IMPORTANT NEWS FOR AMATUERS

Manager Barbour, of the P. A. C. football team, is auxious that another game be played between his team and that of the three A.'s. During a conversation yesterday Mr. Barbour said:

"There is no reason why this bad feeling should exist between the two local athletic clubs. As soon as we get all the tickets accounted for relative to our last game I propose to try and have another contest arranged. I am quite willing that both sides name their teams a few days before the game so that there can be no misunderstanding about the matter. After the big games which take place on Thanksgiving Dny I think we can have matters talked over when something satisfactory to both sides will be arrived at. One thing is certain, viz., that if we were to play another game it would be profitable to both sides."

Many members of the Three A. Many members of the Three A.'s are wishful for another contest between the two local crack teams and some are opposed to it. Several influential members have been in the East for a tew days and nothing def-inite has been done. A member of the Three A.'s said last evening:

"Nobody wants any ill feeling and we have never had any. All there has been must have been on the part of the P. A. C. people. They have done things which have en very distasteful to many of our memhers and the latter claim that on many or casions the P. A. C. people have acted unfairly. But as far as I am concerned I would be quite pleased to see another game between our team and the P. A. C. team before the season closes. I am inclined to think that a game will be arranged, but if there is not then the P. A. C. members have just themselves to blame. Furthermore, if a game is played between the teams and if the P. A. C. plays Brown, Lomax and Martin they certainly can not object to our playing outside members also. We have members of our club ouside Pittsburg as well as the P. A. C. However, the matter is one for our directors to consider.

There is a strong desire among the local patrons of the game for the two teams to play another game. The general feeling is that the two clubs should bury the differences of the past and come to some arrangement whereby by both clubs and the sport generally will be benefited. It is likely that as soon as Mr. O. D. Thompson and other leading members of the Three A's return from the East something will be done toward arranging another game.

PRINCETON'S TEAM.

They Have Had Their Last Practice Gamand Will Now Learn Tricks.

PRINCETON, Nov. 21 .- A hush of expectancy has fallen over the college. Every day the long cond to the University Athletic grounds is trowded by the undergraduates, who stand or an hour and a half behind the ropes satching intently the struggle going on in he field. The team has been working for a They Give the Bookies the Best of It at veek as it has never worked before. From our to ten experienced coachers have been the field every day urging the men on to harp aggressive work. The next three have will be devoted to practicing signals and tricks behind closed gates, so that the students have witnessed the last practice Most of the men are in good condition.

Most of the men are in good condition, hing has almost completely recovered from its sprained ankle, while Wheeler's knee is a better shape than it has been for weeks. Incent's make still troubles him slightly, but ne will be on the field next Thursday, Homans has been watched with a little inxiety during the last few days. It seems that the muscles of his right thigh are riving out and he can no longer kick with its old force and accuracy. There is nothing at all the matter with the other men. Harroid has returned to his old place at ackle. Up to a few days ago he tead astly refused to appear on the football field, alleging college work as an excuse.

The team that lines up against Yale next

The team that lines up against Yale next Thursday will be materially different from he one that met Pennsylvania two weeks go. It will be as follows: Vincent, left end; farrold, left tackle; Wheeler, left guard; Sailliett, center: Hall, right guard; Lea or fiscus, right tackse: Trenchard, right end; Morse, quarter back; King and Poe, half backs; Homans, fullback.

YALE'S TOUGH METHODS.

he Harvard Players Say They Were Very Unfairly Dealt With.

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 21 .- Harvard is not ut erly cast down by their deteat at the bands f Yale on Saturday. Their pride and confi-ence in the team that represented the colege so nobly is not lessened. It was, in alnost everybody's opinion, the best team hat Harvard ever put into the field, and efeat is not attributed to Yale's superiority much as to the unfair advantage she took o much as to the unfair advantage she took of the umpire's partiality. Time and time gain Harvard's backs were viciously mocked down while making fair catches, fale preferring to lose the five yards, the enaity for this act, and to run the chance of disabiling the backs.

The whole force of the Tale team, too, was irected against Upton and Emmons. When heare two were on the ground Tale men rould fail upon them, thrusting their knees no their inces and bodies. Hinkey, in this espect, was particularly objectionable, inally, when Emmons and Up on were laid fi for good, then Yale found no difficulty in coring.

A HEAVY BETTING GAME

Vhat a Cleveland Writer Says About the

Three A.'s Contest. The Cleveland Plain Deal r has the followig to say about Thursday's game between he Three As, and the Cleveland A. C. team: In a local way, the important game of the ature is Thursday's game with the Alleheny Athletic Association's team that leveland A. C. has arranged. It will be the ottest fight of the year on a local football ottest fight of the year on a local football eld and whichever team wins the score will ot be large. There will be considerable string on the game, as in Pittsburg they link their team cannot be beaten, and loveland followers of the game think that A. C. is strong enough to hold up her own rainst the eleven from Pittsburg. The game is bound to be a hot one, as the ittsburg team will be strengthened by the idition o several outside and famous avers. Donnelly will surely play for the iditors and it is quite probable that on that ay Heffeldinger will wear Pittsburg's colors.

