Planting Trees.

We remember now, at the moment of scriblling this hastybut earnest exhortation to all young friends to plant trees-maples, horse chesnuts, locusts, linden trees, (anything but Lombardy poplars) that there is in the garden near the house Duoraghn there is in the garden near the house Duoraghn

PREPARE FOR WINTER.—The hourse winds are already sighing a requiem to the gay season, and the early blast of winter will soon be here, with his reign of terror to those who are unprepared .-Farmers have a great deal to do to get ready for his approach, and no opportunity should be neglected to have everything in readiness.) As the days are short, early rising is important to success, that animals may be fed in season, and everything ready to commence labor as soon as it is light enough to see to work; and a brisker action may be borne than in hot days, for it it produces a little fatigue, the long nights of rest will recruit and invigorate the system.

Trees that have been newly set should be protected by heaping up the earth around them, to keep the roots warm, and support the tree against the winds; for if left swinging in the winds, when the Found is solt, it will be loosened in the roots. and the water will run down around them, which with the frost, may destroy them. Those who object to fall transplanting, probaply do not set their trees well. We have set many trees from the last ol September to December, and never lost one set at this season. Carefully protect trees from cattle, or they will destroy them when feed is scare. - Deckertown Home Journal.

ECONOMICAL MODE OF DRAINING LAND -In the Amer. Agriculturist we find the following by Linus Cone of Troy, Mich. on the mode practised by him in draining lands, and which he considers econom cal, and answering a good purpose.

I am a believer in' horongh, systematic draining, when the tarmer has a capital to do it, but the great er part have not that capital. It is therefore necessary to adopt a temporary system, in order to raise good crops; for it is evident to every farmer, that gram, or even grass, will not grow advantageously on wet land.

The manner of draining that I have practised for years, I will now attempt to describe, which answers a good purpose on all swales and wet places that are not fed by springs. If necessary, let off the water by plowing a furrow, or by opening a trench with the spade; then plow the field. After the sod has rotted so that you can plow to advan tage, mark out a land, the centre of which will be where you want your drain, with the outside extending, if practicable, to where the ground ascends Plow deep repeatedly lessening the land a little at each plowing, so as not to leave a ridge between the outside of the field and the centre. By I have ing from three to five times, and clearing out the dead furrow in the centre' with a shovel or spade, you will have a drain or hollow two or three feet deep, that will last for years.

There are several advantages attending this method. You have a drain nearly dug when you want to put in an under-drain, which may be covered by throwing the earth back with the plow .-You also have the sub soil mixed with that of the surface, which, in most cases, is deficient in veget able mould and is ill adapted to the growth of wheat and other crops, thus rendering it more pro ductive than any other part of the field.

I have reclaimed considerable wet fand in this way, and have found it cheap and expeditious. I always plow the rest of the field, if possible, so as to cross the main drains. I make my lands about three rods wide, always plowing them the same way. When the field is sowed, I run the plow through every dead farrow, and clean out the earth with a shovel or spade. I think if the above meth od were practised by farmers, we should hear less of the winter-killing of wheat and the failure of crops. My experience has been on a soil and subsoil of clayey loam, which is the character of most of the land in this state, called "timbered open ings.",

CATTLE .- Few people are aware that it is as ea, my to after the frame of our cattle as it is to after the style of our dwellings. John Bull, for instance has gone on to improving his oxen until he has got a breed almost without legs. From the returns of the last census, it is safe to say that 1,000,000 cows are now milked in this State, which are supposed to yield about $20 per head. To improve these up to an average annual product of $31 each, (that is, to one-half what the best large dairies in the country now yield,) would add $12,000 000 to the income of the citizens of a single State. This gain, by the improve of one kind of rural machinery, would be equivalent to creating a capital of $200,000,000 and placing the money where it would yield over six per cent interest in perpetuity. If the thirty mil-lions of sheep in the United States gave as good returns in wool for the food consumed as the best hundred thousand now do, it would add at least sixty millio i pounds to the annual clip of this important staple. There are not far from eix million horses and mules in the United States; and it is not too much to say that in a few generations these animals may be improved full $30 a head on an average.-If so, the gain by this increase of muscular power, and its greater durability, will be $180,000,000. If we study critically the machinery for converting grass, roots, and grain into beef and pork, the diffurence is found to be still more striking. If the tacts relating to this subject were spread before the people, great improvement would soon follow, and all classes consile in the professions. classes equally in the profits of more preductive

Very Strange but true. Gentleman of Utica, N. Y., has obtained from the Witch-hazel, a simple remedy, which lays a more just claim to the name of "family cure all" than any Medicine we have ever before known. Nothing connected with it but a little Alcohol to preserve i and yet it acts with great certainty in removing pain and all local inflamation, curing all sores, burns, bruises and lameness, rapidly. Piles, bowel complaints. cholera-morbus, hemorrhage, ear ache, tooth-ache, som eyes, and all cervous affections. It is white as water and as barmless, and it is called

