

CUPID'S BIG VICTORY.

He Brought 72 Couples Into the Marriage License Court Yesterday.

NOT ONE TURNED AWAY.

The List Two Short of Last Year's Thanksgiving Record.

TWO JUDGES WERE ON THE BENCH.

Many Maidens Yet in Their Teens Will Be Wedded To-Day.

HOW SOME OF THE APPLICANTS ACTED

Cupid has won a great battle, and to-day he gives thanks for his triumphs of yesterday. In this city and surrounding towns 144 hearts will be made to beat as one before Thanksgiving of '92 is past.

Captain Heiber's marriage license dispensary was the most interesting place in the Court House yesterday. Many a heart throbbled with joy as its owner received the little slip of white paper which legally gave the privilege of entering into the marriage state.

The rush of yesterday to secure these permits has only been exceeded once in the marriage license history of Allegheny county. Comparative figures in this show that in 1885 53 licenses were back from the railing. When he had finished with one applicant he would walk up toward the crowd of eager ones and, like a barber, cry out, "Whose next?"

Even with the prospect of a happy married life before them girls are timid about giving their age. This was the case with Mary and Ruben from the Country.

The most beautiful young lady who was arraigned before "Judge" Heiber yesterday. Her cheeks were as pretty a crimson as the bunch of roses she wore on a heaving bosom when the question, "How old are you?" came. She looked at her lover, then at the floor, and, without raising her eyes, answered in faltering tones "I am 22. The crowd had well dispersed when the door was swung wide open and with majesty and pomp a shabbily-attired colored couple floated in. Under the arm of the husband to-day was a box and on the lid in large letters was printed "From the Parisian Dress Company." After some little time the groom-elect was handed his license with a "30 cents, sir, please." The fellow fished around in his pocket for some time and when he brought it out it held an old wallet. Many straps were undone and 50 coppers were dropped in front of "Judge" Heiber. With greater majesty than marked their entering, the couple vanished to the music of suppressed snickers.

Just as Happy as a Big Sunflower.

Met a Quick Death.

Samuel Craig Instantly Crushed to Death by Falling Clay.

Samuel Craig, an employe in Joseph Keeling's brick yard at the head of Twenty-first street, Southside, was instantly killed yesterday. He was digging under a bank when it caved in, and he was crushed to death. His body was terribly mangled and bruised, while a large stone falling upon his head smashed it out of all human form.

When the accident happened Craig was digging clay for brick from under an embankment. He had been warned repeatedly by the yard boss to be careful, as there was danger of the bank coming down. He had had several narrow escapes within the past week, but had become used to these warnings, and paid little attention to them. He had worked under the bank quite a distance, and had just leaned forward and delivered another blow which tore away a larger quantity of clay than usual. As he was on one knee, he was unable to get out of the way. Tons of rocky clay, falling upon him, buried him completely. He was dead when taken out.

The Coroner was notified, and will hold an inquest this morning. He leaves a wife and six children in destitute circumstances.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS HERE.

Members of the B. & O. Road on Their Annual Inspection.

President Charles M. King, First Vice President Orlando Smith, Second Vice President Thomas M. King, General Manager O'Dell, Solicitor John McCleave and Directors Alexander Shaw, George M. Shriver, J. T. Broderick and J. K. Boie, all of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, arrived in this city last evening. They are here for the purpose of inspecting the division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

These gentlemen are making an annual inspection of the Pittsburgh division of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. After looking over the road in this city they will go to St. Louis, returning by the main line to Baltimore. General Manager O'Dell, when questioned concerning future improvements, said there were in all probability but a few more money expended at present on the Pittsburgh division. He added that there had been a tremendous amount of capital already put out on the division, and that was partly what the inspection was for—to see where the money had been placed.

HURT WHILE SLEDDING.

An Allegheny Boy Injured During the First Snow.

John Duffer, a 14-year-old colored boy, whose parents live on Sandusky street, Allegheny, was injured while sled riding on Esplanade street about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He and another boy were coasting on the sidewalk and were coming down a steep grade at a lively rate when the sled ran into a doorpost.

Duffer's head struck the step, and he was thrown to the sidewalk unconscious, where he lay half an hour before assistance came. He was taken to the Allegheny General Hospital, where his head was dressed and he was sent home.

KLEBER BROS. AGAIN PREFERRED.

Additional Sales of Christmas Pianos.

