Order, System and Economy.

Without those no man can be successful in conducting the business of a farm; but as these subjeets have recently been discussed at some length and with much ability. I shall only make a remark or two concerning them. It a man neglects these things, capital will soon be expended without a profitable return, and even experience will be of little avail. That man cannot prosper who leaves every thing to olds and ends. It grain is sown, and caule pastured in adjoining fields, with fittle or no fence around them, in all, human probability the grain will be des.royed. If pigs are allowed to wander about a man's yard, and now and then got in to his garden, it is not very likely he will have many vegetables for his table-and so too of a hundred other things which may appear very simple to be mentioned in a book or paper, but which are nevertheless time. Such things certainly exhibit a want of order, a lack of system, and a very poor economy.

I shall now mention book farming, as a very necessary thing for the successful persuit of a agriculture. Yes, book farming-that terrible bugbear to the so-called practical furmer-for notwith-tanding all the attempts that have been made to define book farming and show that it is in the main but gathering up of practical experience still the practical man, as he calls himself, flies from it as the wild horse would from before the locomotive. I am some times ready to ask, were there ever men in the world, savage or sivilized, so blind to their true interests as many of our farmers are; Books have been written upon almost all subjects-trade, commerce, manufactures, the sciences. Does the the manufacturer, the merchanic find fault with them? Does the navigator, as he sails over the wide expanse of ocean, throw aside the chart that 'was to guide him on his way, and when he hears some perilous share, somé rocky coast, does he excluím. "charts are of no use to me, I need them not, i there are hidden tooks here I will strike them, and then I will know where they are again for inveelf. Suppose for a moment that something too theoretical has been advanced-something that practice will not bear out-is it the right way to correct the error to turn one's back upon every thing that has been written, to pronounce it all bad and dangerous. and to brand it with infamy? Have not wild theories been advanced, at different times in philosophy and the sciences? How have they been corrected! Why simply by men reading them, and by the aid of their intellect working out truth from amid the mass of rubbish beneath which it was buffed. And so too must the truth of agriculture be worked out from the mass of rubbish beneath which they are Farmers, we are here in an age of improvement; inventions and discoveries are crowing every art and science: Shall we remain torpid, while every thing around us teeming with the impress of intellect Depend upon it, we are but in the infance of our occupation so far as mind is epincerned. Can any man of ordinary intelligence look upon the present system of agriculture without discovering in it some of the grossest errors? Men wonder that agmeulture is not more profitable, but are too indifferent to see remedies. Let us awake from this indifference-let us seek and examine-let us bring A hidden to broad day light-summon chemistry, geology, philosophy, mathematics to your aid, and press onward to develope new resources and prineiples .- Albany Culticator.

GARDEN MANURES APPLIED IN FALL AND WINTER. -Frequent complaints are made by those who are limited in their gardening operations, that whatever manures they do apply to their gardens, burn up their crops when the heat of summer comes on We have felt this inconvenience too, and in look ng | Cast Iron and Wood Cistern and Well Pumps, around to find a terredy, have come to conclusion hat whenever a garden requires active stimulating manures, they should be applied in the fall or winter; in this way rank stable manure may be applied and spaded or ploughed under immediately. I will have become by spring the proper food of plan's and as all manures leach upwards, the surface soil will be in fine condition for the growth of vegetables; whereas, if the manure is applied at planting time, especially the crude manures generally appled here, just as vegetables are most required, they are fired by the action of the sun on manure, and the gardener has the mortification to find his labor and money thrown away. Whatever manures are applied in the spring should be well rotted or of a cooling nature. There are many families that annaily waste a barrel or two of leached ashes, when had it been applied to the garden patch, they would have had 'early yorks' as well as their neighbors. The soapsuds from the wash tub is a manure that may be applied with safety and with profit in the may be applied with safety and with profit in the Drake's wagon shop, where they are prepared to do all spring, and yet how few ever use them, except kinds of BLACKSMITHING upon reasonable terms. to enrich the earth around their kitchens, and . They are determined by doing their work well and make loathsome mud holes, when perfumed flowers, lucious fruits, and mammoth vegetables, might have been made by them. We do not yet properly appreciate the importance of a garden. The bearing that it has upon the happiness and health of a family is plainly perceptible wherever we find a well conducted garden; how highly important then that we should understair! the proper load of plants He would certainly be a mad bhysician who would his fevered patients stimulants to raise the fever higher and higher, until vitality was consumed.

