The Corn Gren.

The last summer was what farmers call a warm eneme poin summer. The crops were generally good throughout the country. The freetheld off for a whole month longer than in the average of seacone. In this latitude we had no frost injurious to the produce of uplands till the morning of the 15th of October. This weather was particularly favora. ble to the filling out and ripening of the staple crop of this country—the corn crop.

Numerous friends have sent us specimens of good com. We have long ears-twelve rows and eight rows-large kernel and small kernel-early ripened and late ripened. And who shall decide which kind is the most productive or the mo profitable for our latitude?

The seed corn that we procure from districts north

THE subscriber takes this method to inform the of us, gives us earlier harvest and makes them

Formers of Bradford and the adjoining counties more secure from frost—but these advantages are that he is agent for, and has for sale, the above cell breast decisive. We want ears that are large enough to be seen and felt while we are husking, for it is terms as by the manufacturer, with the addition of the not half so much labor to husk a good sized ear as actual cost of transportation, contracted for at the lowit is to heak a little one. Hosking must all be done of the subscriber has sold a number of the above ma Canada corn. So also in tilling—it is easier to hoe a large hill than a small one, but if the labor should be equal on each hill the man who grows fifty bushels an acre labors but half as long for a bushel, as the man who grows but twenty-five.

We have much yet to learn in regard to the cu tivation of this important article of produce. Knowledge should be so diffused that one man should not produce two bushels to another's single bushel from the same quantity of land and the same amount of labor. Yet so it is, and so it ever has been since we have had any knowledge of tarming opera-

It has never yet been settled whether thick of thin planting will insure the most corn. Many of our leachers seem to suppose that there is hardly a limit to the amount that may be grown on an acre, provided manure enough is applied. They have no idea of the importance of air and light between the stalks of com. At some of our meetings in the State House, learned men have come forward and proved, in their own estimation, that the number of stalks on an acre may properly be multiplied in proportion to the quantity of manure used.

And yet all practical men will agree, on considering the subject well, that when the land is quite rick number of stalks should be less-for the stalks will be larger, and large stalks require more room than email ones. Farmers ought to make numerons trials, and report them accurately, to enable all to judge how many stalks may be safely left in a hill when the hills are at the usual distance.

It may be that more corn may be obtained by planting in drills than in hills at one pace distant from each other. Yet of this there is much doubt, when the full sized kinds are planted. But admitted that more may be grown by drill planting this is not conclusive—for more labor would be required in planting, tilling and harvesting.

It is a long time since we published a particular statement of a correspondent who planted his comin hills, at the usual distance, with rows each way. His hills were one pace apart. He left one stalk standing in each hill in the first row-two stalks in the second row-three stalks in the third row-four stalks in the fourth row-and five in the fifth.

He then treated the next five rows in the same through the acre. On measuring his corn at harvest time he found that the rows which had three and four stalks respectively in a hill yielded much more than the other rows: those with three and four differing but little from each other. We think this result will agree with trials that may be made in almost any field. More attention should be paid to this single point. We are persuaded that much is lost by thick planting.

Every improvement that can be made in the cultivation of this crop is important. Potatoes in many places wholly fail us: and when they are not found rotten, the yield is much less than when our lands were comparatively new. One hundred, or one hundred and fifty bushels to the acre are now thought a tolerable crop; and yet we are quite so says of half that quantitay of shelled com, in addition to two tons of valuable folder for cattle on the same quantity of ground, independent of the consideration that the labor of planting and of harvesting com in less than that of potatogs, and the cost of seed is not a fifteenth part as much. To these advantages in favor of com, we may add that it is our surest crop, and fits the soil better for grass from town and country merchants than any of the grains or roots that we are in the practice of cultivating.

Corn is a native product here. Corn fills the ground with roots that in succeeding year rot and aids the growth of the next crop. Corn is a good rotation crop, and yet com may be grown for twenty years in succession on the same ground without any diminution of the harvest. This cannot be said of other grains or vegetables.

The tops and other stover of this plant are not secured with the same care that we bestow on hay and the straw of the several kinds of English grain. What would any of our fresh hay be worth, if we permitted it to lie open to the sun for several days -for two or three days after it become dry enough.