Another three or four pianos for Christmas gifts sold by the Klebers yesterday. They are of the great Steinway, the matchless Conover and the popular Orens makes, and they were sold in competition with all the other yanks of pianos in this city.

People prefer to deal at an old established house where they run no sort of risks and where no sharp tricks are permitted. Call in at Klebers', 508 Wood street.

Buffet Drawing Room Cars Between Pittsburgh and Buffalo.

Commencing November 25, the P. & L. E. R. E. will run through Buffet cars in the new E. R. E. central time, arriving in Buffalo at 7:20 a. m., only slight hours and five minutes. The night express, with through sleeping car, leaves Pittsburgh at 10:25 p. m., and arrives at Buffalo at 8:30 a. m.

Perfect action and perfect health results from the use of this medicine. A perfect little pill. Very small, very rare.

THANK OFFERING DAY

Fair and Frosty Weather and an Ideal Holiday Generally.

TURKEY SUPPLY RECORD BROKEN.

The American Fowl for Feasts Never Before So Plentiful.

HOW THE DAY WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

This being a day of thanksgiving there are many things for which the people of this part of the country will have cause to appropriately observe the occasion. Democrats will be thankful for their victory and the Republicans that their enemy did not get this State. Everybody will be thankful for the general prosperity which pervades this part of the country and Pittsburgh especially. The churches will afford everybody an opportunity to observe the day appropriately.

The weather promises to be of the ideal brand. Early yesterday morning with the snow flying in clouds, the mercury went down below the freezing point, stayed there all day, and last night the weather was said to be much lower before daylight. To-day is to be fair and colder. With enough snow on the ground to produce that delightful frosty sound when trod under foot, and a cold, bracing atmosphere to match, the day will be calculated to produce prodigious appetites, and the Thanksgiving turkey will suffer accordingly.

Turkeys by the Carload and Cheap.

The weather had a great deal to do with the poultry market yesterday. The quantity shipped into the city from all directions exceeded all previous records, and if the weather had not been cold enough to prevent the dressed goods from spoiling it would have sold amazingly cheap. Along Liberty street the commission houses had stacks of turkeys, ducks, geese and chickens piled up on the pavements, and they were retailing at as low as 10 cents a pound. Chickens sold as low as 10 cents a pound. At the market prices were a trifle higher. Venison, game, oysters and other dinner essentials were equally plenty, and prices were low. The Green county sent 25,000 turkeys to the Pittsburgh market. One dealer alone sent in 3,000, the killing and dressing of which employed 40 persons for 72 hours. Thousands came up the Ohio and down the Monongahela rivers by boat, and many carloads came in over nearly every railroad entering the city.

Many Weddings and Parties.

Socially the day will be abundantly observed. There will be many private parties and nearly 100 weddings, 72 couples having taken out licenses yesterday and the day before 24 were issued, those securing their intention to marry to-day. Late last night it was known, briefly, and indications for good sleighing to-day were good.

Thirty-three licenses were granted at police headquarters for Thanksgiving receptions and balls. All the halls in the city are being decorated, and indications for good sleighing to-day were good. Thirty-three licenses were granted at police headquarters for Thanksgiving receptions and balls. All the halls in the city are being decorated, and indications for good sleighing to-day were good.

At the postoffice the mail order registry offices will be closed all day. The general delivery window at the main office will be open all day and night, the stations from 7 to 12 A. M. and 7 to 9 P. M. Sixty carriers will deliver mail at 5 A. M. and after arrival of morning Eastern mails. Other carriers will make the morning delivery only. Mail will be collected the same as on Sunday.

Services and Feasts Everywhere.

The congregations of the Union M. E., Second Presbyterian, First Congregational, Nixon Street Baptist, Seventh U. P. and Sixth U. P. Churches of Allegheny will unite in a union Thanksgiving service in the Sixth U. P. Church, Franklin and Charter streets, at 10 A. M. Rev. J. L. Fulton, D. D., will preach the sermon. This evening H. L. Chapman, D. D., will deliver his thrilling lecture, "The Johnson Floor" in DeWitt Church, 11th and Webster streets. At 10:30 A. M. the Rev. John H. Prugh, pastor, Topic, "Home."

At the Primitive Methodist Church, Holmes and Fifty-second streets, the annual tea party with musical and literary entertainment will be the feature this and to-morrow evenings.

A Parade on the Southside.

