

Terrible Wreck and Loss of Life

The past few weeks seem to have been characterized by an unusual number of heavy and destructive gales, both on the Atlantic coast and the Lakes. The new and elegant steamer Atlantic, Capt. Duxton, running between Boston and New York, left New London on her way to New York about 1 o'clock A. M. on Thursday the 26th ult. She had proceeded but a little way when owing to the pressure of the storm the steam-chimney burst, rendering the engines entirely useless. The anchors were immediately thrown out, and during the day everything that could in any way increase the danger to the boat or crew, was thrown overboard. Life-preservers were freely distributed to the passengers, and every human effort made to render them safe. But all was in vain; for such was the violence of the gale, that the steamer was constantly dragging her anchors towards the shore, and on Friday night she was dashed on a ledge of rocks on Fisher's island, and in ten minutes went entirely to pieces. The whole number of passengers and crew is reported to be eighty, one-half of whom are reported to be missing. Among the passengers were six females, four children, and two infants all of whom were lost except one child. A list made up from the books of the Company is published, believed to be nearly correct. We classify the passengers according to their fate.

WORMS! WORMS!! WORMS!!! To remove these troublesome and dangerous inhabitants of the stomach and bowels, which so often imperil the health and destroy the lives of children, use Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge, a certain and safe preparation for the removal of the various kinds of Worms, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Want of Appetite, Infantile Fever and Ague, and Debility of the Stomach and Bowels, and organs of Digestion.

THE notes and accounts of Dr. James M. Goodrich, are in the hands of A. L. CRANER, Esq., of Monroeton, for collection. Persons interested, are requested to call there, and settle the same as soon as convenient. December 1, 1846.

NEW GOODS AT THE NEW YORK CHEAP STORE, NO. 2 BRICK ROW. C. & E. REED would respectfully beg leave to tender their thanks to the citizens of Bradford for their liberal patronage and support, and would inform them they are now receiving a large and full supply of FALL and WINTER GOODS, which will positively be sold at even less than their former low prices. The war to exterminate high prices is still kept up no compromise has been made, and they intend to carry the war into the heart of the enemy until they shall yield or adopt the principle of selling goods at small profits. A nimble sixpence better than a slow shilling, is our motto.

THE DIFFERENCE.—As one point illustrative of the progress in the Anthracite Coal trade made and making yearly, we may mention that one individual concern alone, engaged in mining and shipping from the Lehigh region, furnishes the market this year with a greater number of tons than the entire production from all the different regions in 1829.
