NO CHANGE OF FRONT.

Father Tobin Discusses the Effect of Mgr. Satolli's Mission.

SETTLING AN OLD CONTROVERSY.

A Denial That the Public School System Has Been Indorsed.

CHURCH LEGISLATION UNCHANGED

The address of Monsignor Satolli, the Papal delegate to the conference of Archbishops in New York, has occasioned much local discussion on the attitude of the Church toward the public school. Yesterday morning Father F. L. Tobin, of St. Mary's Church, Forty-sixth street, spoke to his congregation on the subject. He said:

"Much has been said and written about the resolutions passed by the Archbishops at the conference lately held by them in New York, and the address delivered on the same occasion by Mgr. Satolli, the Papal delegate. The meaning of those resolutions and of that address has been generally misunderstood and misrepresented—not purposely misrepresented, but through ignorance of the legislation of the Church concerning Catholic education in this country. The result of the Archbishops' deliberations is hailed by many as a change of front on the part of the Holy See towards the public schools; it is interpreted by some to mean a virtual approval of the public school system. Now this, I claim, is a mistake—a natural and pardonable mistake, to be sure—but none the less a mistake. There is no new feature in the Archbishop's resolutions or the Papal delegate's address.

Church Legislation Unchanged.

"The legislation of the Church concerning Catholic education and the public school is just what it was before I shall now endeavor to prove this assertion by examining the Archbishops' declarations and the Monsignor's address. The following are the resolutions:

1. To promote the erection of Catholic schools, so that there may be accommodation in them, if possible, for all our Catholic children, according to the decrees of the Plenary Council of Baltimore and the decision of the Holy See.

2. That as to children who at present do not attend Catholic schools, we direct, in addition, that provision be made for Sunday schools, and also by instruction on some other day or days of the week, and by urging Catholic parents to teach their children the Catholic doctrine at their homes. Sunday and week-day schools should be under the direct supervision of the clergy, aided by intelligent lay teachers, and, when possible, by the members of the religious teaching orders.

"These provisions contain nothing new. The instruction of the Congregation of Propaganda, approved by the Holy See and addressed in 1875 to the bishops of the United States, treating of those Catholic children who are compelled to attend public schools, contains the following:

Parish priests and missionaries in the United States should * * * spare no pains to give (such children) thorough catechetical instructions.

Religious Instruction for Scholars.

"And the Second Plenary Council of Baltimore, held in 1868, enacted this decree:

Pastors should assemble the boys and girls (who attend public schools) on Sundays and other feast days, and sometimes even more frequently, in order to teach them, with care and diligence, the elements of Christian doctrine.

"The following card from Archbishop Ryan speaks for itself, and lays the logic which some writer had called up: 'Several newspapers contain articles of a somewhat sensational character, in which they affect to discern something new and startling in the report of the Archbishops by reading between the lines. As I wrote the report, I beg to state that is only necessary to read along the lines to understand it. As the Archbishops met after consultation with the Bishops, the unanimous adoption of these resolutions is not a triumph for any party, but for the entire united hierarchy of the country.'

Monsignor Satolli's Mission.

"It strikes me that undue importance has been attached to the utterances of Mgr. Satolli. He has been sent to this country, not to change the existing laws of the church or to frame new ones, but to confer with the Archbishops and to report to the Holy See. He did not even preside at the sessions. What may be done in the future, I do not pretend to say; but so far he has only made suggestions. The results of the conference are to be found in the Archbishops' report, not in the Envoy's speech. But even that speech contains nothing novel, except if it be an exception—a recommendation that the bishop and the members of the Public School Board enter into an agreement whereby the latter will allow the Catholic children to be assembled during free time and taught the catechism. Some writers for the press seem to have jumped at the conclusion that this and the plans suggested by Mgr. Satolli are put forward as substitutes for our parochial schools. A careful reading of the document would have prevented any intelligent person from making so gross an error. They are simply methods of securing the necessary religious instruction for those Catholic children who do not go to Catholic schools.

Certain Conditions to Be Observed.

"It is true that he states it is lawful for Catholic parents to send their children to those (the public) schools, but mark the conditions—'If it be clear that in a given locality the above named dangers to faith and morals disappear.' And what are the above-named dangers? The first mentioned is as follows: 'Because in the public schools a purely secular education is given, inasmuch as it excludes all teaching of religion.' Assuredly, if it were clear that these dangers were removed, no Catholic, clerical or lay, would find fault with the public schools.

