PATENTS THAT BEAT EDISON'S

Claimed by the Promoters of the Scheme, Who Are Sanguine

THAT THEY HAVE STRUCK A BONANZA

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.] BOSTON, Nov. 23 .- A company has been incorporated here for the purpose of controlling several new electrical patents. Leonard Moody, a Brooklyn real estate man, has been elected to the Presidency of the company. Rumors have been freely circulated that there had been patents obtained by Electrician Van Choat, who is well known in this city, which would revolutionize the systems of electric lighting and also that of surface and elevated rail-road propulsion. The improvements, it is said, included a new dynamo different en tirely from anything yet seen. These rumors were exceedingly difficult to verify. A reporter called upon Mr. Van Choat, but the inventor refused to give out any of the details of his plans or to verify in any way the statements that a company had been organized. From other sources it was definitely learned that a company with a capital of $6,000,000 had been organized by some of the wealthiest men of the East. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and other money are interested in it. The stock has been nearly all subscribed for by the organizers, so it is not likely that much of it will be at present offered to the public.

Something of the Company's Plans.

The plan of the company, so it is said, is to increase its capital as soon as the inventions have been introduced to almost an unlimited amount. Ten or fifteen millions are spoken of by conservative men as the lowest amount that will be issued eventually. The capitalists behind the project are all shrewd men who do not believe in buying a pig in a poke, and exhaustive tests are being conducted before the final agreement to buy the patents is made. These tests will probably be concluded within the next few weeks and then the company will at once begin the erection of a plant. One of the directors of the com-pany holds a piece of property in Boston pany holds a piece of property in Boston where the plant will be established. If the patents are bought the manufacturing and pushing of them will be started within six

Just the nature of the patents could not be ascertained. Mr. Van Choat has been at work upon them for nine or ten years, at work upon them for nine of ten years, and, it is stated, has spent large sums of money in perfecting them. He will probably be given a large block of stock and made one of the directors in the company. The electric lighting patent is said to be in two parts—the lamp and the dynamo. The tormer differs widely from the present Edison light in color and strength. It is exceedingly white and gives so much more exceedingly white and gives so much more light that one of them is equal to several of the Edison lights. The film which is used instead of being carbon is composed of a combination of metals in which iodine is not needed. Cheapness One of the Factors.

It is expected that the light can be produced at about one-third of the present cost. It can be used upon the Edison circuit, and the plan is probably not to try and establish rival lighting companies in various cities, but to sell the lamps to the Edison Companies. The dynamos, it is claimed, will generate much more cheaply than those now in use anywhere and can be made at less cost. Nothing could be learned concerning the patent for the propulsion of the cars, other than that wires overhead are

A New York special says: In the stock and bond columns of the papers here mention was made of the fact that there was an electrical company about to be organized, but nothing definite could be learned in this city. Royal Peabody, of the Edison Elec-trical Lighting Company, said he had not heard anything about the new company which has been tormed. "I doubt very much," he said, "whether any patent will make much headway against those of Mr. Edison. Of course, if they have something better, which is not an infringement, I suppose we would adopt it at once, for the most progressive and successful companies are those which get hold of the good things SOMETHING for nothing? No! But one cent a word is all it costs to advertise in THE DISPATCH adlets.
