When, as in the course of the com-ing century will probably be the case, the ollege man in public affairs and in the higher walks of business and social lite shall have become the rule rather than the exception, the student will be recognized as the same important factor in the United States as he is now in Germany and other institutions of learning will have probably become an equally well recognized part of the body politic.

his old self again. "I'm feeling that way, too," said he. "When I began to suffer from insomnia I felt scared, While in Washington I always slept soundly. No matter how hard I worked I could go to bed and sleep like a child. All at once I found that power gone. It is a terrible thing not to be able to sleep As I say, I got scared, and I took good advice, cut business and went abroad and rested my mind with new things, I came back all right—just in time to be in at the political death. Wasn't that a grand re-ult, though?" And the ex-Presidental Private Secretary and present railway magnate smiled pleasantly and stepped into his comfortaole coupe.

The Demand for Front Seats. I don't go to the theater very often, but when I do take a notion to patronize the drama I want a front seat. I went early and explained to the ticket man that I wa color blind and deat and couldn't tell one note from another unless I was on the front row. He said he was sorry, but the best he had was eight or ten rows back. I then inquired if I could get one for the next night, or the next, or the next, or next week. He shuffled his cards tenderly and said no. "How about next month?" said I, sar-

Then I turned away and was confronted by half a dozen speculators who had plenty of front seats for that night and every other light, which they were willing to part with So I thought I would try the Casino, where they never tolerate speculators-where they despise speculators and warn the public against buying of speculators. But it was the same way. I couldn't buy a front sent for that night, or for any night ahead. Then I got interested in the matter and area provisionating nights and and grew proportionately pigheaded and mule-obstinate. But I met with no better success at two or three other theaters where they were playing to small houses every night. I asked a friend about it.

"The speculators own all the front seats," said he. "If it isn't the sidewalk specu-lator, it's the hotel speculator. All the best seats are held and sold by the speculators on the walks and at the hotels. You'll have to pay $2 or take a back seat, or stay out." I staid out. But I thought it an outrage on the public, just the same.

Crests Made to Order.

Just below the Fifth Avenue Hotel on Broadway is a handsomely dressed window in which is displayed among other things some fine stationery. A card at the foot of the array announces that coats of arms, creats, etc., will be found and the same heraldic devices emblazoned, engraved and printed at reasonable prices to order while you wait. I hadn't lost anything of this sort, but I was told that didn't matterthey had a man who could find me one any-how. All they want to know is what your name is and what your father and grand-father on the paternal side did for a living and where they came from. Then they find you a device that fits the crime,

Einstein claimed that the trademark and formulae belonged to him, he having purchased them is an infallible symptom of catarrh of the bronchial tubes. Consumption is rarely, if from Adolph Hepp, to whom it was alleged Father Mollinger gave them. Sawhill in his answer denies that Ein-stein owns the formulae or trade mark or ever, anything but catarrh of the air cells of the lungs. Dyspepsia is catarrh of the stomach. Bright's discase is catarrh of the kidneys. Billousness and liver complaint are catarrh of the liver. Many forms of heart disease are caused by catarrh of the lining membrane of the heart. Female disstein owns the formatize of trade mark of that Heas ever owned an interest in them to sell to him. He elsims that the medicines sold by Einstein are not those formulated and prescribed by Father Mollinger. The defendant rents and says he has a right to sell the medicines or moder to be prescriptions of lining membrane of the heart. Female diseases and urinary derangements of either sex are easily traceable in most cases to catarrh of the pelvic organs. Catarrh cannot be cured by local treat-ment alone. A thorough course of internal treatment with Pe-ru-na affords the only reasonable prospect of cure. Sprays, douches, inhalants and gargles sometimes relieve, but never cure. Pe-ru-na cures by removing the cause. It gradually eradicates the catarrh from the system, wherever its location. An illustrated treatise on catarrh will be sent free to any address by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Company of Columbus, Ohio.
