Hymn of the Sea.

BT W. C. BRYANT

The see is mighty, but a mightier sways His restless billows. Thou, whose hands have accope His houndless gulfs and built his shore, the breath, That moved in the beginning o'er his face, Moves o'er it evermore. The obedient waves To its strong motion, roll and rise and fall. Still from that realm of rain thy cloud goes up, As at the first, to water the great earth, And keep her vallies green. A hundred realins Watch its broad shadow warping on the wind, And in the drooping shower, with gladness, hear Thy promise of the harvest. I look forth, Over the boundless blue, where, joyously, The bright crests of inunmerable waves Glance to the sun at once, as when the hands Of a great multitude are upward flung In acclemation. I behold the ships Gliding from cape to cape, from isle to isle, Or stemming toward far lands, or hastening home From the old world. It is thy friendly breeze That beers them, with the riches of the land, And treasure of dear lives, till, in the port The shorting seamen climbs and furls the sail.

But who shall bide thy tempest, who shall face The blast that wakes the fury of the sea? Oh God ! thy justice makes the world turn pale, When on the armed fleet, that royally Bears down the surges, carrying war, to smite Some city, or invade some thoughtless realin, Descends the fierce tornado. The vast hulks Are whirled like chaff upon the waves; the sails Fly, rent like webs of gossamer; the masta Are snapped asunder; downward from the decks, Downward are slung, into the fathomiess gulf, Their cruel enemies, and their hosts, arrayed In trappings of the battle-field, are whelmed By whirlpool, or dashed dead upon the rocks. Then stand the nations still with awe, and pause, A moment, from the bloody work of war-

These restless surges cat away the shores Of earth's old continents; the fertile plain Welters in shallows, heads and crumbles down, And the tide drifts the sea-sand in the streets Of the drowned city. Thou meanwhile, afar, In the green chambers of the middle sea, Where broadest spread the waters and the line Sinks deepests, while no eye beholds thy work, Creator! thou dost teach the coral worm To lay his mighty reefs. From age to age, He builds beneath the waters, till, at last, His bulwarks overtop the brine, and check The long wave rolling from the Southern pole To break upon Japan. Thou bids the fires, That smoulder under ocean, heave on high The new made mountains, and uplift their peaks, A place of refuge for the storm-driven bird. The birds and wafting billows plant the rifts With herb and tree; sweet fountains gush; sweet air Rippling the living lakes, that, fringed with flowers, Are gathering in the hollows. Thou dost look On thy creation and pronounce it good. Its valleys, glorious with their summer green, Praise thee in silent beauty, and its woods, Swept by the murmuring winds of ocean, join The murmuring shores in a perpetual hymn.

Behavior at Table.

s It is very rude when at a table, to scratch any part of your body. We should likewise be careful not to cram in our food so greedily and with so voracious an appetite, as to cause us to hicrup, or to be guilty of anything that may offend the eyes or the ears of the company: which they do who eat in such a hurry, as, by their puffing and blowing, to be troublesome to those who set

It is also very indecent to rub your teeth with the table-cloth or napkin; and endeavor to pick them with your tingers is more so. In the presence also of others, to wash your mouth, and to squirt out the wine with which you have performed the operation, is very un-

When the table is cleared to carry about your tooth-pick in your mouth, like a bird going to build his nest, or to suck it behind your ear, as a barber does his comb, is no very g teel custom. .

They, also, are undoubtedly mistaken it their notions of politeness, who carry their tooth-pick cases hanging down from their necks: for besides it is an odd sight for a gentleman to produce anything of that kind from his hosom, like some strolling pedlar, this inconvenience must also follow from such a practice, that he wilp acts thus, discovers that he is but too well furnished with every instrument of Inverse and too anxious about every thing that relates to the belly; and I can see no reason why the same persons might not as well display a silver spoon hanging about their

To lean with your elbows on the table, or to fill your cheeks so full that your jaws seem swelled, is by no means agreeable!

Neither ought you by any token or gesture, to discover that you take too great pleasure in any kind of food or wine which is a custom more proper for inn-keepers and parasites.

To invite those who set at the table with you to eat, expressions of this kind, " what! have you proclaimed to a fast to day!" or "perhaps there is nothing at the table you can make a dinner off?" or, " pray, sir. taste this or that dish :" thus to invite people, I say, is by no means a laudable custom, though now become familliar to almost every one, and practiced in every family; for though these officious people show that the person whom they thus invite is really the object of their care, yet they give occasion, by this means, to the person invited to be less free in his behavior, and make him blush at the thought of being the subject of observation.

