Why the Caucus Was Called.

As soon as the caucus met it was apparent that the "committee" business was a bluff, for upon examination it was found that no vacancies existed, consequently there was no occasion for changes. Senator Quay soon revealed the real object of the meeting by introducing a resolution pro-viding that no action be taken upon the Territorial bills during the present Congress. The friends of the bills at once suspected that the Senator from Pennsrlvania had some political object in view, because he is not a member of the Committee on Territories. It was also suggested that in conequence of the disputes in certain Eastern States over the political complexion of the Legislatures there is no occasion for undue baste in admitting two or three new States. Before Senator Quay had an opportunity to explain just why he was opposed to ac-tion during the present session, Senator Manderson introduced an entirely new proposition. He proposed to add the three Territories to the adjucent States.

Carey Opposed to Quay's Plan.

Senator Carey, who is in charge of the bills, appealed to his associates not to take the step proposed by Senator Quay until some examination of the conditions existing in the Territories interested could be

Then followed a warm discussion, in which it was claimed that the political complexion of the Territories cut no figure in the controversy. It was urged by the opponents of the measure that a majority of the citizens of Naw Mexico are of Spanish extraction, who do not even speak the English language. Then the old story about Arizona's indebtedness was regived and dwelt upon with more or less stubborn-

On the contrary, His Honor gave them such a secoring as they probably have not heard for a long time, based on the admitted fact that they were not only guilty with the others of violating the law, but that they were breaking the law for the most de-spicable of all purposes—the treacherous betrayal of their companions in cussedness. This year of the case was evidently a "If this exhibition is repeated I shall in-sist that the galleries be cleared," exclaimed Dr. Payson, jumping to his feet. The Moderator warned the visitors in the gailery that they must not applaud. Col-onel McCook offered an exception then to the Moderator's decision, and Dr. Francis Brown moved that the decision be accepted This view of the case was evidently a grievous surprise to the agents of the Law and Order Scolety, and their pained stonishment became indignant consterna-tion when, after fining the 11 others who

Brown moved that the dension be accepted as that os the Presbytery. His motion was carried by a large majority. Dr. G. W. Birch, a layman of the Prose-cuting Committee, opened the case for the prosecution. long document, the first part of which was devoted to reviewing the history of the case. The prosecution would show, he said, that the teachings of Dr. Briggs are a life-stab, a life-stroke at the Westminster Sta dards. There is a difference between cutting a minute vein and a main artery. Dr. Briggs cut the artery of Presbyteri-anism. BUCHANAN HAS A BOOM. Governor Boles Wants to See His Friend in Cleveland's Cabinet.

Senator Carey replied that he did not enter to be placed in the position of antag-onizing his party friends, but after a este-tul and conscientious investigation of the subject he believed it to be the duty of the unte to admit the Territories named to Statchood.

The Sontiment Against Mr. Carey.

The sentiment seemed against him, and was so determined that he would have been beaten had a vote been taken. He asked that action be delayed until the Territories could be further heard on the subject. In deference to his request the subject was postponed for future consideration in caucus.

Some of the Republicans reasoned that as soon as the Democrats obtain control of the Senate they will proceed at once to pass these bills, consequently the Republicans might as well get the credit for admitting

It is understood that Senator Quay and some of his followers still hope to save the Senate from Democratic control. How he proposes to do it, however, has not yet been revealed, for some of the most partisan Senators, including Messra. Hale, Dawes, Platt and even Teller, concede that the Democrats will control the organization. Senator Felton, of California, and Senator Sanders, of Montana, admit they will be succeeded by Democrats.

HARRISON'S MESSAGE TO-DAY.

Extra Precantions Being Taken to Prevent Premature Publication.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 .- [Special ]-The extraordinary pains being taken by President Harrison to prevent the premature publication of the message which he will send to Congress to-morrow, are in line with like efforts put forth by his predecessors. It is only in recent years, indeed, that Presidental messages have been put in type until after they had been read to the both Houses of Congress.

Even at so late a date as 1869, when Presi-dent Grant sent in his first annual message, he issued strict orders that only two maouscript copies of it should be made, and no other copy of any kind. These manuscripts he kept in his own possession until they he sept in his own possession until they were taken by his private secretary to the Capital. These copies after being read were sent at once to the Public Printer, and the reporters of the Congressional Record never saw them until the proofs were sent them late at night, to be made a part of the next morning's Record. The newspapers, of course, had no access to the message on the day it was read, but the proprietor of a Washington newspaper succeeded in pub-lishing the message on the day after its delivery by having the entire document taken down by shorthand as it was read in the Seunte.

Three Great Governments Will Preserve It if They Must Fight for It.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 .- Inquiry at the Department of State confirms a cablegram from London to the effect that the governments of England, Germany and the United States have agreed to common action to restore order in Samoa. It is further learned that ships have been sent by the three nations to preserve peace in Samoa and the agreement is each government shall keep one or more ships there all the time for that purpose. The United States steamer Alliance is now on her way there, having left San Francisco for Samoa some time ago.
