GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

CONEY ISLAND ATHLETIC CLUB, Dec. 8. -The large building of the C. I. A. C. was crowded to-night to see the big battle between Joe Goddard and Peter Maher for a purse of $7,500, $1,000 of which went to the loser. A preliminary contest between Mullins and Sullivan was won by the former, who bested Sullivan in a ten-round go. They were little fellows. Prominent sporting men from all over the country were present. A conservative estimate of the attendance would be about 8,000.

Goddard was the first to appear. He was given a hearty reception and many excla-mations of approval were heard as he shed his long ulster. Goddard's reception was nothing compared with the ovation given Peter Maher. The Irish element in the vast audience let itself out with a will.

Goddard came into the ring with an air of confidence and walked about looking at the floor. Maher climbed through the ropes, and Goddard walked over to him and shook him by the hand cordially. Maher Won the Toss.

The coin was tossed, and when it was seen that the Irish lad had won the lucky corner a great shout of joy arose from the Maher contingent. Maher wore green trunks and Goddard white. Peter Maher was attended by Jack McVey, of Philadelphia, Martin Costello, of Buffalo, and Tom Clark, of Coney Island. Joe McGrath, of Dublin, acted as bottle holder, and Jack Sheehan as Goddard was seconded by Jim Gibbons, of Paterson, Billy Madden and Alex Greggains. L. Morris officiated as his timer. John P. Eckhardt acted as the club's official referee and Bob Stall held the official time. Everything being ready, time was called and the contestants faced the scratch.

called and the contestants faced the scratch.

Round one—The men sparred cautiously, Goddard having a confident air. Each man held his right as though waiting to get that member home on his opponent's Jaw. Goddard led and forced Maher to his knees, when he took advantage of the necessary ren seconds. Maher drew first blood. Each man fought like a wildent. Maher landed right and left and was forced to the ropes by Goddard, who was so tired that he could hardly stand. Maher made a great rally, but his blows only seemed to make Goddard angry, and he hit right and left, landing at will, taking anything that Maher could give if he could only get in his blows.

Goddard's Terrifle Rushes Told.

Goddard's Terrific Rushes Told. Maher was wild, hoping against hope to land his right, which he did four or five times, but Goddard only went at him more determinedly, and the fight looked to be a short one, for Maher was winded and could not hold his own against his powerful oppo-nent. When time was called Maher stag-gered to his corner, and it was plainly all day with him. No two 210-pound men ever fought a faster round, for it was give and take from the start.

Round two-Goddard landed with left and right and then the men closed into hard in-fighting, hitting with right and lett, until Goddard landed a right that sent Maher to the floor. He was up in time, and they were again at it hammer and tongs, smashing each other with right and left until they were both so tired that they could scarcely stand. By the time tire round was completed neither of them showed the slightest signs or science. It was purely a case of brute strength, and the man that could land the most blows was bound to win. Both men received terrific punishment.

The Fighting Was Terrific.

Round three-Both men came up looking dazed from the furious fighting of the pre vious round, but both were determined to end the contest as soon as possible. Godend the contest as soon as possible. God-dard looked the worst punished man in appearance, as his face was covered with-gore, which flowed in streams down his breast. He went at Maher like a wild beast, and fairly beat his man down by brute strength. The Irish lad stood up gamely under the shower of blows, but at last was laid low by a straight right on the jaw and fell face down on the floor. The excite-ment was intense, the crowd being fairly crazed with excitement. The round lasted just 50 seconds.

The fight was as fierce as it was short. With only a little preliminary sparring the big fellows set to work in the first round with activity of featherweights and the flerceness of wildcats. Maher slipped to his knees in the first round and remained there fully nine seconds. Both men were badly winded at the end of the round, but it seemed very clear that the Irishman was no match in strength for his antagonist. Frenzied by the Sight of Blood.

The fight scene at the end of the first round, when it appeared that Maher might possibly win, was one of the most exciting ever witnessed in the annals of pugilism. For the short time it lasted it was one of the bloodiest and fiercest ever witnessed. Goddard was covered with blood from almost the first blow. He lacked science, but he was much the stronger man, the dif-ference of 12 pounds in weight in his favor badly handicapping Maher.

