The protecting policy hitherto sustained by i General Government cannot, under existing circu robation of consent of the people of Penasylvan Their interests, their prosperity, and, I may ad their comforts, are at this time essentially identifi with that policy. The diversified branches of dubity of the productions peculiar to our soil, to static of the productions peculiar to our soil, to support the foreign markets to which we had he upper beau accustomed to resort for the sale a duine a shall the in duier by which the produce of our agricult distinuitie, as to the course to be pursued. in our hands, or we must as ablish a market to be humiliating condition of becoming tributa to meeting industry, or by affording encourageme four own, render ourselves independent of foreig prositions and exactions. its cousamption at home. Happily for as in Pennsylva we have no constitutional difficulties to embar us in reference to this system.

tis in reference to this system. <sup>1</sup> Our statesmen, who have hitherto represe to in the National Legislature, as well as in this the State, have uniformly expressed their opin athematively, and in terms by no means equivo that this nation possesses the right, under the contraction, to protect its industry by salutary en ments of its own, against the injurious conseq ces of foreign legislation, and that the acts of gress imposing daties on imports are constituti and their constituents have as unequivocally sponded to those opinious."

Governor Porter also refers to the subject in following manner; "It is unworthy the great state of Pennsylvania, to depend on the manufactures of diet States, or of Ameign counties, to supply her ritizens with those articles for the various purposes of life which they can produce themselves as well as cheaply and as abondantly as any other people on the face of the globe. Our vallies teeming with plenty, our hills with desposities of coal and iton. our streams abounding with water power, for all purposes unsurpassed by that in any other country; and our citizens stimulated by enterprize and pos-sessing means to render it effectual, should awaken in as that spirit of independence which dis-dains to seek at the hands of others, that which it can furnish with its own. It is with no feelings of meets the payment of the annual interest by drafts envy or of local jealousy of others, that 1 bring this subject to your notice, but, with an houest le eeling of State pride and a generous emulation, which should inspire us with a determination not not to be indebted to others for those solid and useful means of promoting our prosperity and indepen-dence which Nature has bounteously lavished on ont own cilizeus."

A question of the greatest magnitude involvingthe honor of the State, and the interests of the citiizers, will arise in the consideration of the public debt. 'The regular payment of the annual interest, and the turmation of a sinking foud for the final li equidation of the principal, should receive the early and careful altention of the legislature. It will give me antisyned pleasure to paste with you in any rational mode executated to facilitate an object so de sirahle.

100 OQ revenues over err From the foregoing statement it would appear, should the estimates of receipts and expenditures be correct, and they doubtless approximate the truth, and should not unforseen casualty cccur, that the revenues will at least equal the expenditures of the year. Admitting, however, the correctness of the estimates, it is apparent the State is placed in a coudition no better by the lapse of time, as no material diminution, if any, of the public debt is effected. In-deed, even the payment of the annual interest has depended, and will depend on the anticipation of revenues properly belonging to the next fiscal year. on a fund raised for the discharge of another duty, and which collects from the people upwards of two millions dollars yearly, requires supervision and amendment. A careful revision of the revenue laws of the Commonwealth, increasing the tax on such items as will bear without injury as addition to their present burtheus, with due economy in the appropriation's and expenses of government, would not only place the treasury on a sound basis, with regard to the annual payment of the interest, but would also, if set spart for the purpose, create a sinking fund to meet the amount bow due and de-mandable of the State. A result of this character would be honorable to the Common wealth, and gra-tifying to the citizens. Confidence would be immevould be permanently established, and the Treasury relieved of a portion of the public debt. The amonnt now demandable is two millions three hundred and twenty-six thousand five hundred and eighteen dollars and ninety-four cents. When the taith of

Its completion by the increased amount of tolly received on D, and 00 by the increased amount of topy received an and the additional freight throwin on to other portune of the public improvements, would amply secure the interests on the coat of its completion. Under a deep sense of the correctness of these views, I could not avoid bringing the subject to your early consideration. In this relation it is also proper to re-60 fer to the importance of avoiding the Schuylkill inclined plane. Barveys and estimates by a skillful Engineer have been made of three different routes, and the result will be faid before you in the report 00 of the gentlemen to whom was entrusted the duty. 00 It is well to observe that these estimates are not 60 included in the estimated expenditures of the current year, as given in a former part of the mes--00

.00 00 The altention of the legislature will be called to the subject of the currency in connexion with the Banking institutions of the state. These institu-tions have become so intimately identified with the than half a century, it remains the great fundamen-business and interests of the citizens, and furnish tal law of the Union. To preserve and perpetuate 00 00 such a portion of the circolating medium, that a 1 00 necessity is created for their proper management among civilized nations is conceded to the precious 0-00 métals.

