Constitution & By-laws of the Society, For the promotion of the Agricultural and Mechanic Arts in Susquehanna count.

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I .- The Society sha'l consist of all such persons as may from time to time sign this Constitution, and pay into the treasury, or otherwise contribute, the sum of lifty cents per annum to its funds. Corresponding and honorary members may at any time be admitted by a vote of the society without such payment.

ART. 11. Every member who shall have paid his contributions shall be entitled to vote at the Elections of the Society, and to all the other rights of membership.

ART. III. The objects of the Society shall be the improvement of the Agricultural and the advancement of the Mechanic Arts in this county. For this purpose, the Society may from time to time hold fairs or exhibitionsappoint persons to deliver regular courses or asional lectures, and other addresses-and all the funds and other property of the institution, after deducting necessary expenses shall be applied to the objects above specified, by appropriations for premiums—for the distribution of valuable publications-for encouraging the manufacture and perfection of implements, and for such other purposes, as may from time to time be deemed expedient.

ART. IV. The Society shall hold annual meetings on the 2d Tuesday of April and 3d Tuesday of October, at such places within the county, as may be appointed by the Society; and may adjourn from time to time as may be proper. Special meetings may be called at any time by three of the Managers.

ART. V. The Officers of the Society shall be a President, two Vice Presidents, Corresponding Secretary, Recording Secretary, Treasurer, and seven Managers, who shall be elected annually at the first stated meeting .-The officers for the present year shall be elected immediately after the adoption of this Con-

ART. VI. The duties of the officers shall be such as usually appertain to such appointments: and such as may from time to time be enjoined on them by the Society: but in all cases the presiding officer for the time being, shall sign all orders on the Treasurer, and shall be ex officio, a member of the Executive Committee. This committee shall consist of three members of the Board of Managers, and shall be appointed by the Board annually.

ART VII. The Executive Committee shall represent the society when the latter is not in session-shall have a general superintendence over its interests, and shall endeavor by all onorable means to promote its usefulness.--They shall embrace every opportunity to test the value and importance of suggested improve ments; whether in the improvement of lands the management and application of manures. the properties of live stock, the advantages of implements, and the adaptation of each and every of these to our soil, climate and circumstances. They shall unless otherwise directed by the Society, take a general superintendence of its exhibitions, and use their efforts to make its meetings, places of intellectual, moral, and social, as well as mechanical, agricultural, and physical improvement. ART. VIII. The Treasurer in addition to the monies and other property of the society, shall take charge of all specimens or models of mechanical improvements-all donations of books and implements of husbandry-and shall give security for the faithful performance of his duties in such sums as shall be approved by the President. He shall exhibit a statement of his accounts once in each year, and pay over any balance that may be in his hands when required by the Society.

ART. IX. The Executive Committee shall keep regular minutes of their proceedings, and exhibit them at each annual meeting for the approval, or order of the Society thereon; they shall examine the accounts of the Treasurer and make at the first meeting of the society in each year, a statement or report of the funds they shall be at liberty to publish any books, papers, or documents, or the result of any experiments, exhibitions, or improvements, that they may think have an important bearing upon the interests of the farmers or mechanics of the county : provided the expense shall not exceed twenty dollars.

ART. X. Twenty members of the society shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but no alteration shall be made in this constitution without the consent of twenty members, nor shall any such alteration take effect until the consent of the society is obtained at two successive meetings.

ART. XI. Bye-Laws, Rules and Regulations not inconsistent with these articles, may be made at any meeting of this society, two-thirds of the members present concurring therein; and all alterations therein shall require a like number of votes.

ART. XII. Any person paying ten dollars into the Treasury, shall be considered a member for life, and shall from thenceforth be exempted from any further contributions. And any person who shall contribute the sum of or other useful apparatus, calculated to advance the objects of the society, may be voted one of its patrons.

ART. XIII. No person shall be allowed to resign his membership, until all his annual Depend upon it she is a blessing to her huscontributions, and other dues. (if any there are,) shall have been previously paid.

