Agricultural.

Agricultural Experiments.

It is the duty of the government to employ well educated men in a portion of their time and talents in the agriculture for the advancement of the general good. Agricultural societies are instituted for the advancement of science, especially engage in the preparations of experiments, and divide the execution of them among several members.

Science would have made much greater progress if the false shame with which agriculturists conceal every unsuccessful experiment, and the exaggerated manner in which they often relate all those in which they have succeeded, had not retarded its progress.

We can experiment either by means of simple observation, by examining the subjects and agents placed in relation with each other, and by considering their reciprocal action, and observing its results, or by means of trials or experiments, by placing some well known plants in certain situations determined with precision, observing their reciprocal action, and preventing as much as we can, any foreign or unknown body from influencing the results of our experiments.

A trial is a question addressed to nature; when such a question is properly put, nature will necessarily reply either yes, or no.

It is only within the last century that the art of making experiments has been clearly apprehended. It is on this art that the principal power of man over the material world is founded, and that power will become extended in proportion as he brings this art nearer perfection, and carries it in full practice. There is a particular kind of agricultural experiments which have arrived almost to perfection, and which can be regulated with a degree of precision equal to that which is attained in the other practical sciences—these are comparative trials in the open air.

It is true that experiments of this kind are not easily made; but, nevertheless, they are in the power of every reflecting agriculturist. Whoever has accomplished one experiment, whatever may be the peculiarity of the circumstances under which it was made, and has given a faithful account of it, has well contributed to the advancement of science, and consequently to useful practice, and has entitled himself to the gratitude of his cotemporaries and of prosperity. It would surpass the power of any single individual to accomplish any considerable number of these experiments and it could not be expected from him.—Von Taer.

Urine of Animals.—I have thought that, as a general thing, our farmers do not consider sufficiently the value of this valuable agent of fertility. In how few instances, indeed, do we find any efforts made to economize it, or render its great wealth available for the sustenance and support of vegetable life. According to an English agricultural author of great intelligence, the quantity of liquid manure produced by a single cow in one year is equal to fertilizing one and one fourth acres of soil, producing effects as permanent as do the solid excrements voided by the same animal in a like interval of time. A cord of good loam, thoroughly saturated with this energetic and fecundating liquid, he estimates as equal for all practical purposes, to a cord of the best, well-rotted manure. If the liquid and solid evacuations, including the straw or other materials used as litter, are kept separate, and soaking up the former by absorbent loam, previously well dried, it has been found that they will manure land, in proportion by bulk, of seven liquid to six solid, while their actual value is as two to one. One hundred pounds of cow's urine, says our authority, produce thirty-five pounds of the most powerful salts, which have ever been applied in agriculture. No one therefore, can doubt for one moment that by neglecting to economize this powerful and valuable agent, at once the most decidedly salutary in its permanent effects. If the liquid evacuations of our stock equals one-half the value of the solid excrement, and if there be any dependence to be relied on the recent experiments of chemical men, this is a very moderate appraisal, is it not richly worth saving.—Germantown Tele graph.

Small Farms.—There are thousands of farms in the New England States, varying in size from twenty-five to one hundred acres upon which thousands of families not only live, but are well-to-do in the world, and have reared large families in comfort and prosperity. It is true, the children, for want of room to work, have to go to contriving, and it is this necessity that has filled the whole country with Yankee contrivances of all kinds, from a boxwood pumpkin seed to a steam engine.

One of the greatest crops of the diminutive farms, is that inventive genius which characterizes the whole nation. No Yankee clock ever ran with more regularity than the whole of the operations connected with some of the small farmers. Look at their cattle, horses, hogs, sheep, geese, ducks, and chickens. There is an appearance of unmistakable thrift about everything animate & inanimate upon some of these places. It is true, many of the occupants work with the same old-fashioned tools their fathers did, and follow all the same time-honored practices; but the next generation will be more alive to the spirit of improvement.

Turpentine a Cure for Poison.—If any person should be stung by a bee or other insect, rub some spirits of turpentine on the place, and the pain will nearly cease in one minute. It is said that the pain arising from the bite of a copperhead snake may be arrested in a few minutes, by the continued application of this article, and from my own knowledge of its effects in other cases, I have not the least doubt of it. The effect of all poison is to contract the blood vessels, and prevent a free circulation; the natural consequence is pain and inflamation immediately. Spirits of turpentine, by their penetrating and expanding qualities, soon overcome the difficulty.—Farmer's Cabinet.