" Pond's Pain Destroyer and Healing Extract." None is genuine except "Pond's Extract" is blown in the bottle. Mr. Pond first introduced this medicine to the public and has expended a vast deal of time and money in bringing it to a high state of perfection, and we now warrant every boxle to give satisfaction

A man by the name of Spencer has put forth an article called "The Coyle Extract" which claims to be from the Witch-hazel. If from that shrub, its name s a perfect deception, and it is a very imperfect article; be not deceived, get a pamphlet and see. For sale at Montanye's & Co. Towards, S. S. Hin

ory. Read it! empted by no other han the feeling of henevolen and for the benefit of my afflicted fellew beings, I desire to make known a short description of my disease, and the unexpected cure I obtained from SCHENCKS More News for the Sick. PULMONIC SYRUP. About three years ago I was French, per quarter, flicted wit 1 & violent cold, which settled on my breast and side, and every tow days would raise considers ble blood; my cdugh was tight and distressing. Every day I had violent fever creeping chills, and profuse sweats at night, with great difficulty of breathing and great loss of appetite; my system was entirely pros-trated, being confined to my bed most of the time.--Two of the most emment physicians of this city attended me, and after exhausting all their skill pronounced my case incurable. Indeed, one said my lungs were almost gone, and I could not possibly recover. At this stage of my disease, I was prevailed upon to try Dr. Schenek's Pulmonic Syrup, and before I had taken half a duzen bottles, was so far recovered as to be to go about the house. It seemed to strength en my whole system-it loosened the cough and stopped the bleeding-my bowels became regular, and very thing I ate, seemed to digest easily and neurish my whole system. Indeed, such was the rapid progress of my hea'th and so sudden the change, that I became too sunguine of a speedy cure, and alsandoned the use of the medicine before the disease was horoughly cradicated, which resulted in another attack of bleeding at the lungs last tall, accompanied by a dis-tressing cough. I again commenced taking the Pul-Syrup, and sent for Dr. Schenck who, upon a careful examination, advised me to continue using it. Before I had taken four bottles, an abscess formed in my side, which gathered and broke, discharging, as near as I can judge, a pint of very disgreeable yellow matter. This seemed to cleanse and purify my whole system, From this time I began to get better, and am happy to say entirely recovered. I am sure at this time I enjoy better health than I have for the last ten years. Since I commenced taking the Pulmonic Syr-up, I have never failed to recommend it wherever I went, that others, so well as myself, might be saved saved from that awful disease; for I feel it a duty I owe to the afflicted to publish it to the world. Permi me to mention a few cases which have come under my immediate observation. Being on a visit to Camder N. J., last summer, I saw a child, evidently in the las stage of bowel consumption. The mother informer me that the physicians had given the child up as incurable. I told her what benefit I had received from the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and induced her to procure a bottle. I heard nothing more from the little sufferer until about three month after; being in the market, my attention was drawn to a lady who observed me very attentively. She finally approach me, and asked if I was not the lady who recommen

ed Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup to her dying child last summer in Camden. Preplied that I was. She said that her child had entirely recovered, and was unco only healthy. Her name is Mrs. Wilson, and now resides in Bridesburg. Another lady I would mention in particular, who had a scrofulous affection. Her face and neck presented one continued sore, and one of her eyes was veriously affected with it. She had become greatly emaciated, and to all appearances past recovery. I induced her to try Schenck's Pulmonre Syrup, which she did, and is now perfectly cured. Another lady, Mrs. McMullen, whose residence I will give on appli-cation, was evidently in the last stage of Consumption, I prevailed upon her to try the Pulmonic Syrup. In a very short time she was entirely recovered, and now en-joys excellent health, having become exceedingly fieshy These are three cases within my knowledge, which I know were cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, All who doubt this statement, and will take the trouble to call on me at my residence Parrish street five doors above tenth north side, I think I will be able to satisactorily convince them by own case, and others that

STATE FIRE MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY. HARRISBURG PA.

HE business of this company is conducted on the thod in the system of tual Insurance-that of Classifying its risk; and Directors have accordingly adopted two classes.— First, the Farmer's Class in which they insure no property except Dwelling Houses, Out Houses and personal property therein. In the Second Class, the safer kind of town risks, merchandise, ecc., and their charter provides that no part of the funds of one class can be appropriated for paymen of losses occurring in the

The Directors are confident that the rates they have adopted will enable them to pay their losses with promptness and liberality.

The success of this Company is unparalleled with eny Company in the State, having insured over half a millian in the months of May and June; and on the safest kind of property.
