GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 25 .- Students are of the unanimous opinion that the Yale team did not play her best possible game yester-day. Students who allege that they are possessed of inside facts direct from the Yale trainer, say that Yale did not resort to her best tricks and played the game to score as little as possible and deteat Princeton. This statement is backed up by another to the effect that the coachers and trainers agreed that Princeton should be defeated by a small score on account of a desire to have Princeton and Harvard appear as nearly equal as possible.

The prospects for next year's team are rosy. Winter, Butterworth, McCrea, Stillman, Hickox, Sanford and Greenway will be in college surely, and or the varsity substitutes there will be Beard, Thorne, Graves and the other members of the present freshmen team. Captain McCormick will not, it is said, return for a post graduate course, but it is reported that Laurie Bliss will be in college again next year. If so, he will undobtedly be the unanimous selection of the team. There seems to be a general feeling that he will be the cap-

About half of the students have returned to their duties and the rest are supposed to be in New York whooping it up. There were scarcely enough students in town last evening to give a cheer when the news of Vale's victory was returned, and there was no demonstration. The members of the freshmen team came home last night, and this morning practiced signals. They left for Boston this morning accompanied by Trainer Murphy, and will be quartered at

As near as could be learned to-day the receipts for yesterday's football game were $55,000. This sum after paying expenses and these are figured at $12,600, will be equally divided between the two colleges. It is thought that each will get $15,000, if

THE FRESHMEN TO-DAY.

Yale and Harvard Youngsters to Meet o the Sward This Afternoon.

Captain McCormick, of the Yale Varsity, will also be on hand for the game to-morrow to give a few hints as coacher to the game. The II will spend the night at the Tremont House,

The following communication was re-ceived at this office last evening: Sporsing Editor Dispatch:

The undersigned witnessed the Association foot 2a." game between the Pittsburg and Toronto teams on Thanksgiving Day, and during the progteams on Thanksgiving Day, and during the progress of the game noted the petty jealousy of members of the local football league, who took advantage of Toronto's victory to betitle the local cinb, Especially were the members of the McDonald cinb lond in their abuse of the local men. Now, is this a stdrit of sportsmanship? Would it not look better if they would take up Secretary Matthews' challenge that was published in this paper some time agos. The McDonalds were beaten a year ago by the Pittsburgs, but would not acknowledge the defeat, claiming that Beferee Goodwyn favored the Pittsburg team in all the decisions. BUDD BOBLE TALKS.

He Says a Few Words About Mr. Bonner's Famous Offer.

New York, Nov. 25. - Budd Dobie, the amous trainer and driver of Dexter, Flora Temple, Nancy Hanks and other record breakers, has come to New York from Chi-cago. His arrival has caused some gossip among trotting horsemen as to the object of his visit. In regard to the offer made by Mr. Robert Bonner to the driver who would hast Mad Strings be selfe.

Mr. Robert Bonner to the driver who would beat Maud S' time, he said:

"The fact is when I wired Mr. Bonner from Terre haute that Nancy Hanks had trotted in 2:04 I thought I had won $5,000. I was perfectly familiar with the conditions under which the money was to be paid, too. I have a copy of the conditions which were that the time was to be made over a track such as the Cleveland or Buffalo track. The object was to rule out straight or kite-such as the Cleveland or Buffalo track. The object was to rule out straight or kite-shaped tracks, The Cleveland and Buffalo tracks, while they differ somewhat in shape from the track at Terre Haute, have the same distance in the turns. I consider that I tairly earned that $5,000. I don't suppose Mr. Bouner cares for the money, but as in the cases where his horses have been beaten before he 'died awfully hard.'."

Speaking of the possibility of Maud S beating the record of Nancy Hauks, Mr. Dobie said he did not think she would, though it was possible. He had no fear that any of Mr. Bonner's horses would lower the trotting record. Maud S and Sunol were both good animals, but the former had been out of form so long he doubted the ability to get lack again. He believed the trotting record would soon be lowered to two minutes, or possibly within the next season. would soon be lowered to two minutes, or possibly within the next season.