LAUGHTER .- A witty writer says, in praise of laughter:-Laughter has even dissipated disease and preserved life by a sudden effort of nature. We are told that the great Erasmus laughed so heartily at the satire by Reuchlier and Van Hunon that he broke unimposthume, and recovered his health." In a singular treatise on "Laughter," Joubert gives two similar instances. A patient being very low, the physician, who had ordered a dose of rhubarb, connermanded the medicine, which was left on the table. A monkey in the room jumping up, discovered the goblet, and having tasted, made a terrible grimace. Again put ting only his tongue to it, he perceived some sweetness of the dissolved manna, while the boldened, he swallowed the whole, but found it such a nauseous portion, that after many strange and fantastic grimaces, he grined his teeth in agony, on the floor. The whole affair was so lucicrous that the sick man burst into repeated peals of laughter, and the recovery of cheerfulness led to health."

HE preceding figure is to represent the INSEN.
SIBLE PERSPIRATION. It is the great evac amon for the impurities of the body. It will be noticed that a thick cloudy mist issues from all points of the sur-fac: which indicates the wonderful process going on withln. This perspiration flows uninterruptedly whe we are in health, but ceases when we are sick. It should be the caroof every one to see that it is not checked.— Lite cannot be sustained without it. It is thrown off from the blood and other juices of the body, and disposes by this means, of nearly all impurities within use.—
The blood by this means only, works itselfpure. The language of Scripture is, "in theblood is the life." It it ever becomes impure it may be traced directly to the stoppage of the insensible perspiration. It never requires any internal medicines to cleause it, as it always purifies itself by its own heat and action, and throws off al the offending humors, through the insensible perspiration. Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood in stagment or infected, is toopen the pores, and it relieves itself from all impurity instantly. Its own heat and vi-tality are sufficient, without one particle of medicine, except to open the pores upon the surface.—Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal remedies. All practicioners, however, direct their efforts to restore the proper one. The Thompsonians for instance, steams, the Hydropathist shrouds us in wet blankets, the Homopathist deals out infinitissimals, the Allopathist bleeds and doses us with mercury, and the blustering quack orges us with pills, pills, pills.

But one object only is in view, viz: to restore the in sensible perspiration. If this can be done, they say, we will take cure of the rest. It will be seen, therefore, that all physicians understand alike what is necessary to recovery, how much they may differ as to the mode of obtaining it. To give some idea of the smount, and consequently the importance of the insensible perspiration, we will state that the learned Dr. Lewenhock, and the great Boer have, ascertained that five-eights of all we received in-to the stomach, passed off by this means. In other words, if we cut and drink eight pounds per day, we evacuate ive pounds of it by the unsersible perspiration.

This is none other than the used up particles of the blood, and other juices, giving place to the new aud fresh ones, by carrying with it all the impurities within up to the surface. To check this, therefore, is to retain in the system five eights of all the virulent matter that nature demands should leave the body. And even when this is the case, the blood is of so active a principle, that it determines those particles, to the skin, where they form scabs, pimples, ulcers, and other spots; but if it is directed inwards, and falls upon the lungs, the conse quences are generally lats!.

By a sudden transition from heat to cold, the pores are stopped, the perspiration ceases, and disease begins at once to develope itself. Hence, a stoppage of this flow of the juices, originates so many complaints. It is through the surface that we imbite nearly all our ills. through the surface that we imbibe nearly all our ills.

It is stopping the pores, that overwhelms mankind with coughs, colds, and consumption. Nine-tenths of the world die from diseases induced by stoppage of the is not able to boast of as large an assortment of gold chronometer, duplex, lever and L Epine Watches, diamond rings, pins &c., &c., as can be found in the assortment advertised near the Hay-Scales, but what he has shall be sold so low that competition with him. be checked, without producing disease. The blood and intestines must relieve themselves of all their wornout particles, and poisonous humors, and they must g through the pores as nature designed.

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, and unstop the pores, after they are closed and let the perspiration flow. porce, after usey are closed and let the perspiration flow, that the blood may relieve itself of its impurities! Would you give physic to unstop the porce! Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is? Would not this be common sense? And, yet I know of no physician who makes an internal application to effect it. The reason I security is that no relief in which their broadless is assign is, that no medicine within their knowledge. sent to physicians and to all others, a preparation that has this power to the fullest extent. - It is McAllister's All-Healing Ointment or the World's Salre. It has power to restore perspiration on the feet, on the head around oldsores, upon the chest, in short, upon any part of the body, whether diseased slightly or severely. When the persolitation is restored, it has power to penetrate the lungs, liver, or any part of the human system, and to act upon them, if they be diseased, by separating the interpretation to the shadow of a doubt that it would cure thousands flamed morbid particles therefrom, and expelling them to the surface.

