"GREAT CROSSINGS, June 6 1845. "Mr DEAR Figs:—Your note of the 1st instant was received by me this morning. I hasten to reply. After declaring, in all sincerity, my delight in hearing once more from my old friend and messmate, I will say, I well remember the circumstances of that eventful day on which Tecumseh was slain. Now that I am no longer a candidate for public office, and having retired to the shades of private life, I have no cause to regret your making known to the public the real Tecumseh killer. I surely ought to rest satisfied with what the reputation of it has done for me, and am now willing that you should reap all the advantages from it you can. The girl begs to be remembered to you, and we would be pleased to see you at the Great Crossings.

All the names to this curious publication must either be fictitious, the whole affair a broad hoax, (and we should so consider it, but for the endorsement of the Sentinel,) or the persons interested have been grossly imposed upon by some practical joker-or it is a wicked fraud and forgery. To expose the whole and her citizens always willing to pay any just tax to affair, it is only necessary to say that Colonel Johnson does not live at the Great Crossings; that, at the date of the first letter from him, he was on his way to Washington city; that Gen. PURSUANT to notice, the Democratic Standing Committee for Bradford County met at the house of Ira H. Stephens in the borough of Towards on Saturday the 26th instant.

The Piceyune says :

" Verbally we learn that the Mexican government was to send 20,000 men immediately to the frontier of Texas. Where these men are to be raised, is a poser in itself; but where the means to procure money enough to start them on such a fool's errand, is even a greater mystery unless British gold is at the Lottom.

These facts we have from an attentive correspondent.

The New Orleans Bulletin, of the 24th instant, says: establishment of the Mexican Army to consist of about tillery, and 1,300 suppers and miners, etc.; some portion of which are at present engaged on the frontiers against the Indians

The same paper contains a letter from Mazatlan, dated April 23, giving a detailed account of the persecutions against American citizens, on the part of the Mexican authorities of the place, which is too long for this evening's paper, and too full of interest to be given in part. We therefore lay it by for to-morrow.

A corespondent writing to the New Orleans Jefferso nian from Vera Cruz, dated July 3, predicts war with great confidence, giving details of the secret peparations Mexico is said to be making. We are forced to lay over his letter this evening, owing to the late hour at which the mail arrives,

We are gratified in being able to assure our readers that the interest on the State debt which fell due on the first instant, was fully met and paid. Great credit is due to Col. BIG TRACKS IN FAYETTE COUNTY .- The Soncerset Herald mentions a curiosity in Fayette county, near Connelisville.

"This is a rock, on the surface of which are herbiferous animal; together with certain hieroglyphics, which were evidently drawn by the hand of man-all going to animals, the races of which are now extinct. The human foot print is represented as being of extraordinary size, measuring 18 or 20 in. ches in length, and 12 or 13 inches in breadth across the toes, which are six in number !-Those of the animal are equally large-and the indentations of both are so plain and distinct. as to leave no doubt in regard to their genuineness. The hieroglyphics consist of the outlines of the head, neck and mane of some animal, and of an arrow, with all its parts complete, pointing in the direction of the former. In how far these facts may go to either confirm or contradict the generally received opinions of geologists, we are unable to say-but hope that some one competent to the task will exactine into them, and give to the public the result of his investigations.'

A NINE DAYS'S FAST .- Four young horses, belonging to Mr. O. Humphrey, in Braceville, in this county, by some means got into a log house, used for boiling sugar in, when the door closed and prevented their escape. In this situation, the house being some distance from the residence of Mr. H., they remained for the period of nine days without food or water. Mr. H., supposing they had straved away, did not discover their retreat until the animals were well nigh exhausted. We understand the horses are doing well and will recover from the effects of the famine. If they do, and are able to stand such fasts frequently, they must be valuable horses, especially in a dry time, when hav, oats and money are scarce. - Trun wull Democrat.

[Trom the Western State Journal.] Important Information Wanted.

In 1824, there came to the United States. from Poland, a gentleman who was known by the name of Rudolph, bringing with him an infant daughter and a nurse. He came as far as Albany, where the nurse died within a few He also states, "there is no prospect of any weeks after her arrival in this country, and Mr. Rudolph placed his daughter (then about eight months old,) in charge of Daniel Megee, who lived in Albany at that time, and was a merchant tailor by trade. About the year 1825, Mr. Rudolph died, after a lingering illness, and his daughter was adopted by the said Megee, who gave her the name of Eliza to quarrel for."
Megee. Megee died, it is believed, in 1826, when his family removed to Utica, where hey resided until the death of Mrs. Megee. (which took place in 1829 or '30) when the adopted daughter removed to Salina, to a brother of Mrs. M's., by whom she was reared.

It is supposed, from circumstances which have come to the knowledge of the lady, lately, that she has friends in this country, and in the old country, who are ignorant of her existence. The suspicions of the lady were aroused by meeting, a few weeks since, a gentleman who was in search of her, and who called himself John Cleveland, but who stated that such was not his name. He stated that he knew of her family, and that the name by which she now passed was not her true one, but that her father was from Poland, and his real name was Count Telisco Venusi Rudolph -that his death was occasioned by poison administered by the said Megee, and that he, the said Cleaveland, was privy to the murderthat his conscience would not let him rest untit he had made her all the reparation in his power, by restoring to her the property of her father, which was in his possession—he having, at the time the deed was committed, compelled the said Megee to deliver it all to him, upon pain of exposure-that as soon as he could do so without attracting notice, he would convey to her all she was entitled to. He was on his way to Albany, at the time he called upon her, but his real name and residence he would not disclose.

The suspicions of the lady having thus been aroused, she searched some old papers in her possession, and in an old Bible-left her by Mrs. Megee, with the instruction never to par with it-she found a paper, a part of a leaf of the book, upon which was written, (apparentpears to have been an attempted confession which the writer was unable to finish. It is the cover and the fly-leaf of the book, where As near as it can be deciphered, it reads :-

Something New.

Our readers may remember a statement pubished some weeks since of a wild negro having been seen in the parish of Caddo, in this State. The last number of the Caddo Gazette contains a long article from the pen of Mr. J. M. Pierce of that Parish, descriptive of his successful attempt to catch this nondescript, and of several of his physical peculiarities. The Editor of the Gazette declares that the the impressions of a human foot and those of creature possesses an appendage which Dr. three inches long with hair on it. It appears from the account given by Dr.

After running some time they beheld a creature coursing along at great speed, and resembling a bear rather than a man. Dr. Pierce got with in ten paces of him and commanded him to stop, but instead of pausing he took to a river. He was still pursued by the party, which finally arrived at a very thick cane break, in the midst of which was a large gum tree, with a hole just large enough for a person to squeeze "I looked in," says Dr. Pierce, " and could see the singular being squatted in one corner of the hollow and looking more like a bear than a human being." It being almost night, they concluded to wait until morning. At break of day, they commenced cutting and succeeded in making a hole large enough to get him out. He was ferocious and indomitable, fighting with fury and was only subdued by a rope being thrown around his neck and tightened until his respiration was almost checked. He was finally secured and taken to Dr. Pierce's house, where he can be seen.

No doubt, adds the Doctor, he is one of those negroes that has by some means strayed off when he was small, and it is the opinion of Mr. Caffrey that he come there when a child, or perhaps born there, as there were two skeletons in the hollow tree, supposed to be the father and mother of the man that we caught .--He appears to be fifty years old, weighs one hundred and thirty pounds, and will eat nothing but raw meat, and that which is tainted he likes best.