Smoothed It Over.

New Haven, Nov. 21 .- The squabble over ie sale of the seats to the big game between the and Princeton has been smoothed over. anager Maffitt has announced his ultima-m in the Yale Ness, which appeared this ternoon. A notice appeared stating that ckets for the Yale-Princeton game would on sale at 2 o'clock. Immediately several undred students rushed for places in line id at 2 o'clock nearly a thousand were in alting.

McKennon and E. V. Paul. These men are charged with having competed under the colors of two different clubs within three months. The rules provide that a man must sever allegiance with one club for at least three months before he can compete as a member of another club. The board referred the appeal to the Committee on Trials and Reinstatement.

The reports of the baseball and amateur annual championship committee were accepted. Other reports were referred to the new board for action. At the conclusion of governors' meeting the general annual meeting of union was convened. This was attended by the following delegates: Central Association, T. K. Stearns and W. P. Wightman; Atlantic Association. Howard Perry, Harney McMillan, J. W. Kelly and J. N. Tague: Pacific, A. S. Mills, alternate; New England, J. J. Flaherty, W. Stimpson and H. A. Adams; Matropolitan, W. Kelly, President of Atlantic Association and referred to the Record Committee.

An informal discussion on the resumption of banners as prizes or joint competitions showed the delegates to be about equally divided on the question. There was no disposition to increase the value of the prize. This resolution was adopted: "That it is the sense of this meeting that the Board of Governors of the Amateur Athletic Union ought not to authorize for lacrosse, baseball and football championship prizes other than banners, nor any allowance of expenses for traveling of the teams."

The following members were elected to form a Board of Governors for the causing year: Atlantic Association, Howard Perry, Columbia A. C.; Hare McMillan, A. C. of the Schuylkill Navy: Central Association, T. K. Stearns, Detroit A. C. and W. P. Wightman; Pacific Association, E. A. Rix, Olympic A. C. and F. F. Scanlan, Acorn A. defeating Maher," said Jim, "and I expect to bet some money on him. As for Greggains and Costello, I have a choice, but don't care to make any predictions. It will certainly be the best fight ever seen at Coney Island." "How did it happen that you and Jackson did not talk fight the other night in Philadelphia?" was asked.
"Well, I did not care to break the ice," Corbett replied, "and I don't think Peter did. Our meeting was accidental, and there was no reason why we should talk shop, I have a great deal of respect for Jackson. He is a modest, gentlemanly fellow, and decidedly an ornament to the profession. We will probably meet in the ring again some time or other and settle that old dispute of ours. There is no good reason why we should be at dagger's point in private life, however.

should be at dagger's point in private me, however.

"What do you think of Mitchell's latest effusion regarding his professional match with you?"

"Mitchell is a monumental bluffer," Jim exclaimed, "and I'll make him come to time sooner or later. He don't want to fight. I wish he'd put up some money in this country, but that he won't do. His talk of fighting me in a 19-foot ring is all bosh. Any ring that will suit him will please me, I assure you.

"I am told." the champion continued,
"that Sulivan has been taking again of making a match with me. All I can say on that point is that if John L. makes up his mind to try for the championship, I'll give him the preference over all the others."

Next Monday's Battle.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 .- [Special.]-If Greggains continues the excellent work he is now doing at Saugus, Mass., where he is training, he will certainly put up a stiff article of fis-tians when he faces Martin (Buffalo) Costello November 28 at the Conev Island Athletic Club. Aleck is rapidly getting to weight under the watchful eyes of his trainers, and they say he will have no difficulty in reaching 166 pounds. Greggains himself is serenely confident of whipping off the fat end of the $2,500 purse. This will be the first middle-weight mill ever given under the auspices of the Coney Island Club, and already orders for boxes have been received from afar and assurances given that a gathering may be looked for that will exceed in numbers the throng which saw Joe Cheynski put out George Godfrey. under the watchful eyes of his trainers, and BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 21 .- The decision in BEAVER FALLS, Nov. 21.—The decision in the Ward-Reilly wrestling match, called off Saturday night, was given to-day. Originally the men were to wrestle three in five falls, but Reilly was so late in making his appearance it was decided to wrestle until midnight for a purse of $50, the man having the best of it at that time to get the money. Reilly got one fall in the time the men were on the mat, and the referee's decision gives him the money.

Suit of Interest to Rivermen.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.— Special.)—In 1890 J. T.

Bennett, of Rosedale, placed $17,600 worth of cotton on the bank of the Mississippi river, at the mouth of the White river, for shipment on the first boat. While waiting for a boat the cotton caught fire and was destroyed. Five days later the Golden Rule. J. D. Hegler, captain, passed, behind time, To-day Bennett sued Hegler in the United States Circuit Court for the value of the cotton, though Hegler never saw either the cotton or the bill of lading. Bennett claims the Golden Rule is liable because being behind time, it did not notify prospective shippers, and they could not take precautious to protect their property.
