DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS. FOR GOVERNOR,

FRANCIS R. SHUNK. TOR CANAL COUNTERIORED.

MORRIS LONGSTRETH. OF MOSTCOWEST COURTS.

COMMITTEES OF VIGILANCE.-At meeting of the Democratic Standing Com-mittee of Bradford county, convened in the borough of Towards, on the 6th day of August, 1847, pursuant to notice, the persons bereafter named were aplection districts, whose duty it will be to call a meeting of the Democratic electors in each of their several boroughs and townships, on Saturday, the 4th of September next, for the purpose of electing two persons to represent said electors in the Democratic County Convention. In he held in the become ounty Convention, to be held in the borough of Towards, on Tuesday, the 7th day of September, 1847, for the purpose of nominating suitable persons for enaddates to be supported at the coming general election: and for such other purposes as said Convention may deem conductive to the progress of Democratic principles.

It is very desirable that full attendance be given at the primary meetings, and to secure this, tim tice of the hour and respective places of holding the Delegate elections should be given, and the polls kept open a sufficient length of time to give all an opportunity of voting. This will afford a free interchange of opinion amongst the Democratic citizens of each district, and enable the delegates sent to the County convention, to correctly represent the sentiments of their constituents.

The approaching election is one of vast imporsufficient importance to call forth all the activity and deceitful artifices of the Pederal party; and for the purpose of counteracting that activity, and detecting and exposing those deceptions, it becomes every Democrat to be on the alert-to assist in the refutation of falsehood and the advancement of truth.

The Standing Committee, therefore, recommend the appointment by the democratic citizens, at their several delegate elections, of one or more persons, in each school district, as a committee, to continue till the general election, and whose duties will be to form a more perfect organization, and advance the great cause of democracy.

Mr. Clay and General Taylor

Mr. Clay's northward tour, is generally believed to have special reference to the next Presidential campaign, looking as much to his political as his physical health. It is a long time since that distinguished person has ventured North, and his present unbidden visit is doubtless prompted quite as much by the desire to rally his forces as to invigorate his constitution. That he has a strong, warm hold upon the affections of many of the Federal party, he knows full well; and at a sime when Gen. Taylor bids fair to carry them away from his standard, he regards it as fitting that he should recall them to their allegiance, and to indicate that "the blood of the Douglass will protect itself." No man better understands this business than Henry Clay. He will meet at the watering-places the elite of Fe deralism. He will show that he is still a hearty, hale old man. He will prove that his farulties are not impaired by years. He will fascinate them by his fine colloquial and social powers, and by an occasional oracular opinion on the state of the country and the war, arouse them to the importance of adhering to what are known as "Whig principles," and a distinctive organization.

This trip looks as if Mr. Clay was fearful of being again ascrificed for a more "available" candidate. The avidity with which the Federal party seized upon the name of "Rough and Ready," calculating upon his fame as their "hobby" for the ensuing campaign, has taught him, that strong as is his hold upon the Federal party, something must yet be done to rally that party enthusiastically around him. The history of the Harrisburg convention is yet fresh in his memory.

The present moment is very apropos for Mr. C.'s purposes. In Gen. Taylor, the Federalists find they have "caught a Tartar,"—in the shape of an anti-tariff, anti-bank, anti-monopoly democrat-and as he is silently passed over to the Democrats, Mr. Clay steps forward from his retirement, and calls the attention of the Federals to their first love.

The consequence will be, the entire abandonment of Gen. Taylor, and a general and simultaneour movement toward Mr. Clay. We say then, Mr. Clay is already settled upon as Federal candidate for the Presidency, m 1848. We have no wish to conceal our gratification that he is to be their candidate, and we heartily congratulate the democracy upon it. We defeated him in 1844, when his tariff hobby was the strongest of any upon which he ever rode; and as time proves the triumphant success of the democratic policy, there is no chance for him to ride into office upon that. The view which Mr. Clay takes of the Mexican war, will effectually silence those who are so loudly clamoring against the Administration. In every other aspect in which we can view the matter, Mr. Clay, stands no possible chance of an election. Democratic principles were never more firmly establish. ed than now, nor the country more thriving and the people are willing to go back to Federal measures, even whem promulgated by Henry Clay, we are not ready to believe.

There is now as as to that this work will and. Contour for to main remained and completed. HAULING DOWN THE SHUNK FLAG.—The Federal ournals are trying their skill in manufacturing falsehoods for the election—their usual avocation about this time. The last that has come to hand, is that the Sunbury American had hauled down the names of Shunk and Longstreth, which story was started by the "Millonian," a loosely conducted Mexican Whig paper, printed at Milton, Pa. The last number of the American contains the following:

"Our neighbors of the Miltonian must have bee exceedingly hard run for the subject of a paragraph last week, when they amounted the highly impor-tant news of our having hauled down the Shunk and Longstrelli flag. Before we saw the statemen in the Mittonian, we were not aware that either our paper or curself had undergone any change. We did, at the time, leave out the ticket, as well as other matter ready for the press, for the purpose of making room for important news from the army, seceived just as we were going to press."