As the brawny gladiators returned to their corners covered with blood the spectators went into a perfect frenzy of delight. The smell of the fresh, warm blood permeated the air and seemed to rouse their savage instincts to a pitch that was indeed alternia.

alarming. The second round was a repetition of the first in heavy fighting. The was not a mo-ment's cessation in the alugging, science was forgotten, and each man tried to finish the other as quickly as possible. In the the third round the men went at it again at a pace that could not possibly be kept up for any length of time. They fought like After a terrible exchange of blows for nearly a minute Maher was knocked down and out, after the most victous and furious fight ever seen here.

THE AMATEUR BOXERS.

Almost All the Best of Them Have Become Professional Fighters. New York, Dec. 8.—[Special.]—The Amateur Athletic Union boxing championships. which will be held in Philadelphia on the nights of January 5 and 7, will hardly draw a large amount of patronage from New York. Amateur boxing in and around this York. Amateur boxing in and around this city has been a failure this season. Not a single tournament has been held on this side of the bridge, while over in Brooklyn the attempt of the National Athietic Citb to hold a tournament open to all comers at the regular weights was a serious failure. They have not had the courage to repeat it, and no other citb apparently feels justified in trying a second tournament on the public. The best amateur boxers, or, rather, the men who competed in A. A. U. tournaments for years ago, have become professionals.

men who competed in A. A. U. tournaments a few years ago, have become professionals. Those who have not taken this step of their own volition have their names on Father Bill Cartis' notorious 400. As matters are, New York entries must consist of practically unknown men, so that Philadelphia is in a fair way to scoop almost all the championships.

Looks Like Business.

New York, Dec. 8.-[Special.]-A cable dis-Police Gozet's office to-day to the effect that Pony Moore, Charley Mitchell's father-in-law, had deposited £500 with the Sporting Life for a fight with Jim Corbett for $10,000 a side and the largest purse offered. Moore

He says he never felt better, and is confident he will teach Fitzsimmons a lesson when they meet at New Orleans to battle for when they meet at New Orleans to battle for the purse of $40,000 which the Croscent City Club has hung up for them. He had heard nothing whatever of any overtures having been made for a go between him and Choya-ski. It was all news to him. Mitchell, he said, would come to America as soon as he served his two months' sentence. He is very anxious to fight Corbett, and Hall says he puthorized him to bring about a match. Mitchell, he says, is in earnest and means business.

THE GROVER S. CASE

Trotting Authorities Deal With the Sensa tional Horse Poisoning Case. New York, Dec. 8 .- The Grover S. case was before the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association yesterday. The facts are briefly these: Grover S, had made a record of 2:14% at Baltimore on October ! and at Point Breeze, Philadelphia, on the day in question, the 11th, he was starting in a 2:22 class for the last time. Naturally be was a favorite, but only at the opening of the betting, for the field grew and heavier until it overlapped Grover S.'s price. This raised suspicion and when the invorite lost the first neat in 2:20%, Lyman, the driver, was warned. He won the next in 2:17% by two lengths and won it easily.

This should have made Grover a much warmer favorite, but when the race was resumed on the next day a new field buyer giving the name of D. came to the front and played the field end so heavily in conjunction with a J. D. that they quickly ran the short end up from $18 to $55. Grover won the third heat in 1:17%, but eyen then he was not an oddson favorite as he would have been under ordinary circumstances. Under a thick; cloud of suspicion the horses started for the jourth heat and when just past the quarter pole Grover S. staggered and fell dead.

A surgical examination disclosed the fact and heavier until it overlapped Grover 8.'s A surgical examination disclosed the fact A surgical examination disclosed the fact that Grover's stomach was devoid of food, but filled with a drug, which in the opinion of the veterinarian was the cause of death. Pools were declared off and Captain Shanley, ewner: J. A. Lyman, driver, and Rell Hollister, field-end buyer, all of Binghamton, were expelled.

Revolution In Eating

has been brought about by the introduction of COTTOLENE, the new vegetable shortening. The discovery of this product, and the demonstration of its remarkable qualities, has attracted the widest interest. Hitherto the common shortening has been lard, or indifferent butter. Every one has probably suffered occasional discomfort from lard-cooked food; while it is well known that thousands are obliged to abstain entirely from everything of that kind. To such people, COTTOLENE is of peculiar value, widening as it does, the range of what may be eaten and enjoyed. COTTOLENE is a cooking marvel. It combines with the food-imparts to it a tempting color, a delicate flavor, and an appetizing crispness. No trace of greasiness remains to offend the taste, or disturb the digestion.

COTTOLENE is worthy of the careful notice of all those who value good food, of itself or for its hygienic properties.
