GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.-Between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning lovers of the trotter commenced to gather at the American Institute building in this city, to attend the enle which should mark the dispersal of the Hobart stud. The Kooh-i-noor of the collection to be offered should be Stamboul, the stallion king, with a record of 2:0734. and breeders from many sections of the country were among those who gathered early to determine whose property the king should be. The champion was shown a score of times and the universal opinion was that he is a horse of superb individuality, symmetrical proportions and a trotter worthy to be at top of the tree. Among hose who looked him over were Charles H. Kerner, who owned Fleetwing, the dam, and who was naturally a proud man; J. Malcolm Forbes, owner of Nancy Hanks, John H. Shults, Le Grand Cannon, David Bonner, Reunselner Weston, Albert H. Moore, Robert Steel, Frederick R. Bowne, J. W. Day and F. P. Olcott. The great horse was very well behaved and submitted the closest inspection without the least isplay of ill temper. Samuel Gamble, who brought the horses East and who was the superintendent for the late Mr. Hobart, showed relief as the hour drew near when Samboul should become somebody else's property. He has been under a great strain for nearly two weeks carrying nearly half a million dollars worth of horse flesh across the continent. Figuring on the Price.

The mares were, before the sale, expected to bring big prices, as they are nearly all fast; are producers of speedy ones and selves at Stockton, Cal. When they discontinued divergence of opinion as to the price Stamboal would bring, the figures ranging all the way from $50,000 to $125.

300. It was conceded, of course, that the price largely depended upon the competition. It Messrs. Forbes, Shults, Olcott, Steel, Moore and the representative of Senator Sambord should all get warmed up there was no telling where the bidding would stop. It had been arranged that the Hochart sale should commence at 10 o'clock when beyers would have a respite before the commencement of the Tattersulls' offerings are bred in the beight of Inshion. There encement of the Tattersalls' offerings

Soon after 12 o'clock, while the noted lines was being moved about the ring, hidding was begun. It started off with 1990 offered and went up slowly with 1990 of $500 and $1,000 until it reached 1900. Then the bidding stopped for a and Stamboul was trotted around the ring several times. Then there was a id of $40,000, and that was followed by the D. H. Harriman, a banker of this city. Five minutes after Stamboul's sale, Mr. Coursin, one of the executors of the Hobart estate, said he would give Mr. Harriman $5,000 to withdraw his bid. Mr. Harriman had then left the building.

Some Tolerab y Good Prices. The following sales were made after Stambout had passed off the scene;

he price brought by Stamboul was a great I he price brought by Stamboul was a great disappointment to nearly everybody present. It was the general verdict that he went dirt cheap. Mr. Coursin, of California, executor of the estate of Mr. Hobart, when asked his minhou of the price, said: "I call it murder, i still offer Mr. Harriman $5,000 over his bid, but I guess he would not part with Stamboul for the money." The bidding on the other horses was slow. A great many people felt the building after Stamboul End been said, but as there were a couple of thousands are sent at the beginning of the sale their procedure was not particularly missed. The rumar that Stamboul's record will not likely be printed in the trotting year book had a great effect on the sale or the horse. To this cause is attributed the comparatively small price paid for him.

Harry Weldon Gives the Philadelphia Amateur Baseballists a Few Pointers. Harry Weldon, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, makes the following pointed remarks about the proposed change of baseball rules: "It would be well for the League's Committee on Rules to make haste slowly in the matter of introducing innovations in the the length on the base paths and putting the pitcher in the center of the diamond may be a good thing, but because it has been teurs, does not conclusively prove it is so. Ever since the great game was introduced the present diamond has been in vozue. If there was any fault, it is reasonable to suppose that it would have been discovered long before this time. It a 90-toot diamond has been good enough for 50 years, it certainly stood the test of time. The reneral feeling among league members is against any radical change, and the committee, in making its report, should heed their wishes in this respect. They should also remember that the present champion or the "extended diamond" was the "boss s outer" and "main backer" of the estebrated "Millenium plan." The plan was beautiful in theory, but in practice just about as big a saliure as Pennington's air ship. "The game needs more action," is the verdict of the league. This desirable element can be easily injected. Put the pitcher back five feet, abolish the flat bat and the sacrifice hit, and the problem is solved. These changes will increase the batting and baserunning, and put the game back where it was before that rigantic failure, a brother-hood (which was also backed by the teurs, does not conclusively prove it is so. was before that gigantic failure, a brother-hood (which was also backed by the Millenium editor), was ever thought of."

POOLROOM PROFITS.

fany Thousands of Dollars Cleared by the San Francisco Sellers.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Dec. 20 .- The Examser devotes a page to-day to the bu-iness done by poolrooms in this city and Oakland. In the spring of 1891 prohibitive legislation led to the closing of poolrooms in San Francisco, when they removed to Oakland, where, on September 30 last, they were also closed by the authorities and bookmakers are now preparing to establish them-selves at Stockton, Cal. When they disconcontinued business in that city aggregated $16,000. The total expenses were $150,000, so that the poolrooms drained as least $246,000 from the people of Oakland and vicinity.

GREGGAINS AND YOUNG MITCHELL.

New York, Dec. 20. - The following has been received by a sporting paper: "New tween Young Mitchell and Aleck Greggains to fight in Olympic Club, New Orleans, be-tween April 1 to 3 for a purse of $10,000. CHARLES DICKSON."

On the above being received Richard For wired to San Francisco for Mitchell's offer and received the following reply: "Offer of the Olympic Ciub suits. Will fight at 150 pounds and weigh at the ringside. After articles signed by Greggains reaches here will sign them. YOUNG MITCHELL." Greggains was also notified but no snswer has been received.

With Bow and Arrow.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20 .- While E. D. Fulford, the coampion trap marksman was in Chicago the other day, he heard that A. L. Atwater had boasted that be (Atwater) could water and coasted that he (Atwater) could with a bow and arrow kill 15 out of 25 live birds liberated from a trap. Fulford thought Atwater could not do it nor 15 out of 50 and offered to bet $250 that he could not wherenpon Atwater covered the amount. The date of the match will be arranged to-day,

A Local Foot Race.

A match has been made for a foot race of 100 yards between Thomas Salmons and Charless Freeborn, both of the Southside. The race is for $250 a side, and is to be run on January 21. Articles of agreement have been signed, and each party is to make good $100 at this office next Saturday evening. The race promises to be an exciting one. Each man will train carefully for the event.

The Champion Skaters.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 20.-Hagen and McCor mack, the champion and ex-champion skaters of the world, will meet in a three-mile contest to-night. A great amount of interest is taken in the result locally, but there has been only light betting. Hagen is looked on as a pretty sure winner, as the difference of over ten years in their ages may tell against the New Brunswick champion.

Vignaux Wins a Close Game, Paris, Dec. 20 .- The first game in a billiard match between Jules Vignaux, the French champion and Jacob Schaefer, of Chicago, was played at the Summer Circus in this city this evening. The game was won by Vignaux who made 600 points, Schaefer scoring 589. Another game will be played to-morrow.
