FOR AUDITOR. CHARLES HOMET, OF WYALTSING.

FOR CORONER. JOHN HATCH, OF ALBANY.

The Nominations.

In announcing to our readers, in our last number th names of the persons placed in nomination on the Democratic ticket, we stated that we had barely time and space fice, and his democracy none will question. to give an outline of the proceedings of the convention with the names of the candidates, and that we would refer to the subject again. We propose now, for the information of our readers and democratic friends in those parts of the county distant from the several nominees, to speak of them individually, in the order as they stand upon our ticket : JOHN F. MEANS,

The candidate for Sheriff, is emphatically a self-made man. He is a native of this county, and of this borough. Having lost his parents while yet a child, and long be fore he arrived at manhood his grandfather and uncle, the only male branches remaining of his family, he was early left to buffet the waves of adversity, and combat the frowns of the world as best be could. Possessed of a buoyant disposition, and discriminating mind, he soon his own hands, and that the good will of his fellow-citi- favor. zens could only be secured by corresponding good deeds on his part. His political principles may have been imbibed from his ancestry, which was of the right stamp, or it may have been the result of early observations. Be that as it may, he has been a democrat from his youth. ready on all occasions to spend his time or his money to advance the democratic cause, and secure the triumph of democratic principles. Although he has been much engaged in the active pursuits of life, his mind is well endowed with the requisite qualifications of a good officer. He is good scholar, a ready accountant, and an active. energetic business man, prompt and persevering in all he undertakes, kind to the poor and lenient to creditors even to his own injury. His duties as sherilf will be performed promptly, accurately and mercifully. JOHN L. WEBB,

One of our candidates for Representatives, needs no from us an introduction to the public. He has been long and favorably known to the democracy of Bradford county. Mr. Webb has served the people in the capacity o County Commissioner, and Sheriff, and by his correct and efficient business habits, his gentlemanly deportment his frank and accommodating disposition, acquired an democracy is too well established, and too well understood to require the least endorsement. Mr. W. is known to the people, and his devotion to democratic principles is equally known; he never conceals or declines to avow them openly, when occasions calls for such avowal --His political integrity has never been questioned, and none dare question or assail it. With a mind well stored with useful information, sagacious, and industriting the arguments of his opponents, Mr. W. seems pelocracy. ed for the station for whi have selected him. Having resided in Brailford county almost from the day of its organizationhe knows well its wants and interests, and it elected will exert the whole of his energies to secure the adoption of such measure as will tend to promote the general good.

VICTOR E. PIOLLET.

Our other nomines for Representative, though young, i a man whose intellectual endowments and energetic busi ness habits peculiarly fit him for the office of Represen tative, and give him strong claims upon the people for their suffrages. He is a native of the township of Wysox, was bred a farmer, to which business he has so in dustriously and successfully applied himself that he has acquired among farmers, the reputation of standing at the head of that honorable profession in Bradford. Atthough his business has been mostly the cultivation of the soil, he has not neglected that of the mind. Few men of Col. P's age can be found whose mind is better stored with all important facts connected with the organization, growth and operations of our government, and feels more devotedly attrached to the principles of Republicanism upon which those institutions are based. Col. Piollet is, and has ever been a democrat, firmly and unchangeably attached to the principles inculcated by Jefferson—the steady and unwavering advocate of "equal nopolies. He is a native of this county; has grown with its growth, and contributed much to its strength and influence abroad-his life and habits are identified with the interests of the people, and especially with that worthy and injured class of our fellow-citizens, the set-

ADDISON M'KEAN.

The candidate for Prothonotary, is a citizen of Burling ton township. He was reared in the democratic faith and in all his associations has never failed to carry his principles into practice. He is an accomplished scholar a ready accountant, and accustomed to the transaction of business requiring all the skill and ability of the mos dexterous clerk. He is well qualified for the office, and if elected, as we predict he will be by a large majority will de monor to the station. The Prothonotary's office is one in which the incumbent is brought much, almost continually in contact with the people, his constituents and in Mr. M., they may rely on finding one whose aim it will be to transmet their business in the most accommodating, correct, and satisfactory manner.

