The Great Financier of America Suffering From His Last Illness.

NOT A CASE OF RUMOR NOW

For the Facts of His Serious Sickness Are Two Apparent.

Physicians in Constant Attendance at His Bedside-George Gould Forced to Admit the Truth-He Calls His Father a Dangerously Sick Man-Information From the House Rigidly Withheld-Children of the Multi-Millionaire Surround His Bedside-Pulmonary Consumption Believed to Be the Disease That Is Carrying Off the Big Little Man-He Is Now Unconscious and His Limit of Life Has Narrowed Down to Hours.

IPPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR.I NEW YORK, Dec. 5 .- Jay Gould is dying at his home. His disease, it is believed, is pulmonary consumption. The latest information given at his house is that he is unconscious and sinking rapidly. His physicians will not say definitely what the nature of this last attack is.

It is learned, however, that Mr. Gould has not had one but several hemorrhages from the lungs, the first of them on the day before Thanksgiving. There was shother hemorrhage two days later and still another last Wednesday. Whether or not the pulmonary disease has appeared only recently cannot yet be learned. But its advance of late appears to have been very rapid. It is said that Mr. Gould's lungs have been weak for a number of years though he has never let even his most intimate friends know it. Never Rallied Since the Hemorrhage.

This was the first authentic informa tion as to Mr. Gould's critical condition Began to Get Worried. Mr. Gould did not rest well last night and it was then that his family began to get worried about him. A few days ago it was stated that Mr. Gould had made preparations to go to El Paso for the winter. This trip was abandoned because in the opinion of Dr. Munn Mr. Gould was not strong enough to take it unless there was a marked improvement in his health. Mr. George Gould and some of the other members of the family were up part of Wednesday night with the sick man. When Mr. George Gould appeared at his office yesterday he looked haggard and his eyes showed the lack of sleep. Beyond the statement that his father was worse he declined to say anything about his illness.

Mr. Russell Sage discredited to-day the report that Mr. Gould was seriously sick, and said: "He is simply suffering from another of his bilious attacks. Mr. Gould overtaxed himself during the week preceding Thanksgiving by attending three meetings downtown. Mr. George Gould told me that after his father's last trip downtown he was compelled to go to bed and he has been there ever since. What he needs now is perfect rest.

Only Few Visitors Admitted.

Dr. John P. Munn, who has been for many years Mr. Gould's physician, paid his first call at the house at 9:30 this morning. There were many other callers, but only a few of them were admitted. No one but the members of the family and the physicians were admitted to the house in the evening. Miss Helen Gould is confined to her bed with severe colds. 'Mr. Gould's sons, George, Edwin, Howard and Frank, and his daughter, Miss Annie, were in his room all during the evening. An Associated Press dispatch says: It has been determined that Mr. Jay Gould is suffering from consumption, and that he is doubtless now in his last illness. Last winter he went to a more genial climate, and it was hoped until recently that he might be able this winter to get away from New York to some locality where the atmosphere is more bland than here. The development of his trouble has, however, prevented this contemplated removal, and Mr. Gould now lies at his Fifth avenue home in this city growing weaker daily. His entire family is in reach of hurried summons, and his personal medical attendant is in close attendance.

Information Rigidly Withheld. To seek details of the sick room would be a fruitless effort, for such information is rigidly held within the family circle. That Mr. Gould has, as has been rumored, Kansas Populists Protest Against the Loss of an Elector.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE.] OMAHA, NEB., Dec. 1.-A delegation of Wyoming Democrats is in Omaha on their way to New York City to consult with Chairman Harrity, of the Democratic National Committee, and with President-elect Cleveland in regard to the alleged frauds being perpetrated by the Republicans in their State and the so-called outrageous efforts of the Republicans to steal the Legislature and elect their United States Senator. Colonel C. D. Kelley, of Cheyenne, is the Chairman. Mr. Kelley was a member of the Demo eratic Central Committee of Wyoming and is fully alive to the political situation there. Among other things he said: "The beople of Wyoming rebelled against Republican rule at the recent election and put the Democratic party in power. We elected our Governor, Congressman and Supreme Judge, comprising the entire State ticket to be voted for, and by fusion on the legislative ticket elected 27 out of 49 legislators, but now it seems that the people are to be cheated out of their rights by one of the boldest, most barefaced frauds ever perpetrated in America. A Senatorship at Stake.

"Wyoming should elect a Democratic United States Senator, and if the results of as fair an election as ever took place in the State were not overthrown this would be done, but the entire political machine is controlled by a rotten Republican ring. The Republicans are making an attempt to steal the State, and there seems to be but little hope but that they will succeed. TOPREA, KAN., Dec. 1.-The State Board of Canvassers this morning attempted to wrestle with Coffey county Legislative tie, and found itself surrounded by numerous complications. Upon this tie rests the organization of the House. The official count shows that the lower house will stand: Republicans 62, Populists 58, Democrats 3, Independent 1, tie 1. The Independent legislator is Wilson, of Meade county. He is a Republican, but was elected by Popu-list votes against the Republican nomines.

