THE BRADFORD REPORTER.

ONE DOLLAR PER ANNUM, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE.

"RESARDLESS OF DENUNCIATION FROM ANY QUARTER."

YOLUWIE XY, DECKUMIEDIE M.

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY AT TOWANDA, BRADFORD COUNTY, PA., BY E. O'MEARA GOODRICH.

TOWANDA:

Saturday Morning, December 28, 1854.

Selected Boetry.

[Everybody loves to read WHITTIER's verse; and we are glad to give our readers the following, which we find in the National Era, dedicated to Senator CHARLES SUMNER. It has reference to the stirring scenes of last session, in which the distinguished and eloquent Senator bore so prominent and chivalrous a part.]

TO C. S.

If I have seemed more prompt to censure wrong Than praise the right; if, seldom to thine ear My voice hath mingled with th' exultant cheer, Borne upon all our Northern winds along; If I have failed to join the fickle throng In wide-eyed wonder, that thou standest strong In victory, surprised in thee to find Brougham's scathing power with Canning's grac combined; That he for whom the nine-fold Muses sang, From their twined arms a giant athlete sprang, Barbing the arrows of his native tongue the spent shafts Latona's archer flung, To smite the Python of his land and time, Fell as the monster born of Crissa's slime, Like the blind bard who in Castalian springs Tempered the steel that clove the crest of kings, And on the shrine of England's freedom laid The gifts of Cumæ and of Delphi's shade-Small need hast thou of words of praise from me Thou knowest my heart, dear friend, and const guess That, even though silent, I have not the less Rejoiced to see thy actual life agree, With the large future which I shaped for thee, When, years ago, beside the summer sea, White in the moon, we saw the long waves fall Baffled and broken from the rocky wall, That, to the menace of the brawling flood, Opposed alone its massive quietude Calm as a fate; with not a leaf nor vine Nor birch spray trembling in the bright moonshine, Crowning it like God's peace. I sometimes think That night-scene by the sea prophetical-(For nature speaks in symbols and in signs, And through her pictures human fates divines) -That rock, wherefrom we saw the billows sink In murmuring rout, uprising clear and tall In the white light of heaven, the type of one Who, momently by Error's host assailed, Stands strong as Truth, in greaves of granite mailed;

Europe and the dar.

And, tranquil-fronted, listening over all The tumult, hears the angels say, Well done!

Great Speech of Kossuth,

THE EUROPEAN WAR, ERRORS OF THE ALLIES.

halo of success, though purchased with public per- ing through its petrified limbs. You stoon up a dare to ignore her. I would say to the the Polish resume its spirits and to take breath.

been asked by all; it stirred like the thrill of con- is the assurance I had to give.

noble companion in your efforts for eighty-one years since Poland first was quartered revindicate her personality and to reassert a posthe lustre of his virtues over the Exile's hand - ism. Time, misery and sorrow thinned the ranks they don't like liberty. This is my advice.

past we have to take in the proceedings is differ- freedom which we have to conquer. Let England say, like those of Thermopyle, "Wanderer, tell Yet, if such there were, they could have used the fording more or less protection against cavalry !ent. Since the thundering roar of cannon from Se- and Americe, proud in their present security-let England thou hast seen us lain obedience to our modest light of my poor oil lamp. It is true, the There, with a well provided redoubt, at the point bastopol continues to rouse an echo of mourning all those whom it may concern mind my warning country's laws." The English public have been people of Great Britain gave me tremendous theere where the only road from the interior splits in two grief from thousands of Bailish homesteads, is there while it is yet time to mind it. Those who will told of late that there never was a position of more in return, and went home to toil and then to sleep. towards Sebastopol and Balaklava, you, by your one British heart all along these isles the recesses not have contributed to the triumph of treedom, pressing nocessity, that demanded so imperiously a It is as if I would have been medicating tavors for position, already had restricted the communications of which had not thrilled with the inquiry, wheth while they had the power to contribute to it, shall mind that can forestall instead of waiting on events, me, whereas it was England's honor, dignity, in- of Sebastopol to that narrow corner, where it is now er the policy which presides over this war be a have forfeited their claims to a share in that mulual and can avert evils which it may be impossible to terest and success, that I held up before their eyes. your misfortune to be pent up. You would have wise one; whether those glorious dead, whom the guarantee. If all the signs do not deceive us, ye, repair, than the present position. That is perfectly They went to toil and to sleep, and the flower of cut off all the supplies from the interior, and no world admires and Great Britain bewails, have fal- men of Polan J, may be the first called to batter a just, though somewhat of an after fact wisdom, your nation went to die; and now after my disrelen a sanguinary tribute to dire necessity; or have breach. Many will stand by you, and others will come out too late. But if it be just, then there is garded words have proved true, one by one, from without having had to fight first separately an open they fallen but a wanton sacrifice? Can the aged fight the common battle elsewhere. But though no good service to England in fulling public first to last, some of them come and say, "The field battle, wherein the Russians are, certainly, mother, proud in her maternal joy yesterday and many days be, nearest is dearest and close by is opinion to sleep by advising it to let bygones be words. Kossuth spoke read like an inspiration of no match for your heroes. Instead of that, your childless to day; can the fatherless orphan, stand- best. It is not in vain that Nature and Nature is bygones. A forestalling mind must look to the a seer or a picture from history. (See Scottish army has been established so as to leave Sebasto-

