

CAPRIVI SOON TO GO.

Germans Believe His Military Bill Will Wind Up His Career.

EULENBERG MAY FILL HIS SHOES.

Berlin Papers Filled With Admiration of Free America and

HAPPY OVER CLEVELAND'S VICTORY

(COPYRIGHT, 1920, BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Berlin, Nov. 12.—At the meeting of the Centerists in Bavaria, Baden and Wurttemberg a well-nigh unanimous sentiment against the army bill was expressed. This attitude of the Centerists has shattered the confidence of the Ministerialists in the Reichstag and that Chancellor von Caprivi will be obliged to resign in the meantime.

No Backdown on the Military Bill. These reports, however, are entirely without foundation. The bill has been accepted by the Bundestag without alteration, except a few verbal changes in the preamble. Chancellor von Caprivi will introduce it in the Reichstag on the 24th instant, and if it is defeated he will resign.

The Emperor is not an enthusiastic adherent of the project. His Majesty is credited with having given rise to it, with remarking to the Chancellor, "You risk much over this." The members of the Reichstag and Landtag who are gathering here to discuss the bill are reported to be in a state of great excitement, and are expected to be in a state of great excitement, and are expected to be in a state of great excitement.

In view of the Chancellor's shaky position the political groups are already discussing the question of who will be his successor. Count von Eulenber, President of the Prussian Council of Ministers, and Prince Hohenzollern, Statthalter of Alsace-Lorraine, who is now visiting Berlin on leave of absence, are the chief favorites.

Miguel Too Capable for the Kaiser.

Dr. Miguel, whose consummate financial ability is likely to be the most satisfactory way of doing, call and examine my large stock of seal skin. Official information from St. Petersburg contradicts both the reported conclusion of a Franco-Russian alliance and the sensational stories that Russian troops are being concentrated upon the frontier. The interview with M. Ribot, French Minister of Foreign Affairs, held at Wiesbaden, revealed an increased interest, but since then the French Government has been concentrating upon the frontier.

How the Russian Troop Rumor Originated. The rumor regarding the movement of Russian troops had its origin in the "Daily Mirror." It is directly opposed to the officially ascertained facts. The War Department here has learned that the report was due to the fact that the garrisons which were removed from frontier stations during the cholera period are now returning to their posts.

The strict rule of the German Foreign Office, that employees must not marry foreigners, has again brought sorrow. A bright young diplomat, wooing an American heiress, applied to the Emperor for his consent to the marriage. The Emperor was accessible in his refusal. The young diplomat will probably resign that he may marry the girl.

The Berlin Merchants and Manufacturers' Club has decided to organize a German exhibition, to be held either in 1920 or 1921, in lieu of the abandoned German World's Exhibition. The official register of the German exhibitors at the Chicago Fair shows that 3,300 firms will be represented. Wine producers are especially numerous, numbering 367. In the book trade 230 houses will be represented. The printing, iron working and textile industries will be sparsely represented. Prof. Siemering, who modeled the Washington statue for Philadelphia, is preparing a statue of Victory for Chicago.

Dark as an Underground City. London has an hour of the Blackest Fog. Even usual in that City.

London, Nov. 12.—No midnight in Pittsburg was ever darker than to-day's noon in London. It was the culmination of a week of fog, and it was something almost unprecedented even in this benighted Babylon. The atmosphere below the house tops was tolerably clear, but a great opaque roof of carbon clouded over the city.

A Legion of Honor Privilege Gone. Paris, Nov. 12.—The Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 519 to 1, has adopted a bill introduced by M. Pezales, a Bonapartist member, abolishing the privilege hitherto enjoyed by the higher officers of the Legion of Honor, of exemption from arrest at the instance of ordinary citizens. The bill is expected by the recent proceedings against Count de Lesseps in connection with the Panama canal affairs.

Green's Substitute for Quarantine. Athens, Nov. 12.—A system of medical inspection has been substituted for the quarantine established here some time ago against vessels arriving from New York.

Pensions for Paris Dynamite Sufferers. Paris, Nov. 12.—Premier Loubet announced at a Cabinet Council to-day his intention to ask the Chamber of Deputies to THREW HIS WIFE INTO THE FIRE.

A German Tried to Get Rid of His Helpmeet and Her Sister.

Berlin, Nov. 12.—A trial in which much popular interest displayed began to-day at Konigsgratz. A merchant of that place named Joseph Sara was arraigned to answer a charge of setting fire to his house at night and then throwing his wife into the burning building. Sara fell in love with the wife's sister, a girl of 18. He desired to marry her and determined to get rid of his wife.

Unfortunately for himself, his plans miscarried, inasmuch as before all hope of escape from the burning building was cut off, Mrs. Sara awoke and rushed out. Sara, however, was not to be baffled. He seized his wife and, carrying her to the house, deliberately threw her into the fire. Neighbors who saw the act went to her rescue and took her out, but not until she was tragically burned. Mrs. Sara is only 21 years old and a pretty woman.

SIGNS OF FRANCO-RUSSIAN FEELING.

St. Petersburg's Leading Daily to Follow James Gordon Bennett's Example.

Paris, Nov. 12.—As a sign of the growing importance of the Franco-Russian rapprochement, the leading daily of St. Petersburg, the Novoye Vremya, is thinking of establishing a Paris edition. The correspondent of that journal in this city, M. Isaac Parvlovsky, who was appointed last winter by the French Government "Syndic" of the foreign press in Paris—another sign of the French regard for Russia—is about to confer with James Gordon Bennett in order to obtain information concerning the cost, etc., of founding a foreign journal in this city.

A Loving Cup. "A Loving Cup" is the name applied to a huge two-handled cup or chalice popular in the time of some of the earlier English monarchs. In its use two persons were seated opposite each other at a table, who alternately seized the cup by both hands, and raising it to his lips partook of liquid refreshment.

An antique cup of this class is now on exhibition in the window of E. P. Roberts & Sons, the popular jewelers. It is the property of H. J. Heinz Co., the picklers and preservers, and bears this inscription, denoting its purpose: "Keystone cup, awarded to H. J. Heinz Co. by the Allegheny Chamber of Commerce, 1892. It is 11 inches high and 7 1/2 inches in diameter, and is artistically embellished with representations of the various vegetables and fruits used by this firm in the production of their pickles and jams."

FIRST WEEK A DRAW.

The English Spinners' Lockout Spreading With Neither Side Gaining.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The cotton strike or lockout in Lancashire is spreading. Many mills outside the federation are shutting down or reducing to half time in support of the employers' position. The operatives profess to be indifferent to this development, and declare that the threatened suspension of all cotton mills in Great Britain is mere bluff. The situation, nevertheless, is undoubtedly growing more serious.

Waiting Extradition in London. LONDON, Nov. 12.—Augustus T. Kerr, charged with forgery and embezzlement from the Jarvis Coking Trust Company, of Kansas City, is in custody here, awaiting extradition. Joel W. Bowman, inspector of the American Surety Company, arrived today from New York, to prosecute the case of the prosecution. Kerr will come up for extradition at Bow street court next Wednesday.
