wonder is, that in his condition of delicate health, he is not entirely backer down broken down.

Certain of Harrison's Election. He will remain here for a day or two in erfect quiet and will then probably go on perfect quiet and will then probably go on to Beaver direct and remain until after the election. The Senator said to-day that while there was a possibility that he would return to New York, there was little prob-ability, as he was not needed in the least. He has no doubt that Harrison will be elected, and that the work has been already omplished toward that end without further effort.

The Senator stated to his friends, however, that the stories that he was running around with from $10,000 to $30,000 in his pocket to bet on the elections is not true. He has no money to bet this year, and is not putting up a cent on the elections.

Nothing that has occurred since the be-Nothing that has occurred since the be-ginning of the campaign has aroused so much excitement in political circles as the opinion, announced this morning, of At-torney General Miller in regard to the em-ployment of deputy marshals and super-visors at elections. No such radical and sweeping construction of the Federal elec-tion laws has ever before been made, and with this construction in operation, a force bill of greater scope could hardly be de-vised. At least, this is the opinion of lawyers with whom the correspondent of THE DISPATCH conversed on the subject

Serious Trouble Is Predicted.

The express stipulation that in cases where there is a conflict between the State and the Federal laws in regard to the conduct of Congressional or National elections, the Federal law shall be held to be Supreme, sets at defiance all that has been claimed by the advocates of the rights of the States on the opposition to the passage of a "force" bill.

Advices received in this city from almost every part of the South and from New York show that the construction put upon the election laws by the Attorney General has excited the greatest consternation, and serious trouble is predicted if any extended effort be made by the minority parties in the South to put the vast machinery possible under it into operation. The matter becomes all the more interesting as it is considered to be quite certain that, while the voice is that of the Attorney General, the hand is that of the President.

One of the close friends of the President said to-day that though this was the act of the Attorney General it was the thought of the President singly and aione. The order of President Cleveland to Attorney Gen-eral Garland, and of the latter to the Marshal at Nashville, Tenn., published quite fully in these telegrams in THE DISPATCH some four or five weeks ago, gave the President the opportunity to declare his view with tenfold emphasis, and had it not been for that order it is possible the opinion of Attorney General Miller never would have been written. At least, it is possible that such a strong construction would not have been put upon the laws.

One of Harrison's Bold Strokes This triend says that the opinion is one of those bold and fearless and self-confident strokes of policy of President Harrison which has its counterpart in the ringing ultimatum to Chile and to Great Britain. The only weak part of it is, that it comes too late to be used as it might have been had it been placed before the Southern people of the string when the southern people at a time when the southern people at the southern people ple at a time when the crushed-out minority parties might have made a general demand for the employment of marshals and super It is a fact, however, that something of the kind has been expected all along, and there is little doubt that the Independent party in Alabama, through C. L. Magee, has been prepared to put the full machinery of the Federal election laws into thorough and sar-reaching operation. In New York, also, there is no doubt that there was a clear understanding among the Republican leaders that something of the nature of the legal construction issued by the Attorney General this morning, would be promul-pated at the proper time to enable them to a cure such supervision of the polling as would ensure a free and honest vote, one

Of Interest to Traveling Salesmen.

Crackers, light, flaky and palatable, are far preferable to the leaden biscuit and indigestible bread of most hotels. All traveling men appreciate this fact to a greater extent than any other class. The time was when machine-made breadstuffs were tough, or without taste or merit, but cracker bakers long are arrived at a realization of the fact that "what the stomach craves must be good." Mill owners will tell you that cracker manufacturers buy a better grade of flour than does the ordinary private family, and produce dealers will testify that cracker men now want the very best quality of lard, butter and eggs obtainable.

men now want the very best quality of lard, butter and eggs obtainable.

A cup of good tea or coffee, with a liberal supply of "Reception Flakes" or "Engle Butter" crackers, will make a most grateful meal or luncheon without the addition of other trimmings, save sweet country butter. See that all the stores which you visit are supplied with the crackers manufactured by Marvin, and you can then depend upon finding something good to eat at your hotel or home. They cost no more than other brands and are a great deal better.

BLACK HORSE THREATENS.

Ie Refuses to Allow the Navajo Children t Attend School-Agent Shipley's Narrow Escape From Being Killed by the Chief of the Tribe. WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The only information received at the Indian Bureau of the reported trouble among the Navajos in New Mexico and Arizona is contained in the following message from Agent Shipley, at Ft. Defiance, A. T., to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs:

On the 24th, I started with my interprete police and wagons to Round Rock where I had the promise of 25 or 30 children from Navajos. On the way north, two of my police I sent to the Carrisce mountain district, and when in that district Black Horse, who claims to be the chief adviser, found that I was at Round Rock with my party and he with about 30 to 40 came to Round Rock and insisted that I must not take my children to the agency school, notwithstanding I had the promise and consent of the parents. I stated to Black Horse that sconer or later they might be compelled to send their children to school, when he immediately became anarry and jumped upon me, and, with the assistance of ten others, his men forcibly took me out of the store and intended to kill me, when the friendly Navajos and my police tore me away and hurried me into the store. At the same time one of my scouts was assaulted and beaten to such an extent that fears were entertained for his recovery. After the fracas was over Black Horse and his followers then threatened to kill my staff interpreter, Chee, Mr. Subbell and Charles Mitchell, unless I promised not to ask for any more children in this section or in any other part of the reservation, and, after considering the critical situation, I acceded to their demand, feeling that I was powerless to do anything and completely at the mercy of Black Horse and his followers. I now most respectfully request authority for the use of a sufficient number of troops to force Black Horse and his followers to furnish children for the schools. Will write full particulars by mail.

It is said at the Navy Department that the Navajos number from 18 000 to 20 000. police and wagons to Round Rock where I had the promise of 25 or 30 children from

It is said at the Navy Department that the Navajos number from 18,000 to 20,000, of whom not less than 3,000 are of school age. The school at Fort Defiance, the reservation, has been in operation 11 years, but the Indians have always been unwilling to patronize it. Recently the school has been enlarged, newly equipped and supplied with an excellent corps of teachers, and the agent was instructed, as were all other agents, to use his best efforts to fill the school with children. The result is indicated in the above telegram. indicated in the above telegram.

BAGS FOR SUGAR PACKAGES.

The Trust Decides to Use Them Hereafte

Instead of Heavy Barrels. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 2.—The announce ment has been made that bags will hereafter be used by the Sugar Trust instead of barrels for packages. The bags are of plain burlap with a light muslin bag inside, and its weight is only a pound and a half while that of the barrel is 23 pounds. Thus the difference in freight alone, for carrying re-fined sugar to its destination, would pay several times over for the bag.

This is the worst blow the local cooperage industry has ever experienced and almost wipes out the business in Philadelphia. Flour now goes to Europe in bags and is retailed in the same way. Sugars brought here from the West Indies and Hamburg come exclusively in bags which, after being cleaned, are used up for paper stock. The Spreckles were the first to introduce the bag business in the East. The Trust saw the advantage and took immediate steps to have its output shipped in the cheaper way as soon as it gained control of the refineries.

Oriental Rugs as a rule come to this country in great bales, They are sorted by experts. The commoner kinds, the poorer qualities and the defective Rugs are tossed aside to be disposed of in the auction rooms or to the wandering rug pedlers, who make the circuit of the American cities, never expecting to see their customers a second time. To one who is unwary in these things it is very easy to be woefully deceived in buying from irresponsible deal-