equal share in paying the tribute of reneration to on arrogant conquerous, privileged murderers, and rule, will hand down with imperishable renown to and on history, to say whether I was exaggerating please. the memory of that noble effort of national virtue perjored kings. In that supreme trial the oppress the admiration of posterity, the impetences andor of or too barsh, in saying that England's policy has My opinion is, that yours being what is called a case would I have offered to the 100,000 Russians which we have assembled to commemorate, and sed nations will stand for one. Faults, the French and the stern and impassible courage been wrong; that it has been successful no where; moveable basis, the fleet, you could choese that the additional advantages of the strength of those all of os unite in good wishes for the full and per- errors, and misfortunes of the past, were not in of the Britons, who fought in the Crimea. Howisci resteration of Poland's independence, such as vain. It was a terrible ordeal-school but a school ever, they fight on a battle-held richer in glory than where? But you are told, for all consolation, that upon. The bulk of your allied squadron is actujustice claims, her imprescriptible national rights it was. All of us have learned something, and the in possible results, and richer in death. One more no "human foresight could have fally not south of Sebastopol, Bulaklava, but morth in the Bay. I would have forced the Russians etdemand, her dreadful long sufferings deserve, and best of what we have learned is, that the principle such victory as that of Irkermann, and the army is that position." 1, for one have foresold it, fact by of Sebastopol, off the Katscha river. Why not rehe security of Europe requires. But though all of of national fraternity is more than a philanthropic loss. It is a sad consolation to know that the fact, word by word, and I wonder how any think- main with the army there likewise! Why not and leave these commodities without the 190,000.