Egg Biscuits.—Beat separately the whites and yolks of twelve eggs; mix, and add ½ lb of powdered white sugar; whisk all into bubbles; add 1 lb. of flour and the grated rinds of two lemons—Fill buttered tin molds; grate sugar on top; bake one hour in a quick oven.

It requires 3500 sheep to be kept a whole year to support the Lawrence, Mass. Mills with wool for one single day. They produce 1500 hundred shawls per day, and consume Cochineal to the value of $50,000 per annum. Three years since there was not 5000 inhabitants in Lawrence and now there are 10,000.

Rail Road Horse Power & Tresher,

With the Latest and Important Improvements, for which Patent is secured.

THE subscriber takes this method to inform the Farmers of Bradford and the adjoining counties, that he is agent for, and has for sale, the above celebrated and unequalled Horse Power and Threshing Machines, which he is prepared to furnish on the same terms as by the manufacturer, with the addition of the actual cost of transportation, contracted for at the lowest and best rates.

The subscriber has sold a number of the above machines in this, and the adjoining counties of Chemung and Tioga, N. Y., and all without exception have given the very best satisfaction, and where they are known, all farmers give them the preference, on account of economy in threshing, being operated with much less expense, and cracking and wasting much less grain than any other machine in use.

The Two-Horse Power Thresher and Separator is capable, with three or four men, of threshing from 150 to 200 bushels of wheat or rye, or double that quantity of oats, per day.

The subscriber will also the coming season be prepared to furnish to order

EMERY & Co.'s NEW

THRESHER AND CLEANER.

Emery & Co. for nearly two years past have been experimenting to perfect a cleaner, to be operated with their Power for public and field threshing; and with much time and expense have succeeded to their entire satisfaction, and are now prepared to furnish a Self-cleaner, combined with all the advantages of their overshot cylinder, and at the same time requiring less force to operate its rotary motion than is required by the vibrating separator. It has been thoroughly tested during the last harvest, and some of them have been used the past season for threshing in the best grain growing sections of the state of New York with the best success—threshing months together an equal amount and at less expense, than the common threshers with the vibrating separators.

The Cleaner has all the advantages of a good fanning mill, cleaning the grain fit for market, wasting none. The additional cost being but little more than a fanning mill, or about thirty dollars—making the whole Thresher and Cleaner cost $75 to the Farmer, and with Emery & Co.'s two-horse power, $185 00.

The Cleaner can be detached, and the Thresher used alone when desired. The new Thresher and Cleaner are destined to take the place of the old, expensive and cumbrous thresher and cleaner now in use.

Farmers and others wishing to procure any of the above-mentioned Horse Powers and Threshers, will save trouble, risk and expense, by purchasing them of the subscriber.

☞ On account of the large demand for the above machines, and the difficulty of immediately filling orders for them, persons wishing to purchase machines should give me timely notice as to what kind and at what time they wish to procure them.

Farmers wishing to do their threshing immediately after harvest, should procure their machines as early as the first of July. Also for sale

ORGANIZED upon the "mixed principle," Stock and Mutual, which combined features offer to insured members double the usual security. The Cash system of payments has also been adopted, thus avoiding the heavy drawbacks created by unpaid premium notes. The table rates of premium, upon which its policies are being issued, is the only scale experience has proven should be adopted, as affording requisite security to be insured, and an undoubted guarantee for the perpetuity of such institutions. An experimental table may be found worthless, at the very instant a policy should possess its greatest value. Life Insurance, we e properly, is arresting the attention of the world. The public however, in their commendable willingness to embrace and employ its wise and salutary provisions, should make ultimate security the primary and most important object, which can only be attained by so adjusting the premiums as to anticipate unexpected losses and fluctuations of every kind. It is the purpose of this company annually to credit, upon the polices of holders and books of the Company, such an amount of profits as shall not affect the stability, or impair the sacredness of its contracts. Premiums may, at the option of the insured, be paid annually, semi annually, or quarterly, in advance. Afflicted do not Despair

Another fellow being rescued from Death by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.

The following case is one of the greatest triumphs of medicine over disease ever published in medical history. Read it!

