

PLURISY—This dreadful complaint generally begins with chilliness, and is followed by heat, thirst and weakness; to these succeed a violent itching pain in one of the sides, among the ribs, and which is generally most severe when the patient draws his breath.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are speedy and certain cure for the Pleurisy, because they purge the body of morbid humors, which, when lodged in the inside lining of the breast, is the cause of that acute and dangerous malady called Pleurisy. In all ordinary cases, from four to eight of said Pills should be taken every night, or twelve hours, until all inflammation and morbid matter is removed; after which, three or four Pills, taken once in twenty-four hours, will, in a short time, make a permanent and effectual cure of the most violent attack of Pleurisy.

THE preceding figure is to represent the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION. It is the great evacuation for the impurities of the body. It will be noticed that a thick cloudy mist issues from all points of the surface, which indicates the wonderful process going on within. This perspiration flows uninterruptedly when we are in health, but ceases when we are sick. It should be the care of every one to see that it is not checked. Life cannot be sustained without it. It is thrown off from the blood and other juices of the body, and disposes by this means, of nearly all impurities within us. The blood by this means only, works itself pure. The language of Scripture is, "in the blood is the life." If it ever becomes impure, it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the insensible perspiration. It never requires any internal medicine, to cleanse it, as it always purifies itself by its own heat and action, and throws off all the offending humors, through all the opening pores, through the insensible perspiration. Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant or infected, is to open the pores, and it relieves itself from all impurities instantly. Its own heat and vitality are sufficient, without one particle of medicine, except to open the pores upon the surface. Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal medicine. All practitioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the insensible perspiration, but it seems to be not always the proper one. The Thompsonians for instance, steams, the Hydropathists shrouds us in wet blankets, the Homopaths treat our infirmities, the Allopaths bleed and doses us with mercury, and the bustling quack gorges us with pills, pills, pills.

But one object only is in view, viz: to restore the insensible perspiration. If this can be done, they say, we will take care of the rest. It will be seen, therefore, that all physicians understand alike what is necessary to a recovery, how much they may differ as to the mode of obtaining it.

To give some idea of the amount, and consequently the importance of the insensible perspiration, we will state that the learned Dr. Leuwenhoek, and the great Boerhaave, ascertained that five-eighths of all we received into the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, we evacuate five pounds of it by the insensible perspiration.

DRY GOODS,

It is easily seen therefore, how necessary is the flow of this subtle humor to the surface, to preserve health. It cannot be stopped; it cannot even be checked, without producing disease. The blood and intestines must relieve themselves of their worn-out particles, and poisonous humors, and they must go through the pores of nature designed.

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, and untap the pores, after they are closed, and let the perspiration flow, that the blood may relieve itself of its impurities? Would you give physic to untap the pores? Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is? Would not this be common sense? And yet I know of no physician who makes an internal application to effect it. The reason I assign is, that no medicine within their knowledge, is capable of doing it. Under these circumstances, I present to physicians and to all others, a preparation that has this power to the fullest extent—it is McAllister's All-Healing Ointment or the World's Salve. It has power to restore perspiration on the feet, on the head, around old sores, upon the chest, in short, upon any part of the body, whether diseased slightly or severely. When the perspiration is restored, it has power to penetrate the lungs, liver, or any part of the human system, and to act upon them, if they be diseased, by separating the inflamed morbid particles therefrom, and expelling them to the surface.

fill a book. I suppose there is not a family in the United States, that would consent to be without this salve a single day if they knew its value in healing Burns alone. It extracts the pain and leaves the place without a scar.

Quinsy sore throat, Influenza, Bronchitis.—There is not an internal remedy in existence that will cure these disorders as quick as the salve. It opens the pores on the neck, and draws off all the inflammation and impure juices, and a few days will see the patient well. It is sovereign in these cases.

Piles.—The salve acts upon the piles as upon sore eyes. There is an inflammation which must be drawn from the parts. The salve does this.

Hernia or Rupture.—This salve has cured some very bad cases of rupture, and although it might not all, yet it would be wise to try it. It is a peculiar complaint, but it may be helped some, if not cured entirely. I have not the shadow of a doubt that it would cure thousands if the trial was made, who believe no medicine of the least benefit.

Two shillings worth would satisfy any one, whether it would do good or not.

Worms.—If parents know how fatal most medicines were to children taken in infancy, they would be slow to resort to them. Especially "mercurial lozenges," called "medical lozenges," "vermifuges," pills, &c. Even were it possible to say positively that worms were present, it is not safe. The truth is, no one can tell, invariably, when worms are present. Of course the remedy is not applicable to the complaint. Now let me say to parents, that this salve will always tell if a child has worms.—Let it be rubbed on the neck and chest, to keep them from going up, and then down on the bowels and they will soon leave. It will drive every vestige of them away. This is a simple and safe cure. No injury can come of it in any way. But should it be cholera, inflammation of the bowels, or gripes of the intestines, it will effectually cure them as the worms.

There is probably no medicine on the face of the earth at once so sure and safe in the expulsion of worms.