He is an intimate friend of Jerry Simpson, and the Populists claim him for their cau-cus nominee and also in House organization. With the Coffey county tie decided in their favor the Republicans will have 63 votes, enough to organize the House. In the discussion this morning same of the

HARRISON'S PAPER SOLD.

Only $21,000 for the Plant and the Debts Are Over $100,000.

HELENA, MONT., Dec. 1.-[Special]-Russell B. Harrison's newspaper, the Hel-ena Journal, which was attached by one of its numerous creditors soon after midnight on election day, when Presi-dent Harrison's defeat became known, was sold to-day at Sheriff's sale The paper suspended publication the morning after election, and has not re-sumed. The creditor who made the first move was the Montana National Bank, which had loaned the paper $26,000. The Merchants' National and First National field bins for similar amounts and the filed claims for similar amounts, and the total indebtedness here and in the East is over $100,000.

The paper has been a losing venture from the start. This was no field for it, and it had strong and firmly entrenched rivals. The property was sold for $21,000 to L H. Hirschfield, a banker, who is one of the creditors and an inti-mate friend of Harrison. Hirschfield says he will soon start the paper again, and that Harrison will have an interest in it. that Harrison will have no interest in it. The Montana National Bank, after Hirschfield paid the money, to-day filed a claim for an additional $9,000, for which it held Harrison's note. It looks as though further legal complications would ensue.

City officials of high and low degree were there and with them were the State and city legislators, political leaders and ward heelers, with an occasional business man whose curiosity and concern had dragged him into the place. There were, however, two city officials who were not there. They were Chief of the Department of Public Safety, J. O. Brown, and his Superintendent of Police, Roger O'Mara. ' They had heard of the women approaching the headquarters of the Police Department, and in confusion they abandoned their offices. They took refuge in the janitor's room adjoining the City Treasurer's office, where they remained until the indignant women had reached the Mayor's office. | With the barricade of curious humanity between them and the enraged females the police officials disappeared into the street. At their offices they left the unsatisfactory information that they were not receiving callers under the circumstances.

In the Closing Order-Six of Women Hold an Open Air Meeting and Determine to Protect the Inmates-They Will Close Their Houses to Visitors-The Women Visit Prominent Ministers-Hunting Homes Elsewhere.

Forty-six iumates of the disorderly houses which have been closed, and which to the world will be hermetically sealed at 4 o'clock this afternoon, called on Mayor Gourley at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They visited His Honor to find out if possible what the Christian people of Pittsburg, who prompted the sudden move against vice, contemplated in the way of taking care of the unfortunates who have been compelled to abandon their haunts and look elsewhere for homes.

It was indeed a remarkable gathering of peculiar women. The proprietress, undaunted, in her sealskin, satins and costly feathers, with precious stones flashing like meteors from her ears and shapely fingers, stood foremost in the crowd. Around her, in humbler garb, with eyes burning from constant crying, their heads bowed with a condition that really distressed them, crowded the girls without character, without name and without a home. Together they filled the reception room of the Mayor's apartments almost beyond comfort. They were in dead earnest. They wanted information, and they had come in a body to get it. Their coming had attracted general attention around the city building and a crowd of curious idlers followed the women to the Mayor's office.

Stopped the Work of Councils. Select Council was in special session when the females filed into the lobby of the hall, and the city legislators quit the work for which they had been assembled and foined in the rush to see and hear the obect of the unexpected and unsolicited call. The women were allowed the reception companied by fits of coughing. It left him weak and he has never rallied. He has been gradually wasting and sinking. His death, it is said, has from the moment of the hemorrhage been but a question of time. Every known medical device has been resorted to, but the doctors could not bring about a permanent rally.

Each of the later hemorrhages, it is said. was accompanied by a very painful coughing spell that helped greatly to weaken Mr. Gould. A little crowd of people stood on the four corners opposite the house until late at night gazing up at the windows aud remarking the movement of every shadow that could be seen on the drawn curtains. No Attempt at Concealment.

There was no attempt made to-night to conceal the fact that Mr. Jay Gould was a very seriously sick man. The members of his family were all in the house and at times by his bedside, and all moulries at the house door were answered by the butler. who said: "Mr. Gould is very low."

Dr. Munn, his family physician, called several times during the day on Mr. Gould and was with him all the evening. Dr. Janeway was in consultation with Dr. Munn again and this fact strengthened the rumor that Mr. Gould's recent hemorrhages were from the lungs and not from the stomach. Dr. Munn retused to make any definite statement about Mr. Gould's Illness.

The Opinion of His Son.

Mr. George Gould admitted to-night that it was serious, and at 9 o'clock he sent down word from the sick room: "My father's condition is very low."

Every room in Mr. Gould's house, at 579 Fifth avenue, was illuminated, and this in itself was unusual enough to attract attention from passersby on the street. Two coaches were in front of the house all the evening. Mr. Gould's coachman and butler were on duty all night. There were no other signs indicating that the worst was feared.