Prompted by no other than the feeling of benevolence, and for the benefit of my afflicted fellow beings, I desire to make known a short description of my disease, and the unexpected cure I obtained from SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP. About three years ago I was afflicted wit a violent cold, which settled on my breast and side, and every few days would raise considerable blood; my cough was tight and distressing. Every day I had violent fever creeping chills, and profuse sweats at night, with great difficulty of breathing and great loss of appetite; my system was entirely prostrated, being confined to my bed most of the time.—Two of the most eminent physicians of this city attended me, and after exhausing all their skill, pronounced my case incurable. Indeed, one said my lungs were almost gone, and I could not possibly recover. At this stage of my disease, I was prevailed upon to try Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and before I had taken half a dozen bottles, was so far recovered as to be to go about the house. It seemed to strengthen my whole system—it loosened the cough and stopped the bleeding—my bowels became regular, and every thing I ate, seemed to digest easily and nourish my whole system. Indeed, such was the rapid progress of my health and so sudden the change, that I became too sanguine of a speedy cure, and abandoned the use of the medicine before the disease was thoroughly eradicated, which resulted in another attack of bleeding at the lungs last fall, accompanied by a distressing cough. I again commenced taking the Pulmonic Syrup, and sent for Dr. Schenck who, upon a careful examination, advised me to continue using it. Before I had taken four bottles, an abscess formed in my side, which gathered and broke, discharging, as near as I can judge, a pint of very disagreeable yellow matter. This seemed to cleanse and purify my whole system; From this time I began to get better, and am happy to say entirely recovered. I am sure at this time I enjoy better health than I have for the last ten years. Since I commenced taking the Pulmonic Syrup, I have never failed to recommend it wherever I went, that others, as well as myself, might be saved saved from that awful disease; for I feel it a duty I owe to the afflicted to publish it to the world. Permit me to mention a few cases which have come under my immediate observation. Being on a visit to Camden, N. J., last summer, I saw a child, evidently in the last stage of bowel consumption. The mother informed me that the physicians had given the child up as incurable. I told her what benefit I had received from the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and induced her to procure a bottle. I heard nothing more from the little sufferer until about three month after; being in the market, my attention was drawn to a lady who observed me very attentively. She finally approached me, and asked if I was not the lady who recommended Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup to her dying child last summer in Camden. I replied that I was. She said that her child had entirely recovered, and was uncommonly healthy. Her name is Mrs. Wilson, and now resides in Bridesburg. Another lady I would mention in particular, who had a scrofulous affection. Her face and neck presented one continued sore, and one of her eyes was seriously affected with it. She had become greatly emaciated, and to all appearances past recovery. I induced her to try Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, which she did, and is now perfectly cured. Another lady, Mrs. McMullen, whose residence I will give on application, was evidently in the last stage of Consumption, I prevailed upon her to try the Pulmonic Syrup. In a very short time she was entirely recovered, and now enjoys excellent health, having become exceedingly fleshy These are three cases within my knowledge, which I know were cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. All who doubt this statement, and will take the trouble to call on me at my residence Parrish street five doors above tenth north side, I think I will be able to satisfactorily convince them by own case, and others that I know have been cured by this Syrup. Since my cure, there have been so many to see me to know what I took, that I have had a very good opportunity of knowing a great many that have taken it, and have been greatly benefitted thereby, and I think if persons afflicted with Consumption or Liver Complaint, would send for Dr. Schenck, and let him carefully examine their lungs, and if he says he can cure them, follow the directions, and prevent taking cold, they will rapidly recover.

GULIELMA L. LEIBERT,
Philadelphia, May 29, 1849.

J. H. Schenck—Dear Sir—I have known Mrs. Leibert for several years, as a member of my church, and have all confidence in her statement, and am rejoiced to find her again restored to health. Any thing more, in addition to her statement, is needless.

Yours, truly, THOS. L. JANEWAY,

Very Strange but true.

A Gentleman of Utica, N. Y., has obtained from the Witch-hazel, a simple remedy, which has a more just claim to the name of "family cure all" than any Medicine we have ever before known. Nothing is connected with it but a little Alcohol to preserve it, and yet it acts with great certainty in removing pain and all local inflamation, curing all sores, burns, bruises and lameness, rapidly. Piles, bowel complaints, cholera-morbus, hemorrhage, ear ache, tooth-ache, sore eyes, and all nervous affections. It is white as water and as harmless, and it is called

"Pond's Pain Destroyer and Healing Extract."

None is genuine except "Pond's Extract" is blown in the bottle. Mr. Pond first introduced this medicine to the public and has expended a vast deal of time and money in bringing it to a high state of perfection, and we now warrant every bottle to give satisfaction.

A man by the name of Spencer has put forth an article called "The Cayle Extract" which claims to be from the Witch-hazel. If from that shrub, its name is a perfect deception, and it is a very imperfect article—be not deceived, get a pamphlet and see.