LYMAN P. DRWOLP. Was placed in nomination for Register & Recorder on the first ballot, by an unprecedented large vote, evincing clearly the high estimation in which he is held by the people. Mr. D. is a native of Pike township, though for a short time past and at present a resident of Wysox. He is lawyer by profession, but dependent on his own exertions to aid him in business or procuse a livelihood. He has done all for himself that has been done, withou wealth or powerful friends he educated himself, pursued | theet credit upon the city.

the study of law, and a year or two since was admitted to the bar. His qualifications are of the first order, and his democracy of the truest kind.

JACOB REEL.

Dur candidate for Treasurer, is a citizen of Windham ownship, a farmer by occupation. Mr. R. was brought forward by his own sterling demorratic township, and will be sustained by nearly the entire vote of the east, where he is known. To our democratic friends in the west we look for united and vigorous action in his behalf as the regularly nominated candidate, every way worthy their confidence and entitled to their support.-Let every one who wishes for the success of democratic principles, and the prostration of federalism, lend a helping hand. We desire to see them active and vigilant.-The office of Treasurer is an important one and should not be fest by the spathy or inactivity of our own friends. The candidate presented by the democratic convention is well qualified for the office, and well worthy the support of every democrat.

ASHBEL L. CRANMER.

This gentleman, whose name stands upon the democra tic ticket for Commissioner, is a citizen of Monroe township, and also a farmer by occupation. It requires no eulogy from us to tell his worth to those who know him. He is an uniform and consistent democrat of unquestion ed ability and integrity, and where known is highly respected and esteamed for his many good qualities. His shility to discharge the duties of the office for which he is a candidate, none will question, and his integrity and his high moral bearing, place him above reproach. We look with unshaken confidence for his success at the polls. JOHN HATCH.

The Democratic candidate for Coroner, is a citizen Albany. He is acquainted with public business, having served in the capacity of constable for several years, with great credit to himself. He is well qualified for the of-

CHARLES HOMET, The Democratic candidate for Auditor, is a citizen of Wyalusing-a farmer. Mr. Homet has stored his mind onick in his perceptions, and will make an admirable officer. He is an old and consistent democrat, an estimable man, and will discharge the duties of Auditor with credit to himself and honor and faithfulness to the coun-

Demorats of Bradford! These are the men you have selected for your candidates,-men who are and ever have been true to the principles you cherish, who never deserted those principles for the prospect of gain. Your duty is plain. It is to enter manfully into the conflict and by a firm, consistent, and decisive course, to teach your political enemies, that in Bradford county, the odisaw that his fortune, whether for good or for evil, was in ous principles of black cockade federalism can find no

Our Whole Ticket.

We cannot too strongly urge upon our Democrati friends the necessity of an active and energetic support of all the candidates on our ticket. Let every one remember that our motto is "principles not men." As it is impossible for all to be gratified in the selection of candidates we adopt the delegate system, as the most de- that they were under command of a man by the held at Enniskillen on Tuesday was a failure, tion of the party upon our candidate for each office, ment of Cartradores, that has recently been staand in doing so, there must of course, and of necessity. be a sacrifice to some extent of personal preferences to preserve union of strength. Hence, it is the duty of the delegates, when they assemble in convention, to pursue a system of concilliation; otherwise their deliberations would be characterized by discord, and result in disunion, distraction, and defeat; and thus enable our enemies to strike a blow, which would defeat our candidates and prostrate our republican principles.

