BIG MASS MEETING OUT PENN AVENUE

The campaign in Allegheny county was practically closed last night. To-day and to-night will be devoted to demonstrations by both parties and Monday will be consumed in distributing tickets and election papers to the various polling places throughout the county.

Chairman Gripp and Secretary Miller spent last night in Homestead where they were in consultation with the workers there. They did not return to Pittsburgh until after midnight.

"To all intents and purposes our fight is concluded," Judge Gripp says after his return to the city. "We want the boys to call to-day and get what we have prepared for them, and then we will shut up shop."

Chairman Brennan refused to make any prediction regarding the result in Allegheny county. He said his work was about completed. "We will not carry Allegheny county," he said, "but we will elect a Congressman and one Senator if not two."

NO TRICKS THIS YEAR.

Democrats Trying to Capture West Virginia With a Series of Barbecues—Voters to Be Taken From Home About Election Time.

Assistant Postmaster A. J. Edwards returned from West Alexander yesterday, where he was one of the orators at a day-light Republican meeting. It is close to the West Virginia line and the people came across the border in squads. Mr. Edwards says there is no doubt about the State going Republican. Secretary Elkins has been at headquarters in Wheeling for several days and will remain until Tuesday.

Postmaster Cowden, of Wheeling, told Mr. Edwards of a sordid Democratic trick to capture the State that had been unthought of. A prominent leader unfolded the plan in a letter to the State Committee, which fell into the hands of the Republican headquarters in Wheeling. It consisted of barbecues close to the election and giving the colored people a free ride for at least 40 miles from home.

Stevie Elkins saw at one time for an easy scheme to work, and immediately steps were taken to effect the Democrats. Mr. Cowden thinks it will be difficult to excite the colored voters in West Virginia this year. A rattling campaign has been waged. Speakers have been sent out into the small settlements in wagons, accompanied by colored fellows playing guitars and banjos, and singing and playing and in a short time would have a crowd around the wagon. Then a short speech would be made, and the journey to the next town would be resumed.

WAITING FOR WATER.

Several Million Bushels of Coal Ready for Shipment South.

SOME MINERS RETURN TO WORK.

Builders' Exchange Discussing the Eight-Hour Movement.

DISCUSSING THE FINISHERS' UNION

The river coal operators attended a meeting at the Coal Exchange yesterday almost in a body. The near approach of the season when active work will be begun in the coal trade has excited much interest along the river, and with water it is probable that a large amount of coal will be sent to the Southern markets. It is estimated that there are between 5,000,000 and 8,000,000 bushels of coal ready to be sent out on the river.

A larger amount of business was transacted at yesterday's meeting than at any meeting held for some time. Secretary Tilly was instructed to open a correspondence with Secretary Elkins, of the War Department, urging that the steamer Golden City, which was sunk in the river channel eight miles below Memphis, near the end of President's Island, about ten years ago, be cleared away as it is a great hindrance to navigation, and causes the boats with tons of coal much trouble in making the down trip.

Another obstruction wanted to be removed is the Nonconform rock, near the mouth of the Connah creek and in the chute of President's Island. This rock covers a quarter of an acre, and takes one day for a towboat to get around it. The War Department will also be asked to remove a pile of logs in the chute of Island No. 40, about 12 miles above Memphis. The Coal Exchange has taken these moves, because its boats are chiefly concerned in navigating this part of the river in taking coal to the Southern markets.

The coal strike in the Monongahela Valley was taken up and reports from the mines are brighter than at any time since the strike began. Many of the mines in the upper pools were reported to be in partial operation at the reduced rates. Some of the mines are working, many more, but not enough have returned to indicate a willingness on the part of the miners to return to work in a short time.

One operator after the meeting in commenting on the outlook said: "I consider that before the end of next week, the strike will have been broken and all the mines will be in operation at the reduced rates."

Will Go Back After Election. "We have enough information to warrant us in saying that after the election the men will immediately return to work. In saying this because the men who have been among the miners know that they are simply staying out until after next Tuesday, and expect to return to work on that day. It will make no difference which party wins. There are about 8,000 miners affected by the present strike. This will give some idea of the magnitude of the coal interests along the river. I know of 100 mines who are now walking three miles to work in mines operated by the railroad operators at the same rate we ask. The reduced rates simply put us on a par with the railroads, and we can treat with customers on the same basis."

The rains of the past few days have caused the river to rise, and many of the boats were getting ready to leave on the shortest possible notice. A number of crews went down the river yesterday to bring in their boats that have been stranded below Davis Island Dam. The officers of the Wheeling Fair yesterday expected to have their boats in the next week, as the present stage of water was high enough to allow their boats to be run.

HE HEADS THE LIST.

Critchlow to Be the First Homesteader Tried for Murder.

THE CASE COMES UP NOVEMBER 16.

Jack Clifford Is on the Slate for the Following Monday.

HUGH O'DONNELL'S TRIAL MAY BE NEXT

Wednesday, November 16, the first of the famous Homestead cases will be taken up in the Allegheny County Criminal Court. Sylvester Critchlow will then be put on trial for the murder of E. J. Connor, a Pinkerton detective. On the following Monday Jack Clifford will stand trial on the same indictment. After that none of the other cases have been arranged for, but the Homestead calendar will be cleared as rapidly as possible.

"The Homesteaders now under arrest," said District Attorney Burleigh yesterday, "are in most cases charged with four offenses—murder, treason, aggravated riot and conspiracy. To my mind the murder charges are the most important and so should be tried first. If there was murder committed at Homestead on July 5, we want to know it."

Imprisoned Men to Be Tried First. "I also think it right that those confined in jail should be tried first. For this reason Critchlow was chosen. After Jack Clifford there may be another case taken up at once. Hugh O'Donnell is also in jail and he may be the third man, as it may be that after trying these two cases the manner of procedure may be changed. Jury trials are peculiar things, and it is hard to tell what may happen. Then we have other cases of considerable importance which may have to be tried at once. Altogether there are 30 or 40 of the Homestead murder cases, and many men could stand the jury that would be experienced if they were to be heard one after the other."

Nothing, however, but actual necessities will be allowed to interfere with the cases. The list of December is peculiarly clean the jail out, and this will take considerable time. The cases against the Carnegie officials will come right in along with the others.

"I am to have full charge of the prosecution in every one of these cases. I hear continually that the legal talent of the land, paid by the Carnegie Steel Company, will fight these cases. I will be in absolute charge of the prosecution, and subject to the dictates of no one. If any lawyer, with good standing at the Allegheny county bar, offer to assist me in either the anti-Frick or Frick cases, I will accept their services. They must understand, however, that I am in charge, and not one case will be heard unless I am present."

PROFESSIONAL earnings of some leading Allegheny men with portraits by De Grimm in THE DISPATCH to-morrow.
