Jersey Ladies Lynching a Widower.

The Mt. Holly Herald relates in a pleasing ner, the progress of a widower of its ghborhood in love making. The gay wiwer, it would seem, divided his affections out equally between three young ladies in neighborhood, and was not a little puzzled make a choice between them. He concludd however, to unbosom himself to the one hom chance might first place within his reach. Having been married twice before, he had not so much as dreamed of a rebuff. This, however, he received from the first, and met with no better success from the other two, to hom he successively tendered his heart and The sequel we give in the language of he Herald. He was almost frantic with rage. and in order to salve off his mortified pride, inculated stories about the young ladies shich did not redound very much to their

As soon as they heard of his ungallant mode taking revenge, they held a council of war, and determined to punish him in such a manneras, to make an example of him for want of proper manly feeling and chivalry. They ac-cordingly armed themselves with large tough the lst day of October next, at 10 o'clock, A.M., armthe road, sallied forth upon him and assailed

NO. 3. Once more at the Head of the Heap!

S USUAL, the first arrival of new goods for the season, are this day opening at BAIR'DS, No. 3 Brick Row, where we invite every body, men, women and children to call and examine our splendid assort-

We owe an apology to our friends for the crowded and jammed up state of things which has existed for several months past at No. 3, but the public are aware that such results must necessarily arise from the fact that we have generally had the largest and best assort-ment of goods in Towanda, and it having been ascertained to a certainty, and generally understood that the place to buy cheap is at Baird'r, No. 3. In order, how-ever, to obviate some of the difficulties, we have just ever, to obviate some of the difficulties, we have just completed a large and commodious storehouse in the rear of the brick block, where many of our heavy goods will be removed, and we hope now to be able to make room for our many friends, and enable them to do business in our store with comfort and despatch.

We also have the pleasure of announcing that we have Henry Spielden & Co. "fairly floored"—their operations until the surface of the second of the second of the surface of the second of the sec ations intended to injure us fall harmless at our feet, and our arrangements are now complete for keeping always on hand a splendid assortment.

It is impossible to enumerate all the articles, for they are so numerous and the assortment so general, that it would require at least ten acres square of foolscap. We cannot refrain, however, from informing the fair ladies of Bradford that we have for fall and winter dresses, a large assortment of plain black, figured and colored ALPACAS, mouslin and rep de laines, French cashmeres, (new styles) Affghans, bombazines, winter ging-hams, Scotch and American. All kinds of dress and without end. As we informed you above, it is useless to itemize.

In closing this advertisement, we need not say to our friends, "don't furget the place," for every body knows where to find BAIRD'S CHEAP STORE, right in the centre of the new brick block. We know that to insure a continuation of your very liberal patronage we have only to continue our very low prices, and to keep, as we have done, the best of goods. We intend to do that, and have no fears but you will call and see us, not-withstanding any pokerish stories that have been, or may be told you by some of our neighbors. One thing you will always find at No. 3, that we always sell goods which we have, as cheap as those we have not.

Mr. Vandercook has been successfully engaged it teaching for ten years past; he has much experience in this important and truly elevating department of human enterprise and benevolence, and brings testimonials from various sources of good moral character, and excellent

Mr. Worthing is a gentleman of very excellent at tainments, experience and skill in teaching, and cannot fail to do much for the advancement of the student and the prosperity of the institution.

Miss Worthing, the Preceptress of the Female De-partment, has alreacy, by her devotion to literature, and her superior virtues, obtained the unqualified confidence of the community, and the esteem and affection of her numerous pupils. Young ladles will seldom find an instructress better qualified to meet all the wants of the student, not only as a tercher, but as a guardian friend and associate. They cannot but be improved by ner example and society, as well as by her engaging instruc-

ons. TUITION will be as follows in all the departmen Primary and common English studies, with Penmanship, composing and speaking, $ Natural, intellectual and moral science, botsny, chemistry, history, astronomy, rhetoric, logic, book-keeping, drawing, painting, &c.,

Mathematics and the languages,
Incidental expenses, per term, during winter,

No student will be received for less than half a term and no deduction will be made for absence, except in ases of illness or other unavoible causes.

The Academic year will be divided into four term of eleven weeks each. There will be a vacation of one week after the first term; also one week after the third, and a vacation of six weeks after the fourth, including the harvest season.

We desire to make the Towarda Academy an agree ble and desirable resort for students from abroad, as wel as those at home; a place where the purest virtues shall be cultivated, and the germs of science firmly set in the youthful mind. For this great object, no care or labor will be spared on the part of teachers or trustees. The Principal should be consulted before purchasing books, as several changes are contemplated in the text-books

the School.
Students from abroad can find board with the Prince pal or others, on reasonable terms. Lectures will be given regularly by the Principal and others, on the most important topics of education, and a society organized for the especial benefit of young men. There will be two examinations and exhibitions during the year, the time to be determined by the teachers and trustees.
