Appalling Distress in Ireland.

The conuttion of Ireland continues to be the absorbing objects of attention. Day after day the distress continues to increase, and famine is doing the work of death in various parts of the country. Immense numbers of poor, half starved creatures find their way across the channel, and beg and exist as best they can, by appeals to the feelings of the inhabitants in the great towns of England. The number of these poor creatures in Liverpool, Manchester, and the manufacturing districts, natives of the sister country, who have fed from the wretchedness of their homes is the pressure so painfully, that they have memortalized the Goverment on the subject, but any measure to be effective must be general in its application, and the hands of the Government are too full of Irish misery to pay much attention at the present moment to ad misericordiam appeals from other quarters.

The distress is so overwhelming that the Irish landlords have become alarmed for the safety of their estates, and are combined to devise measures to arrest the ruin which seems to be impending over their heads. The policy of the Government is adapting itself to the new state of things, and more enlarged views have been promulgated from Downing street. The public money is, withdrawn from non-productive and concentrated on productive works ; and landlords who derive benefit from the labor of the people, will have to bear their share of the expense so incurred, or submit to the pena'ties of confiscation.

Panaceas of all kinds to meets the calamity, are as plenuful as blackberries ; and the chronic diseases of Ireland pass, of course, in renew, in compassing measures of amelioration. But the present is the time for action, not declimation, and accordingly, Parliament is to be cilled together on the 19th inst., to consider what ought to be done in the crisis of the people's fate. Lord John Russell has issued a circular to his supporters in the House of Commons, suliciting their attendance at the openmy of the session, as measures of great importance are to be tinmediately considered.

This displays earnestness of purpose, at all erents, whatever else it may denote. Some starting announcement may be looked for in reference to Ireland, and assuredly there never was a more futting time in the history of the two countries for carrying out a great and comprehensive measure of improvements?

The old obstacles and prejudices which would have resisted, tooth and nail, all efforts stamehorstion a year or two back, are now besten down and prostrate, and even the landed proprietary are beginning to see, although the light has broken on them tardily, that the welfare of the masses is essential to their own. The misery in Ireland is so appalling, that it has touched the hearts of the much abused Saxons, who have been generously getting up subscriptions in their, various places of worship to relieve it. Much money has been thus collected, and sent to the scenes of the distress. Some idea of the state of society across the channel may be inferred from the fact, that in the county of Viavo alone, no less than thirtywe deaths are alleged to have taken place from starration .- English Paper.

Prophecy and Reality.

Perhaps it would not now be amiss to look mek and see how the bold prophecies that were nade by the Federalists during the lastsession of Congress, when the Tariff was under iscussion, have been verified.

We were told in speeches almost countless, mored by Federal Congressmen and Federal somp orators' traversing our State, that if the protective principle of the Tariff of 1842 was steed, and the Tauff of 1846 established, the manufacturers would be immediately broken up -that the people employed in the factories would be thrown upon the land-that the home market would be destroyed-that the farmer's products would rot upon their hands, or be sarcheed at unusally low prices-that our coal Bullock S A and rom interests would be prostrated—(and to Sustain futs assertion, calculations were repea-Buckley Edwin dly put forth in the United States Gazette, Bowman Sully
