MUST HAVE BEEN POISONED.

An Eminent Physician Thinks It Must Have Been Poisoned.

The fact brought out in the confession of Patrick Gallagher in reference to the desire of the alleged conspirators to obtain a drug to disable the non-union men at Homestead that would be harmless was called to the attention of several of the most prominent physicians.

It was the universal opinion that no drug so potent as to produce the effects that were noticed could possibly be anything less than a poison.

Dr. J. H. McClelland said: "There is no known drug that could produce such violent effects. Take jolap or astatium—any one of these if taken in excess would be dangerous. From the size of the powder as described in THE DISPATCH, it is probable that the proportion of one powder to 30 grains would make quite a strong dose."

SOLDIERS NOT POISONED. There was Very Little Sickness in the Sixteenth Regiment.

Surgeon J. D. Arter, of the Sixteenth Regiment, was in the city yesterday. He does not believe that there were any of the members of his regiment poisoned at Homestead.

Company K, of Corry, was the only one in which there were any sicknesses. A change of diet soon put an end to the illness.

He thinks there are some grounds for the poisoning of the non-union men.

GIRLS ON THE STAGE.

Novel and Pretty Performances of a Young Dramatist's Work.

LOVE TRIUMPHS FOR A HOSPITAL. Graceful Little Actresses Walk the Boards for Charity.

A GIPSY WINS A SPANISH PRINCE. "You must have plenty of love in a play," was the wise remark of Miss Lolla Burns, the young dramatist of the Southside, while her play, "Love Triumphs," was being rehearsed in New Turner Hall yesterday afternoon.

Miss Burns is only 14, but she has already written six plays. She has a pleasant face, in which large dark eyes speak seriously, and deep musical voice. The merit of her play was recognized by the large and enthusiastic audience which assembled to see "Love Triumphs" in the New Turner Hall, Southside, last night. The performance was a great success, and must have netted a neat sum for the Southside Hospital, for whose benefit it was given.

It was a big night for the fair sex. The play was the work of a girl, it was acted by girls, and two ladies, Mrs. Neely and Mrs. Miller, conducted the rehearsals and trained the children. Some of the heavy hauling, as it were, had been left to the men, but "Love Triumphs" owed its success, following the divine passion's usual course in life, to the softer sex.

How the Characters Were Cast. The cast was as follows: Prince Perino, Miss Lida Young; Count Hippolyte, Miss Lilla Semmelrock; King Ferdinand, Miss Stella Jay; Edwin, King's valet, Miss Hilda Kauffeld; Queen Isabella, Miss Lulu Meyers; Princess Lolla, Miss Bella Brown; Kitty and Bessie, flower girls, Miss Minnie White and Miss Lillie Bodenbageny; First Page, Miss Gertrude Arthur; Second Page, Miss Alicia Willett; Third Page, Miss Lilla Kauffeld; Cupid, Miss Bessie Forrester; Mabel, Violet's mother, Miss Lilla Shaffer; Violet, the Crook, Miss Lolla Burns; the chief character of her own play, namely, Violet, the gipsy girl of royal descent who wins the Prince and her rightful rank all in due time. The scene of the play is first in Egypt, then at the court of Ferdinand and Isabella in Spain. With remarkable self-denial Miss Burns does not corral Columbus, but simply takes the love story of her heroine, Violet, the child of a gipsy mother, and in reality a grandchild of King Ferdinand, who does not want to recognize her in any way. But Violet is a girl in place and she remains true to her princely lover, Prince Perino, a handsome young cavalier with a blonde wig and lovely clothes, impersonated by Miss Lida Young.

John H. Powers Arrested While Securing a Canine Set From His Old Home—He Will Not Return Without Requisition Papers.

John H. Powers, of Waterbury, Conn., was arrested on Southfield street yesterday by Officer Sol Coulson. The arrest was made on a telegram from the police authorities of Waterbury, where Powers was wanted to answer a charge of larceny and embezzlement.

Powers was not a dog. The Pittsburgh police had been looking for him for several days. They had about concluded that he had escaped them, when they learned from the Waterbury officials that a dog had been shipped from that city to a man in this city. The arrival of the dog was watched. Yesterday Powers came to the express office for the animal. He had been living in the city under an assumed name. His appearance so closely answered the description sent to the police that the arrest was made.

After being arrested the man admitted that his name was Powers and that he had lived at Waterbury. He denied the charges made against him, but he would not return to his old home without requisition papers being procured.

Superintendent O'Mara notified the Waterbury authorities of the arrest of Powers and his refusal to go back without the necessary papers. The prisoner last night requested that an attorney be sent for. He refused to fight against going back to Waterbury.

ARE FIGHTING BLY. Allegheny Heads of Departments Will Be Expected for Two Year's Only.

In Common Council the most important matter brought up was the ordinance for the extension of the term of the chiefs of departments which after considerable discussion was referred back to the committee for amendment.

Mr. Drum presented a petition filed 50 feet long signed by citizens, protesting against the lengthening of the term of the chiefs.

Mr. Knox offered an amendment, making the first term three years and four years thereafter, which was defeated, as was also an amendment of Mr. Koehler, making the term one year from January and two years thereafter.

The ordinance was finally referred to the committee without amendments. This will end the controversy, an ordinance will be elected at the next meeting of Council, and nothing can be done unless a special meeting is held to consider the ordinance.

THE LIE WAS PASSED.

Dr. Gilliford and Solicitor Elphinstone in a War of Words.

CHARGES AND COUNTER CHARGES. A Session of Allegheny Select Council Devoted to the Fight.

THE WORK OF A SIMPLE RESOLUTION. Last night's meeting of Allegheny Select Council was the liveliest in the history of that organization. The meeting gave itself up entirely to a controversy between Dr. Gilliford, the member from the Sixth ward, and George Elphinstone, the City Solicitor.

Every member of the Council was in his seat, and the extraordinary performance of the session was witnessed by a crowded lobby. In the controversy between the two gentlemen the lie was passed, and at times during the discussion a fistful was imminent.

The trouble grew out of the resolution proposing the city's claims against the Pleasant Valley and Federal Street Railway Company of the Pittsburgh, Manchester and Allegheny Railway Company. This matter has been before the Auditing Committee, the Finance Committee and Councils for a year. The City Solicitor has written numerous opinions on it and several sub-committees have investigated it. Finally the sub-Finance Committee prepared a report in favor of a compromise, and at that meeting this report was ordered printed and sent to all Councilmen, which was done.

The Pleasant Valley compromise was $14,500 and the Manchester $6,868 83, in full of all claims to July 1, 1892.

Gilliford Opposed the Compromise. Dr. Gilliford vigorously opposed the compromise. He read a carefully prepared argument against the resolution, in which he claimed that the compromise would practically rob the city of over $100,000.

He charged that City Solicitor Elphinstone had rendered a fair or legal opinion on the question at issue, and he insinuated that the City Solicitor was owned by the street car company.

Arthur Kennedy had been called to the chair while Dr. Gilliford was reading his paper, at the conclusion of which Mr. Elphinstone was called in, and in a rather heated manner he defended himself against the charges made. In his argument Dr. Gilliford said:

I protest against the adoption of these resolutions and against the payment of the street car companies. The loss to the city is too great. It is not as the committee reports a profit of $100,000, but a loss of $100,000, $74,500 for $14,500 and on the part of the Manchester Company of $15,638 73 for $6,868 83.