As to the pneumatic tired sulky, he believed too much importance had been attached to it. If Dexter or Flora Temple could have ind the benefit of modern shoeing, modern tracks and modern harnessing they would have made much faster time.

NEW BANKS IN THE WEST AND SOUTH

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The forth-coming report of A. B. Hepburn, Comptroller of the Currency, shows that 163 banks, with an aggregate capital of $15,285,000, were organized during the year; 53 went into voluntary liquidation and 17 became insolvent, leaving a net increase for the year of 93 banks. Nearly 50 per cent of the new banks are located west of the Mississippi river and 35 per cent in the Southern States.

The circulation outstanding shows a net increase for the year of $10,487,226. The gold held by banks, as compared with September 25, 1891, shows an increase of $21, 994,115; surplus and profits, increase $9,663,020; individual deposits, increase $177,104,902, and bank deposits, increase $100,058,428. Over two-thirds of the lia-bilities of the 17 banks reported as having failed belong to the Maverick Bank. The Comparables recommends that the

The Comptroller recommends that the minimum deposit of Government bonds required of national banks be $1,000 in case of banks of $50,000 capital, and $5,000 in case of banks whose capital exceeds $50,000. Changes of Legislation Desirable.

Among his other recommendations are: That banks be allowed to issue circulating notes equal to the par value of the bonds held to secure circulation; that the monthly withdrawal of bonds pledged to secure circulation shall not exceed $4,500,60 in the aggregate; that the tax on National bank circulation be repealed; that the limit of the amount which may be loaned to any person, company or corporation or firm, to 10 per cent of the capital stock of the bank, be so amended as to read "capital and surplus;" that the Government issue bonds having 20,30 and 40 years to run, at a low rate of interest, with which to retire the present bonded debt of the United States, which bonds may be used as a basis to secure National bank circulation; that the Comptroller with the approval of the Securer National bank circulation; that the Comptroller with the approval of lanks for violations of law; that Bank Examiners be required to take an each of office and give bond; that the Comptroller be allowed to appoint two general examiners; that the law be so amended as to prohibut officers and employes o a bank borrowing its funds in any manner except upon application to and approval by the Board of Directors. held to secure circulation; that the monthly

The statute provides for the redemption of United States notes when they are so mutilated or otherwise injured as to be unfit for use and for the redemption of National bank notes when they are "worn, defaced, mutilated or otherwise unfit for circulation." A note with the accumulated flith of continuous use is unfit for circulation and should be redeemed. Send in the old and let the people nave new and clean money.

National bank notes constitute a little over 18 per cent of the money in circulation. Currency turnished by the Government will not commend itself to the taxpayers upon the score of economy. The Government cannot issue money gratuitously. It must be in exchange for some value. It cannot possess elasticity. The practical workings has been to arbitrarily increase or diminish the currency to the detriment of business interests. National banks have furnished a currency adequate to the wants of the public, sound, elastic and beyond criticism. This form of currency should be continued as the money of the future.

The Constitution of the United States prohibits the States from coining money or making anything except gold and silver legal tender. State bank bills, when issued, add just so much to the liabilities of the bank. They would circulate freely in times of prosperity and confidence. In times of monetary stringency and general distrust, they would return to the banks for redempmonetary stringency and general distrust, they would return to the banks for redemp-tion. They would have to be redeemed in legal tender money provided by Congress. Worthless Money in Financial Crises.

Congress must, under the Constitution, provide all the money that possesses a full debt-paying power. By every consideration of sound business principles, it should tion of sound business principles, it should provide all the money that the country requires. No public interest can be served by dividing this function with 44 States. Every period of financial depression in the past resulted in suspension of specie payments, more or less general by the banks; that is, resulted in the inability of the banks to redeem their notes. The same condition would be produce similar results in the future. produce similar results in the future. If State bank notes are allowed to circulate, their acceptance is not voluntary; it becomes menessity.

