Salting Stock.

Salt is beneficial to stock, for which reason l give it, and would i commend it pretty freely, yet reasonably. 1. When given satisfactory to milch cows, salt adds to the properties of their milk, either for butter or cheese. 2. Salt operates upon stock to their healthtulness, by loosening their order of digestion at times when their food is not of that nature, by helping to effect the purification of their blood, thus perhaps alleviating some internal or external disease, by strengthening and invigorating the whole nervous and general system. Of this last item, salt operates with the same effect upon both horses and sheep. These conclusions I gained, not from my neighbors but from experience, the sciences, and common sense.

Having given a synopsis of the nature and effect of salt upon stock, I shall proceed to recomend the same as follows. To every ton of hay (when secured) add two quarts of salt. To mitch cows let sait lay sparingly in troughs, or boxes before them : also, the same supply for horses in the harness.-To a full grown span, or store cattle, give half a pint per head each week. To other stock smaller proportionable.

Of sheep-probably there is no animal that reatizes the good effect of salt more than this very kind. It delights me to visit a flock of sheep after a cold storm, or drenching shower, and administer to their seeming wants a dose of salt. It truly does revive their drooping spirits, and give them energy by adding strength to their nervous and general system. I have sometimes found on very cold mornings, young lambs so chilled and benumed with the cold that they could not stand and apparently were quite lifeless, but by putting a spoontul of salt in their mouths and leaving them so revived, that often times I could not catch them. Those who raise sheep can try this experiment, and they will see the good effects of sait. Sheep should have one gill of salt per head a week, in fair weather, and should always be salted after a storm or drenching shower If our wool growers would sait often and freely after shearing, their sheep would brave the change with a belter degree of health and strength, particularly if very cold weather followed.

Connected with this subject I have one more suggestion to make, that is pure water should always be at the option of all animals that are salted. Genesee Farmer.

A WORD ABOUT GARDENING. No one can be truly said to live who has not a garden. None but those who have enjoyed it can appreciate the satisfaction-the fuxury-of sitting down to a table spread with the finits of one's own planting and culture. - A banch of radishes - a few heads of letface dallan from the garden of a sammer's moming for breakfast or a friess of green pease or sweet corn; is quite a different affair from market in a dving condition, to be put away in the cellar for use And a plate of strawberries or raspberries lose none of their peopliar flavor by persons directly from the Border to the cream, will out being falled about in basket mult they have lost all form and comliness And yet how many hither thatler Gree and villages of our country, possessing avery lacility for a good ganlen ekherahrough indolence orignorance are deprived of this sounce of comfort! And how many farmers, with enough, land lying waste to hurnish them with most of the laxuries of life, are content to prod on in the even tenor of their way never raising their tastes above the "ports and beans" of their fathers!

Cumino Base you Private Use.-I beg leave to present to the public, says a correspondent of the Maine Farmer, my manner of preserving hams Btom my barret over a pan or kettle, in which I bin'n hard wood for seven or eight days; keeping a little warm water on the head of the barret, and prepare a pickle by putting six gallons of water in a boiler, with 12 lbs. of salt, 12 ounces of salt petre, and two quarts of molasses. This Latir sufficiently to directive the salt, &c., and let it boil and skim it. I then let it cool and pouriton my hame, and in one week thave smoked hams, very tender, of an excellent flavor, and well amoked. When the weather becomes warm there will be ween arise on the pickle. By keeping my haris under pickle, it will keep the year mand. It is better to have a good oak berrel than any other. Try it, and to make a specience in the business, we shall be able to have a good oak berrel than any other. if you ever had meat smoked earlier after killing. and more palatable, please inform the public through the opinions of your paper.

Hence Pever and Ague is speedily cuted by the use of them. In the Western and Southern States where this discase mostly prevails, these Pills go like an avalancia. While they are cheaper than the fever and again bemedies in general, Wrights Indian Vegeta ble Pills have been pronounced superior to all of them. Indeed, it would appear that if there is one complaint over which these Pills have more power than another, over which these right have more power than another, it is Fever and Ague.

For destroying and expelling Worms, no Vermifuge to these Pills. Although we have for taken pains to make this fact public, the merit of the medicine! itself has acquired for it an autensive reputation and sale for the removal of Worms. Administered to salults or children, the effect of the Pills is equally redical and

NO other medicine has ever been introduced to the public that has met with such unparalleled success, as Dh. Souls's Oriental Sovereign Balm Pills. Having been but six years before the public, and the advertising small, compared with most other medicines, yet they have worked their way into every state in the Union and Canadas. They have absolutely become the Standard Medicine of the day. They are purely recentible and so admirably compounded that when tail ken in large doses they speedily cure the most delicate. nervous female, and have raised numbers from the