Mr. Gould's illness was discussed by the brokers and Wall street men who gather every night at the Windsor Hotel, and it was the general opinion it was much more serious than any of his previous attacks. When Mr. Gould has suffered from his perfodical attacks of nervous dyspepsia previously the members of his family have been slow to admit that he was sick at all. He has suffered from these attacks of dyspepsis followed by nervous prostration about twice a year.

Much Made of Previous Attacks.

None of them has been really considered to be daugerous by his family physician, Dr. Munn, and yet owing to Mr. Gould's financial relations much has been made of them. Not less than 25 times has Mr. Gould been reported to be dying. On each of these occasions Mr. Gould's sons and his physicians have assured all inquirers that he was not seriously ill.

For this reason little faith was put in the rumors that floated around Wall street for the past few days about Mr. Gould's presunflering from the periodical return of his bid complaint. It has been suggested dur-ng the years in which Mr. Gould has been nore or less of an invalid that his lungs when Mr. George Gould went to his ent illness. LOOSE ON A STEEP GRADE. A Prominent Young Man Mortally Wounded Ranaway Cars at Greenville Crash Into in a Poker Row-A Suicide.

MANSFIELD, O., Dec. 1.-[Special.]-At Belleville last night Wesley White, a prominent young man, accused Frank Hardesty and Owen Whitten of fraudulently "touching" him for $10 in a game of poker. In the row, Whitten struck White over the head with a lumber rule. The steel hook on the end was driven through White's skull and entered his brain. At-tending physicians say he will die. Both Whitten and Hardesty have been committed without bail. Charles Smith, 32 years old, wound up a prolonged drinking bout last night by send-ing a bullet through his head.

THE EXODUS FROM CANADA.

It Has Increased 37 Per Cent in Uncle Sam's Favor Since 1880.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.-The extent of the exodus from Canada to the United States is shown by figures derived from the Census Office. The facts show that the number of Canadians in the country at the

The Deputation Was Embarrassed,

When the women found themselves practically alone in the Mayor's reception room they held a whispered conversation. Apparently timid ones leaned upon the others and a flutter passed over them, betokening confusion. Probably not one in the entire party had been in the room before, and all seemed more or less bewildered. They acted much as though they had been sent for. Finally one of their number, less timid than the rest, extended her jeweled hand to command attention. Assuming the air of a woman about to talk on the rights of her sex she shook her head until her jaunty little hat fairly danced a jig. She is probably the richest woman of her class in Pittsburg her possessions are extensive. She is a large real estate owner and she is estimated to be worth $500,000. The eyes of all her sisters turned to her. They looked their support to her and sustained her by their confidence. She proceeded promptly to the business for which her people come. Turning to the office leading to the Mayor's private room the now ac-cepted leader asked of Clerk Ostermalert 'Is Mayor Gourley in?" "He is. Do you wish to see him?" Mr.

Ostermaier answered. "We do," the woman replied with some

The Mayor was notified. He had been called upon several times during the day by smaller delegations of the women, and when he turned again from his deak he expected to see two or three more of the social outcasts who were hungering for infor-mation to guide them through their trouble, Instead he found his reception room completely packed.

An Appeal to the Mayor.

When the Mayor faced the women he bowed politely. At first he smiled. His pleasant face then took on a serious ain Little waves of color chased each other from his neck to the top of his head, and for the time he seemed more confused than his frightened audience. The leader of the nis frightened authene. The leader of the women seemed to realize the Mayor's un-comfortable position, and by way of reliew-ing the annoyance she began: "Mayos Gourley, you probably know who we ara. We want to know what you intend to do for us.'

The Mayor seemed all the while struggling with himself. His face was a study. Wonderfully ready in debate and clever in his speech, he looked for the first time in

GREENVILLE, PA., Dec. 1.-[Special.]-At Shenango to-day two freight cars broke loose on a steep grade and started toward the station at a terrific gait, having a clear piece of track two miles long. The switch engine happened on the track the runaway the cab could escape the cars were upon them with a crash that was heard for miles. The wreck of cars and engine was com-plete. James Dunley and Charles Mc-Dowell, engineer and fireman on the switcher, were both killed.

THREE DISTILLERIES COMBINE.

The Leading Spirit Refuses to Say Wheth They Have Joined the Trust.

Sr. Louis, Dec. 1.-The Central Distillery of this city was formally turned over to Samuel Wooiner this afternoon. This completes the deal involving the Central, the Nebraska, of Nebraska City, and the Star and Crescent of Pekin, Ill., the last three having already been turned over to Mr.

Woolner. To a reporter Mr. Woolner said this even-ing that he was buying for "himself and friends." refusing to answer a question as to whether or not he purchased as the agent of the Distiliers' and Cattle Feeding Company. Humber of Canadians 15 the country at the taking of the census in 1890 was 983,000, compared with 717,000 in 1880, showing an increase of over 37 per cent. The figures for the last four decades are as follows: 1860, 249,000; 1870, 493,000; 1880, 717.000 1300, 983,000,