It has power to cause all external sores, scrofulous hu mors, skin diseases, poisonous wounds to discharge their putrid matter, and then beals them.

It is a remedy that sweeps off the whole catalogue of cutaneous disorders, and restores the entire cuticle to its healthy functions

It is a remedy that forbids the necessity of so many and deleterious drugs taken into the stomach.

It is a remedy that neither sickens, gives inconvenience, or is dangerous to the intestines.

This remedy is probably the only one now known, that is capable of producing all these great results. Its great value is in restoring at once, the circulation of the great value is in restoring at once, the circulation of one juices when checked, or disarranged by cold or other causes. It preserves and defends the surface from all decongement of its functions, while it keeps open the channels for the blood to avoid all its impurities and dispose of all its useless particles. ILUMBER FOR SALE. viscora, the internal viscers and the surface. They are inseparably connected and cannot be disjoined. surface is the outlet of five-eights of the bile and user ap matter within. It is pierced with millions of open ings to relieve the intestines. Stop up these pores, and death knocks at your door. It is rightly termed All-Healing, for there is scarcely a disease, external or internal, that it will not beneat. It will be found the most useful as well as the che-pest family medicine in the world. I have used it for the last fourteen years with success without a parallel. I haveused it for all disease of the chest, consumption, liver, and the most dangerous of internal meladies. I have used it in cases of extreme peril and hazard, involving the utmost danger and responsibility, and I declare before Heaven and man, that not in one single case has it failed to benefit, when the patient was within the reach of mortal means.

I never, to my recollection had more than five or six mone the thousands who have used it, say that it was not favorable to their complaint. On the contrary I have had hundreds return voluntarily, and in the warmes and most pathetic language speak in its praise. I have had physicians, learned in the profession; I have had mi nisters of the gospel, Judges on the bench, aldermen and lawyers, gentlemen of the highest erudition and multitudes of poor, use it in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice, one united, universal voice saying "McAllister your ointment is good."

Consumption.—Of all discases, we find this the most important, and concerning which we meet with the most opposition. It can hardly be credited that a salve can opposition. It can earnly be created that a saive can have more effect upon the lungs, seated as they are within the system. But we say once for all, that this ointment will reach the lungs quicker than any medicines that can be given internally. Every body consents to the fact that if healing medicine could be applied on LL persons indebted to the estate of ACHATUS

the fact that if healing medicine could be applied on the fact that if healing medicine could be applied on the function of the fact that if healing medicine could be applied on the function of the fact that if healing medicine there are requested to make immediate payment, and all difficulty is to get the medicine there. Now the Salve those having demands against the same are requested that the wonderful virtue of extracting the putrid humore from all external sores by causing them to dis-charge. In like manner it operates upon internal affecupna by driving all the inspurities through the pores to the surface. Thus with consumption, if placed upon the chest, it penetrates directly to the lungs, separates the poisonous particles that are consuming them and ex-pels them from the system.

It is the simplest and most rational process in creation. mest jus if one has the medicine capable of doing it. The All-sug20 Healing Contract possesses this power to the ullest extent. I need not say that it is curing persons of Consumption continually, although we are told it is faciliables. I care not what is said, so long as I can cure several thousand persons yearly. If this medicine was in the hands of some patent medicine brawlers, they would make an uprour through the country-that would be insupportable.

Scrofula or King's Evil.—This disease is really inversate, and hard to be subdued. It is generally seated veterate, and hard to be subdued. It is generally scated in the sides of the neck, behind the ears and under the chin, yet scarcely any part of the body is exempt. It cometimes falls upon the lungs and produces consump-tion. It is a dreadful circumstance, that this disease is transmitted from parents to children. The Salve will extract all the morbid matter by causing the sores to dis-charge; and then let then the Solar Tincture be used to drive it to one point, which done, a continuouse of the Ointment will completely remove this disorder. This is the sofest and most effectual of any method. It should be adopted without a moment's besitation.

Erysipelas — This complaint arises from impurities being driven out to the surface by means of the insensible perspiration, and lodging in the cuticule, forms sores, pimples &c., it being of a caustic, acrid putrifying nature. It only requires that it should discharge its virulent particles through the skin, and the difficulty will pass off. If suffered to remain, and driven inwards it i requently fatal.

