WHY GOLD IS GOING.

The Demand for Mere Luxuries From Europe So Great That

THE TREASURE IS SLIPPING AWAY

There Are Some, Though, Who Hint That It Is only a learish Move.

THE IXPORTS NOT AFFECTING TRADE

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 .- While the exports of the products of the United States to other countries are at present satisfactory as to bulk, the prices realized, it is claimed, are so far below normal that gold coming this way is not so great in amount as has been, in some years past, the rule at this season of the year. Meanwhile, Americans have indulged in luxuries from abroad to an extent that has made and is making necessary heavy shipments of the yellow metal. The opponents of the silver agitation hold, however, that foreign interests, rendered uneasy by the silver agitation here, have been and are lessening the bulk of their values in the United States, and that, too, upon a gold basis.

It now appears that Lazard Freres is the sustomer for whom the Fourth National Bank withdrew the $600,000 gold Wednesday. In this connection the status of sterling exchange has a barometric interest. Sterling exchange was very strong again to-day, and the offerings of cotton and other bills were quickly absorbed. Something New in Financial Operations.

This is an entirely new departure. Heretofore shippers have acted for themselves, but, owing to the unfavorable criticisms made from time to time, it being frequently asserted that private bankers were friendly to bear operators of gold, they have determined to employ banks in their exporting operations hereafter. Up to noon to-day operations hereafter. Up to noon to-day the gold ordered Wednesday was still in the vanits of the Fourth National Bank. It is understood, although official information is refused, that this shows a loss of about $1 per 1,000 for light weight and additional abrasion from shipments, which, together with other expenses, makes cables cost $4.88 G-10. Cables sell at $4.88, so that there is with other expenses, makes cables cost $4.88 5-10. Cables sell at $4.88, so that there is no money in shipping to-day.

Foreign bankers who have large remittances to make to Europe to-morrow said to-day that the supply of bills is not large enough to supuly their needs, but that they could not tell whether they would ship gold or not until later in the day. Some of the largest Wall street houses were inquirers for large blocks of bills, and before noon $4.87% was bid for sight bills.

Touching the big gold order of last Wednesday the Erening Past says: "It will not be doing injustice to anybody to say that the incident of last Wednesday's gold withdrawal is looked upon with general suspicion. However plansible on their face may be the reasons assigned for it to-day, the fact remains that it was a very unusual procedure, conducted through very unusual channels and so timed as to give a very peculiar advantage to speculators short of the stock market. It may not, of course, have been the purpose of Wednesday's transactions to create this advantage, but the advantage was created and it was done in precisely such a way as a bear operator would have chosen."

Bradstreet's Opinion of the Situation. Unsettling, and, to some extent, depressing, factors have influenced the share market for the past week. The advance of exchange rates and the threatened renewal of gold exports naturally occasion hesitation and tend to restrict the already limited and professional speculation to still narrower limits. At the opening of the week Europe showed the continuance of the tendency to buy our stocks, which has already been noted. Favorable expressions in regard to the prospects of American railroad properties are common in London speculative circles, the influence of the World's Fair traffic on the revenues of the trunk lines and Granger lines being duly appreciated. It would seem, moreover, that a large short interest in the American market has existed in the London Stock Exchange, and that covering for the account was the proximate reason for the renewed foreign buying which appeared last week. This process, however, has been interrupted by the advance of exchange and the increasing possibility of the withdrawal of gold from this sountry to Europe, as well as by the entire absence of any speculative response on this side of the ocean to the renewed foreign participation in our market. At the professional speculation to still narrower this side of the ocean to the renewed foreign participation in our market. At the close of the week, in fact, London appeared a selier, rather than a buyer, of stocks, thereby occasioning fears of a further hardening of exchange and of larger withdrawals of gold for export, in addition to the 500,000 pounds taken from the Sub-Treasury
Wednesday for shipment to-day.

Dun Says It Doesn't Mean Much. R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review says: The announcement that gold would be exported to-day, though not in large amounts, has not necessarily as much meaning as many suppose. Foreign exchange does not yet justify exports, and movements not warranted by the state of exchange may be due to temporary and trifling influences. The condition of business throughout the the condition of business throughout the country appears excellent, with the volume of trade greater than in any previous year. In speculative markets, cotton has absorbed interest because of enormous transactions, amounting to about 6,000,000 bules, or nearly the entire cron, in two broken and one full week. The sales this week have been 1800,000 bales, and the price has advanced five-sixteenths, with small signs of reaction. Wheat is comparatively inactive, with three-eighths of a cent decline, and corn and onts are unchanged, with small transactions. Pork products are higher, pork $1.25 per barrel and lard three-eights of a cent. Ceffee is also stronger by half a cent.

