Obituary.

Departed this life, on the 28th inst., in the faith and fear of God, and most sincerely beloved and regretted,
MARY ANNE, daughter of George Wansey, Esq., of

The following lines are offered as a slight tribute of affection to the memory of the deceased, by MRs. J. W.

MERCUR. Mourn for the youngathe pure, the gentle hearted, Thus early call'd in life's calm spring away; Mourn for the light which with her has departed, Whose spirit basks in Heav'n's eternal ray.

She pass'd from earth when summer's fairest flowers Yielded their perfume to the southwind's breath, When hope gave promise of far future hours-Then came the mandate, and the seal of death.

It bore her where on high are ever swelling, Exhaustless streams of never fading love, Where her pure heart henceforth shall have a dwelling, Rangath His smile who reigns supreme above.

Earth holds no blossom, nor a bud which ever Can bloom and flourish in the lov'd one's place; Her life hath set most gently here forever, And but in memory left a burning trace,

A record deep of thoughts, pure, high wid holy, Of love which ne'er deceived a Parent's trust; Of a glad spirit! yet subdued and lowly, Which soared on high, when yielding "dust to dust.

Ave, "dust to dust," her footsteps here no longer Greet the fond watcher at the daylight's close; But when night's shadows deepen and grow stronger Serene and calm, herspirit comes and goes.

Methinks it lingers with a love, which ever Deep, pure and fervent, knows no changing hour Southing his dreams who here hath lost forever, The vine, the blossom, and earth's joyous power.

Time will pass hence and clothe the earth with gladness But from her home has pass'd each joyous scene And echoes waken with a mournful sadness, Thoughts of the lov'd, the lost, and what has been

Death has enchained her! and no earthly power Can rouse the slumber of the silent tomb; But Hope points upward, where our cherished flows In realms of bliss immortally shall bloom. .

Peice dwelleth with her, and enshrouds her ever, In that far realm, where sorrow is unknown, Where kindred ties unite and twine forever, In fadeless glory, round His Heavenly Throne.

What we are. - An exchange, speaking of our continent, discourses after the following BUTTER. fashion; listen to him: "This country has a and a take coast of 1200 miles. One of our tivers is twice the size in length of the Danube the largest river in Europe. The Ohio is 600 miles longer than the Rhine, and the Hudther than the Rhine than the son has a navigation of 120 miles longer than THE FOREIGN QUARTERLY REVIEW, the Thames. The single-state of Virginia is a third larger than England! Ohio contains 5.120,000 acres more than Scotland—from BLACKWOOD'S EDINGBURGH MAGAZINE. Maine to Ohio is farther than from London to Constantinople, and so we might go on and all pages, enumerating distances, rivers, lakes, capes, and bays, with comparative estimates of size, power, and population."

JOHN P. HALE'S AROLITIONISM. - We learn from the Concord Patriot, that John P. Hale, while making upon the floor of the House his abolition speech of the session, in which he declared that to the war which we are now complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and most infamous ever waged—unparalleled in the acter. of the hard earnings of the people of New cal.

In reply to this specimen of abolition veraclly, it is not only necessary to cite from the communication of T. H. Joseph, Quartermaster-General to Congress, wherein he shows that the whole expense was, but $58.437 per

MARRIAGE IN A STEAMBOAT.-In the last trip of the steamer Massachusetts from Providence, to the lat e celebration of the Sons of Temperance, in New York, one of the gentlemen, of the Temperance band, was married to a young and beautiful girl, in the upper saloon I the steamboat, in the presence of six or eight hundred persons. The Providence Gazette, noticing the novelty, says it was well witnessed, not only by those on deck, but thinks that taking place where the ceremony did, it was observed not only by men and women, and also the gods, but by the "little fishes."

RATTING ON A LARGE SCALE. - A stock company has been formed in France, capital 500. 000 francs for the destruction of rats and mice throughout the kingdom! Paris is said to be insome quarters almost uninhabitable from the vast numbers of rats in them. The modus randi of this rat company is not given .-
