Democratic Nomination.
FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,
JOHN A. GAMBLE, of Lycoming County.

Advertisements, &c., intended for publication in the Reporter, should be handed in by Monday night, to insure their insertion.

Democratic Convention.
Our accounts from the Pittsburgh 4th of July Convention are very meagre. We learn however, that JOHN A. GAMBLE of Lycoming County, was nominated as the Democratic candidate for Canal Commissioner, on the second ballot, as follows:—

FIRST BALLOT.	SECOND BALLOT.	THIRD BALLOT.
Gamble, 52	Gamble, 70	Gamble, 70
Mason, 21	Bowman, 24	Mason, 21
Dimock, 17	Broadhead, 10	Dimock, 17

The North Branch Canal.

The friends of the North Branch have been most outrageously swindled, and now our Federal officers, are endeavoring to keep up the delusion—side Mr. Ball's letter to J. C. Adams, which was published week before last. The Harrisburg Keystone publishes the letter, with the following remarks:—"It is amusing to see how Mr. Ball is trying to find apologies, to hide and palliate the deception which has been perpetrated, by the present Federal administration and its friends, in regard to the completion of the North Branch canal. On examination of this letter, it will be perceived that the state treasurer tries to find an excuse for the anticipated deficiency of funds in the treasury, by referring to the cholera and the temporary disturbance of business on the Delaware division; but is exceedingly careful to omit to tell, that a large amount of money is already in the treasury, and will be increased by the 15th August, the time mentioned for the preparatory steps toward the completion of the canal, which ought to be applied to this work, and would be, had not Governor Johnson recommended, and his friends advocated, its application to a sinking fund."

In another circular of the state treasurer, under date of May the 16th, to the county officers, which is of quite a partisan character, although addressed to men of all parties, full of reflections upon the past, and boasting of the present efforts of the department, he remarks:—"The general assembly, at its late session, acting under the patriotic and salutary recommendation of the Governor, established a sinking fund, with a revenue sufficiently large to make it practically and efficiently useful. Under its auspices the state debt will be reduced, the public credit permanently restored; and the people at no distant day relieved from the taxes now levied upon their property."

Now the administration, and the state treasurer, must have most extraordinary creative faculties, if they can complete the canal and pay off the state debt, at the same time. However absurd such a proposition may appear, it is the humbug which the administration is attempting to impose on the people, and in which Mr. Ball is aiding and assisting.

But again the state treasurer speaks in a complaining tone of the legislature, for making such large appropriations to pay the old debts on the public works, without knowing where the money is to come from. We would like to know whether he is in favor of taking the money out of the treasury, and applying it to the sinking fund, instead of paying the debts due on the improvements. This was the course of policy he advocated, as a member of the legislature, and the one which he would still wish to pursue, so far as we can judge by his letter, and by his conduct generally. At the conclusion of this famous letter, the state treasurer says—"Rest assured that all in my power to do to secure the re-commencement of the North Branch canal, shall be done." Now we would recommend the friends of this measure, to ask him, whether he is willing to take the responsibility of retaining in the treasury, the money now there belonging to the sinking fund, and such as may come into that fund between this and the meeting of the next legislature, and recommend to that body, the appropriation of them to the completion of the canal, and also to suspend the operation of the sinking fund act, until the canal shall be completed? This is a simple, direct and practical proposition, easily understood by every body. Let the friends of the measure propose it to the governor and treasurer, and see what they will say to it."

Military Officers.

We are enabled at last, to give the result of the late Military election, as also of the election for Major General, which came off on Monday, 2d inst. The following is a list of the officers:—
Major General.—Wm. E. BAXTON, of Bradford.
Brigadier General.—Theodore Wilder, of Springfield.
Brigade Inspector.—John A. Coddling, of Pike.
1st VOLUNTEER BATTALION.
Lieut Colonel.—H. W. Root.
Major.—Geo. C. M'Nannan.
2d VOLUNTEER BATTALION.
Lieut Colonel.—Amos B. Eddy.
Major.—Gathlon Frisbie.
4th VOLUNTEER BATTALION.
Lieut Colonel.—Bertram E. Whitney.
First Major.—Jonathan Homet.
Second Major.—W. W. Woodburn.