When a ticket is formed, as it now is, by the harmo nious action of a convention of delegates, composed of men who maintain and advocate true republican principles, it certainly becomes the duty, and should be the envishle reputation among the good of all parties. His the pleasure of every one who professes the name of denocrat-who is governed by the principles he professes, and the time honored usages of his party, to give the whole ticket his cheerful, ardent and undivided support. Remon.—It is said that great commotion exists in the Whig party of this county in relation to the recent nominations made by their Convention; the richest portion of which, is, that Mr. E. R. Myer, one of their caindidates for Representative is to be withdrawn, and Lawyer Jonn C. Anans substituted in his stead. By what authority this transmutation is to take place we are not informed. LATE FROM TEXAS .- Galveston dates to the 23d have been received. All was graiet at U. S. encampment. General Taylor hart succeeded in removing all the troops belonging to the 3d and 4th Regiments of U. S. Infantry, and established his head quarters at Corpus Christi. Good health prevailed in the Camp.

A breastwork of earth had been, thrown up and nearly completed. A few pieces of ordanance procured in the town, were brought into requisition. No certain information concerning the advance of the Mexicaus had been received; but it was rumo red that Arista was with a fund of useful information, is clear headed and assembling a large force at Matamoras and along the Rio Grande. of ladies, consisting of Mrs. James Oakes, of this city, her two sisters, Mrs. Knapp, of Newburyport, and Mrs. Mosely, of Boston, and Mrs. O's. daughter, Miss Garafelia Oakes, who will be 12 years old in December, went from Newburyport to Plum Island, to bathe. The passengers and crew all got safely on shore, and the greatest part of the baggage was Mosely, and went a short distance upon the saved. All the freight and the consumable beach to dress. While they were dressing, Hrs. R. N. Berry, of this city, who was also upon the beach, heard Mrs Mosely scream · Save me ! save me !" Mrs. Berry called to Mrs. Knapp. and told her that her sister was Mrs. Knapp, with a natural impulse, rushed into the water to save her sister. but immediately found herself beyond her depth, and called upon Mrs. Berry to save her. Mrs. B. was in full dress, not having been in nolness on the occasion, ladies and all. There to bathe, but she waded in up to her neck, and reaching out, seized a part of Mrs. Knapp's clothing and drew her on shore. By this lime Mrs. Oakes heard the screaming, and and child, of Rochester. As it approached the seeing her sister. Mrs. Mosely, floundering in the water, pushed out to attempt her rescue; but she, too, soon found herself sinking, and n her turn cried out to her daughter, "Garaelia, save me! save your mother!" Mrs. Berry saw that both ladies must inevitably drown, without prompt succor, and with great presence of mind, she advised Garafelia to put on her life-preserver and save her mother .-Quicker than lightning, (to use Mrs. Berry's words.) the heroic girl had on her preserver, plunged in. swam to the snot where her mother was sinking, seized her by the bair of her head, which was all that was above water, and dragged her to Mrs. Berry, who had waded in to receive her; and, together, they laid her upon the beach, perfectly insensible, and with every appearance of a drowned person. But Mrs. Berry's self-possession had not deserted her, and she implored Garafelia now to leave her mother and rescue her aunt, Mrs. Mosely, who had already sunk. As she rose, Garafelia swam towards, calling out, " Keep up, sunty ! keep up ! I'm coming ; I've saved mother, and will save you !" and with these words she reached the drowning woman, and drew her also on shore, unconscious of all. It appears that Mrs. Mosely was seized by cramp, lost her self-control, and was drawn by the coolness of Mrs. Berry, and the admirable courage and quickness of Miss Oakes, prevented a cat strophe that would have been

He left soon after noon ference from which is that the crops are not so on the 24th, and went south with a heavy chest on the wagon and returned the next day about noon with the same chest in his wagon light and apparently empty. The night of the 25th he nired a lumber wagon at one of the livery stables in Ithaca and returned it before daylight the next morning, at which time he took passage in the stage to Geneva, under the assumed name of Mr. Doe. He was not seen or heard of for more than six weeks after this, and his wife's friends pearance searched his house which they found in confusion as if she had just stepped out for a few minutes, with a quantity of dirty clothes thrownstogether ready for washing, and a number of dresses and other articles of her and her child's clothing scattered about the house, but could get no information of her, nor could they ascertain where Ruloff went with the wagon either on the 24th or the night of the 25th of June.
