HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES. INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL PERHAMENTLY CURED Br Dr. Upham's Vegetable Electuary AN INTERNAL REMEDY, which, if used according to directions, a cure for life is guaranteed.

A common consequence of this affection is a kind of tenesinus, or bearing down sensation, as it is familiarly called; there is also heat, tension and throbbing in the part, varying from a moderate degree of these sensa tions to the most exeruciating suffering :-these are caused by the great flow of blood to the parts. Sometimes the inner coat of the bonel protrudes at every exacuation, forming what is called Prolapsus or talling of the bowels; this is the effect of long continued irritation and weakness of that organ. In some instance the patient experiences nervous pains, which are indiscribable, and known only to the sufferer, which commence immediately after an evacuation, and continue from thirty minutes to several hours; these sensations are very annoving and sometimes very distressing .-This disease, when of long continuance, is attended by pain and weakness in the back, irritation of the kid nevs and bladder, and other organs in the vicinity, pain and numbriess in the logs and feet, a sense of straightness about the chest, and unnatural fullness of the aldominal viscers, accompanied with palpitation of the heart and oppression, individuals sometimes experience, previous to an attack of the Piles, symptoms denoting great derangement in the circulation; there is a sense of weight and pressure in the alsdomen, with a peculiar feeling of uneasiness in the bowels, constipution of peringum, attended with poin in the back and loing, nausea, and slight pains in the stomach, pale countenance, confused semations in the head, wearmess, and pritable and discontented state of the mind, and a sense of fullness and oppression in the region of the stomach.-The circulation on the surface is teeble, and the current of blood determined inward and downwards.