ing like a broken reed; can the widow cast upon God-made Hungary a neighbor to Poland and Po. past for instruction. The great lesson of accom. press.) Others come and say, "No human fore. pol perfectly free to communicate with the empire public charity, (and eleven thousand already they land a neighbor to Hungary Our enemies are the plished fact is, that England's policy in reference to sight could have anticipated the extraordinary po- of Russia. That is a strategical error, in my humare ;) can the nation, maimed by the loss of the same, and our cause is identical. The much I feel, the present war has been wrong in its direction, and sitions in which England finds herself." (See the ble opinion, not even justified by tactical considerbravest and best of her sons; can they comfort the little I may know, and all I can-my heart, my inefficient, unsuccessful, and disastrous in details - London Times.) Extraordinary! why? What is ations. By beseiging the north, instead of the themselves with repeating the words Paul Emilius brain, my arm-shall be with Poland. Remem. Let us analyze the situation. Your gigantic arma- there extraordinary in the inexorable logic of con- south of Sebastopol, you would have encountered spoke, when from the funeral abode of his sons he ber this. Yet, though I may have learnt some. da in the Baltic is nearly without a laurel to rest catenation between cause and effect? Is it extra- more of permanent fortifications, which are no difrode up in triumah to the capitol-can they say, thing, the pledge of my own traternal assistance is its head upon. To do something effective there, ordinary that Sebasjopol is found to be an entrench- ficulty for ingenuity, but would have encountered. "I feel the ruin of my homestead consoled by the good but a small matter. And even that little may be the cooperation of Sweden was a matter of prime ed camp with a numerous army in it? Is it extra- less of an entrenched camp, with a less numerous fortune of the Commonwealth?" Is there one man lost too soon. We are mortal men, and I grow old necessity. England did not get it, because Eng. ordinary that the Czar is pouring whole fresh ar- garrison, which make your real difficulty, and at all along these isles, in the breast of whom the and am careworn. However that is not worth land's policy was wrong. I told England eix mies to its defence? The Czar has been left per last, once the north side of fortifications taken, you question had not risen, whether there will be no while speaking of. I may be nothing, but Hungary months ago that the cooperation of Sweden is to feetly free and with ample time afforded to do it; would at once have become masters of the town better course for carrying on this war? A course is much. And it is the genius of Hungary which be got only by calling Poland to arms. And that nay, in fact, he has been invited to do it by the alike; whereas, on the contrary, the taking of the more sure to succeed, and richer in result, and not assures you, through my lips, Hungary will stand was the answer which, three months latter, King Turko Austrian treaty negotiated under England's town will not make you masters of the northern so dreadful in sacrifice? Yes, this question has by reviving Poland! Remember my words. This Oscar gave to General Baraguar D'Hilliers. - auspices. The extraordinary in the matter, is, forts-you would have to return for beseiging them You have taken Bomarsund-a small matter for- not that he has sent reinforcements to Sebastopol, to where you had better begun, which is not more science through the breast of all, and whenever it Last comes the advice. The present complica sooth-yet when the time comes, when necessity but that he has not sent double the number and a likely than that after taking the town, you shall has been asked, and whenever it stirred, the pale tions of Europe-a necessary result of the errors will force you to remember Poland, and shall have month earlier. I take this to be so extraordinary either have but to do what you did at Bomarsund, spectre of assassinated Poland must have risen be- and crimes of the past-cannot be brought to a de- to thank her for the advantage of getting Sweden that I find only two explanations to account for it. and sail off, and swiftly too, or shall have, in your fore your eyes; and the world's eye, speaking up- finite end without Poland's acting its part. Of two over to your side, then Bomarsund will have prov. The first is, that to begin a war against Russia with turn, to stand a seige, with the difference, that on the subject to the British nation, must have things, one: either an insufficient arrangement, ed an acceptable offer to Sweden; but you blew a landing expedition to the Crimes is an idea so while you were the beseigers Russia had to stand haunted the conscience of Britannia; -and dissim leaving the next future unsettled, and the war to it up, as if afraid of your own victory -as if bent supremely absurd, that the Czar, giving more cred- a seige in a fortified place, you, on the contrary, ulation may feign indifference and make a show of recur again, more dangerous to some, more tright- on the purpose not to have anything to offer to it for perspicacity to his enemies than they de- would have to stand it amidst the ruins, yawning, slighting opinions which it dislikes-yet, when sad tul to all who are parties to it; or the war is car. Sweden. What a gigantic blunder! England pre. served, did not believe it until you actually landed shattered, and smouldering. Even at the battle of reality bears out the truth of disregarded anticipa- ried on to a definitive issue. The next time it re- tended to strike a blow at the commerce of Russia off Eupatoria. Secondly and chiefly, you are in- Alma, glorious as it has been in personal gallartions, their recollection comes home with remorse curs, I apprehend it shall be England's turn to by