

LOOKING FOR A HOME.

A Handsome Structure Promised for the Female College.

THE LOCATION STILL IN DOUBT.

It Will Either Be Built in Allegheny or Upon the Old Site.

THE STRUCTURE WILL COST $85,000

The Pittsburgh Female College, which has been dragging along in an uncertain sort of way since the destruction of Christ M. E. Church and the damaging of the college building by fire two winters ago, is to receive an impetus that will set it up among the prominent institutions of the country.

Will Erect a Handsome Building.

The trustees intend to expend $85,000, the constructed of brick with a brown stone front, will contain a large gymnasium, chapel and music hall, parlors, classrooms, bedrooms, elevator, etc., and will be lighted by electricity and heated by steam.

Dr. Norcross, President of the college, stated to a DISPATCH reporter last night that final action would be taken on the affairs of the college at a meeting of the Board of Trustees, some time after January 1st.

An Early Start Anticipated. Said he: "We have been holding back, expecting to sell our property, but the real estate agent having the matter in charge told me yesterday that he had no purchaser in sight."

Dr. J. J. Taylor, the wholesale confectioner, offered to buy the Ursuline Academy in Oakland at $300,000 and sell the building and five acres of ground to the Female College for $150,000, expecting to reimburse himself by selling the ground to the Ursuline Academy.

THE NEW COAL TRUST.

All the Operators of the Hoeking Valley to Merge Into One Company.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 13.—The coal operators of the Hoeking Valley, in session here, took steps toward the formation of a trust for the handling of the output of all their mines. It was decided to form a company under the incorporation laws of the State, to which all the output of all the coal mines along the Columbus, Hoeking Valley and Toledo Railroad shall be turned over for sale.

A Furnace Idle for Years Resumes.

READING, Dec. 13.—The match was applied last night to the Emans furnace at Emans, which has been idle many years. The recent improvements make it one of the largest and best blast furnaces in the State. Its weekly capacity is 1,000 tons.

What You Would Like to Know

Why we are so busy? It's this: Our line of toys, dolls, games, iron toys, wagons, sleds, doll carriages, etc., covered with the most attractive Xmas articles is larger than ever, and selling at 15 to 20 per cent below other houses. See for yourself!

Mackintoshes and Rubber Coats for Christmas.

"Into each life some rain must fall," so get ready for the down-pour—rain or water—proof, mackintoshes: fancy styles and in bright colors.

What they Ask for

What they ask for? See if they don't say a nice sled, too, with magic lantern, wagon, velocipede, argon, iron train, baggy, doll carriage, soldier, covered horse, or the thousand other elegant toys now on exhibition at Grove's, Fifth avenue. Remember, best goods only and prices that will defy competition.

Glove and Handkerchief Cases.

Satin novelties, sachets, etc., Christmas cards, bouquets and novelties at half price to close out. Open every evening.

Don't be in a hurry having your holiday presents still after you see Henry Terheyden's magnificent display—superb, rich, grand—must be seen to be appreciated.

Jewelry.

Watches, Diamonds, Silverware, Lamps, Clocks, Brice-bras.

WILL DECIDE TO-DAY.

The Commissioners Will Determine the Site for the Allegheny Postoffice. Hon. John M. Grear, of Washington; D. B. Oliver, of this city, and Mr. Sherar, of Stauntonville, the commissioners appointed to select a site for the Allegheny postoffice, met in parlor A of the Duquesne Hotel last evening. Although a number of sites were offered for consideration, the three gentlemen arrived at no definite conclusion.

VIOLATED A HEALTH LAW.

A Garbage Hauler Fined for Keeping His Wagon Open. Robert Soutman was fined $5 and costs yesterday by Judge Gripp for having one of his garbage wagons driven through the street without being properly covered. Superintendent Baker made the information. He explained to Judge Gripp the law requiring that the wagons be carefully covered and he also said that he had on several occasions personally notified Soutman to keep his wagons covered.