Arlington Council, No. 432, Jr. O. U. A. M., will present Spring Lane school, near head of Twenty-second street incline, with a flag, at 2 P. M. A parade will be held at 1:30, to which all members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. and D. of L. are invited. Able speakers will be present. A committee will meet visitors at the head of the Twenty-second street incline.

The O. U. A. M. and D. of L. societies of Beaver College will give an interesting performance in the college hall this evening.

The English Protestant churches on Mt. Washington will hold union services in the United Presbyterian Church at 10:30 this morning. Rev. S. C. Crowthers, of the Methodist Church, will deliver the sermon. The Washington Avenue M. E. Church will hold Thanksgiving services in the Sunday school room.

Feasts at All the Hospitals.

The Sisters of Mercy at the Mercy Hospital will have a big Thanksgiving dinner for which they have been preparing for some time. The West Penn and St. Francis and other hospitals are making similar preparations.

Many contribution sacks were sent out by the Homeopathic Hospital managers to be filled by friends of the institution for the dinner to-day. Most of the sacks were returned with turkeys, cakes and other articles yesterday and more are expected this morning.

Rev. O. B. Milligan, of the Highland M. E. Church, will present the union service in the Sandy Avenue Baptist Church at 10:30 this morning. Twelve East End churches will unite in the service.

Union services will also be held in the Fourth Presbyterian Church at Evelyn and Liberty streets, in which Christ M. E. Church congregation will participate.

At the Church of the Ascension, Shady-side, a special service will be given this morning, an interesting feature of which will be the musical program.

Rev. Morrison Bylesby will deliver a lecture on the "American Citizen" at Emmanuel P. E. Church, Allegheny, this morning.

At the old postoffice building the Sandusky Street Baptist Church will give a Thanksgiving dinner with turkey and plum pudding from 11:30 to 3. Supper will be served after 3 o'clock.

Music and Turkey at the Prisons.

At the various prisons the day will be observed more or less. At the jail there will be a service in the afternoon with good music and the prisoners will get an improved bill of fare. Services at the workhouse will be held at 10 in the morning and a poultry dinner will be served. A turkey dinner will be served by Warden Wright to the convicts. In the morning services will be held at the chapel.

A Thanksgiving dinner for the benefit of the Aged Colored Women's Home will be given at the Wylie Avenue M. E. Church.

Rev. T. H. Colbow, D. D., formerly a missionary to Japan, will lecture on his experience there at the Park Avenue M. E. Church this evening.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the Salvation Army will hold services at the Liberty Street M. E. Church, and the evening "Saved Drunkards" meeting will be held at the Episcopal Mission, Belisbover borough, Rev. James Sheerin will preach at 11 this morning.

AT THE HOTELS.

Travelers Will Hunt Homes and Home Folks Will Go to Hotels.

All the hotels in Pittsburgh will observe Thanksgiving Day with the usual good dinners and general good cheer. "There will be but few strangers with us," Chief Clerk Crosby, of the Anderson, said yesterday. "As a rule all our patrons go home, or at least go away on such occasions, but we have already received notice that many Pittsburgh and Allegheny people will visit the different hotels for their Thanksgiving dinner. Our people get tired of hotel cooking and they want to get to some home for the day. The home folks seem equally anxious for a change and they want to get to some pleasant hotel for a dinner."

"The day will likely be quiet and pleasant with the Pittsburgh hotels," Mr. Crosby said.

TOO COLD FOR GAS.

The Severe Weather Causes Natural Gas to Be a Scarce Article—Many May Return to Coal-Glass Houses Crippled and the Work Greatly Hindered.

Residents and merchants occupying houses on Penn avenue, Liberty street, Duquesne way, and some of the principal streets of the East End were put to considerable trouble yesterday over a great reduction in the supply of natural gas. Many families awoke yesterday morning to find the fires entirely out that they had lit burning over night. It seemed as if the flow of gas had been stopped altogether. In several sections of Allegheny about the same state of affairs prevailed.

The majority of the unfortunates were at a loss what action to take in this emergency. They had put their trust in the gas company that supplied them with fuel, and had made no other preparations for the winter. In most cases the sufferers had to secure a supply of coal, and the merchants handling this commodity were overwhelmed with orders all day yesterday. A visit to the office of the gas companies failed to throw any light upon the subject. They said they did not know of any shortage in the supply, and as far as they were concerned they were getting their regular supply of gas.