"One point more. The Papal delegate says the pastor should not show less love for those who attend public schools than for the other children of his flock. Certainly not. Just as the Good Shepherd showed more love for the stray sheep than for the 99 within the fold; just as the physician pays more attention to the critical cases than to the less serious ones; so the Catholic pastor will seek and show more solicitude for the little ones of his flock who attend public schools than for those who enjoy the advantages of Catholic education.

The Church and the Public School.

"To sum up, the attitude of the Church toward the public school system is not changed. Patrons are still required, and will still be required, to maintain parochial schools wherever it is possible to do so. The faithful will still be exhorted to support them; and parents will still be urged to have their children taught in them or other Catholic institutions, and not only urged, but strictly required, unless the bishop of the diocese, for reasons of which he is the judge, permits them to do otherwise.

"Perhaps you will ask, if the legislation of the Church still remain the same, why was this meeting held by the Archbishops? Why was Mgr. Satolli directed to be present? You know that some of our highest Church dignitaries differed on some points connected with the question of education. Those differences gave rise to a controversy which threatened to impair seriously the concert with which the hierarchy had always acted on that important subject.

Ending an Unseemly Controversy.

"The discussion was not edifying to the laity, who were surprised to find divided counsels among their spiritual guides. To put an end to the unseemly controversy, the Pope directed the Archbishops to meet and consider the questions at issue, and Mgr. Satolli to represent him at the conference. The Holy Father's plan proved successful. His Envoy's speech was a masterpiece of adroitness. In his bland, diplomatic manner, with his smooth, Italian tongue, Mgr. Satolli said much that pleased both parties and nothing that could offend either. The resolutions that I have quoted were adopted unanimously by the Archbishops, and the conference adjourned, leaving the legislation of the Church precisely as it was before.

"If in the future the public school system should be so modified as to make proper provision for the religious instruction of Catholic pupils, the laws of the Church will no doubt be modified to meet the change in that system."

WANT A BETTER LOCATION.

The Thaddeus Stevens School to Be Moved and Rebuilt.

The directors of the Thaddeus Stevens School, Thirty-sixth ward, have decided to move the building to a more favorable location. The present site is on Main street, half way up the hill, and there have been many complaints that the place is unhealthy, receiving all the drainage from the top of the hill. Besides this the building is badly in need of repairs.

At the November election it was voted to increase the bonded indebtedness of the ward $39,000 and improve the school. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors it was decided to sell the ground on which the school stands and go to some more desirable locality. Mr. Andrew Strieb was instructed to have a plan for a new building drawn and bring it before the board. He consulted with Architect F. J. Westerling, who drew a plan for the proposed new building. It shows a three-story brick, containing ten rooms and a Superintendent's office.

It will be heated by steam and the cost is estimated at about $30,000. Nothing has been done as yet toward selecting a location for the new school. Various sites have been proposed, but the Board of Directors are waiting until they can dispose of the old property before taking any further steps.

GREETINGS TO MURPHY.

Two Enthusiastic Temperance Meetings Keeping Up the Work.

A large meeting of the combined organizations of temperance workers was held in the rooms of the Keeley League Club yesterday afternoon. John W. Moreland, President of the combined organization, made the opening address, and Captain J. K. Barbour led the exercises. Speeches were made by Captain Barbour, David Hall, A. M. Brown, Thomas Jones and W. C. Cook, of the Murphy temperance people; S. E. Moore and Mr. Milholland, of the Keeley League; Miss Gorseline, of the W. C. T. U., and others.

The audience was enthusiastic and a great number signed the pledge. Greetings were telegraphed to the Francis Murphy gospel temperance meeting held in New York last night.

If Carnegie Hall, Allegheny, can be secured these meetings will be held there, commencing next Sunday afternoon.

The Moorhead W. C. T. U. held a good meeting in their hall, Second avenue and Grant street, last night. Mrs. J. M. Foster presided and was assisted by Mrs. S. A. Getty, W. T. Cassiday, A. F. Bryce, Samuel McCord, P. Shaner, William Frances and W. J. McKee. Before the opening of the meeting the ladies served luncheon to 50 men. There will be a meeting next Sunday night.

