IRON MARKET SOMEWHAT WEAKER

New York, Dec. 2.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: The beginning of gold exports in November and the expected continuance tends to weaken...

While the volume of trade is still very large, it is not surprising that there should be somewhat less activity during the remainder of the year, except in holiday lines.

The State of the Iron Trade. At Pittsburgh the iron is slightly weaker, with more eagerness to sell, but the mills...

Bradstreet's will say: The features of the week are the exceptionally favorable position of the cotton market...

Wool is very quiet, with prices barely steady, and no speculative feeling in any direction. Our Australian takings are only one-half those of a year ago.

Speculation for the past week was outstandingly dull, and prices were in a measure depressed. Beneath the surface, however, Wall Street was experiencing a greater agitation...

Opinions of De Rothschild's Plan. It must, however, be noted that the Brussels conference was influential mainly so far as it affected sentiment.

It was quickly realized that the De Rothschild proposition, that Europe should purchase 5,000,000 pounds of silver a year for five years, involved no concession on the part of England...

ORIENTAL OVERCOATS! GRANDTEST. GREATEST VARIETY. MOST ELEGANT STYLES. LOWER THAN ANY IN PRICE. $7.50 FOR AN OVERCOAT. Originally made for $20. $10 FOR AN OVERCOAT. Originally made for $30. $15 FOR AN OVERCOAT. Originally made for $45. PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED.

An Oriental Rug as a Christmas Gift is almost unique in its appropriateness. It not only lasts a lifetime, but may be handed down from one generation to another, its beauty not diminishing in the least with age or use.

And, besides, it gracefully expresses the donor's aesthetic appreciation of the value of these world-famed products of the Oriental weaver's skill.

One must concede that a fine Oriental Rug is as much of a work of art as a fine painting, who studies the exquisite expression of the imaginative faculty in the combination of forms in a symmetrical design, with perfect color-harmony.

We invite special attention to our exceptionally large and carefully selected stock of Oriental Rugs as being of a much higher class than those found at the "special auction sales," and in the hands of the wandering dealers, accompanied by varied tales, of how they are enabled to tell so cheaply. Our reputation and permanence in business compel us to handle Rugs as our other goods, and to protect our customers from hidden faults and imperfections.