The constitutional carrency of this government is gold and silver. Whenever the conveniences of C 00 trade and business, the encouragement of industry 90 0.00 and enterprise, or the natural growth and developements of the country require additional commer-cial facilities, it is the duty of the public functional 00 ( ries to be watchful that the representatives of the precious metals should maintain the standard val-0 00 The citizen having in possession a note issued by a Bank of the Commonwealth, should be secure that he holds the equivalent of gold and silver. 0 00 In order to obtain this result, care should be ta-00 0 ken by the Legislatone in the grants of authority 00 00 to these corporations, to prevent them if possible 10 00 from furnishing a less reliable currency. Banking institutions have long existed among us, and have ia 00 been, when properly restricted and judiciously man-aged, highly conducive to the best interests of the 00 00 people. Their notes, when kept at par value, form 00 01 a more convenient currency than the precious mat-als, are equally valuable in all financial concerns, X0 00 10 00 and promote the active industry of the country-Hence, solvent banks, whose notes are readily con-00 00 vertible into specie, should be sustained by the Leg-00 00 islature, while those who fail to keep their notes at par, or to redeem them on demand by inflicting in-fury and injustice on the community, destroy confi-

lence, and forfeit our favorable consideration. In judging of the amount of banking capital ne-cessary for the wants of the community, a sound and healthful state of business and trade afford the best and safest criterion. These institutions are better able to meet their liabilities and redeem their otes, in a state of things such as is here alluded o, than during extraordinary depression or unnatural excitement. That the increase of banking fa- if it be directly opposed to the enlightened spirit of ilities is instrumental in relieving the country 10 times of commercial distress, is a belief as prevaent as it is unsound.

It may postpone the crisis, but cannot afford re lief. The active healthful industry of the country, and not the wants of individuals, should govern the issues of the banks. In periods of great commercial and manufacturing prosperity, an inflation of the currency beyond the wants of sound, whole-some trade, leads to unwise, and of ten ruinious speculation. In short, the amount of the circulating medium should depend on the actual and not the imaginary wants of the country. From these observations, the logislature will readily perceive that any estimordinary increase of banking capital. in the present depressed condition of trade, is not consistent with my views of the general welfare.

The location of a bank, as near as practicable to the centre of its business operations, is a matter of some moment to the community, and should the legislature in its examination of the applications for the re-charter of any institution now existing, be satisfied that the location of the existing bank is unsuited to the convenience of the business partian of the citizens for whose benefit it was established, a wise policy, would dictate a refusal to re-charter, and the establishment of a new institution with ame amount of capital, at a place more advan-