AN OLD CARRIER DEAD.

Mathias J. Clark Was One of the Forty-Niners Who Went to California.

Mathias J. Clark, one of the oldest carriers on THE DISPATCH, died yesterday at his home, 174 Adams street, Allegheny. He was 75 years old, and an active man up to within a short time before his death. Mr. Clark was as spry as a lark, and for the last 20 years could have been found almost every morning at 4 o'clock in THE DISPATCH mailing room after his bundle of papers. Mr. Fifer, who died on the Southside a few weeks ago, had the honor of being the oldest carrier. Mr. Kearns came next, but he sold his route a short time since, so that at the time of his death Mr. Clark stood at the top of the list.

He lived a long and eventful life. He crossed the continent with the forty-niners, and at their next annual banquet the old boys will pay a tribute to his memory. That colony of gold explorers that started from Pittsburg for the Golden Gate in 1849 had a tough experience crossing the plains. At times they were famished for water, and on other occasions had to defend themselves against the bitter attacks of the savages. Mr. Clark leaves two sons and two daughters.

BOTH PROVED AN ALIBI.

Discharge of Two Men Arrested for the Liberty Street Assault.

Frank Curby and A. Probs were arrested at an early hour yesterday morning by Officer Peoples on suspicion of being the men who knocked Albert Smith down at the corner of Eleventh and Liberty streets Saturday night and broke his leg. At the hearing yesterday morning they were discharged upon proving to Magistrate McKenna that they were in another part of the city when the assault occurred.

Smith is at the West Penn Hospital, where he was removed immediately after being hurt. He is unable to explain the cause of the sudden attack on him, but says he does not think robbery was intended, as they made no effort to go through his pockets.

Took the Sleeper's Wardrobe.

J. A. Jackson was arrested in the Union depot Saturday night by Officer Conway at the request of Robert Dyer. Both men are colored. Dyer said that while he was sitting in the depot he fell asleep, and Jackson picked up a bundle by his side containing a suit of clothes and made off. When he woke up he missed the bundle, and after a search he noticed it under Jackson's arm. Jackson was locked up until Dyer could prefer a charge of larceny against him.

Water Scarce in Allegheny.

There was a scarcity of water in Allegheny yesterday afternoon while the connection of the new main at North avenue and Howard street was being made. The Pleasant Valley line was unable to run the California avenue branch, not having sufficient water to keep up the pressure required for all its branches.

Fortunes for Two Missing Men.

The police were asked yesterday to make inquiry for Peter McAleer, formerly of Cork, Ireland, but now thought to be living here, and Patrick Bracken, formerly of Birmingham, England, but who was last heard of in this city. An intimation is conveyed in the inquiries that relatives have bequeathed both money.

Broke His Leg While Playing.

Howard Brown, an 8-year-old boy, who lives at 3208 Jane street, fell from a P., V. & C. car on which he was playing yesterday afternoon and fractured his leg, besides receiving other injuries. He was taken to the Southside Hospital for treatment.

Glove and Handkerchief Cases.

Satin novelties, sachets, etc., Christmas cards, booklets and novelties at half price to close out. Open every evening.
Jos. EICHBAUM & Co., 48 Fifth avenue.

For the Holidays.

Cash or easy payments, boys' and girls' bicycles. Pittsburg Cycle Company, 428 Wood street.

GLOVES, umbrellas—newest shades, greatest selection—Louvre, 24 Sixth street, directly opposite Bijou Theater.

BUYER and seller meet through the medium of THE DISPATCH ads. They cost little and are effectual.

A SERVICE OF MUSIC.

Auspicious Opening of a Series to Be Given in Calvary Church.

ORGAN AND A FULL ORCHESTRA

Supplement the Voices of a Greatly Strengthened Choir.

