FURTHER INSTRUCTIONS IN REGARD TO THE LATE BOUNTY ACT.—The Department of the Interior has issued further instructions in regard to the late Bounty Act. The act was not intended to bestow thous ty fand on the whole army of the United States, wherever located at the time of the Mexican War, or had a direct reference to that war, though it is to California loaded which has been burnt not necessary that they should have been within the in this way. limits of Mexico. The disturbances on the South-western Frontier in 1836, in the Cherokee country in 1836 and 1837, and the New York disturbances in 1838 and 1839, are not considered as embraced by the provisions of the act of September, 1850.
Teamsters and artificers who belonged to the army, and were regularly detached for that particular service, are entitled to bounty land. The substitute performing the military service, and not the employer, is entitled to the land bounty; when the engagement is parily performed by both, each is entitled to his share according to the period of service. In all applications hereafter to be made it will be required that the claimant shall state in his declaration that he had not received nor is entitled to receive bounty land under any other act of Con-gress, such persons being excluded under the act of 1850. Widows are entitled to the land bounty of deceased soldiers, if they are widows at the passage of the act of Septimber 28, 1850. This is the law in its general application. But the widow of an officer or soldier killed in battle is entitled to maximum allowed of one hundred and sixty acres, without reference to the period of her husband's service, And, although a married woman at the passage of the act, if unmarried at the date of her application,

Up to the present period, one hundred thousan ications have been received. The office, with all its force, has only been able to issue between seven and eight thousand warrants on declarations received in October and early in November. Some time, therefore, must elapse before the numerous claims which arrived in November and early in December can be finally acted on. From five hundred to a thousand warrants are daily received:-The office is now issuing between a thousand and twelve hundred warrants a week; but more than eighteen months must slapes before the claims now on hand can be disposed of, or matured into the HORSE STEALING .- On Thursday or Friday last, man by the name of Don F. Revelland, hired a horse of James Whittaker of Factoryville, to ride to Barton, Mr. Whittaker sending his boy on another horse to take the hired one back. Don F. Revelland rode away from the boy, passed Barton, crossed the river at Smithboro, was pursued by the boy to Nichols, where he had been seen riding at full speed a short time before, up the Wappersena road. The boy informed Jonathan Platt, 2d, that the manwas running away with Mr. Whittaker's horse when Platt started in pursuit, overtook the fellow some miles up the creek, took him back to Barton without process, where he was arrested in due form; and after an examination of the case, Justice Seymour Wright gave him into the custody of a Constable to be conveyed to Owego for safe keeping in the County Jail until the next Oyer and Terminer.—Owego Gazette.

CORNELIUS PAULDING, who died in New Orleans on the 10th inst, was worth $1,000,000. He left the bulk of his property to his numerous relatives. To the Baptist Church he has restored the property which once belonged to them, corner of St. Charles and Hevia streets, valued at $30,000. He left also $5000 to the Public Schools of the Second Municipality, and $5000 to the Male Orphan Asylum. at OUTRAGE IN KENTUCKY.—The house of James and David Beall, near Floysburgh, Ky., was entered on the night of the 12th inst., by robbers, who beat the inmates nearly to death and then robbed the house of $2000 in paper money, and a bag of silver of unknown amount. One of the Beatls will probably die of his injuries. The robbers escaped.
