Excessive Labor Turns the Brain of W. R. Covert, of the Order of Solon.

HIS WILD IMAGINATIONS.

He Claims He Can Imprison Some Prominent Politicians.

PRESIDENT HARRISON ON THE LIST

Three Million Dollars for the Mayoralty Canvass.

THE AFFAIRS OF THE ORDER GIVEN

Some 18 or 20 guests sitting in the rotunda ci the Seventh Avenue Hotel about 5 o'clock yesterday evening were aroused from their dreamy attitudes by a loud cry, apparently from a man in distress. Upon looking up they saw a well-dressed, but wild eved man standing in front of the clerk's desk, with a pen in his fingers. He was about to register.

No more attention was paid to the newcomer until atter he had written his name down in the book. The signature was that of W. R. Covert, Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Covert was assigned to a room, but instead of repairing to it at once, he lingered around the office and tried to draw some of the bystanders into a conversation. Suddenly turning around to the clerk he said in stentorian tone: "Do you know who I am? I am the new attorney-in-fact of the Order of Solon and have the entire charge of its boundless wealth. I have thousands of dollars in the banks surrounding this hotel and my word is law. Hereafter my home will be here."

All this was said in a quick, loud and nervous way, and the clerk at once realized that he was dealing with a man not in the possession of his full seuses. In the meantime the guests in the rotunda had congregated about the excited man. He seemed pleased at having secured an audience, and at once entered into a long discussion of the wealth he controlled and the plans he had in view to secure more, finally ending up with a long tirade against the city officials, in which he said: "I am now boss of this city, and can be elected Mayor if I so desire."

Didn't Like His Room.

After this Mr. Covert went to his room, which could not have been to his liking, for in a few moments he returned to the office, and after censuring the clerk for assigning him to such quarters, be cleared his throat preparatory to making another speech. Before he could begin he was interrupted by a friend, who, after coaring him awhile, secured his consent to go out on the street. The triend who took him away from the Seventh Avenue Hotel was E. W. Morse. The latter accompanied by several other gentlemen upon calling to see Rev. W. R. Covert at the Home Hotel about 5 o'clock last evening, were informed that he had just left after demanding his bill. Know-Mr. Covert to be mentally deranged. Mr. Morse and the others instituted a search for him and subsequently located him at

Seventh Avenue Hotel.

Mr. Covert has been stopping at the At that hour he entered his temporary home, and walking up to the office tried to engage the attaches of the hotel into conversation. Clerk Cunningham, who was there at the time, stated that Mr. Covert talked in a loud and wild manner. Among a great many things he said: "I discovered the whole conspiracy in the Orfer of Solon, and only received $30 for my labor where the Investigating Committee received $4,000. The Order of Solon has voted that I should receive $25,000 for uncovering a conspiracy which saved the order $100,000, but I have not been paid.

After the Big Fish.

"There's Ben Harrison, John Wanama-ker, Matt Quny and Chris Magee," continued Mr. Covert, "I have evidence against this combination that will send them all to prison for life. They allowed my letters to opened even when I pleaded with them to have it stopped. This was a great trouble to me, and still my troubles are not ended. I am now in a scheme to eject the next Mayor. I could get the place myself but Chiefs Brown and Bigelow are against me. I do not care for them, however, as they are like clay in my hands. When I get started these other politicians will not be in it. I have $3,000,000 toinsure my election as Mayor, and when I am in office I will settle the Homestead trouble and social

After talking in this strain for over an hour, Mr. Covert finished his discourse by saying: "I have not slept for nine days, but that is nothing when it is considered I have been training for this work for 13 years. It demanded muscle as well as brains to gain a victory over these people, and I have both. Did I not secure my training in the Harlem claim? I secured $4,000,000 out of that transaction and have the money in my pocket, and I thank God that I am now able to buy my enemies out two or three times."

Wanted in the Papers. Immediately after this Mr. Covert went to his room, and nothing more was seen of him by the hotel people until he went out last evening and was subsequently brought back by his friends. During the alternoon he sent word to a reporter that he would like to see him, as he had some very ediffing news to give to the public. The reporter went to Mr. Cover, s room, and there for nearly an hour Mr. Covert held his listener spellbound over a recitation of his schemes and troubles, all of which were outlined in such a manner as to leave no doubt in the reporter's mind that the speaker was suffering from a mania or hallucination of some character.