MAKING RELIGIOUS MUSIC POPULAR

The first of a series of special musical services was given at Calvary Episcopal Church yesterday afternoon. The church was filled to overflowing, and probably more than 1,200 people, among whom the ladies were slightly in the majority, enjoyed the impressive and beautiful service which was rendered by a full choir and organ supplemented by a goodly number of stringed instruments and French horns. Mr. Carl Retter was organist and musical director, and the regular Calvary Church choir had been strengthened so that it included these ladies and gentlemen: Miss Sarah C. Vogel, Miss Leonora S. Dickson, Miss Frances S. King, Miss Aurelia Reinemann, Miss Amanda Vierheller, Mrs. Chalmers, Mrs. Woodbridge, Miss Edith Norton, Miss Minnie A. Leonard, Miss Chalmers, Miss Margaret P. Fraser, Miss Julia Beach, Miss Olive Beach, Mr. Henry Gerding, Mr. Edward E. Rinehart, Jr., Mr. William H. Morrison, Mr. Joe Gladden, Mr. George Brown, Mr. W. W. Ramsey, Mr. J. J. Miller, Mr. Raymond Curtis, Mr. John Muir, Mr. Frank Benbow, Mr. Daniel Bullock and Mr. Alex. C. Fraser, Librarian.

Musical Features of the Service.

The service consisted of a portion of the evening prayer with these musical features: A voluntary by the stringed instruments and organ by Handel; offertory, air in D, by Bach, and grand mass in F by Schubert, rendered by the choir and orchestra, including, of course, the organ. The superb music of the mass was admirably treated, the religious as well as the artistic purpose being duly emphasized. The Gloria in Excelsis and the Credo, presenting many difficulties as well as beauties, were interpreted with admirably graduated feeling and power. The strings especially strengthened the organ in some of the passages, and the happy alliance of all the elements, vocal and instrumental, called attention once more in the most forcible manner to the innate grandeur of the English version of the old Latin mass, which the authors of the Book of Common Prayer have given us.

Mr. Retter after the service was inclined to apologize for shortcomings, for which, if they existed, and to the layman they were not apparent, the difficulty of getting a special choir and orchestra together for rehearsal were ample excuse. It is safe to say that everyone in the church echoed the approval and gratitude expressed by the rector of Calvary after the service to Mr. Retter.

The First of the Series.

The service yesterday was the first of a series to be given at Calvary Church during the coming year. Three services in a manner similar to yesterday's have been performed at Calvary at intervals recently, but the work is now organized on a permanent basis, and naturally the choir and orchestra will gather strength at each step. Musical critics in the congregation yesterday expressed great satisfaction with the result, and the new undertaking has certainly made an excellent beginning. The following is the programme for the future: December 11, mass in F, Schubert; January 8, Messiah, part 1, Handel; February 12, Christ on the Mount of Olives, Beethoven; March 12, Stabat Mater, Eossini; April 16, St. Cecilia mass, Gounod; May 14, Christus (unfinished oratorio) and Lauda Sion, Mendelssohn; June 11, mass in C, Beethoven; October 15, Imperial mass, Haydn; November 12, Twelfth mass, Mozart; December 10, Holy City, Gaul.

Before the principal musical feature of the service the Rev. Dr. George Hodges addressed the congregation briefly explaining the object of these musical services. He expressed his belief that the church had a duty to perform outside its strictly ecclesiastical mission; it was bound to do anything and all things it could to help men upward and onward.

An Agent for Great Good.

Good music was one of the agents through which it ought to work. As to the choice of music in use in the Roman Catholic Church, Dr. Hodges rather rejoiced than regretted to be able to find in another branch of the Christian church something of profit to men's minds and souls; if they could find such music in the Presbyterian Church, for instance, they would gladly take it.

At the conclusion of the service, at which by the way not only a large part of Calvary's congregation was present but many people from remote parts of town, from Allegheny City and even the Ohio Valley suburbs, Dr. Hodges talked to a reporter of THE DISPATCH about the extension of the musical service on Sunday to other and especially less favored parts of the city.

"Do you not think, Dr. Hodges, that such a service as this afternoon's would be appreciated by the people at large?" was asked.

Services That Would Be Popular.

"Yes," replied Dr. Hodges earnestly; "I am heartily in favor of providing music for the masses on Sunday afternoons, not only in churches but wherever you can get the people together. Down among the tenements and wherever the poor are, the people who haven't music at home, I believe that musical services on Sunday afternoon would accomplish much good and prove popular in no time."

It has been found that to give satisfactory musical services professional talent must be had, and it must be paid for. Speaking of this detail Dr. Hodges said: "I believe that ten men could easily be found to subscribe the necessary funds at once. It is in this direction that the Art Society can do much good. It certainly is one of the objects of the society to elevate and enlighten the masses, and the musical service is a practical means. I hope and believe that the Art Society will take this matter up. There is a real need for such popular services in Pittsburg; I do not say that what we are trying to do here would exactly suit all people—the services could be arranged on lines to reach all people, and to suit all tastes. The forms could be changed, the essential thing is good music, well rendered and in a religious spirit."