JAIL DELIVERY.—A man by the name of Russell Cook, confined in the county jail for horse stealing, made his escape on Wednesday night last, by cutting through the door, to the bolt of the lock. He left a note for the Sheriff, expressing his entire satisfaction with himself his family and his board. A horse belonging to James Elliott was taken the same night, and being found on the road by which Cook was tracked, is supposed to have been taken by him.

Mr. Cook was traced to the western part of the county—and was retaken and brought back on Saturday last.

Hon. JOHN C. CLARK of New York, says the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, declines taking an Auditorship.

Fourth of July at French's Mills, Pa.

The celebration at French's Mills, gave substantial proof that the inhabitants of Northern Pennsylvania have not forgotten the struggles of their forefathers, and that their hearts are yet warmed by the fire of Patriotism, and the love of Liberty. The day was beautiful, and as

"Fresh morn began to streak the East
With first approach of light,"
the stars and stripes were floating in the breeze, and the deep-toned thunder from "the brass throat of war," as it roll'd away o'er hill and vale, proclaimed the seventy-third anniversary of the declaration of American Independence. At sun rise a national salute was fired. The people began to collect at an early hour, and by twelve o'clock a large concourse had assembled, when the roar of the cannon announced the arrival of the Hon. David Whitot, Orator of the day. The procession was soon organized under the direction of L. Copley Esq. Marshall, and conducted to the ground prepared for the occasion.

The exercises were commenced by an eloquent prayer from the Rev. S. R. Jones, a Chaplain in the American Army during the last war with Great Britain. The Declaration of Independence was read by the Rev. Wm. Haskell. Mr. Whitot then took the stand. His Oration was eloquent and patriotic, breathing in every sentence the advancing spirit of the age. Without dwelling upon the past, he portrayed in pleasing style, the flowery paths, and cheering prospects of the promising future. He said that with the settlement of this country, a new spirit sprang into existence. Then the true objects of human governments began to be understood, and the individual rights of mankind came to be acknowledged and respected. This spirit still exists, and under the influence of the Christian religion is desired ere long to renovate the world. In this onward march of knowledge and of liberty, our country must take the lead, and the omnipotent arm of that same God which delivered Moses from the thraldom of Egypt, will yet deliver our world from the dominion of ignorance and every species of oppression.

The following were among the regular toasts, which were well suited to the occasion, and drank with becoming zeal, and patriotism.

The memory of Washington; before whose name a joyful nation bows in gratitude; justly styled the Father of his country. Let none usurp the title.

The Orator of the day. A champion of liberty; the bold defender of the unalienable rights of mankind.

These sacred rights he'll never yield,
Nor bribe, nor threats, can make him falter,
When every arm is Freedom's shield,
And every heart is Freedom's altar."

Emancipation from every species of tyranny and from all manner of tyrants. May the time soon come
"When the land of the free, and the home of the brave, Shall bear on its bosom, no master, nor slave."

John Mitchell and his banished countrymen.—The last sound that reached their ears when Tyrants forced them from their native shore, was their country's piercing cry for bread: Those exiles shall yet return, and the first sound that welcomes them to Erin, will be the exulting shout of Liberty.

The American Ladies, beautiful, virtuous, and intelligent. May their approving smiles ever cheer us onward in the paths of sobriety and patriotism.

Many excellent volunteer toasts were drunk, and the exercises of the day closed only with the setting sun.

Melancholy Suicide.

An inquest was holden on Saturday last, in this borough, upon the body of Isaac Foster, and from the testimony we elicit the following particulars.—He has been staying in this place for a few weeks past, and boarding at the Bradford Hotel. On Friday night last, Mr. Stephens' attention was attracted to his room, by the burning of a light at an unusual hour. He immediately knocked at the door, but receiving no answer, and finding it fast, suspecting that something was wrong, gained an entrance by the window, when he found Foster lying upon the bed, entirely senseless, and suffering from the effects of the mineral poison he had taken. Physicians were immediately called, but the poison had already done its work, and all efforts to counteract their effects were unavailing.—He died in about four hours from the time he was first discovered. His death was caused by Arsenic and Morphine, a large quantity of which was found in his trunk, brought to this place with him, probably for the purpose for which it was used, as he has heretofore, upon two or three occasions, when laboring under mental depression, made fruitless attempts upon his life.

Among his effects were found the following lines:—"Farewell brother, sister, mother, and love. I to dust from whence I came."
"This from one that loves you all."
"I FOSTER."