SULLIVAN COUNTY .- The Argus makes several mistakes in its notice of the location of the county seat of Sullivan, published last week. We are iutance to the interest, integrity and prosperity of our seat of Sullivan, published last week. We are iu-Commonwealth. The election of Governor, is of formed that roads are already commenced, and will be speedily finished to the new site, in several directions leading to the travelled roads, and a road will soon be made, opening a direct rout to Muncy. Pai, and making the distance from thence to Towanda, but forty-five miles. A small creek runs directly through the town as located; and water privileges to any extent an to be found within a very short distance.

THE GOLDEN RULE, AND ODD FELLOWS FAMILY COMPANION, published weekly, at New York, Philadelphia and Boston, by E. Winchester at $2 a year in advance, is one of the best papers of the day, Though supporting ably and zealously the doctrine and principles of odd-fellowship, it also publishes a large amount of miscellaneous and literary matter, making it welcome to every circle .-Particularly is it worthy the support of members of the order, and we wish it abundantly patronized.

On our first page, we publish Letter I. from the Tin Box of H. Ephriam Leach. We are induced to do this-not from any peculiar sympathy with the doctriner-but that our readers may examine for themselves, the principles of the "Young America" party. This number will be followed, we presume, by others less lengthy, giving in full the tenets of the National Reformers.

THE DIFFERENCE.—The Democrats wish general prosperity-the Federalists aspire no higher than the five loaves and two fishes!" Support the former, if you desire Republicanism pernetuated—the latter. if you are anxious not only to be tyrannised over, but to be whittled down to the smallest point of poverty.

PENNSTLVANIA IRON.—The various contracts made in Pennsylvania to furnish iron pipe for the Boston Water works, amounts in all, to between seven and eight thousand tons.

Who is Gen. lavin!—This appears to be the great question of the day; and for fear our good federal friends should "burst in ignorance," we shall endeavor to enlighten them. The editor of Councils will not be backward to supply whatever the Bedford Gazette, who knows General (!) Irvin "like a book," declares he is—

1. An Aristocratic Iron Master! The father of the Bankrupt Law!

3. The advocate of taxing Tea and Coffee! 4. The reviler of Gen. Jackson!

The friend of Thaddeus Stevens The supporter of the Buckshot War!

The advocate of the Gettysburg Rril-Road!
The worshiper of a United States Bank! 9. The Trumpeter of his own acts of Charity!
10. An old-school anti-war Federalist!

Az Hozest Fellow, Tauly.-A good man-1 must have been conscientious and verdant also-residing in the country and employed as a sort of agricultural laborer, having contrived to scrape torether fifty dollars, took it to his employer with a request that he would take charge of it for him. The request was complied with. The year rolled round and the laborer applied to another friend to know what would be the interest upon it. He was told three dollars. "Well," said he, "I wish you would lend me three dollars for a few days. My book has been keeping fifty dollars for me tor year and I want to pay ham the interest for it f

MELANCHOLY ACCDENT AND DEATH.—Charles Weed, a promising young man about 20 years of age, son of Galen O. Weed of this village, a fireman on the Augum and Syracuse railroad, was terribly mangled on Monday morning last, in the fol-lowing manner. He was in the discharge of his duties on the engine making the morning run east, when about 4 miles out of Auburn a nut upon one of the pipes of the engine gave way, causing it to blow off steam. Weed it is supposed became con-fused and jumped from the engine and getting entangled with the bell rope was thrown under the wheels of the cars, and his right arm and left leg terribly cut and broken. His arm was simputated but death put an end to his agony on Monday night We sympathize sincerely with his afficted family Cayuga New Era.

Western Chors.-A gentleman who has lately raveled through a large portion of the southwest ern States, assures us that the Cotton crop neve looked more promising, and that the yield will be large. We perceive also that the fears expressed by some of our Southern exchanges a few weeks since, in regard to the apprehended damage by the worm, have not been realized. Along the Wabash and Erie canal the Wheat crop has been very good, and more Wheat will be sent forward this year than there was last. The Wheat in that region will average more than ainty pounds to the bushel.

A FOOL AT THE FALLS.—On Wednesday, a little excitement was created at the Cataract House, Niagara Falls, in which a young Southerner acted the namy. On entering the dining room he was about seating himself at the breakfast table, with his ladies, in chairs reserved for others. The water vecratic principles were never more firmly established by politically informed him that such was the fact, and ed than now, nor the country more thriving and offered him another place, when the Southerner prosperous than under their administration. That waiter! After a few minutes of disturbance, the young blood paid his bill, and notwithstanding the rain was pouring down in torrents, left with his ladies for another house.

HISTORICAL FACTS.—Under this head, the Nashville Union has collected, and thus sums up a number of important events, that have a material bearing upon the present posture of affairs between this country and Mexico:

On the 16th of July, 1845, the "Supreme Government of Mexico resolved on a declaration of war against the United States," and orders were on that day, sened to its "troops of the line to cover the frosters of the Republic and MARCH TOWARDS PEXAS TO CONQUER that department occupied by the United States

At that time the army of the U.S. had not even roseed the Sabine!