GREASE FOR CARTS &c -The following composition is recommended by a writer in the Independence Belge for greasing carts and other agricultural implements:-Take 4lbs. of enoutchone dissolved in a proper liquid, 11b. of gelatine, 10lbs. of carbonate soda, 45 quarts of animal or vegetable oil, and Brick Row, where they will keep on hand a large as much water; boil the water with the carbonate stock of of soda and getatine; thereadd the countchoic and HABNESS, SADDESS, DRIDLES the oil, stir the mixture well until it forms a homogeneous liquid. The above proportions may be varied; and if the caontchone and oil are previous be surpassed in Northern Pennsylvania. They solicit by purmied, the carbonate of soda is unnecessary. The above mixture will be found very useful, not only for greasing carts, & ... but also for keeping the farm harness in order.

Afflicted do not Despair

Inother fellow being rescued from Death by Schend: Pulmonic Syrup. The following case is one of the greatest triumph of medicine over discuse ever published in medical his ory. Read it! Prompted by no other than the feeling of benevolence, and for the benefit of my afflicted fellew beings, I de afflicted with a violent cold, which settled on my breas and side, and every lew days would raise considerable blood; my edugh was tight and distressing. Every day I had violent favor creeping chills, and profus sweats at night, with great difficulty of breathing and great loss of appetite; my system was entirely prestrated, being confined to my bed most of the time. Two of the most eminent physicians of this city at ended me, and after exhausting all their skill, pro nounced my case incurable. Indeed, one said m lungs were almost gone, and I could not possibly cover. At this stage of my disease, I was prevailed upon to try Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and before I had taken half a dozen bottles, was so far recovere as to be to go about the house. It seemed to strength on my whole system—it loosened the cough and stop ped the bleeding—my bowels became regular, and every thing I ate, seemed to digest easily and nound my whole system. Indeed, such was the rapid progress of my health and so sudden the change, that became too sanguine of a speedy cure, and abandon ed the use of the medicine before the disease thoroughly eradicated, which resulted in another atta of bleeding at the lungs last tall, accompanied by a dis tressing cough. I again commenced taking the Pol-monic Syrup, and sent for Dr. Schenck who, upon careful examination, advised me to continue using a Before I had taken four bottles, an abscess formed i my side, which gathered and broke, discharging, as my as I can judge, a pint of very disagrecable yellow mg. ter. This seemed to cleanse and purify my wholesys tem, From this time I began to get better, and an happy to say entirely recovered. I am sure at the time I enjoy better health than I have for the last ten years, Since I commenced taking the Pulmonic Sy up, I have never failed to recommend it wherever went, that others, as well as myself, might be sare saved from that awful disease; for I feel it a duty owe to the afflicted to publish it to the world. Perm me to mention a few cases which have come under m nediate observation. Being on a visit to Cambe N. J., last summer, I saw a child, evidently in the la stage of bowel consumption. The mother informed me that the physicians had given the child up as is curable. I told her what benefit I had received from the use of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, and induce her to procure a bottle. I heard nothing more from the little sufferer until about three month; after; bei in the market, my attention was drawn to a lady w observed me very attentively. She finally approach me, and asked if I was not the lady who recomm ed Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup to her dying child be summer in Camden. I replied that I was. She say that her child had entirely recovered, and was uncommonly healthy. Her name is Mrs. Wilson, and not resides in Bridesburg. Another lady I would mentiin particular, who had a scrofulous affection. Herfan and neck presented one continued sore, and one of he eyes was acriously affected with it. She had become greatly emaciated, and to all appearances past recover I induced her to try Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, white she did, and is now perfectly cured. Another lade Mrs. McMullen, whose residence I will give on apple cation, was evidently in the last stage of Consump I prevailed upon her to try the Pulmonic Syrup. In very short time she was entirely recovered, and now in joys excellent health, having become exceedingly fiest These are three cases within my knowledge, which know were cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, who doubt this statement, and will take the trouble call on me at my residence Parrish street five doe above tenth north side, I think I will be able to sati factorily convince them by own case, and others to I know have been cured by this Syrup. cure, there have been so many to see me to know w I took, that I have had a very good opportunity

Very Strange but true. A Gentleman of Utica, N. Y., has obtained for the Witch-bazel, a simple remedy, which lay more just claim to the name of "family cure all" any Medicine we have ever before known. Noth is connected with it but a little Alcohol to present and yet it acts with great certainty in removing and all local inflamation, curing all sores, burns, as and lameness, rapidly. Piles, bowel complete cholera-morbus, hemorrhage, ear ache, tooth-ache, eyes, and all nervous affections. It is white as nd as harmless, and it is called

" Pond's Pain Destroyer and Healing Extrad."
None is genuine except " Pond's Extract" is blord the bottle. Mr. Pond first introduced this medicis the public and has expended a vast deal of time money in bringing it to a high state of perfection. we now warrant every bottle to give satisfaction.

A man by the name of Spencer has put forl article called "The Coyle Extract" which claim be from the Wiich-hazel.
