Robinson, at Genesee, Livingston Co., after two or three days illness, and without the knowledge of her dangerous condition. has given rise to rumors of a most painful char-So far as the rumors fix upon any person in that county the charge of seduction, they are not credited at that place. An inquest was ordered at the Court House on Friday last; at the hour of assembling, news came that the grave was empty. The body had evidently been spirited away the night previous, after the Coroner had ordered an inquest. This added to the excitement, and rumors and conjectures flew about as to the cause and who could have been concerned in the transaction. The Coroner, after consulting several legal gentlemen, came to the conclusion to proceed with the investigation; Moses Hunt was, accordingly, called and sworn and testified as follows :- " I attended the funeral; there was a large concourse; I furnished the coffin and acted as undertaker; I attended personally to the burial at the grave of Temple Hill; did not see the grave filled entirely up; a colored man, named Daniel Hammet, filled the grave ; knew the body was in the coffin when put in the grave; I have since that time examined the grave-to-day; three persons, Nelson Humphrey, Lewis Baily and James L. Wright, were with me; the examination was made at the direction of the Coroner; the body was gone; found the grave open; the rough box was in the grave; the lid by the side of the grave and the cothin gone; can't tell what instrument was used in opening the box; I saw tracks from the grave to the North fence next to the woods; can't 'tell how much snow fell last evening; can't say whether the tracks were made before or after the last snow; saw

KEPLER'S EXTRAVAGANCE.-Kepler, who ulunately discovered many important truths, was, through life, the dupe of vagaries founded on the superstitions of the age. In one of his early works he imagined the planets to be huge, animais who swam round the sun, by means of certain fins acting upon the etherial fluid, as those of fishes do in the water, and agreeably to this hotion, he imagined the comets to be monstious and uncommon animals generated in the celestial spaces; and he explained how this excited this animal faculty.

LANGUID CIRCULATION .- Repeated changes in the temperature have a very bad effect upon the blood; a sudden change from a full, generous, to a low, poor diet will be equally injurious to the health as sudden changes of weather. If we would have health we must endeavor to prevent, as far as in us lie, great extremes of all kinds. Every excess of heat or cold, of eating of draking, tends to produce impurity of the blood; thus its circulation becomes languid; the very channels of life are clogged; and the first consequence is that the bowels become costive.

We are in this condition ready to receive any disease with which we may come in contact; and without any contact with any one affected with sickness, we shall have headache, heartburn, dizziness, a foul tongue, loss of appetite; all the result of the state of costiveness.

When the atmosphere becomes impure and oppressiv to mankind, it require the tempest to agitate it, to give it parity and life.

When the bowels are postive they require the administration of brandreth's pills, which, by ouciting a commotion, or accelerated movement in that organ, will occasion all morbid contents to be expelled, thereby producing purity to the blood and health to the whole

JATNE'S ALTERATIVE, OR PRESERVATIVE. RHEUMATISM .- The Proprietor has not prescribed this preparation in a great many cases of Rheumatism, but in every case where it was used until the system became affected by the medicine, the disease was re moved.

GOUT .- A number of cases of Gout have been cured by this Preparation. In one of these cases the man had been afflicted with it so severely for thirteen years, as to entirely disable him from business, and for five months immediately previous to his taking the Life Preservative he had been confined to his room; but before he had finushed the third bottle, he was enabled to walk about the streets, and soon after returned to his business, from which he had been excluded by his afflictions.

DIED,

In Springfield, Bradford county, on Saturday, February 28, 1846, ELEATRAS GOODRICE, aged 70 years. The deceased was one of the early settlers of Bradford County. Locating in Columbia township, while it was yet a wilderness, he was one of those hardy pioneers who have subdued the mighty forest, to give place to the fruits of cultivation. He had lived to see the neighborhood thrive and flourish, until it became one of the richest and most thickly populated of any portion of the county.

It is hardly necessary for us to bear testimony to the private virtues and moral worth of the deceased. His extensive and favorable acquaintance renders it a work of supererogation. Possessed of a noble and generous heart, his life has been characterized by a degree of charity and liberality, still held in grateful remembrance.

Passing through a long life of varied prosperity and vicissitude, he has lived in the enjoyment of a conscience void of offence towards God and man, endeavoring as far as possible, to perform his duty towards his fellow-man, and trusting in the merits of a Crucified Redeemer man, and trusting in the merits of a Crucified Redeemer for forgiveness of the errors, for which the heart was not liable. The hour of Death was cheered by this reflectice, and made glorious by this Hope, and we may trust, that as his departure was peaceful, it was but the heralding of that joyous Life immortal, where sin and sorrow herer come; where the cares and troubles of this world are laid saide; where the weary are indeed at rest.

The Sugar-Coated Improved Indian Vegetable Pills.

TO THE PUBLIC.

EFERENCE to the very many numerous testimonials of well-known and in some instances distinguished individuals, need not be again repeated to induce the public to place greater confidence in this now justly celebrated medicine, the peculiar operation of which, together with the mildness and unparalleled efficacy in removing all obstructions, and restoring all functional decreases of the Stangers. functional derangements of the Stomach, Liver and other digestive organs; purifying the blood, strengthening the attending physicians, may be expected next week; and that the body was exhumed render them the most useful general and family medi-dine to be found.

The great variety of cures which have been made, have opened a field for war, and every means have been boldly resorted to by the old pid venders to crush these 'go-ahead' pills. The first sländer runs thus:

New-York, July, 1844. "We, *Physicians of this city, feel it our duty to state, that we believe the pills known as Dr. Smith's Sugar Coated Improved Indian Vegetable Pills,' are mainly composed of mercury."
