

TOUGHS TO TACKLE.

The Urruly Element Along the Border in the Rio Grande Valley

CAUSING ALL OF THE TROUBLE

That It Constantly Takes For Many Soldiers to Repress.

A REGION WELL WORTH RECLAIMING

New York, Dec. 27.—Of all the officers in the United States Army, who are acquainted with the unfortunate condition of affairs on the Rio Grande, none are more familiar with the real conditions than Captain John Bourke, of the Third United States Cavalry, and that fact is the reason why Captain Bourke was summoned to this city by the Secretary of War.

"What do I think of the situation?" said Captain Bourke when approached by a reporter to-day. "I really believe things cannot help being worse before they are better. I also believe that the United States is going to do its best to make life burdensome for the irresponsible and trouble-making element who have for the past year made themselves conspicuously disagreeable. Now, you must remember that there are two kinds of Mexicans on our side of the boundary line. Those who reside in the towns—such places as Laredo, Brownsville, Matamoros, Corpus Christi and San Diego—are in the main a very decent people and, of course, have nothing to do with these troubles.

A Mean Class of People to Deal With. "The bellicent class is made up of the worst element that ever stood in the way of civilization. Mexicans in their origin and speech, but anti-Mexican in sympathy, they cause our Southern neighbors a great deal of trouble. Incidentally they worry us a great deal, for they are just as much anti-American as they are anti-Mexican. They are utterly devoid of principle, and in all their utterances there is no semblance of patriotism. When you say 'against the Government' both sides of the river, you have stated their creed. They live from hand to mouth, and are, together, extremely undesirable people to have any dealings with.

"Most of these people are of the criminal class—refugees from beyond the border. When there is an opportunity to do a little smuggling—or a great deal of smuggling—they embrace it eagerly, and if it happens to involve a murder or two they are not disturbed about it than anybody else. Some of them raise a few cattle which run around in the brush; a few goats and a band of sheep, and occasionally they take the advantage of a heavy rain to plant a few hills of corn and beans. None of them ever attempt to raise fruit, although they could do so easily; they prefer putting in their time in endeavor to raise trouble.

Impossible to Give Them Justice. "To hunt them up and secure reasonably sound testimony against them is, in all probability, as impossible as we have discovered to our sorrow, all through this Garcia business. They are unamused, and in summer time very few of them have enough clothing to dust a saddle, but they can shoot just as well as a man who has the covering and dignity of full-dress regimentals, and it is not at night, can, by throwing their carbine and cartridges aside, speedily resolve themselves into the most peaceable shepherds. Everybody in that region, or nearly everybody, sympathizes with this lawlessness, and in very many instances officials who were sworn to uphold the statutes have barred the way so effectually that justice has to turn away and get out the way he came in.

"If after much trouble a murderous vagabond is arrested and his conviction is by no means certain. If he has a little money or a few cows with which to pay a fee he can hire somebody who thinks he is a lawyer, and who is at least able to camouflage the civil or military officials who caused the arrest."

"Is the Rio Grande Valley of any real value?"

Great Value of the Valley. "Well, I should think it is. Its area is as great as that of all New England, and its soil is extremely fertile wherever water can be poured upon it. Just now it is the home of the coyote and the wild hog, but the day is coming when this country will draw largely of its sugar supply and its grapes from the same valley. Without water agriculture is possible only in spots, but where wells have been dug and pumps are operated there has been a most satisfactory yield.

"The great need of the country is a railroad, and when that has been supplied, say from Brownsville to Laredo and up the river, cotton will be raised in enormous quantities. The mulberry grows wild throughout the entire region, so there is no reason why silk culture should not be a great success. The day is coming when that will be a remarkably wealthy section of the United States, but before such a desirable condition is possible we must have our own selves of the detestable class which prevents us from putting feet in the valley of the Rio Grande."

Contract to Be Let Soon. The Pennsylvania Railroad is getting ready to let the contract for the two additional tracks between Pittsburg and Altoona. It has been the intention of the company for years to equal its great rival, the New York Central, whose boast it is that it is the only four tracked road in the country.