Let the Salve and Solar Tincture be used as in scro fula and the patient will soon get well. Sult Rheum,—This is another obstinate disease bu can be cured effectually as the scrofula. There is no difficulty in this disease.

Head ache, Ear ache and Deafness.—The Salve ha cured persons of the Head-Ache of 12 years standing and who had it regularly every week, so that vomiting often took place. It cured the wife of a man who laugh ed in my face for proposing such a cure, and who no would not be without it for the best farm in the State. any one will take the trouble to call I will give his name Desiness and Ear-Ache are helped with the like suc ess as also Ague in the face. Cold Feet.—Consumption, liver complaint, pains in the chest or side, falling of the hair, one or the other always accompanies cold feet. It is a sure sign of disn the system to have cold feet. Some persons are totally unable to get them warm, and endure much suf fering thereby.

The salve will restore the insensible perspiration an thus cure every case. It is infallible for this.

Asthma, Tightness of Breath—If this disease is no

the salve will core it. Dyspepsia.—One would suppose a salve would not effect this disease much but the All-Healing Ointment will cure two sooner than any internal remedy will cure

Sore Eyes .- The inflamation and disease always lies back of the ball of the eye in the socket. Hence the util ity of all remedies that are used upon the lids. The virtue of any medicine must reach the seat of inflammation or it will do little good. This salve if rubber on the temples will penetrate directly into the socket and infuse all its virtues upon the disorder. The pores and infuse all its virtues upon the disorder. The pores will be opened, a proper perspiration will be created and the disease will soon pass off to the surface. How easy and how natural! It is as perfect and valuable as it is simple and philosophical.

Sore Leps, Chapped Hunds &c.—I sell a great deal of salve to Seamen, who say it is the only thing they can depend on to cure their raw hands, when exposed to the weather at sea. It acts like a charm in these complaints. They or three publications cure.

plaints. Two or three applications cures

Pimples on the face, freekles, tan, masculine skin, gross surface. Its first action is to expel all humar, it will not cease drawing till the face is free from any mat ter that may be lodged under the skin and treque breaking out to the surface. It then heals. W there is nothing but grossness, or dull repulsive surface, it begins to soften and soften until the skin becomes as soft and delicate as a child's. It throws a freshness and blushing color upon the now white transparent skin erfectly enchanting. Sometimes in case of Freckles it will first start out those that have lain hidden and seen but soldom. Pursue the salve and all will soon dis

The reason for this wonderful change in a lady's face is that it excites into natural and healthy activity the Insensible Perspiration, while it renovates and renews the surface, and leaves tho skin in as lively and It is put up in fine jars and beautifully scented on pur

Burns.-Life can always be saved if the vitals are not injured. I have so many testimonials for the cure of this complaint that I could fill a book. I suppose there is not a family in the United States, that would consent to be without this salve a single day if they knew its balm in healing Burns alone. It extracts ti pain and leaves the place withouts scar.

Quinsy sore throat, Influenza, Bronchitis .- There is not an internal remedy in existence that will cure these disorders as quick as the salve. It opens the pores on the neck and draws off all the inflammation and impure juices, and a few days will see the patient wel It is sovereign in these cases.

Piles. The salve acts moon the niles as upon so eyes. There is an inflammation which must be drawn from the parts. The salve does this.

Hernia of Rupture.—This salve has cured some very bad cases of rupture, and although it might not all, yet it would be wise to try it. It is a peculiar complaint, but if the trial was made, who believe no medicine of the least benefit.

Two shillings worth would satisfy any one, whether it would do good or not. Illiac Passion or Griping of the Intestines.—This disease caused the death of the late H. S. Legare, Attorney General and acting Secretary of the United States It is the stopping up of the smaller intestines, and some times the twi-ting of them. It is brought on by a negtimes the twisting of them. It is brought on by a neglect of the daily evacuations, or from incurcerated Herinia. The pains are awful, and unless help comes speedily, the sufferer soon dies.

The All-Healing Ointment would have saved the life of Mr. Legare and all others under similar circumstances. Corns.-If the salve is used according to directions people need never be troubled with corns—especially cut out by some tr velling mountebank who knows he is doing more mischief than he can possibly repair. A little of this ointment put on now and then will always keep them down.

Indeed there are few complaints that it will not benefit. It is a Family Salre of untold value. As long as the sky rolls over one's head and grass grows upon the earth, it will be sought after, used and valued. A there is no mercurial substance in it, but composed entirely of vegetables it gives no good ground for appre