Many of Mr. Covert's triends are very sorrowful over his alarming condition. They say since his arrival in Pittsburg he has been working diligently in behalf of the Order of Solon, and he is probably wrought up over the matter to such an extent that his mind wanders.

Glenn I. Folsom, Supreme President of the order, said yesterday: "There is no doubt that the Rev. W. R. Covert is insane from overwork. Whether he was always subject to such mental impairment I do not know, but we think it is all due to the mental strain he has undergone. We have sent two men to the Home Hotel to care for him. He has done a great deal of good for the order, but in his present predica-ment he will be more of an impediment than a help."

A Well Known Preacher.

Rev. W. R. Covert is a Winebrenarian minister. At one time he was a pastor of a church of this particular faith in Pittsburg, and is well known in this city. About three years ago he leit Pittsburg to go to Stoner ville, Westmoreland county, where he took charge of a church, the congregation of which believed in Mr. Covert's doctrines. He has recently been preaching in Ohio. He is also one of the many claimants of the Harlem tract, and during the past few years he has always been connected in some capacity with immense schemes of a similar is that the attorneys are not ready. There were a large number of the more prominent members of the order present in court yesterday and they seemed greatly disappointed over the delay. At Wednesday evening's meeting a new organization of the Solons was effected and the following officers elected: Glenn I. Folsom, Supreme President; Claude L. McMillan, Supreme Vice President; George L. Navlor, Supreme Past President; A. F. Moses, Supreme Secretary; M. G. Clark, Supreme Treasurer; J. A. Craighead, M. D., Supreme Medical Examiner; B. E. Beatty, Supreme Chaplain; William F. Sherwood, Supreme Marshal; H. C. Tice, Supreme Guard; John D. Walker, Supreme Sentinel.

Walker, Supreme Sentinel.

The mental condition of Rev. W. R. Covert was a source of great anxiety to his friends last evening. Dr. King was summoned to the Home Hotel to make an examination of him. Mr. Covert became incensed at this and not only refused to see the physician, but forced him from the

INCREASING IN NUMBERS.

The Amalgamated Association Is Now Said t# Be Flourishing.

The activity in the ranks of the Amalgamated Association for the past month has been very noticeable. The Homestead strike, while attended with many disappointing aspects for organized labor, has apparently incited workmen be more active in the cause, and they are now organizing as never before. It was thought that the failure of Homestead, the sympathy strikes and the secession of a large number of finishers would have a discouraging effect on the Amalgamated Association. Secretary Kilgallon said last evening that the officers of the Amalgamated Association were greatly encouraged over the recent acquisitions and were really surprised at the increase of membership of nearly all the lodges throughout the country.

Continuing Mr. Kilgallou said: "I believe that fully two-thirds of the skilled men in rolling mills are now members of the association, and the others are being gradually brought into it. I have reason to believe that more lodges will be added in a short time. We are doing all we can to get the Homestead men who were thrown out of employment positions at other places, and have succeeded in many cases. We intend to pursue a conservative policy and think the Homestend affair will only act to unite us more firmly than ever, us the association already is in some respects."

A large quantity of business was transacted by Judges Stowe and Slagle yesterday in the Criminal Court. One of the amusing incidents was a dialogue with Mary Barkley, who pleaded guilty to seiling liquor without a license on Third avenue. REFORM IS SHUT OUT

Its Nominees Sat Upon in the Allegheny City Committee.

COLLECTOR MILLER CONFIRMED. U. S. Senate Makes Him a Pleasant

Birthday Present. FX-MAYOR FULTON'S CANDIDACY

The Allegheny Reform Association was heavily sat upon at the meeting of the Republican City Committee last night. Nothing that was not purely Republican was recognized. The nominations made at the Fifth ward suggestion meeting last Tuesday night were presented for recognition, but were literally kicked out of the meeting. The date of the primaries was fixed for Saturday, January 7.