The residents on the Southside suffered from the lack of natural gas yesterday. The trouble was not put their trust in the gas company that supplied them with fuel, and had made no other preparations for the winter. In most cases the sufferers had to secure a supply of coal, and the merchants handling this commodity were overwhelmed with orders all day yesterday. A visit to the office of the gas companies failed to throw any light upon the subject. They said they did not know of any shortage in the supply, and as far as they were concerned they were getting their regular supply of gas.

The greatest trouble was had at the glass houses. Nearly all were crippled and some had to shut down entirely. Most of the houses still depend on this fuel as it is not only more economical but does better work. It is very uncertain, however, during cold weather. It has been worse than usual this season. Many of the manufacturers said last night that the pressure was very low and they expected much trouble during the coming month. This will prove a great loss as the glass trade is very good, and all the houses have enough orders to keep them busy for some time. Much of this work must be done immediately, and if the delay and bad work resulting from little gas continues the loss will be considerable.

LOVERS OF FOOTBALL.

A Number of Pittsburghers Will Attend the Yale-Princeton Football Game.

Pittsburgh will be largely represented at the Yale-Princeton football game in New York to-day. At the Union depot last evening there were four extra cars attached to the 7:15 train to New York. The party was a gay one, indeed, and there was quite a bustle in the crowd when the train was announced.

Among those who left yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Bergman, Mrs. W. G. McCandless, Mrs. George A. Howe, Mrs. Theodore Hostetter, Mrs. Harry Darlington, Miss Margaret Darlington, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Hamilton, Rev. L. L. Linn and R. P. Nevin. Besides the residents of this town there were quite a number from surrounding towns. Many strangers also are in town who are taking an active interest in the outcome of the Pittsburgh-Canada game.

If you want to know about ready for sale read THE DISPATCH adlets.

PLANS FOR SCHENLEY PARK.

Colonel Culyer Submits a New Design for the Eastern Entrance.

Colonel Culyer, the landscape engineer at Schenley Park, submitted a plan to Chief Bigelow yesterday of the eastern portion of the park. The Forbes street entrance is shown, and with numerous graceful curves and windings a labyrinth of roadways, drives and bridle paths are located in a vast network. In the vicinity of the children's playground a music stand, drinking fountain and carriage enclosure are shown, and a "refectory," where it is expected to establish an extensive lunch room.

Positions for statues and general outline for drives of shade trees are designated. On paper the whole plan is very pretty. Through it all some five miles of drives and walks are shown.

An Old Offender Caught.

Ambrose McKenna was arrested yesterday on South Fifteenth street by Officer Smith on a charge of larceny. McKenna has been in the city for some time. About a year ago he stole a lot of shoes from Joseph Kealing and left the city. He returned a few weeks ago. His whereabouts was learned and a close watch kept, until he was finally run in yesterday. Judge Swoop held him for court.

Unconscious Since Tuesday.

Lillie Wolf, the 3-year-old child who was run over by a train on the Allegheny Valley Railroad on Smallman street Monday, is lying at the West Penn Hospital in an unconscious condition and her death is expected at any time. Both of her legs were amputated at the ankle. She has been unconscious since Tuesday and will probably die in that state.

A Lively Hearing.

Magistrate Hyndman had a lively hearing yesterday. John Scanlon, a contractor, was charged with cruelty to a horse by Adam O'Brien. O'Brien's horse was wanted to fight during the hearing. The decision was reserved.

PIANOS. PIANOS. PIANOS.

Weber, Wheelock, Lindeman and Stuyvesant.

HENRICKS MUSIC CO., LTD.

The above quartette of pianos are too well known to need further description. Sufficient to say that we have an immense stock just arrived for the holiday trade in ebony, walnut, mahogany and oak cases. In organs see the Farrand and Votey, and Palace pipe and reed organs, fine instruments and used in thousands of homes around Pittsburgh and vicinity. Our prices are low and we will make terms to suit the buyer. Send for catalogue.

HENRICKS MUSIC CO., LTD., 101 and 108 Fifth Avenue, Pennsylvania.

New Fullman Cars for the B. & O.

New Fullman vestibule buff sleeping cars have been ordered by the B. & O. and will leave Pittsburgh daily at 7:30 P. M. for Cincinnati, St. Louis and all points Southward. The cars are built by the Pullman Co. and are the only line operating a Fullman buffet sleeping car. The man parlor cars between Pittsburg and Cincinnati.

