OIL LAND IN LITIGATION.

Law Suit That Involves Sistersville Property Valued at $500,000-Ladwig & Mooney Are the Defendants-Dry Holes in Butler County, and Wells Due at Mc-

Donald To-Day. An important law suit involving the title to oil property valued at $500,000, located in the Sistersville field, is engaging the attention of courts in two States, and a number of attorneys and operators.

In 1890 Leroy M. Ludwig and William Werter took up 2,000 acres of leases in the now well-known Sistersville field, and commenced to drill the pioneer well menced to drill the pioneer well in the field which has since found a place in the history of olidom as the "polecat well." After driling had commenced Werter was killed, leaving five children, four of whom were minors. Lud-wiz was appointed administrator of the Werter estate in Patnam county, O., and the well was drilled down to the oli bearing sand, where it produced some oil and large quantities of salt water.

weil was drilled down to the oil bearing sand, where it produced some oil and large quantities of sait water. While tho well was in this condition, and after other wells in the vicinity had com-menced to produce oil in paying quantities, Ludwig, as administrator, on December 17, 1851, soid the interest of the Werter estate to Daniel M. Bailey, an attorney of Ottawa, O. On December 18, the next day, Bailey con-veyed the interest of the Werter estate to Daniel M. Bailey, an attorney of Ottawa, O. On December 18, the next day, Bailey con-veyed the interest to the Werter estate to sold a one-quarter interest in the well and lease to Robert E. Mooney, and Ludwig & Mooney sold about one-hail of the leases to others. The plinitiffs in the case allege that the sale from Ludwig, as administra-tor, to Bailey and the transfer from Bailey back to Ludwig were fraudment, and that the Probate Court of Onio could not direct a sale which would pass title to leases situated in West Virginia. Joshua Russell, the West Virginia admin-istrator and guardian of the children of Werter, has broucht suit, asking that one-haif of the proceeds of the sale be paid to him. On August 30, 1892, an injunction was issued by Judge Jacobs, of Tyler county, W. Va., restraining the defendants from dis-posing of the oil or encumbering the prop-erty. The case was removed to the United States Circuit Court by the defendants, and Inst Thursday Jadge Jack-son, of the Circuit Court, on motion of the plaintiffs, appointed C. H. Snattuck, eashing thin the.

John B., Chapman, of Pittsburz, is one of the attor-neys for the plaintiffs, and John M. Bailey, of Ottawa, O., and Judge McClure, of Par-kersburg, represent the defendants, Ludwig & Mooney.

Dry Holes in Butler County. ZELIENOPLE-Operations in this locality, or in fact in this part of Butler county, are al-most at a standstill, and the sight of temper screw turning recalls to the natives only the halycon days of the past. The well of Piles & Co., on the Hay farm at Muddy creek, which was reported a day or two ago to be good for 100 barrels a day, will not be better than a 10-barrel well, P. C. GENERAL TRADE BARELY CHECKED And Continues to Be Enormous in Volume

Almost Everywhere,

PITTSBURG NINTH IN BANK LUSINESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.-R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say: Even in the last week before a Presidental election business has continued very active. Indeed, the volume is far beyond any precedent for a similar period. Yet the coming election has plainly diminished business in two ways: Multitudes have been diverted from trade to political activity, and many more have chosen to postpone transactions until the political uncertainty has been removed. The fact that even under such circumstances trade has been enormous shows how powerful is the impetus toward activity and expansion. The people are clearly buying more goods than ever before, and in some branches manufacturers are realizing a slight advance in prices. Money is closer at some Western points, but nowhere is stringency seen, and there is no apprehension as to the immediate future.

Wheat Touches Rock Bottom.

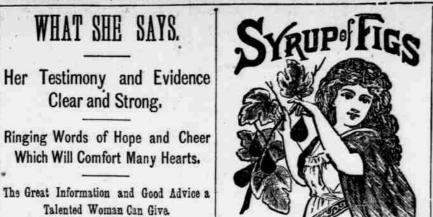

Wheat has touched the lowest point ever known in this market-731/2 cents-receipts at Western ports being still enormous, at western ports being shift chormous, though this week averaging a little less than 1,500,000 bushels daily. * xports have much increased, and a recovery in price to 74½ cents has resulted, but the decline for the week is still 1½ cents. Corn have amounted to more than 1,000,000 bules, and the price has advanced an eighth for Southern ac-count, appearing to indicate a greater de-crease in yield, and the receipts are again comparatively small. Hogs are three-eighths low ", while lard is a quarter stronger and lit 1% cents higher. Speculation is not very octive, except in cotton. Pittsburg notes activity in iron, espe-cially finished products, and a fair trade in glass. At Cleveland business is good, ex-ceeding last year's, especially in rolled iron. Pig iron business improves every year, and unsold stocks are inst disappearing. West-ern competition depresses plates, but for the industry has a whole the tone has dis-tinetly improved. though this week averaging a little less than tinetly improved. The demand for woolen goods is active for The demand for woolen goods is active for the season. Cotton goods are firmer, and in some lines higner in price. Boot and shoe factories are surprisingly busy for the sea-son, shipments for the week exceeding last year's 9 per cent. Rubber is easier at 650 for paraflue, and the advance in paper has been maintained, though there is some feel-ing of uncertainty. In general nothing seems to foreshadow monetary difficulty, and with colder weather and political un-certainty removed a great business is anticicertainty removed a great business is antici pated.

The General Financial Situation.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the past seven days number 238, as compared with 187 lust week.

Bradstreet's weekly Wall street review says speculation seems to be waiting for political excitement to subside. The approaching Presidental election has this week not only absorbed the attention of the street, but for the moment reduces par-ticipation to the lowest obb, reducing the theipation to the lowest ebb, reducing the movement of prices to the narrowest limits and depriving the changes actually exhib-ited of any special significance. The trad-ing for the week has, in fact, been strictly confined to a small body of professi and operators, who have found in the lack of assistance, either from the outside public or foreign interests, little encouragement for their endeavors to maintain a semblance of their endeavors to maintain a semblance of netivity. So har as the market has exhib-ited any tendencies, the most noticeable of them originated in a disposition to reduce holdings and to put out small lines of shorts on the theory that the duliness which seemed inevisable thil after the election would result in slightly lower prices. These manifestations occupied the market till Thursday, when covering of the aloresaid
