"Nothing occurred to mar the solemnity of the occasion, say the papers this morning, except, per-haps, the attempt of a too well-known lady about town to accost a member of the Congress committee, and even to share his carriage, will he, nill he-Whatever the honorable gentleman's relation with ber at other times, he was not at all desirous to acknowledge them just then and, despite entreaty, remonstrance, and resistance, she was removed by

After being kissed by the major part of the 9000, Mr. Clay takes snuff in great quantities) and re-treshed by a collation, Mr. Clay started under the escort of the company to Kings bridge. Next day. Sunday, he sought rest and went to the church of St. Bartolomew, the o her martyr. At the King's bridge on Saturday, a little incident occurred, which is thus related in the Herald ;-

" After having fully viewed the Bridge, the company were about to return, when by some means the servant man, John, was discovered to be a humbug. He had proceeded to Amboy, where he told Mr. Clay that he had been appointed by the Common Council to wait on and attend to him, which Mr. Clay believed. He told the committee of arrangments, that he was a 'servant of Mr. Clay, and of course, under these impressions, he proceeded to the New-York Hotel, where he has been living high ever since, and apparently in charge of Mr. Clay's trifling affairs. He represented himself to have been the body servant of the late John Randolph, and was now preparing a life of that great man, all of which was pretty generally taken for truth. The fact became known, however, that John was not the servant of Mr. Clay, or of the Common Council, and an immediate investigation took place, and poor John was obliged to give up a great many things in his possession which belonged to Mr. Clay, and after a severe reprimand permitted to take up his feet and walk to the city from the bridge."

If, in the course of his plgrimage, Mr. Clay has encountered rouged cheeks, the greetings of boisterous and meretricious women and the company of disreputable men, we have his own authority that this class was particularly included in his apostolic mission. The Tribune represents him as defining his position according to the Gospel of St.

AXECUOTE OF MR. CLAY,-In the midst of the shaking of hands with his friends, a Democrat, among many others, stepped forwards and holding out his hand, said, "There Sir, is a good Democratic hand; perhaps you may refuse it." "Certainly not." responded Mr. Clar, at the same time taking him by the hand, "I came not to call the righteous, but sin-ners to repensance." [Albany Atlas. [Albany Atlas.

A Queny.-It is suggested that it is about time for the Albany Argus, to say when the time will come when the discussion of the Wilmot Proviso will the proper? When the question was first presented. that ingenuous print declared that the occasion had not arrived, that we had no new territory as yet — When the proper time should come, it intimated, it was ready to take the side of Freedom.

Now that our arms have everywhere triumphed. the War has been closed, the terms of Peace settled on by the President and Senate, and an immense territory requiring government, thrown upon the Nation; what will be the pretext of the dough faces for aiding the introduction of Slavery in the con-quered soil? Will that empty print, which is the bell-weather of the flock, still cry out the time has not yet arrived !- Albany Atlas.

RICHARD P. ROBINSON -According to the New Odeans Crescent, Richard P. Robinson, so unpleasanally connected with the murder of Ellen Jewett, instead of being dead, as recently stated, is at this time clerk of the circuit court of Nachidoches co.. Texas, where he is known by the name of Richard Parintee. He went to Texas soon after his trial fought at the battle of San Jacinto: and was wounded in the Cherokee campaign, under Gen. Rusk, in his right arm; but writes well with his left hand. citement; and is well liked by his neighbors.

Five More Victors -Last Monday, in Hamilton, U. C., an old pensioner and his wife were found lying dead together on the floor of their house on a parcel of 'old rags, having killed themselves rious life. by swilling whisky. A child of the wretched peoe, a they about seven years old, was found lying close to his father's dead body.

The dead bodies of Geo and Jonathan Archer, father and son, were found on the 10th inst.. in a At Standing Stone on the 15th March ult., Mrs. field near New Exppt, Mass. The tather had a quart jug containing liquer under his arm, and another half gallon jug, nearly full, was found a short distance from the bodies. A post mortem examination was made, and a verdict was rendered of death from exposure while in a state of exhaustion from the use of ardent spirits.

THE TRIAL OF DR. COOLIDGE.—The trial of Dr. V. l' Coolidge, for the murder of a young asseciate named Mathews, at Hallowell. Me., is now proceeding at Augusta. The evidence is of course, very strong against him, and his conviction is very probable, though Hon. Geo. Evans defends him .-The trials excites the deepest interest, and the larsest church in Augusta is crowded with listeners Coolidge was a dashing, speculating young man and apppars to have borrowed money from Mathgave, and then destroyed him to get rid of the debt which killed him with the speed of lightning. This was in his own office, and procured the nid of a student (now a witness against him) to remove the

Died,

In this Borough, on Sunday evening, March 12, 1848, after a painful illness of nearly seven-months.
Dr. John N. Weston, late Sheriff of Bradford co., aged 54 years and 1 month.

The deceased came to this place in the fall of 1823, and commenced the practice of Medicine, having previously practiced some six years. He soon acquired an extensive practice and a large circle of personal friends, which his amenity of manners in all his personal and professional intercourse was well calculated to increase; the was accordingly as widely known and as highly esteemed as any that remain. Wholly unselfish in his disposition, instead of coldly performing his professional duties, it seemed rather a work of love for him to alleviate the ills of others. He never spared his strength or health, or avoided exposure to wet or cold, when a suffering patient needed his aid-never refusing to attend to a call when able to reach his patient. In this way he early made inroads upon his health, and by slow degrees undermined his constitution, which left him for the last few years of his life subject to continual attacks of illness .-It may safely be said that there has seldom, if ever, been a physician nore attentive to his patients, more kind and prudent, and withal more successful. Actuated by the disposition to see the community n which he lived prosperous, he always took a deep interest in anything calculated to advance the public good and was a zealous advocate of every kind of public improvement. Unselfish in every thing, he would sooner suffer inconvenience himself than ask pay to the inconvenience of others, for professional services rendered.

His last illness was a very long and painful one, during the whole of which he manifested a high degree of fortitude, patience and resignation. The ablest medical advice and the most careful and unremitting attention could only alleviate, but could not restore to health.

During the early part of his illness, by the in-He married respectably, is a prominent politician, fluence of the Holy Spirit, as is believed, he emoften canvassing the county in times of political exfaith and trust in the atoning merits of the Saviour, as to satisfy his christian friends of his acceptance with God.