Some farmers are so equeamish that they put up their bay in heaps soon after it is cut, fearing the effects of a hot sun on it while it is spread out thin -yet they let corn tops lie for several days, high and dry without so much as tying them in bundles. Let any one bind them up soon after ontling, and shock them in the field for a week or two, and he cannot fail to acknowledge the improvement.

To CLEAR A ROOM FROM BUGS -Close the room tightly. Put a small quantity of musk in a new tobacco pipe, ignite it, and blow the smoke through the key-hole. This will clear the room of its blood thirsty inmates, instanter. Every one who is tormented by these vermin, should try this remedy at once. It is always successful.

WHITE DEFINE YELLOW CORE .- The Centreville (Maryland) Times states that several farmers there eay-that they have demonstrated beyond cavil than a larger quantity of white corn can be grown to an acre than yellow. The price of white corn in foreign markets is higher than yellow at the present

THRESHER AND CLEANER

Emery & Co. for nearly two years past have been experimenting to perfect a cleaner, to be operated with their Power for public and field threshing; and with much time and expense have succeeded to their entire satisfaction, and are now prepared to furnish a Seli cleaner, combined with all the advantages of their overshot cylinder, and at the same time requiring less force to operate its rotary motion than is required by the vibrating separator. It has been theroughly tested during the last harvest, and some of them have been used the past season for threshing in the best grain growing sections of the state of New York with the sest success—threshing months together an equal amount and at less expense, than the common thresher with the vibrating separators,

The Cleaner has all the advantages of a good fanning mill, cleaning the grain fit for market, wasting none. The additional cost being but little more than a fanning mill, or about thirty dollars—making the whole Thresher and Cleaner cost $75 to the Parmer, and with Emery & Co. 's two-horse power, $185 00. The Cleaner can be detached, and the Thresher used alone when desired. The new Thresher and Cleaner are destined to take the place of the old, expensive d cumbrous thresher and cleaner now in use.

Being on a visit to Camden. N. J., last summer, I saw a child, evidently in the last stage of bowel consumption. The mother informed me that the physicians had given the child up as incurable. I told her what benefit I had received from the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and induced her to procure a bottle. I heard nothing more from the little sufferer nutil about three month, after; being in the market, my attention was drawn to a lady who observed me very attentively. She finally approached me, and saked if I was not the lady who recommended Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup to her dying child last summer in t'amden. I replied that I was. She said that her child had entirely recovered, and was uncommonly healthy. Her name is Mrt. Wilson, and now resides in Bridesburg. Another lady I would mention in particular, who had a scrofulous affection. Her face and neck presented one continued sore, and one of ber eyes was seriously affected with it. She had become greatly emaciated, and to all appearances past recovery. induced her to try Schenck's Pulmonre Syrup, which she did, and is now perfectly cured. Another lady, Mrs. McMullen, whose residence I will give on application, was evidently in the last stage of Consumpt prevailed upon her to try the Pulmonic Syrup. Ins ery short time she was entirely recovered, and nowanjoys excellent health, having become exceedingly fleshy These are three cases within my knowledge, which I know were cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, All who doubt this statement, and will take the trocall on me at my residence Parrish street five doors above tenth north side, I think I will be able to satis-Editors or Printers wishing to establish a Newspaper or Job Printing Office, will be fornished with an estimate in detail of the cost by stating aize of paper and kind of work to be executed.

Very Strange but true.

Gentleman of Utics, N. Y., has obtained the Witch-hazel, a simple remedy, which is more just claim to the name of "family cure all" has more just claim to the name or samuly sure Noting any Medicine we have ever before known. Noting any Medicine we have living Alcohol to preserve a is connected with it but a little Alcohol to prese and yet it at with great certainty in removing this and all local inflamation, curing all sores, burns, breises and languess, rapidly. Piles, bowel complaints cholers-modus, hemorrhage, ear ache, tooth-ache, some eyes, and ill nervous affections. It is white as wat and as hamless, and it is called

" Pond's Pain Destroyer and Healing Extract." None is sentine except "Pond's Extract" is blown in the bottle. Mr. Pond first introduced this medicine to the public and has expended a vast deal of time and money is bringing it to a high state of perfection, and we now warrant every bottle to give satisfaction. A min by the name of Spencer has put forth an article called "The Coyle Extract" which claims to be from the Witch-hazel. If from that shrub, its name a a perfect deception, and it is, wery imperfect arti-
