Friends and Fellow Citizeus. HERERY offer myself as a candidate for the office of SHERIFF, and should I be so fortunate as to re-ceive the nomination and election, by your suffrages, I shall feel in day bound to serve the public in all things pertaining to the office, always leaning to the side of mercy. My reasons, fellow-citizens, for offering myself as a candidate, are few and simple; they are as follows: In the first place, my health is impaired by hard labor, so that I am no longer able to support my family by performing the duties of husbandman; and secondly, I have had many losses in different ways, so that I have comparatively nothing that I can call my own. Now, I ask you to elect me, not for the purpose of making a speculation cut of it, but to gain a livelihood. Should you, fellow-citizens, feel disposed to elect me to that office. I shall ever feel thankful for the favor. I will now say, that I have ever been in the democratic ranks, and my wish is to get the nomination by my political brethren. I feel the disadvantage that the poorer classes of community always la' or under in a political point of view, but we profess to live in a country where all men are created tree and equal, and where property qualifications are put down. Please reflect and then judge, and I shall always feel disposed to abide your decision. August 20.

But a kind Providence frowned upon the attempt of the base incendiary, and the fire became extinguished.

The object of the villian, was, no doubt, to burn up a large amount of property in Bonds and Mortgages which I have no personal interest except the charge of them, and a small commission. The foolish villlan had not sense enough to know, that the Mortgages were al on record; nor honesty and uprightness enough to care how much he injured his neighbors, and hundreds of settlers, in hurning up my books of account, and the honds upon which all the payments were endorsed, and in almost all the cases the only youchers the settlers could have as evidence of payment. It therefore behaves every settler upon his attraction of the least the cases the settlers. hooves every settler who has a proper sense of right and wrong, to assist me in looking up this villainous incendiary, that he may be brought "to the light of a Court of Justice"—in doing which, they, or any othe person, who may find the unprincipled rogue, shall receive the above reward, of one hundred dollars.