No reason is known which should induce him to commit this dreadful deed. We are informed, however, that he was subject to intervals of extreme mental depression, during which he spoke freely of the folly of living, which feeling joined with his peculiar disbelief of a future state, may have caused him to take his own life as an act calculated at once to free him from the troubles which seemed at times to oppress him.

Mr. Foster was formerly a resident of this place and has connexions in this vicinity. Within the last two or three years he has resided in Port Jervis, N. Y. His remains were taken to Monroeton, on Sunday last, for interment.

Removals.

We learn by the Bradford Argus that the following appointments and removals have been made by the Post Office Department for this County:—
Daniel Baily, P. M. at Lenoysville vice A. S. Smith, removed.
J. H. Ross, Pike, vice Edward Crandal removed.
Peter Allen, Rome, vice Wm. E. Maynard, removed.

These gentlemen who have been removed, are all efficient, honest and capable officers, and must have been ousted by the administration which "hates and loathes prescription" solely on partisan grounds.

DEATH OF HON. CALVIN BLITZER.—We learn with regret the decease of the Hon. CALVIN BLITZER which took place in Fairfield, Adams county on the 26th ultimo, aged 57 years. Judge B. was a commissioned officer in the war of 1812; was in the battles of Chippewa, Niagara, &c., and behaved with great gallantry. He was early in life a member of the House of Representatives from Mifflin (now Juniata) county, then Secretary of the Commonwealth, under Gov. SWANICK, Attorney General, Judge of the Dauphin, Lebanon and Schuylkill districts, and Collector of the port of Philadelphia. He was an amiable and generous gentleman.

Fourth of July.

The seventy-third anniversary of our National Independence was celebrated in this place by the scholars of the different Sunday Schools, who met at the Methodist church, and after listening to suitable addresses from the clergy, were marched to the Court House, where a plentiful collation had been prepared, after discussing which, they were dismissed, apparently highly delighted with the exercises of the day.

At Wm. Griffin's, at Kammersfield Creek, the day was made the occasion of an "old-fashioned" celebration, which went off with great eclat. We regret we were not there in time to be able to prepare a full account of this spirited occasion. A returned soldier of the Mexican war, Mr. JAMES MITCHELL, gave a most humorous and interesting account of his campaigns in the late war, having served through the entire war, and been in nearly every battle. Rev. S. F. COLE then addressed the audience, at the conclusion of whose address, several hundred sat down to an elegant dinner prepared by Griffin, while a six-pounder made the surrounding hills reverberate with its echoes.—We must not forget a patriotic poem, read at the conclusion of the ceremonies by a Mr. CLARK, which we have been promised for publication.

The sound of music, before we left, announced that the votaries of Terpsichore, were tripping it on "the light fantastic toe;" while to all appearance the patriotism of the crowd, had hardly begun to evaporate. A large delegation from this place, were highly pleased with the celebration.

The Ward House.

Mr. C. L. WARD has been erecting in this borough, a large public house which in a few weeks, will be opened to the public. It is unequalled in size, or in arrangement, by any hotel in our vicinity, and will be furnished in elegant style. We shall give a more minute description in some future number of this building, which is really an ornament to our place. It will be seen by the correspondence which we publish below, that the unanimous voice of our community that it should be denominated the "Ward House," has prevailed over the delicacy which might otherwise have given it a name not so fitting. The letter displays very plainly the general feeling which existed, that the public spirit and liberality of the builder should have at least this slight testimonial: a feeling which all citizens who have not had an opportunity to sign the letter, concur in.

CORRESPONDENCE.

TOWANDA, June 21st, 1849.
C. L. WARD, Esq.: Dear Sir:—The undersigned, your fellow citizens of the borough of Towanda, have just heard of your intention to designate the splendid House built by you here, as the "Franklin House," take the liberty so far to interfere with your plan of nomenclature, and to change the name to that of the "Ward House." This place has been heretofore, largely benefited by your liberal spirit, and the taste displayed in your various buildings and improvements; and we should feel gratified if you would forego your private wishes, and accede to the request of the citizens of this town, who are so much interested in the building, and who would be appropriately named, and would be the fitting and just monument of your public spirit and enterprise. We hope you will feel as delicacy in yielding your own desire, to the unanimous wishes of your fellow townsmen.
