debilitated, the chest lose its power of ex-pansion or contraction, the collar-bone, ribs and bones of the shoulder joint become prominent, the night sweats profuse and weakening, the stomsch symptoms distress-ing, the cough persistent and harassing, the mneus purulent and streaked with blood, the voice hasky, and death soon in-tervenes to relieve the sufferer. The above description of the origin, pro-gress and fatal termination of the average case of consumption is what Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers come in contact with almost every day. The personal history in such cases is that the disease started with a slight catarrhal affection or from the la grippe, which was neglected because not very serious or annoying till it had fastened tiself upon the patient with such a grasp that it was impossible to relieve. If such cases were treated judiciously and system-atically at the start they could all be cured.

The Case of Mr. William Foster, of Butler So Weak He Could Scarcely Get to Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers' Office-In One

Mr. William Foster, employed in the planing mill of Messrs. S. G. Purvis & Co., and residing on Cleveland street, Butler, Says:

"I had been troubled with my head, throat and stomach for two years previous to consulting Drs. Copeland, Hall and Byers. I had all the usual catarrhal symptoms of head and throat such as dull, heavy feeling over eyes and through temples, clogging up of eyes and through temples, clogging up of nostrils first one side then the other, drop-ping of mucus into the throat, with hawk-ing and spitting. My throat became dry and raw, tongue coated and parched, with with bad tasts in the mouth in the morning, loss of appetite, especially for breakfast, and what little I forced myself to eat caused distress and bloating up afterward. I lost flesh and strength right along. "Finally night sweats set in, which weak-ened me greatly, and alarmed me so I feit something more would have to be done for me than was being done or I would have to give up. Hearing so much of the good work of Drs. Copeland, Hall and Eyers in cases similar to mine, I decided to go to Pittsburg and coustil them.

"When I first went to their office I could hardly walk I was so weak, was sore and ached all over and coughed incessantly. They examined me carefully, and gave me