blockading her coast, and England just succeed debted to Poland for not having to meet 100 000 try, from the Commander in chief down to the feet to the very resting place of careless neglect and of present in her fate a second Poland in history - ed to turn Russian commerce to Prussia England Russians more at Sebastopol. It England diddis- in rank and file, I can't help thinking that it has proud indifference. Under these circumstances May be even here at home, who knows? But bent her mind on bringing Austria over to herself regard the fact that Poland is the vulnerable part been a wanton sacrifice of valuable life, and very the 24th anniversary of the Polish Revolution of certainly in and about America and in India, Eng. -she has sacrificed to this one aim everything of Russ's, the Czar was prudent enough to mind it, detective in plan. A strong position should never 1830 is not a mere domestic commemoration, in land's proud standing presents many a vulnerable -numerous millions spent in vaiu; the life blood In the Crimea proud England and France attack be attacked when it can be carried by turning it; tended to rouse the spirit of the living by recollec. point. So far there is a difference between Russia of the flower of England spilt in vain; principles, him-he is content to oppose 100,000 men to them; and that was evidently the case. A march of two tion of a glorious past. It is a solemn warning for and the British Empire, not to the advantage of the reputation, the liberal character of the war, and the Danube the flower of the Turkish army, English miles up the Alma must have forced the self-preservation addressed to British State wisdom latter. England has many a vulnerable point; very issue of the war-everything, nearly her elated by victory, defies and menaces him-he is Russians either to retreat or to change their front, -it is a query by which the genius of the future is Russia has but one-Poland. We to those who, national honor included-and has your Government content to oppose 80,000. But to Poland, where with the loss of all the advantages of the position. about to test the vitality of the British Empire. Po- though at war with Russia, still disregard that Austria to whom there is not one man in arms, but where the un Not the wings, but the position had to be turned; land makes the query. England has to answer. - In the second alternative, why it is perfectly absurd it has sacrificed everything? - that Austria, of whom questionable five of a heroic nation's harred is and as to the battle itself, why, the turning of both England, gentlemen, and not this assembly. The to believe that matters can be carried on without even the Times (see November 10) is bound, at smouldering, he sent an army of 300,000 men, to the wings of a line of battle is certainly the worst transactions of the day will not be wound up by Poland. Those who mind this too late, will be last, to acknowledge, that "you are fighting her be prepared for any emergencies. Some may tell plan which could be imagined. It is condemned words spoken within these walls, nor by the pass- brought to remember it with regret. Therefore I buttle more than your own?" What a proud sneer- you that this is due chiefly to a precaution against by theory, as well as by all the history of modern ing cheers some of them may have met. This is say to you, men of Poland, gird your loins, sluming there was in official quarters when three Austria. But it is clear to demonstration, that the warfare. Also, it did not succeed on the right no question which England might dispose of by ber in your armor, but from this moment never months ago, I told the good people of England, Czar feels perfectly easy about the submissive obe- wing of the enemy, where it would have been of passing inside and over it. No answer will be an sleep. Remember the French proverb "Aide toi that it believes to pay, and to bleed for freedom, dience of his Proconsul in Vienna, or else he cer- importance. The success on the other wing was answer likewise. And such will be England's fu- et Dieu f'aidera." Help thyself and God will help while, in reality, it is made to fight for Austria? tainly would not have left the very existence of his just so much as if the French had been bent on ture as England's answer will be. As to ourselves thee. The moment is critical. It requires all the Now it came out, at last Truth will come out, representatives of other nationalities, we while wisdom, all the discretion, and all the resolution just as morder will. Well has your government of his good friend the Hapshurg. Yes, it is the ing driven into the sea, in case the English flank waiting that the hour for our own battle strikes, of every Polish patriot. I have heard some whis. gained Austria? Go and read the well founded name of Poland you have to thank for the fact that movement would have succeeded. And then the (and while preparing for it perhaps.) we recline pering about tricks discussed in the dark recesses lamentations in the organs, even the ministerial your army in the Crimea, all heroes as they are, battle was reduced to a parallel attack in front, on our arms and watch, and witness, and warn. of secret diplomacy. Oh! the fatal word—that organs of publicity, about the treacherous attained have not fallen a victim to overgrowing numbers. Which will so much as a perfect absence of any plan In keeping within the limits of this sphere, I workshop of conspiracy against mankind, fraught and the overbearing insolence of that Austria which But the situation is sad enough, such as it is. To be at all. It was a bull-fight-breast against breast ments of deep emotion that I rise. It is the cause would address myself first to you, my brethren in more and deadlier crimes than ever were brought your Government has courted with so much subof Poland that assembled us. How could I rise on misfortune, Polish exiles, and then