HE REFUSED TO SHAKE

P. Foley Objects to Touching Flesh With Editor Laird.

THEIR WAR OF POINTED WORDS.

A Settlement of the Argus Libel Suit Spoiled by Bad Tempers.

THE CASE WILL BE TRIED TO-MORROW

The bulk of Pittsburgh's politicians were at Greensburg yesterday, but the case of P. Foley against the Argus of that place, for criminal libel, was not tried in the Westmoreland county courts, as had been previously arranged. Everything had been prepared for the trial, but at the last moment it was mutually agreed between the parties concerned that the case should be postponed until Friday. Mayor Gourley, John D. Souley, E. S. Kennedy and many other figures conspicuous in local politics and business went to Greensburg to appear as witnesses in the case. All were disappointed at the postponement.

An exciting incident in connection with the case occurred in one of the Greensburg hotels while the Pittsburgh people were arranging to return to this city. The visitors had scattered themselves among the several hotels.

The Lawyers Were Consulting.

The attorneys on both sides of the case were consulting with a view to a settlement, and just by accident the Pittsburghers gathered at the Monahan Hotel. Major Laird, the defendant, happened by. He was called in to be introduced. He said he had never seen Mr. Foley, the prosecutor, and he expressed a desire to meet him. The two were brought face to face.

"This is Mr. Foley, Major Laird," the mutual friend said. Major Laird bowed politely and extended his hand. Mr. Foley did not bow. He stretched himself to his full height and looked scornfully and indignantly at the editor and then said: "How are you Major. I am sorry I can't shake hands with you." There was a tinge of bitterness in Mr. Foley's voice. His eyes seemed to snap with earnestness, and he was about to conclude the apology when Major Laird withdrew his proffered hand and shouted with evident anger: "I beg your pardon, sir. I understood I was being presented to a gentleman. I should have known better."

Some Very Pointed Retorts.

"If I am guilty of the charges you have made against me, then I am not fit to shake hands with a gentleman," Mr. Foley answered. "Your conduct now is sufficient evidence of your guilt," the editor retorted.

While this rather pointed tilt was in progress the Pittsburghers stood speechless, each looking at the other, wondering how they could relieve the embarrassment. One who had been at Mr. Foley's, while another endeavored to stop the editor. Finally Mayor Gourley, with some diplomacy, discovered that it was train time, and the party scattered toward the railroad station.

The attorneys in the case had about completed settlement of their case when they discovered their clients in the bitter war of words, which promptly ended the negotiations, and when the case is called on Friday both sides will meet with their daggers well whetted.

Major James M. Laird, editor of the Greensburg Argus, yesterday wrote THE DISPATCH denying the report that he had any further evidence to compromise the alleged libel suit of P. Foley, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Laird said "it is a fight to the finish."

AL CARLISLE IN TOWN.

The Ohio Democrat Delighted by the Land-slide to Cleveland.

Al Carlisle, the Ohio Democrat who spends much of his time in Pittsburgh, returned to this city yesterday for the first time since the official count in the Keystone State. Mr. Carlisle, always enthusiastic, was bubbling over with satisfaction last night, and his Pittsburgh friends were just as well pleased as he was.

Mr. Carlisle is talked of as the Marshal of the District of Columbia and President Cleveland. He contends, however, that he wants no office. He believes that ex-Governor Campbell should be again nominated for Governor of Ohio to oppose Governor McKinley, and he believes that Governor McKinley will be again nominated by his party.

MAY HAVE A CLEAR FIELD.

Dr. McCandless May Have No Opposition for the Mayoralty Nomination.

It was reported yesterday that Dr. McCandless would have no opposition for the Republican nomination for Mayor. "I have no information as to who will oppose me for the nomination for Mayor," Dr. McCandless said last night. "I do know, however, that I am and will be a candidate until the end."

County Commissioner Mercer has not decided whether he will make a fight for the nomination. His friends are still urging him to go into the contest. He will likely reach a decision this week.

Captain Kerr Is a Candidate.

Captain Thomas E. Kerr has formally announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Mayor. Captain Kerr is one of the most substantial Democrats in Pittsburgh. "If the Democrats of Pittsburgh want me as their candidate for Mayor they have to say so," Captain Kerr said yesterday. "I am a Democrat and I have always considered it an honor and a pleasure to serve the Democratic party."

