

A NAURAL REMEDY
Solely for the Human Constitution, and equal to the cure of every curable disease, will be found in Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills,
OF THE North American College of Health.

These extraordinary Pills are composed of plants which grow spontaneously on our own soil, and are therefore better adapted to our constitutions, than Medicines imported from foreign climes, however well they may be compounded; and as WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS are founded upon the principle that the human body is in truth SUBJECT TO BUT ONE DISEASE, namely, corrupt humors, and that said medicine cures this disease on.

NATURAL PRINCIPLES.
By cleansing and purifying the body, it will be mentioned that if the constitution is not entirely exhausted, a perspiration in their use, according to directions, is absolutely certain to drive disease of every name from the body.

When we wish to restore a swamp or morass to fertility, we drain it of the superfluous water. In like manner, if we wish to restore the body to health, we must drive it of impurity.

will be found one of the best, if not the very best, medicine in the world for carrying out this GRAND PURIFYING PRINCIPLE, because they expel from the body all morbid and corrupt humors, the cause of the disease, in an easy and painless and safe manner, and while they every name of EMBE-ZZLEMENT, disease of every name is rapidly driven from the body.

The Treasury of History.
Comprising a General Introductory outline, of Universal History, Ancient and Modern, and a series of essential histories of every principal nation that exists, their rise, progress, present condition, &c., &c., &c.

BY SAMUEL MAUNDER,
Author of the 'Treasury of Knowledge,' 'Biographical Treasury,' &c. including THE HISTORY OF AMERICA.

EDITED BY JOHN IMMAN, ESQ.

The republication of this valuable work has been undertaken partly on account of the high favor with which it has been received in England, but chiefly in consideration of the intrinsic value, arising from the concise and judicious selection of the plan to which has been long and generally felt and from the judgment and fidelity manifested in its execution. The idea of giving in a single work, of no very formidable dimensions, a sufficient outline of the world's history, and of similar judiciously selected, and of requiring no other. Every person who cares at all for the acquisition of useful knowledge must desire to possess such a general knowledge of past events, not only in his own country but in all countries, as shall enable him to understand the perpetually recurring allusions that are found in almost any course of general reading; because for want of such understanding there is always a serious defect in both of pleasure and profit even in the perusal of such works as are designed chiefly for amusement. For instance, most of Sir Walter Scott's novels are founded upon history, and abound with reference to historical events and personages, a want of some acquaintance with which detracts seriously from the interest and delight they are so well qualified to awaken; and so of most other works belonging to the latter class of what is called light literature. But the difficulty has been to obtain this general knowledge without going through many books, requiring a greater expenditure of time and money than most persons are able or willing to afford; and to obviate such difficulty has been the purpose of Mr.
Maunder.

His plan has the merit of completeness, and is undoubtedly the best that could have been devised. He gives first a general sketch of the world's history, as it is, and then proceeds to a comprehensive bird's-eye view of the rise and progress of nations, the most important incidents of their career, and their relations to each other; and after this he takes up the nations separately, furnishing a concise digest of all that is important or desirable to know concerning each, and thus affording a sort of key to the changes and events that are more briefly indicated, either by their results than their incidents, in the general sketch or outline. Thus the salient points of history are brought within a manageable compass; and an excellent foundation is laid for more thorough and extensive reading in reference to any portion of the world or any epoch of which a complete knowledge may be desired.

In the execution of this plan the author has been very successful. His notices of historical events, though brief, are complete in their scope, and he traces the connection of effect and cause with singular acumen and generally with most commendable freedom from partiality or bias; thus supplying a very good idea of the philosophy of history as well as of the facts which history records—in a word, the work will be found invaluable to the general reader, and a very useful help to the student.

Complete in its scope, and containing every thing essential to a general knowledge of the subject, it is an edition in paper covers, complete, suitable for mailing, &c. DANIEL ADEE,

CLOCKS AND WAINIGERS.
THE subscriber not being in full communion with the firm of A. M. Corel, is prepared to offer to the largest assortment of JEWELRY out of Jail; and having never learned the Cabinet-making business, he is not prepared to do any work in that line; but having served a regular apprenticeship (1) in the watch repairing business, and the experience of 16 years, has no hesitation in saying that all work entrusted to him shall be done in a workmanlike manner, promptly, and second to none in the west, that he will do any thing that mightly rush of Gold Jewelry!

Now my friends, in all your gettings don't forget to get your watches fixed at old No. 100 opposite the Public Square and two doors north of Briggs' tavern.

MODERN ROME!
THE subscribers would tender their thanks to their customers for past favors, and call their attention to their New Stock of Goods, which exceed their former one in quantity, quality and low prices. Their present stock having been selected with great care, and brought low, they will endeavor to give their customers better bargains for Cash or Produce than can be had at any other establishment.

Their assortment being complete, it would be useless to particularize articles, but would just say that their stock consists of a full supply of Dry Goods, Groceries, Crockery, Hardware, Dry Stuffs, Drugs, Hats, Bonnets, Boots and Shoes, &c., &c.

The shoes and hats shall be sold at prices that will give entire satisfaction.

Being satisfied that ready pay is best for all parties, enabling the former to sell his produce at a better rate, and the merchant to sell his goods at lower prices than he can do on credit, therefore will adhere to the Ready Pay System. We do not ask you to call and see our goods first, but examine others first; if you please, and then ours, and we are sure you will purchase of us if you can. HAYWARD & WATLES.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW, THE FOREIGN QUARTERLY REVIEW, THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW, AND BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamer, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals—Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac-simile of the Edinburgh edition.

The wide-spread fame of these splendid Periodicals renders it needless to say much in their praise. As literary organs, they stand far in advance of any other of a similar stamp now published, which the political complexion of each is marked by a dignity, candor and balance, not often found in works of a party character.

They embrace the views of the three great parties in England—Whig, Tory, and Radical—Blackwood's and the 'London Quarterly' are Tory; the 'Edinburgh Review,' Whig; and the 'Westminster,' Radical. The 'Foreign Quarterly' is purely literary, being devoted principally to criticisms on foreign Continental Works.

The prices of the Re-prints are less than one-third of those of the foreign copies, and while they are equally well got up, they afford all the advantage to the American over the English reader.

TERMS:
PAYMENT TO BE MADE IN ADVANCE.

For any three, do 4 00 For any two, do 5 00 former may always be done through a Post-master, by handing him the amount to be remitted; taking his receipt and forwarding the receipt by Mail, Post-paid; or the money may be enclosed in a letter, Post-paid, directed to the publishers.

Noted by the late Post-Office law, to about one-third the former rate, making a very important saving in the