The acquisition of New Mexico and California presents again in the National Congress the important question of the extension or non-extension of human slavery. At the adoption of the national Constitution, the longer continuance of what was then considered an evil, was strongly agitated, and resulted in a compromise, permitting it in the States where at that time it existed. The constitution being submitted to the States, was adopted with others by Pennsylvania, and after the lapse of more it, to acknowledge its supremacy, to maintain and defend its principles, and to submit to its compro-mises, are duties to which every citizen is pledged, whatever his opinions in relation to questions arising under it. This fundamental law recognizes the right to hold slaves in the states which were parties to the compact, but it makes no farther acknowledgement. It bears on its plain and expressive page no agree-ment, express or implied, for the further extension of human slavery. That this national wrong has been extended with the progress of population is not an argument in favor of its justice, its constitutional right, or of the salutary effects it has produced in the territories where it has been admitted. Shall it be still further extended ! To the Congress of the United States belongs the authority to settle the united states belongs the authority to settle this important question. Before it shall have been determined; the opinions of our citizens on the subject should be fully and distinctly made known, through their public functionaries, to the confederate States. The right to instruct our Senators, and request the Representatives in the National Coun-cils, ought not to be used on light and trivial occasions, while on subjects gravely affecting the well being of the country, it becomes a duty which no one will venture to decline. In the exercises of this admitted right, the Legislature will find the opporunity to express in terms not to be mistaken the position which is held by Pennsylvania on this grave and momentuous question. White the compromises of the Constitution muld be maintained in good faith against our Southern brethren, it is our duty to see that they are observed with equal fidelity to ourselves. No eneroachments, however sanctioned by use, should e acknowledged as precedents for further wrongs. against the interests, prosperity and happiness of the non-slaveholding States of the Union. If sla-very be, in itself, an infraction of human rights ---our free institutions,-if it destroy the equality of power in the general government, by chlarging where it exists, the constitutional representation-if it possess a direct or indirect influence against Northern and Western policy and interests, by pro moting a system of laws, destructive to doi industry, and vitally effecting free labor,-if it retard the national growth of population and improvement, by the appropriation of large tracts of lands, for the benefit of the few, to the injury of the many,-if it be in open defiance of the spirit of the age, the march of national truth, and the enlightened policy of mankind.—It is time to arrest its further progress. These, it is believed, are the set-tled convictions of our citizens, and their determination to maintain them is unalterable.

Fellow Citizens; My duty is now performed, I have endeavored to present to the representatives of the people, such matters as are deeped impor tant to the interests of our mutual constituents. To the wisdom, virtue, and intelligence of the Assemply, with a firm reliance upon the assistance of the Omnipotent Being from " whom cometh every good and perfect gift," may be salely confided the performance of every duty calculated to secure the bappiness, the honor, and the welfare of the country. Whatever may be the views of the leg- islature in regard to the plan suggested, it is ardent- ly loped it will distinguish its proceedings by the adoption of means to attain an object so desirable. In the revision of the laws an the subject of re- venue, with a view to increase taxation, the farm- ing interest of the state abould not be farther bur- dened. The state, county, school, road and poor rates, levied upon land, and the reduced price of the products of the agriculturist, occasioned by the present revenue laws of the antional government, operating to the injury of the home market, should justly and equitably relieve it from additional taxa- tion. For many years no settlement of the accounts of the Commissioners of the Internal Improvement fond has been made. It is worthy of consideration whether a commission to consist of a Clerk from the Auditor General's and the State departments with a third to be appointed, authorized to make an examination of suid account, as also to ascertain precisely the condition of the treasury and its dis- bursing agents, what moneys are due to the Btate from corporations, individuals and creaties, and it blances are found to exist, the reasons why collec- tions are delayed; might not by a careful report suggest alterations beneficial in the manner of con- ducting our financial affaire. In this consensors i is also proper to mention that a change in the man- pare of drawing mouse from the Treasury should be adopted to afford more ample checks; the pre- ent system being detened defective. The Report of the Canal Commissioners will enable the Legislatury to form an accurate join and to the state of the public inflororements. Notwithstanding serious interruptions caused by the destruction of the Freeport Agaided, d. othe cainalities, the revenue from this aconing in the man- so large and so constantly increasing, that thes	those now existing, that their solvency should be undoubted, and that no danger to the citizens will arive from these grants of power, I should deem it right to leave the present policy in relation to these corporations as it has been maintained in former years. During the last session of the Legislature, an act was passed regulating the hours of labor in Facto- ries and specifying the age at which minors shall be admitted therein. It is respectfully submitted, whether this law does not require amendment, so as to prevent special contracts to labor more than the time fixed by the act. The operation of the faw as at presenting the owner and operative to en- ter pito such contracts in relation to the extension of time, as they may deem proper. If it be right to limit the hours of labor in factor fies, (and who that desire the education and com fort of the citizens can doubt it?) the law should be so changed as to operate alike in all such estab- ments. Should the Legislature concur in this option ion, it would be proper to repeal the proviso, allow ing of special contracts by parents and guardians for the indice of the Legislature, as well be cause of judice and propriety of the suggestion, a that my frieadship for the measure was well known to the people, and has been approved by them as the labor of minors above the age of fourteer years.