An interesting scene followed the presentation of the certificates of nomination from the Fifth ward. There was a large attendance of committeemen, and the lobby was filled with politicians when Chairman Pentecost called the meeting to order. After the date of primaries had been fixed J. M. Friedman walked down the center aisle of the council room with the certificates in his hand. He announced that he was not a member of the committee, but had been delegated to present papers certifying the nomination of Republican Councilmen from the Fifth ward.

Instantly there were cries of "Throw them in the sewer," and "Throw him out." Charles Robinson demanded to know why the members of the City Committee from the Fifth ward bad not presented the certificates as the rules required. After the hubbub had been quieted by the Chairman, Friedman resumed, but the noise was started again. Several members jumped to their feet with various suggestions. One wanted Friedman put out, another suggested he turn over the certificate to the Fifth ward committeemen, but a motion to give him a hearing was finally passed.

An Emphatic Protest. Friedman began his address saying the certificates contained the duly attested nominations made at a Republican meeting in the Fifth ward. He wanted them certified to the County Commissioners. There was a big protest against the statement about a Republican meeting. Several members of the city committee from this ward yelled that they had not been notified there was to be a suggestion meeting. Mr. Robinson produced a call for the meeting written on produced a call for the meeting written on a paper bearing the printed heading of the Allegheny Reform Association and signed by the President and Secretary of that or-ganization. He declared the meeting had been called under false pretenses. It had been intended to pack it with Reform Asso-ciation people only and few others heard of it before the day it was hald it before the day it was held.

Mr. Friedman acknowledged that the Reform Association had called the meeting, but maintained they were Republicans. It was an organization Allegheny people knew was an organization Allegheny people knew a good deal about, he said, rather emphatically, and he wanted the certificates recognized. There was another protest, followed by a motion to refer the certificates to the committeemen from the Fifth ward who should report on them at once. When the committee retired they were absent a few minutes and returned the recommendation that the certificates with a recommendation that the certificates be returned, because the nominees thereon had not been regularly nominated, and because one nominee was a Democrat. The report was adopted with only two dissenting votes, and then there was applause. Mr. Friedman as he walked out sarcastically thanked the meeting for the courtesy extended, and received an equally cutting reply.

A Clear Dispute.

Mr. Stevenson, of the Reform Association, says the nomination certificates will be presented to the Commissioners and a fight nade to have them placed on the ticket as the Republican nominees. Mr. Dahlinger says they will not be. The seven commit-teemen from the Fifth ward have called the regular Republican suggestion meeting for next Friday evening.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the reading of a letter from Mayor Ken-nedy announcing his candidacy, promising his support of the nominee and inclosing $100 as his campaign assessment. A mo-ment later Major Tyler walked up and filed his certificate of candidacy with a check for $100. An outburst of applause followed the Major's action. The secretary announced a balance of $133 87 from the last campaign. An amendment to the rules was made by which all candidates for Mayor must file acceptance of the verdict and pay an assessment of $100 ten days before the primaries, William Price offered a motion that Councilmanic candidates should pay $10 each, but it was laughed out of order.

COLORED CITIZENS MEET.

They Form Themselves Into a Political Compact to Aid Their Own Ends.

Many colored citizens of Pittsburg met at the hall 2820 Penn avenue last night. There was a large attendance, representatives of nearly every ward in which there s any considerable number being present. The meeting was presided over by Scott L. Morton, of the Twellth ward, and C. W.

Allen served as secretary.

The purpose of the gathering was to agitate the organization of the colored voters in their own interests. Speeches were made by Attorney J. W. Holmes, A. F. Hall, Major R. H. Allen, Thomas A. Wil-

Hall, Major R. H. Allen, Thomas A. Wilson, H. A. Clay and John Roy.

A committee of 15 was appointed to draft a plan of permanent organization and instructed to report the same to the mass meeting of colored citizens to be held in Council Chamber Saturday night. The members of the committee are H. A. Clay, Thirty-nifth ward; A. T. Hall, Eighth ward; J. Wilfred Holmes, Eighth ward; M. K. Holland, Seventh ward; T. A. Wilson, Fourth ward; J. A. Rice, Twelfth ward; John Roy, Sixth ward; Emanuel Jackson, Twenty-eighth ward; Charles Jackson, Twenty-eighth ward; Charles Harris, Seventeenth ward; John M. MAY CAUSE TROUBLE

John Finnerty's Removal From the Sixth Ward Disqualifies Him.