On the 4th of April, 1846, the President of Mexco ordered his General in command of the forces to conquer Texas," to "attack Gen. Taylor by every means that war permits," and in a fortnight after wrote him "to TOMMENCE hostilities, yourself taking the buitiative." At this time it could not have been known to the Mexican President that the army of the U. States had advanced to the Rio Grande! -In obedience to the orders of the Supreme Government, the Mexican General did cross the Rio Grande and "commenced hostilities" by the attack on Capt. Thornton's command, following up with the bombardment of Fort Brown and the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma.

When the news of this reached Washington, the Congress of the United States, by a vote of 173 to 14 in the House, and 40 to 2 in the Senate declared that "by the act of the Republic of Mexico a war exists," and volunteers and money were provided "to prosecute the war to a speedy, a successful termination.

Since then, the Federal Whig party have taken sides with Mexico; they call the war unjust unrighteous and God-abhored, on our part; and insist that it was a falsehood to declare that "it existed by the act of Mexico."

They have given to Mexico all the " aid and comfort, in their power. In Congress they have thrown every obstacle in the way of the measures proposed for the prosecution of the war even to the ntroduction into the Senate of a proposition to call the army back! And in their presses, desertion has been countenanced and volunteering laughed at, while one of their leaders in the Senate has declared that the troops under General Taylor had only to gain "the contempt and ridicule of the

The Mexicans journals and the proclamations of Santa Anna are filled with the treasonable language of the Federal press—so well suited do they find it to "aid and comfort" their dispirited army!

THE YELLOW FEVER.-This malady is extending its ravages on all sides, leaving no part of the city exempt from its presence. Its victims in the Third Municipality are more numerous than elsewhere, in consequence of the greater crowd of poor and unacclimated persons who reside in that quarter. In Layfayette, also, for the same reason, the scourge is extensively and severely felt. The disease attacks individuals who were thought to be free from danger. The number of deaths increases -the list of mortality for the forty-eight hours ending Monday afternoon, being greater than in any like period of the season.

In the meantime, we would advise strangers to absent themselves if they have the means of doing so. If not, they may be sure that there is no great risk if they will only guard against excesses in eating and drinking; against exposure to the cool damp air of the night and early morning, and above everything, avoid all sudden shifting of the atmosphere from heat to a cold wind. Take no medicine unless it be prescribed by a physician, and call a physician at the appearance of the first symptoms.—N. O. Courier.

A Good Hrr .- A noted caricaturist hits off the attempt of the Whigh to pile their party duds on "Rough and Ready," as follows:—"The old Genis preparing to lead his columns to the attack of a Mexican force, and the Whigs have tied their "go cart," filled with Corwin's speeches, to his coat-tail and are preparing to jump in themselves—hugely satisfied, thus far, with their trick. As he starts, his cost-tail brings him up with a jerk, which nearly throws him off his legs, and he discovers, in great rage, the cause. Turning upon them with his sword, he cuts the rope, and knocks them right and len, carying out," you rascals ! you are worse than the Mexicans !" The Boston Atlas, New York Express, and Albany Evening Journal, are running as fast as their legs can carry them, and yelling out to their comrades, "let the old tool go! he won't work in our harness!" It is a decided hit, and will make the lithographer's fortune.-New Haven Register.

Lowers.-Lange numbers of mill girls are leavng the city every day, on a visit to their homes and friends in the country. Mr. Fuller, the stage agent, informs us that Marion & Co. proprietors of the line of stages between here and Boston, carried over the road during the month of July, nearly four hundred girls, all for Down East, by the steamer from Boston. Probably twelve or fifteen hundred are now absent from their work.—Louell Courier.

TREASURE IN A TEA-KETTLE.—The clerk of hardware store in Cincinnati, put a hundred and fif-ty dollars in a tea kettle-for safe keeping, and while he was out of the way the master of the shop sold the ke the for seventy-five cents, not suspecting the treasure it contained. The customer was so satisfied with his bargain that he had not been seen at the same store since.

Figs. 18 Russia.—On the 22d tit, a terrible fire broke out at Kassan, in Russia, which entirely des-troyed 160 houses and two churches. The Emper-er sent 25,000 effective rouble (100,00f.) to be distributed among the persons whose property was de-stroyed, and 21,000 roubles towards the expenses of re-constructing the houses.

Ashion then called for his brother Henry; who returned, and also insisted upon their allowing his brother to go to the house and get his clothes, and that they should not take him until he had done so.

The consequence was an affray, in which Myers drew's pistol and shot Henry in the side, and after-wards struck him over the head with a club. They then bound Ashton and took him to a magistrate who gave a speedy judgment against him in the cause. The migristrate was then asked whother it was not his duty to arrest the man who had shot Garret, but, as we hear, postponed that part of his duty. The wife of Mr. Garret came, out to Myers and his party, and told them that they had killed Mr. H. Garret, and requested him to go for a physician; but with a coarse expression of indifference, he left him to die, and refused to allow his horse to be used for that humane purpose.
