

A SENATE DEAL IS NOT A STEAL

That's How Democrats Put Their Mode of Organizing the Upper House.

They May Succeed in It, For Montana Is Slipping Out of the Republicans' Hands.

Populists Giving Up the Contest for Balance of Power—Republicans Not Anxious to Let the New Party Feel Too Big—Interesting Gossip From the Rose—Secretary of State Foster Likely to Re-sign—Justice Lamar's Illness Similar to Elaine's—Moravian Canalists Carrying a Club for the Anti-Option People.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—While the steering committee of the Republicans are anxiously watching the progress of the exciting Senatorial contests in the five doubtful States—Kansas, California, Montana, Nebraska and Wyoming—the Democratic steering committee is dicker over trades which will give its party Senatorial votes.

The indications are that they will capture the Montana Senator to succeed Senator C. H. Watkins, for they now advise the Republican committee to give up control of the organization of the Legislature. This would be a trade, they say, and not a steal.

Not Averse to Deal Work. To tell the truth, the Republicans are not averse to such work, for they now advise that they can't by any means gain a sufficient number of votes to organize the Senate, and in view of the strong probability that the Populists would by honest work gain the balance of power, they wink at the attempts of the Democrats to secure control for themselves.

As for the Populists, they feel that the matter is beyond their possibility. They know that even if the Democrats gain the Senator from Montana and from one other State, they can't organize the Senate. The new calculation is that the Republicans will carry election in California, the Democrats in Montana, a bare possibility that the Republicans will elect in Wyoming, and that the Populists will carry in Kansas and Nebraska.

The result in the Western States shows the great strength of the Populists there. Neither of the old party leaders make light of the possibilities of the new party, but both want to obscure its growth as much as possible, and to recognize it prominently in the organization of the Senate would give it an importance that no new party has gained since the days of anti-slavery agitation.

General Foster Likely to Resign. President Harrison may, if he so minded, have the privilege of appointing another Secretary of State before the close of his official term. Hon. John W. Foster will lay down the portfolio of state on February 1, and leave for Europe. His objective point will be the city of Paris, where the court of arbitration in the Lansing Sea controversy will hold their sessions.

Some months ago, before General Foster was appointed to succeed Mr. Blaine, the President had appointed Mr. W. E. Woodrow Wilson as special counsel before the court of arbitration. It was expected after General Foster became Secretary of State that another appointment would be chosen as special counsel. The President, however, feels that General Foster's experience fits him especially to discharge the duties of the place, and his suggestion General Foster will leave the State Department in time to attend the first meeting of the board.

Justice Lamar a Very Sick Man. The reports in regard to the health of Justice Lamar received here today indicate that it is almost certain that President Harrison will have the opportunity to appoint a successor to this southern jurist, although the latest news of this evening is that his condition is not such as to create alarm for the present, and he has recovered sufficiently to resume his journey to Macon.

INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—This place was visited this afternoon by the most destructive fire in its history. At 1:20 a blaze was discovered in the rear of the American Hotel. Not a Very Dreadful Individual. Aside from Mr. Cleveland's personal conduct, or incapacity, Mr. Edward Murphy does not appear to be a very dreadful individual. He is a politician—a successful and popular politician—and that is the worst. He is a successful business man. It is a man of the town. The best evidence of his character is found in the fact that he was Mayor of the town in which he was born for five consecutive terms.

$15.00 AN ELEGANT SUIT, OVERCOAT OR ULSTER, AT THIS PRICE, Would prove a Useful and Sensible Christmas Gift.

We have created a veritable sensation with our eventful $15 sale. Most anybody can and does advertise $15 Suits and Overcoats. There was no new or striking feature in that. But when purchasers saw real $22, $20 and $18 Suits and Overcoats marked $15, they came to the conclusion that our advertisements were backed up with actual and stubborn facts.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS Always Sore, Burned Like Fire—Ashamed to Be Seen—Got Worse Under Four Doctors—Cured by CUTICURA.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big boils, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors, but they did not help me. I was a failure. I was a failure. I was a failure.

MEN'S SUITS. The styles are double-breasted, single-breasted and straight-cut Sacks, one and three-button Cutaways, made of the finest Cassimeres, Worsteds, Cheviots, Homespuns, Clay Worsteds, etc., etc., beautifully lined with Serge Silks and Italians to match material. They are equal to those sold elsewhere for $22.

OVERCOATS AND ULSTERS. We ask you to take your unworked pick to-day of these handsome custom-like Overcoats and Ulsters (no matter whether the prices were $18, $20, $22 or $25) at the uniform price of $15. We candidly say that the equal of these garments made by a high-toned merchant tailor would cost anywhere from $20 to $35.