The condition of the great industries is decidedly lavorable. In general, the manufactures promise to have no "between sensons." Woolen mills are still busy, and sales of wool greater than a year ago, with smaller stocks. The cotton industry is thriving everywhere. In iron the market remains firm, with large orders for structural products.

Money has been steady at 4 per cent, the Treasury invine added slightly to circulation by issuing $500,000 more notes. Exports here for three weeks fall 17 per cent below hast year's excess of exports in November was so wast that some excess is probable this year. Business lailares during the past seven days number 500, as compared with $40 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 285.

Broadsreef's weekly review says: Features of the business week, aside from a curtailed

Braddreet's weekly review says: Features of the business week, aside from a cartailed total of transactions due to the holiday, are the improvement in distribution of seasonable labrics, owing to colder weather West and Northwest, and notably the encourage-ment given interior merciants at the South by the advance of %c in cotton.

Mr. Barrett's Play a Poetic and Beautiful Drama Splendidly Put On.

Wilson Barrett appeared last night at the Duquesne Theater as the hero of his own play, "Pharaoh," and the instant and pronounced success of the play must have been doubly gratifying to him. Truly, Mr. Barrett can feel that Pittsburg now begins to grasp his measure, to appreciate his unusual can feel that Pittsburg now begins to grasp his measure, to appreciate his unusual talents as an actor-author. When the audience stayed after the final curtain and applauded generously Mr. Barrett stepped before the curtain and expressed in a ew graceful sentences his thanks. He also said he wanted to do what he could to bring old Egypt before the public, and to throw in a few homeopathic doses of education with the entertainment. The next time he came promised he'd give the people what they wanted, as they had plainly shown, "Ben-My-Chreet" and "Pharaoh."

"Pharaoh" is certainly the most interesting of all Mr. Barrett's productions. It is deftly constructed, and the story is romantic, absorbing, and if tracic in termination, by no means gloomy or bloodthirsty. There are several scenes of great dramatic strength; the language is poetic or pointed always, and the characters are drawn firmly with an eye te contrast. Mr. Barrett has made a very human character of the hero-a man whose ambition o'ertops and finally masters his love, to his uniolng. It suits him admirably, and he played it last night with real art and a wholesome thoroughness. Miss Jeffres as the much abused object of the hero's love was admirable, and of the other characters the grotesque and touching portraiture of an Egyptian wourt buffoon, maimed and shapen like a bat by Pharaoh's order in a humorous mood, was most artistically done by Frunklyn McLeay.

The scenery of "Pharaoh" is far beyond the average: the views of the Nile and the region around Thebes are pictures of real historical value. The costumes are also rich and presumably accurate. So worthy a production merits the further consideration it shall obtain another day. Fortunately it is played again this afternoon and evening. One monition to those who go to see it—be sure to stay for the last act. It is the best.

MUST WEAR PLENTY OF CLOTHES.

Law and Order Society Objects to Seaside Attire in Winter.

NORWICH, CONN., Nov. 25 .- [Special.]-A show from Boston billed to play in the Opera House here on Saturday night has stirred up the Norwich Law and Order League, modeled after Pittsburg's similar society, with Rev. Leonard Woolsey Bacon as President. The League got after the finnager of the Opera House and the company may not be permitted to appear. The company advertises to give "living statuary groups" and "living wax figure tableaux." First it panered the city with pictures of Eve in the attire she wore before the fall. Dr. Bacon decided that she had not clothes enough for this city this fall. Accordingly he has had all the bills stripped from the walls.

It is likely that Dr. Bacon and his League acting with the Amusement Committee of the city government and Chief of Police Bowen, will permit the living wax figures to appear here on Saturday night on condi-tion that they swear they will wear clothes enough to be comfortable. The moral cen-sors of the town have not been so thrilled with indignation before since they went to Slater Memorial Hall here and put clothes on the plaster casts in that museum. Nor-wich is bound no one shall suffer in this town for lack of comfortable clothes.

IF that lot of yours is not yet sold, try advertising it in THE DISPATCH adlets.