B. & O. Made a Big Hit. The B. & O. as the only line selling holiday excursion tickets out of Pittsburg to Eastern points made a big hit. The traffic to Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia since the 21st has been very heavy, and additional sleepers were needed on the night trains.

Three Held for Murder. Owens, Hallett and Hopkins were yesterday held for court by Coroner McDowell for the murder of J. Spinkoffsky, who died Christmas from the result of injuries received in a fight near but not in Erwig's saloon Saturday night.

Holiday Excursions via Pennsylvania Lines. December 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th, 1892, and January 1st and 2d, 1893, excursion tickets at low round trip rates will be sold from Pittsburg to points on those lines in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and West Virginia. Return coupons valid until January 3d.

EXTENDING THE CHURCH.

The Monongahela Presbytery to Establish New Missions—Election of Commissioners to the General Assembly—A Call From New York Refused—Trials of Licentiate.

The quarterly meeting of Monongahela Presbytery, of the United Presbyterian Church, was called to order in the Oakland United Presbyterian Church yesterday. Rev. W. E. Paxton presided as moderator and Rev. J. D. Sands acted as clerk. The report of the financial agent showed that $11,000 had been collected during the year for missionary purposes. Trials for licentiate of the students of Allegheny Theological Seminary were then held by Revs. Little and McKnight.

Rev. Josiah Stevenson, B. M. Russell, J. C. Boyd, W. H. Knox, W. E. Paxton and W. E. Hervey, and Messrs. William Hill, S. Mahood, J. W. Gilmore, T. J. Gillespie, Milo Irons and Dr. J. A. Callahan were elected commissioners to the general assembly which meets at Monmouth, Ill., next May.

Presbytery refused to receive the call of DeLaney U. P. Church, of DeLaney, N. Y., to Rev. J. A. Milligan, of Highland Avenue Church, to take the pastorate of that organization. Some discussion was raised in regard to this matter, several of the ministers being in favor of allowing Mr. Milligan to accept the call if he felt so disposed, but the motion was voted down. The report of the Committee on Missions was received and accepted. It recommends that the mission at Duquesne be continued as at present, in charge of the committee. Assistant pastor will probably be placed there for three months on trial. That at Millin and Jefferson will continue as at present, in charge of the committee, and that at Sheridan is placed in charge of the session at Charliers Church.

The Committee on Church Extension was requested to look up the region of Silver Lake and Stanton and Euclid avenues, and select a location for the establishment of mission stations. The committee will be increased by the addition of a number of business men who will assist in the selection of these sites.

A FORTUNE FINDS ITS OWNER

In the Person of a Poor Miner's Wife in a Small Hoosier Town.

BRADLEY, IND., Dec. 27.—About ten days ago Marks Myers, an attorney of Albany, N. Y., sent a letter to the Postmaster of this city, asking for information regarding Minnie Cooper, the last descendant of the Cooper family, who was heir to an estate valued at $50,000 and $75,000. The letter was published, and Mrs. Sam McCoskey, of Stanton, stated that she was the missing heir.

She came to this city when she was two years old. Shortly after her mother died and she was adopted by Samuel Weaver, with whom she lived until she was 17 years old, when she married McCoskey, a miner, of Stanton. She wrote immediately to Albany and has received a reply that gave her assurance that she is the heir desired.

Coal Gas Kills a Family.

BRADLEY, S. D., Dec. 27.—A family named Rasmussen, living five miles west of this place, was asphyxiated by coal gas last night. The family consisted of husband, wife and infant child. The mother and child died and the father's chances of living are slim.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Sciatic Rheumatism. Mr. R. D. Wheeler, the popular deputy sheriff of Burlington County, Vt., says: "I suffered terrible tortures for 10 years with sciatic rheumatism. I tried about everything, but never got a dollar's worth of help. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Since taking it I don't have any pain and can get around all right. If Hood's Sarsaparilla cost $10 a bottle I should continue using it. I have advised a good many of my friends to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, for I know that Hood's Cures Sarsaparilla." R. D. WHEELER, Winooski Falls, Vermont. N. B. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla. HOOD'S PILLS are the best after-dinner Pills, assist digestion, cure headache.