TWO WANDERING BOYS.

One Thought to Be a Runaway and Another Is Hunting His Sister.

A small boy, about 11 years old, was picked up on Smithfield street by Officer Mike Sullivan at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and sent to Central station, being unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his presence on the street at that hour. The boy told Judge Gripp at the hearing that his name was Fred Bock, and that his home was in Warren, Ohio. He left home, he said, to work on the steamboat J. B. Gilmore, but he could not tell the name of a single officer of that craft, although alleging to have worked on it for a month. Judge Gripp thought he was a runaway and he was remanded to a cell for a day or two.

Another boy named Albert Dawson called at Central station Saturday night and said he was hunting his sister, Mrs. Fred Klimper, who had come here recently from Cincinnati. He is provided with lodgings while he continues his search for her.

Albums, Albums, Albums.

Just received, the latest novelties in this line, in leather, plush and hard wood backs, handsomely ornamented. Just the thing for Xmas presents. See them at J. W. Grove's, Fifth avenue.

A RAILROAD MYSTERY.

A Large Surveying Party at Work Between This City and Punxsutawney—The Reading or the Vanderbilts Interested in the Work Say the Guessers.

It has leaked out within the past two or three days that a large surveying party has been at work between Pittsburg and Punxsutawney locating a railroad line, and the matter has excited a great deal of interest among railroad men in this city. Their movements have been so carefully guarded that people in the vicinity have been led to believe that at least half a dozen new railroad lines are to be constructed. The question which puzzles them most, however, is by whom and for what purpose are they to be built. One claim is that the Reading is searching for an entrance into Pittsburg; a second, that the Beech Creek people contemplate further extensions of their road, while a third that the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg will extend its line westward from Punxsutawney. The only fact, however, that is definitely known is that surveys in that territory are being made.

Officials of the Reading Company, says the Philadelphia Stockholder, on Saturday asserted that they did not contemplate building a new line in that part of the State, but further than that they would not go. The belief in local railroad circles is, however, that whatever line is to be built will be for the Vanderbilts, and one prominent official expressed the opinion that the engineer corps is working in sections, which makes it appear that several roads are to be built. "I think they are working towards the head of the Turtle creek valley," he continued, "but if such is the case I cannot see where they expect to gain anything, as the Pennsylvania Railroad controls about all the land in that territory available for railroad purposes."

A BRADDOCK DEDICATION.

The German Lutherans Hold Impressive Services of Praise and Song There.

There was a revival among the German Lutherans in Braddock yesterday on the occasion of the dedication of the elegant new edifice of Immanuel's congregation. The exercises were of an exceptionally impressive and appropriate character, the "leave services" in the morning being particularly so. These were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Brand, and were attended only by members of the congregation.

The dedicatory services in the afternoon drew an immense attendance, embracing many visitors from Pittsburg, Allegheny and McKeesport. These services were in charge of the pastor's father, Rev. P. Brand, who preached the dedicatory sermon. The singing was a marked feature of the occasion, the German Vocalists from Pittsburg and several other towns uniting in one grand chorus. In the evening Rev. A. W. Meyer, of Allegheny, supplied the pulpit and delivered an excellent sermon in English, following which the several choirs in attendance gave a sacred concert. The congregation of this church has had a remarkably large and healthy growth since the present pastor took charge four years ago, and is now considered the strongest in point of numbers of any of the 19 churches of Braddock.

CONTRIBUTIONS COMING FAST.

The Relief Association Will Make Another Canvass To-Day.

The headquarters of the Citizens' Relief Association at Homestead were deserted yesterday, and no more supplies were distributed. No applicants for assistance outside of the 218 families first reported have put in appearance. The association is still hard at work and expect, before the week is over with the assistance of their friends, to do much toward alleviating the sufferings of the destitute people.

