At a meeting of the board of canal commission ers last week, at Philadelphia, Wm. B. Foster, Esq., At a meeting of the total of the state, and the series of Branch canal. Mr. Foster is the engineer who had charge of the work "when it was suspended, at which time he estimated that it would require the sum of $1,277,000 to complete it. When a member of the canal board, he passed along the whole line, in 1844, and was still of the opinion, it could be completed agreeably to the original plan, for his estimate. Again, in the beginning of the year 1847 at the instance of gentlemen who were making in effort to have the stock taken in the company to which the work had been offered, he made a carefel examination and estimate of the whole line, and was then of opinion, that by making some altera-tions in the character of some of the work, and dispensing with every thing ornamently and costly, not essential or absolutely necessary to utility, i might be put in operation for $1,106,037. The intimate knowledge, therefore which Mr. Foster has of this work, will enable him to place t under contract sooner than any other man, not tamiliar with it, possibly could, and to conduct i to completion, with greater rapidity and more economy, than any gentleman, an entire stranger economy, many character which Mr. Foster enjoys, for integrity, skill and care in his profession, s a guarantee to those immediatel intered, and to the people of the whole state, that this work will be completed for a sum not exceeding his original estimate, provided sufficient funds are placed at his disposal to prosecute it with proper economy.-His appointment, therefore, by the board, to take charge of it, was peculiarly appropriate, and will meet the approbation of all, who have the completion of the work and the true interest of the state at heart.-Keystone.

The Journeymen Tailors, who have been "on the strike for higher wages," marched through the city vesterday—not through "all our principal streets," as is the custom with similar pageants, but through all the streets. They marched in procession two deep, and we should think about half a mile long, at the lowest calculation. They were no less than twenty banners in the procession-The mottos and quotations on some of them were very expressive. For instance, the following was meribed on one: "By the sweat of thy face shalt thouseat bread," "By the sweat of thy face shall thou not carn thy bread?" On another, "Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. Then again. "Never Surrender," and "The laborer is worthy of his hire," &c. were devices or others -Boston Courier, 18th.

ROBERT FARIES, Esq. the sequestrator of the Williamsport and Elmira Railroad, advertises the road for sale, in pursuance of an act of the last Legislature, to take place at Philadelphia, on the first day of October. He estimates the value of the. road, as it now is, at $700,000. This road will doubtless go into the hands of capitalists who will finish it to Elmira, and place the whole road in good order. This will be a valuable road when imished, and will greatly increase the business on the West Branch Canal and on other State Works