BYE-LAWS. SECT. 1. To excite an interest in the procoedings, the President shall appoint at least one member to produce an essay upon any subject relating to the objects of the Association. that such member may deem proper, to be read at the next succeeding meeting : but political and religious essays and discussions shall be excluded from all the meetings; and who may wish to offer an essay upon any of Managers or the Executive Committee may the expense shall not exceed ten dollars per work.

SECT. 2. Every effort shall be made in the distribution of premiums to adapt them to the nature, expense, and probable value, of the proposed improvement or invention, as well as to the ingenuity, perseverance and skill manifested in the art or manufacture. But the amount of premiums offered in any one year, shall affinity for acids, and constitutes the basis of cure dyspersia, coughs and colds, and bilious complaints. never exceed three-fourths of the money in the of the cummon Epsom salts, which is a sulphutreasury.

Rural Economy, shall be considered as with in the terms "Agriculture and Mechanic Arts: and all improvements therein shall be consid ered as within the objects of the society.

SECT. 4. No money shall be drawn from the treasury, except by a vote of the society : and then only on the order of the presiding officer, attested by the Secretary. And such order shall be the only voucher allowed to dis charge the Treasurer; but the society may by such order. place any specific sum, not exceeding one half its annual income in the hands of the Executive Committee to enable them to discharge the divies enjoined on them by the constitution and bye-laws.

SECT. 5. Rules for the award and distribution of premiums, when made by the Managers, shall always be published so long before the time of exhibition, as to give all competitors an equal and fair chance of obtaining them.

SECT. 6. A judicious rotation of crops be ing one of the first principles of good husbandry, and a principle that can only be tested by long continued experiments, the society shall in no case distribute a lesser premium, for this than for other objects.

, Sect. 7. Judges and persons appointed to award or distribute premiums, shall in no case be allowed to compete for the same. None but members or persons contributing to the funds of the society shall be permitted to be competitors; and all persons claiming premiums shall furnish all the information to the society that he or she may possess upon the process by which the object has been attained. If it should be a crop raised, the mode of preparing the soil—the kind and quantity of manure applied—the expense and product. If it should be an animal, the mode of feeding—the time employed-the expense and profit, as near as may be. And if it should be a mechanical in vention, the whole process of making it; and generally all such other information as may be required by the Executive Committee.

SECT. 8. Discretionary premiums may be awarded by the society, when they may happen to be omitted in the premium list, or when the society shall think the object is worthy, and the finances shall justify it.

SEET. 9. Premiums shall be confined to the productions of the county, or to such ani mals, seeds, and other articles as are brough into the county for permanent use and service. at least six months before such premium is awarded. They shall in no case be awarded to those who bring them from other counties to sell at the fairs or exhibitions, unless by a special vote of the society.

SECT. 10. Prizes for neat cattle, sheep, o pigs, shall, when awarded, have relation to their merits for breeding and promoting improvement in the animals, and not to their immediate or present value to butchers or drovers, except in the case of oxen.

SECT. 11. In awarding premiums for horses, those designed exclusively for the race course shall be excluded.

SECT. 12. If any person, misrepresenta-tion or deception, shall obtain any premium, he shall by a knowledge of the circumstance be irrevocably excluded from any future competition, and expelled from the society. SECT. 13. A report of the agricultural condition of each township in the county, or of any particular district, or country, shall be considered as coming under the description of essays, and as such may be a subject of com-

Effects of Ashes.

Peter Crispell, of Hurley, Ulster county, states that he raised last year, on one acre of land, three tons twelve hundred and eighty pounds of hay, at one crop. The hay was in merchantable condition, and of good quality, as will appear from the fact that it was sold at eight dollars per ton, and was all weighed on the scales. The soil where this crop grew was a dry, loamy alluvion, and had been in grass many years Last spring Mr. Crispell spread on a hundred bushels of leached ashes to the acre, which cost eight cents per bushel. The ashes increased the quantity of hay nearly one-half and from former experiments in the use of them, it is known that their effects con tinue for several years.—Mr. Crispell has made some trial with both leached and unleached ashes, and the results, in his case, would seem to show that the unleached are leached are results, the leached are results. The results in the case, would seem to show that the unleached are results as the leached are results. The results in the leached are results as the leached are results as the leached are results. The results in the results are results as the leached are results as the leached are results as the results as the results as the results are results as the results as the results are results are results as the results are results are results as the results are results are results as the results are results as not more valuable than the leached. He thinks that ashes which have lain some time after being leached are much more valuable ton, Troy; authorized agents for Bradford county.

