FROM NAUVOO .- The following account of the doings at Nauvoo is from the Quincy Whig: A horse thief, named Coulton, was taken out of the city of Nauvoo by a party of the rifle-men under the command of Lieut. Everett, on Sunday night last. It appears that two Mormons were engaged in stealing two horses from a man by the name of Reckard, near Carthage. They fled to Nauvoo-process was immediately issued and placed in the hands of one of the rifle men, and on Sunday night the party surrounded the house in Nauvoo, and captured Coulton the other, Williams, could not be found. A company of fourteen left Carthage on Wednesday last for Springfieldincluding Major Warren, several of the riflemen, Backenstos, and others-to attend the Supreme Court, in Relation to the Clerk's dignation meeting has been held at Cincinnati by the Church of Latter Day saints, for the purpose of denouncing those who are opposed to the Smith family, and condemning the abrogation of the marriage contract. They also passed resolutions to "disfellowship" the Twelve, disowning their authority, and strongly condemning their practices with regard to holy stealing, the wanton shedding of blood, &c. They disapprove likewise of the Temple at Nauvõo, as having been built by usurpers and distressing the poor. The Conference have organized themself under the title of a

So long as the United States submit to this condition of things, so long will anti-American councils prevail in Mexico .-Is it not better to go to war at once, and settle all disputes by arms, than suffer European agents to invoke a revolution whenever the Mexican government evinces a disposition to be friendly with us? It would be better for Mexico as well as ourselves. Ever since the Texan Revolution our Southwestern border has been in an anomalous and unintelligible posture. Citizens of the United States have been taken captive whilst visiting a State recognized as sovereign by our Government .-The Mexican powers kept the war with Texas an open question for eight years, and, now that Texas is a part of the Union, she seems diposed to keep the war with us an open one for as many more. Whilst our relations remain in this miserable condition, our Territory is liable to sudden invasion, and our citizens to arbitrary exactions. How long should this be tolerated ? Foreign missionaries have employed the Texas question to prejudice Amer ican rights for years ; and they will use it till doomsday, to the same end, if their machina-