Rev. J. J. Galloway yesterday said: "Although quite a number of mill workers with their families have been found to be in actual want, we are not wholly satisfied that we have discovered all that are in need. To-morrow the members of the association will begin another canvass, which will be a most thorough one. We expect to find that quite a number of poor people have been overlooked, and steps will at once be taken to bring them to the front. The association has a great deal of work before it, but it will not be long now before everything is in perfect order. Contributions of money, clothing and edibles are coming in rapidly."

Won the Pot and Was Arrested.

Guy Thompson, an Allegheny youth, was arrested yesterday morning on Anderson street, Allegheny, by Officer Reitzel while engaged in a game of crap. The boys were playing for their week's earnings, but Thompson was captured before he had won the pot. He was locked up in Central station and will be given a hearing this morning. He lives in Bell's alley.

He Proved an Alibi.

William O'Neil, living near the Tenth street bridge, was arrested early yesterday morning for going into the house of Mrs. Evans, a neighbor, and beating her very badly. When arraigned before Magistrate Hyndman later in the day O'Neil proved an alibi, and Mrs. Evans admitted that she might have been mistaken.

Are You Looking for Toys?

Then no better place to go than a first-class toy store, where you have a line to select from. We make it a business the year through and study your wants. We feel a call and a glance over our stock will convince you of this fact.
JAMES W. GROVE, Fifth avenue.

Fine Fruits.

We have now in store a large stock of all the finest evaporated and dried fruits, both domestic and foreign. We can do you good on these goods. Send for price list. Goods delivered everywhere. MILLER BROS., Fine Groceries and Table Delicacies, 182 Federal street, Allegheny.

Satchels and Traveling Bags.

An elegant line made specially for Xmas presents. All the latest styles for ladies and gents, furnished and unfurnished, at Grove's, Fifth avenue.

Boys' and Girls' Wheels

Cash or easy payments for the holidays. Pittsburg Cycle Company, 428 Wood street.

DEWITT'S Little Early Risers. No griping, no pain, no nausea: easy pill to take.

YOUR rooms will not long be empty if you advertise them in THE DISPATCH cent-a-word ads.

You should by all means go to Henry Terheyden's, 530 Smithfield street, and see his display of novelties in silver.
Glove boxes,
Glove menders,
Match safes,
Snuff boxes,
Toilet boxes,
Stamp boxes,
Bonbon boxes,
And hundreds of other things suitable for the holiday times.
It won't cost you a cent to look at the goods.

WHEN EATING

becomes troublesome, digestion defective, sleeping an impossibility, appetite ceases, take Johann Hoff's Malt Extract. It acts like a charm and tastes splendid. Be sure to get the "genuine," which must have the signature of "Johann Hoff" on the neck of every bottle, and take no substitute. Use Johann Hoff's Malt Bonbons for Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds. de4

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

HARDY & HAYES.

"Then here's to the thrifty housewife."

XMAS GIFTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

Might as well give them something useful as well as ornamental. Here are ideas of what:

BRIC-A-BRAC
In Statues, Figures, Clocks, Lamps, Tables, Cabinets, Vases, Etc.

CHINAWARE
In Individual Items, Game Sets, Fish Sets, Ice Cream Sets, Chocolate Sets, Coffee Sets, Fruit Sets, Etc

GLASSWARE
In Sets of Glasses, Decanters, Carraffes, Fruit Dishes, Bowls, Dinner Sets, Vases, Etc

SILVERWARE, too—the largest variety in the two cities. Everything—from a small spoon to the largest bowl, or most exquisite tea or coffee service. SEE OUR SILVER.

Store Open Every Evening.

HARDY & HAYES,

529 SMITHFIELD STREET.
del2-MWF

CLEARANCE SALE —OF— FURNITURE AT COST.

IMMENSE BARGAINS.

DELP & BELL,

13 AND 15 FEDERAL ST., ALLEGHENY.

no19-MWFSu

HUGUS & HACKE.

STOCK-TAKING AND HOLIDAY SALE.

UPHOLSTERY DEPARTMENT BARGAINS.

A lot of materials for Curtain and Furniture Coverings at about half price.

Nottingham Lace Curtains. Our lines from $1 to $8.50 per pair are exceptional value. Over 100 styles to select from.

Real Irish Point Lace Curtains, wonderful values from $4 to $15 per pair.

Chenille Portieres, the best assortment at the very lowest prices every offered; all the newest designs and leading colors.

Lace Bed Sets—Very choice selections of Lace Bedspreads and Pillow Shams in new patterns.