GARDENING .- There is not in life a more delightful occupation than gardening. To breathe the pure mild air of spring, to prepare the beds and borders for vegetables, plants and flowers ; to sow the seed, and set out the various slips and cuttings, arranging every thing with order and taste : to look earnestly for the first leaf and had and flower : to watch their growth, to enjoy their beauty and fragrance, to show them to one's friends, to talk about them, to have them admired, and to know that all is the work of your hands or directions. this is an enjoyment, scarcely to be equalled. twenty-five dollars, whether in money, books, and accessble, in this country, to all. We would advise our young friends, who want to marry, and they are, in truth, a goodly number, to avoid those young ladies who seem to have an aversion to the primitive, useful, and beautiful art of gardening. We never knew a lady or gentleman. who was extremely fond of flowers and shubhery, who had not a warm heart and generous disposition .- Miss. Guard.

CULTURE OF MUSTARD .- James H. Parmelee, of Duncan's Falls, Ohio, raised last year, every individual, whether appointed or not, twenty-seven acres of the black or brown mustard. THE undersigned are under many and deep obligations to their numerous friends for the very like tions to their numerous friends for the very libe ral patronage they have received, for which we tender you many thanks; and we have no doubt of a continu ance of your "smiles and favors" so long as we con-tinue to sell goods cheaper than any store within 100

We now have the pleasure of informing our friends and customers and the public generally that we are receiving direct from N. York, a larger and better assortment of Goods, that we, or any other merchants eve brought to this market, consisting of Dry Goods & Groceries, Glass & Nails, Crockery & Hardware, Iron & Salt, Drugs & Medicines, Leather & Fish,

Dye Woods & Dye Stuffs, Boots & Shoes &c. We gave notice in our last advertisement that "we had Henry Shelden & Co., floored—" since which time some of our neighbors have been firing their little pap guns at us, but ils of no use-men who have stood at the cannon's mouth as long as we have, cannot be frightened by such small trash. We can assure our worthy neighbors who have fal-len so deeply in love with the terms "bluff" and "bluff fing," that it is our intention so long as we remain in business to always have a fursh of Goods, and after the gross attempt made in 1842 to prevent our buying, we are not so green as to go to the city without a FULL HAND, which in addition to the experience of one of our firm in the city trade (having been for some time a clerk in N. York city.) enables us to buy goods cheaper than merchants generally from the country can. So just come on, all ye who want to buy cheap for CASH, call at no. 3, shake "the ready" at us and you "are caught—" or if you have a load of produce "give us the wink" and we are arter you.

Oh Gosh!! What Proverbs!!

Try it again Master G., You may wake up old no. 3.

It has long since ceased to be necessary. For no, 3 to say they they have the largest and lest stock of Goods in Towarda, for that has long been "A Proving."

PROVERE."

If has long since ceased to be necessary,
For no. 3 to say they buy goods for cash and buy them 10 per cer cheaper than most of their neighbors, for that too h long been "A PROVERE."

If a long since ceased to be necessarry,
For no. to say they are selling and will sell goods cheaper than any establishment in Towanda, for that too has long been "A PROVERE."

If were hor keep necessary,

Il never has been necessary.

For no. 3 to say they would sell goods for "12] per cent profit —" for we can do that and then sell at a price less than many of our neighbors pay for the same goods in the city—and that too has long been "A Pseven B.

We trust that it never will be necessary,
For no. 3 to boast of "ruining" any body by selliot goods cheap either in "Brick Row" or Wood Revwe sell goods cheap to benefit community and not to ruin them, this too has also long been "A PROVIES." It is no whisper-

It is no whisper—
But in the mouth of every body, even the little beys in the streets proclaim it aloud, that no. 3 are selling "better goods and more of them" than any other establishment in Town,—wonder how long since some of our neighbors found out this was "A PROVERS!"

THERE IS A WAY TO TEST THE ABOVE:

Just continue your old practices, drop in at no 3 before you buy, where no charge is made for exhibiting goods.