According to law, John Finnerty, elected last February to Common Council from the Sixth ward, has torfeited his right to a seat in that body, and the ward, entitled to two members, only has one. Mr. Finnerty was elected for three years. Becently he moved out of the Sixth ward into the Fifth, opening a restaurant on Fifth avenue, but has failed to relinquish his sext in Councils.

Mayor Gourley and City Attorney More-land both declare he has no legal right to a seat since his permanent removal from the ward. The Mayor says that in case a maward. The mayor says that in case a majority of 1 has passed any city legislation in Common Council by Finnerty's vote since he removed from the ward, the bill could not be considered legally passed, nor binding. The Popular Official Is Confirmed-Senator Quay Moves for the Confirmation-A Delightful Surprise for the New

The appointment of George Miller as Internal Revenue Collector of this district was yesterday confirmed by the United States Senate. Intelligence to that effect came to him in a telegram at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was standing on the street in front of City Hall talking to a number of friends at the time, and when he nad read the message he quietly handed it around. As soon as its contents became known his friends crowded around the new collector, shaking him by the hand and ex-tending their hearty congratulations.

In a few moments he started for the Union station and took a train for his home. Here a surprise awaited him. Yesterday was the forty-second anniversary of his birth. In bonor of it his wife had gathered their family of 12 children together, and had invited a number of relatives and had invited a number of relatives and friends to celebrate the occasion. When he got home the company was all there awaiting him. He remained there for the balance of the day.

Mr. Miller's confirmation was on motion of Senator Quay while the Senate was in executive session. It is generally understood that he will qualify and file his bond at once. It is not necessary for him to go at once. It is not necessary for him to go to Washington to do this, but it is custom-

No New Developments in the Social Evil Agitation-No Letters From Either Side on the Subject-Work of the Christain

BOTH SIDES INACTIVE.

The social evil agitation was in a comparatively dormant state yesterday. The Mayor and Chief Brown both declared they had nothing new to communicate upon it. The Mayor yesterday sent home the young Ohio girl who was in a Second avenu-

Now the Police Here and Elsewhere Are house, for whom her mother sent money the day before. Ordinance Officer McKenna accompanied her to the train and purchased her ticket. The girl seemed thoroughly determined to guit her old life forever, and declared she would never give her friends further reason to complain of her behavior."

The girl who claimed she was a minister's

The Bethany Mission on Grant

The ladies decline to give any publicity to the work they are doing, because it has a tendency to hold back those who might otherwise embrace the opportunity to get assistance in reformation. The Bethesda

More are expected, and the bouse is being put in readiness for them. This Home was estab-lished through the efforts of a number of Christian ladies for the reformation of fallen women and the shelter of defenseless court gave the custody of the boy to an aunt who lived at 30 Fulton street. In the meantime the aunt died, and Miss Woods, a niece of Mrs. Lewis, has been looking after the child. It is the melancholy duty of the Board of Directors of this bank to chroniole the death of Joseph Walton, its President, who died December 5, 1892, in the 85th year of his age, and almost at the completion of his twenty-tourth year as a member of this board, and of his thirteenth year as the President of the bank. The members of the board now desire to place on record their deep sense of the loss which the community have sustained by the death of one who by his energy and industry contributed so much to the development of the industries with which he was connected, and of the loss which this bank has peculiarly and especially sustained by the death of Captain Walton. His intuitive knowledge of men; his great and long experience and his wonderful sagacity and judgment in affairs of business were always freely exercised for the best interests of the bank, and he was deeply interested in its welfare.

Fully appreciating the responsibility which rested upon him by those interested in the bank, both stockholders and depositors, he faithrully gave his best efforts, often at personal inconvenience, to the affairs of the institution, and its prosperity gave him an almost paternal pleasure.

The members of the board deeply sympa-STUDS most paternal pleasure.