Blankets—Our own make, made of the best selected wool. The nicest looking and best wearing blankets in the market; a full line of sizes and colors. Special low prices during this sale.

COR. FIFTH AVE. AND MARKET ST.
dell-MWFSu

THE ONLY REASON

For the continued increase of THE DISPATCH adlets is that they give satisfactory returns.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FLEISHMAN & CO. F PITTSBURG, PA.

EXTRAORDINARY HANDKERCHIEF SALE!

We have purchased 3,800 DOZEN HANDKERCHIEFS, being the entire stock of an importer retiring from that branch of the business, and now offer them at

40 Per Cent

Less than regular prices. We have divided them into 4 lots, at prices that will require an early call to secure some of these RARE BARGAINS:

LOT 1:
Gents' Colored Bordered H. S. Hdks, full size—
Gents' White H. S. Hdkfs—
Ladies' White and Colored Embr. H. S. Hdkfs—
Ladies' Fancy Corded and Colored Border—
Up to 15c qualities— 5c

LOT 2:
Ladies' White Embr., with scalloped edges—
Ladies' Colored Embr., with scalloped edge—
Ladies' White H. S. Embr., pure linen—
Ladies' White H. S., with Embr. Initials—
Ladies' White and Tinted Silk Embr. Hdkfs—
Gents' White H. S., with large Embr. Initials—
Gents' Colored Border H. S. Hdkfs—
Gents' Pure Linen H. S. Hdkfs— 12½c WORTH UP TO 35c.

LOT 3:
Ladies' Fine White Embr., with scalloped edges—
Ladies' White H. S. Silk Hdkfs, with elegant embroidered initials—
Ladies' White and Tinted Silk Embr. Hdkfs—
Ladies' Colored Embr., with scalloped edge—
Ladies' Fine Silk Embr. Chiffon, all shades—
Ladies' White H. S., pure linen, fine embr. initials—
Ladies' Mufflers, light and dark, to close— 25c WORTH UP TO $1.

LOT 4:
Ladies' finest Linen Embr. Hdkfs—
Ladies' finest Silk Embr. Hdkfs—
Gents' White H. S. Silk Hdkfs, large size, fine initials—
Gent's Mufflers, Cashmere, light and dark, to close— 49c Worth Up to $1.50.

FLEISHMAN & CO.,

504, 506 AND 508 MARKET ST.

MAIL ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
del2

Holiday Goods

UNLIMITED VARIETIES! LATEST NOVELTIES! LOWEST PRICES!

Fine Embroidered Initial Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, $1, $1.25, $1.50 a box.
Fine Embroidered Initial Handkerchiefs, 12½c, 15c, 25c to 50c.
Fine Embroidered Swiss Handkerchiefs, 12½c, 15c, 18c, 25c, 37c, 50c and 75c.
Extra fine Silk Handkerchiefs, 25c to $1.
Perfect fitting Kid Gloves, 75c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.
Gents' Kid Gloves, $1, $1.50, $1.75.
Fine Fur-top Gloves, $1 to $1.75.

FANCY ARTICLES.

Bric-a-Brac,
Painted Placques,
Silver Mounted Boxes,
Hard Wood Boxes,
Plush Boxes,
Manicure Sets,
Shaving Sets,
Work Boxes,
Smokers' Sets,
Ink Stands,
Music Rolls,
Picture Books,
Traveling Cases,
Pocketbooks,
Flower Pots and Plants,
Mirrors,
Toilet Bottles,
Stamped Linen Goods,
Embroidered Linen Goods,
Table Covers,
Silk Tidies,
Sofa Cushions,
Cups and Saucers,
Pin Trays,
Pin Cushions,
Fans, 10c to $15,
Silk Mittens,
Woolen Hoods.

Hundreds of other useful articles suitable for presents for Ladies, Misses and Gentlemen.

CLOAK ROOM STARTLERS.

Our prices on Ladies' Outer Garments are simply astounding—never before were new, stylish goods sold for so little money. See our grand line of Cloaks, Newmarkets, Gretchens, Fur Capes, Muffs, etc. They're going for less than it cost the manufacturer to make them. We guarantee to supply your wants in this line at a big saving.

Rosenbaum & Co.

510, 512, 514, 516, 518 MARKET ST. del-MWF