Many mine owners, manufacturers and large employers of labor practiced paying their help in store orders in order to control their trade and make the extra profit. Surely, under the law, the acceptance or rejection of such orders was purely voluntary, and yet their acceptance for fear of tary, and yet their acceptance for fear of losing their employment was general. So great did this abuse become that many States have enacted laws compelling corporations to pay their laborers at regular intervals in money. The wealthy class could provide themselves with the means of discriminating against the notes of weak harks and if they found themselves weak of discriminating against the notes of weak banks, and if they found themselves possessed of any would proceed to work them off upon their less fortunate neighbors. That is the record of the past. It would be the experience of the future.

To the average laboring man a bank note reporter and detector would be as inexplicable as the binominal theorem. When a bank suspends, the fact that the note is secured and will be eventually paid is poor consolation to the laborer who needs his money for his dauly use. The note of a falled national bank is as goodas that of any bank in the system. The restoration of State bank circulation portends disaster to that class of our citizens who most need and have the most right to ask protection from that class of our citizens who most need and have the most right to ask protection from the Government. State bank circulation loses its money power in a crisis. It is a source of weakness and adds to the danger. Instead of paving debts it comes forward itself to be paid.

QUEER FACTS ABOUT CHINA.

The Telegraph Poles Are Underground and Everything Else the Same Style,

Harper's Young People. All large cities are making efforts to do away with telegraph poles, but even in New York a great many still stand disfiguring the side streets, although they have been removed from the principal avenues. In China, on the other hand, there are no telegraph poles, even in the country; but the reason is not that the people are farther advanced than Americans. Chinamen believe it to be a sacrilege to permit a shadow to be cast upon the graves of their ancestors.

Cemeteries are very thick in some parts of China; and one telegraph company, after its poles had been repeatedly cut down learned the reason and concluded that it would be impossible to erect a line that would not cast a shadow on somebody's grave. As a consequence all the wires were put underground.

But this is not the only curious thing about the Chinese, whose compass points toward the south, and who begin dinner with desert and end it with soup. the men wear skirts and the women trousers the men wear their hair down their backs and the women coiled close to their heads. OIL IN THE SIXTH SAND.

Deep Well Finished Up Yesterday Near Smithville, Washington County-Small Producer on the Arbuckle Farm at Chartiers-Another Tremendous Gusher Reported in Ohio.

Reported in Ohio.

The deepest oil or gas well in Washington county was finished up yesterday. It is $,164 feet deep, is located on the Barr farm, near Smithville, and belongs to Weixel & Co. Smithville is six miles northeast of Washington, and is on the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A little oil was found in the sixth and at a depth of 2 924 feet. It was a very light oil and would be valuable if found in paying and would be valuable if found in paying quantities. A rock pressure of gas of 600 pounds to the square mile was also found in the sixth sand and this will be utilized.

Some months ago Weixel & Co. drilled a well a mile and a half from the present well in which an extraordinarily big gas pressure was developed in the Elizabeth sand. The latter well was shut down on top of the sand, but the strong pressure broke the little barrier of earth remaining between the sand and the bottom of the hole. It rushed to the surface with such enormous force that the derrick was blown to splinters and it was some time before the gas could be gotten under control. The pressure at the time was reckoned as high as 1,600 pounds to the inch. The Elizabeth sand, in which this gas was found, was struck at a depth of 2,900 feet.

These two wells, a mile and a half apart, have a difference in elevation of 200 feet, the last well being a couple of hundred feet higher than the first. Not a sign of the Elizabeth sand was found in the latter, although they went 54 feet below the point where it should have been found if it existed.

The Lockhart Iron and Steel Company drilled the weil and were to have any gas that should be found, and Arbuckle & Stewart were to have the oil.

The Forest oil Company's well on the A. P. Clever farm has not vet reached the last pay in the fifth sand. The sand is fine and close, and the drilling hard. It is making about 20 harrels a day from the first pay. Stewart & Robison's Nos. 3 and 4 on the McCoy farm are each drilling in the 100-foot. Greeniee & Forst's No. 2 Oak Ridge, which is located east of Oakdale, is 1800 eet deep, and shut down on account of a shortage of water. Their No. 1 Woods, near Gregg's station, is shut down on top of the fifth for lack of water.

Mercer & McClurg are shut down on top of the 30-toot, at Undercliff, for want of water.