Will Fix the Nomination.

The Republican City Committee will meet at City Hall Saturday night for the purpose of fixing a time for holding primaries for the nomination of a candidate for Mayor.

Klebers' Pianos in the Lead.

Buyers Prefer to Deal at Klebers'. Fifteen pianos and organs sold already (Steinway, Conover, Orens) for Christmas gifts at Klebers'. Save money and buy at Klebers', 508 Wood street. Don't forget 508 Wood street.

Pianos, Pianos, Organs, Organs. Mellor & Hoene, 77 Fifth Avenue.

The most durable and reliable. The best for the money. Largest line of instruments in the city. Easy payments. Send for circulars.

De Wrr's Little Early Risers. Best pill for biliousness, sick headache, malaria.

See that hump? The De Long Patent Hook and Eye.

THANKSGIVING

Comes but once a year and then only lasts for a day. Our Book Department offers for two days, Friday and Saturday, such bargains as come only once in a lifetime.

HALF CALF AND MOROCCO BINDINGS 89c PER VOLUME.

Here is an opportunity to select Christmas gifts or to replenish your library that will not be repeated. About 2,000 volumes, in fine half calf and morocco bindings, with full faced backs and hand tooling. Publisher's wholesale price is $1 per volume. Remember this offer lasts for two days only. We cite a few of the titles at this price as follows:

Dickens—Carlyle, complete—Frederick the Great—Critical and Miscellaneous Essays—Ruskin, complete—Stones of Venice—Modern Painters—Hume's England—Macaulay's England—Cooper's Leather Stocking and Sea Tales, and many others.

MISCELLANEOUS BOOKS.

Prices that will suit the most economical—merit to suit the most fastidious.

The Snow White Cook Book, bound in oilcloth, contains 1,000 recipes, ONLY 25c.

Miss Parloa's Cook Book, paper, published at 30c, our price, 10c.

Webster's Original Unabridged Dictionary, cloth bound, 55c.

Shakespeare's complete works, illustrated, cloth bound, 68c.

Best Books for Boys and Girls, Instructive and Entertaining.

Our Week Afloat, cloth bound, illustrated, 78c.

Down the Bay, companion book to the above, 78c.

Orbello Land. A delightful book for boys and girls, cloth bound, illustrated, 48c.

Sailor Life. A great book for boys, old and young, cloth bound, illustrated, 68c.

WEBSTER'S INTERNATIONAL DICTIONARY

Edition of 1892 in full leather binding, and Noye's Patent Dictionary Holder and Bookrack, in brass and walnut, all complete, worth, regularly, $18.00, for Friday and Saturday, $13.50.

Lord Byron's complete works in two volumes, good paper, good print, the best of cloth binding, only 98c.

Gaskell's Atlas, the sensation of the book trade, at 95c.

U. S. Secret Service. 400 pages of the most intense interest concerning the detective work for the Government during and just after the Civil war—95c.

The Genesis of the Civil War—the title pleads the interest of this book—half leather binding, $1.25.

Count of Monte Cristo, Alexander Dumas. New edition: large print; good paper; strong, neat cloth binding, 75c.

Les Miserables, Victor Hugo's masterpiece, uniform with Monte Cristo, 75c.

Macaulay's History of England, 5 vols., cloth, only $1.25.

George Eliot's Complete Works, 6 vols., cloth, $2.25.

"Courtship, Love and Wedlock," romantic and historical, embracing the great romances of affection; practical suggestions for lovers, husbands and wives, $1.48.

Story of Patsy, Kate Douglas Wiggin, 48c.

Birds' Christmas Carol, K. D. Wiggin, 38c.

Mother Hubbard's Melodies; cloth, 38c.

The world-famous Henty books, as follows: Under Drake's Flag, In Freedom's Cause, By Pike and Dyke, A Tale of Waterloo, With Clive in India, By England's Aid, With Wolf in Canada, With Lee in Virginia, In the Reign of Terror, Lion of St. Mark, all reduced to 78c.

The most interesting books of travel ever written: Young Americans in Japan, Fall of Sebastopol, Our Boys in India, Drifting Around the World, Our Boys in China, Fighting the Saracens, Young Americans in Tokio, Young Americans in Yezo, A Voyage in the Sunbeam. Bound in boards, 85c.

Cloth, $1.15.

The Nursery, 68c.