to England, to light by tribunals and police courts. I warn the mission, and which, in return, facilities the entersuch an occasion without feeling deeply affect. Sir, if you give me leave. To you dear breiherin Polish nation to be on its guard. Cabinet diplo- prises of Russia, insults your Allies, and counter. as they are. Sir, I have not the pretention to say lish soldiers have carried the day. The French ed by the recollection that Lord Dubley Stuart is in exile I have a word of thanks to speak, and an macy maiy call on Poland out of dire necessity but acts you combinations? It is not only that my past position could impart authority to my have gloriously maintained their military renown, no more ! By his untimely death, you Sir, have assurance to give, and an advice to impart. It is of Poland, the Nation, takes not, in time, a stand to have not been and the English soldiers deserve the more praise, liberal progress. I have lost a friend to whom I by a netarious act of combined Royalty, which the tion of an equal who as well has assistance to give course; there you have the fruit of their heroic of having had to act the part of a soldier in our glo- lations give him a very scanty share in those imowe electual gratifude-and Exiles in misfortune Suriss Tacitus, Johannes Maller, well characteriz- as to receive, not merely an object of, but a party struggle-poor Wallachia, placed over into the rious war. My duties were high and great, but pulses of noble ambition, which the French soldier have not many friends. Humanity lost a friend, ed by saying that "God permitted the act to show in, the transaction—you may, once more, experi- treacherous hands of desposic Austria,—there is the somewhat of a different nature. They were just draw from the conscience that he carries the maas tew are living like him. Poland lost a friend, forth the morality of Kings." And it is twenty-four ence what you have already experienced from the Turkish army paralyzed on the one hand, and there what the duties of your Government are now, only terials of a Marshal's staff in his knapsack; a as there was none more devoted and sincere. Pri- years since downtrodden Powland made the great- secret transactions of the Vienna Congress in 1815, is, on the other hand, the Czar made and left free that mine were a great deal more difficult. We neglect on your part, by the bye, which is a dim vale mistortune, Sir, I can bear, and proudly taise est (not the last.) manifestation of her imperisha- where the name of your nation has been made use to throw overgrowing numbers upon the flank and had to fight two great powers alone. You are three est (not the last.) manifestation of the English civilization my shoulder under the load of sorrows manyfold ble vitafity, which the Cabinets of Europe were too of to secure concession which were not of your gallant tank in the Crimea. There great powers united to fight only one of them.— They have gained the day. All know to them weighing on them; but to see suffering humanity narrow minded to understand, or too corrupt to ap. concern, and the concessions once secured Poland you have the spirits of the Torkish army, high And I had no ready money—no rich treasury—and but the foor thousand wounded and dead, laid town deprived of its best, the purest of its friends, is too preciate—eighty-one years of still unretributed has been thrown overboard and sacrificed to ex- flowing as they were at the victories at Silistria no abundantly stored areenals, and a free commu- on that day, could have been foresooth! sal to witness even for me. The renown of his crime, and twenty-four years of misery in exite! pediency. You may see the trick performed once and Giusgevo, now depressed; there you have nication with all the world. I had to create every. However, all these and like mistakes enter only virtues secured to him the esteem of all good men It is a long time to suffer and not to despair. And more. Nobody in the world has a right to dispose the spirits of the Russian arms, as secondary considerations in the estimation of the What must my teelings be, Sir, after I have seen all along this time, you proscribe patriots of Poland of Poland's destinies, but Poland alone. I call on were, now restored. And oh! I could tell you and all military implements—secluded, as we were situation, such as it is. The chief error (if not him associating himselt publicly to me-to me, you were suffering and did not despair. You stood, the Polish Nation to take, in time, such a stand what it is to neglect the moment of spirited excite. from all the world, and in the interior with the de more) on the part of the Western Powers is in the whom he aristocracy of England anxiously shun- up before God and the world, a firing statue, with that, on the one hand, nobody shall dare to usurp ment in a victorious army,—and could tell you luded one-third of our population at med with fire very idea of beginning a war against Russia by an ned, because I landed on your shores not with a the unquenchable life-flame of particism stream- her rights, and, on the other hand, nobody shall what it is to give time to a demoralized enemy to and morder, in a condition worse than the Vesdee expedition to the Crimes. Not that I was of opinion was to France, or Ireland sometimes to you. These that this war should have been brought to an end part and private crime; but a persecuted exile, protest of eternal right against the sway of improus Nation: Be prepared to receive assistance, whence One such moment's neglect in a war—and it is were my duties, and besides, my duty has been to without wresting the Crimea from the Czar and defallen a victim to the duties of a patriot? They might, a Mene, Tekel, Upharsin, writen in letters of ever it may come, but I am decidedly of shunned me. He stood up at my side, and cast burning blood on the walls of overweening despot. trust in Kings. They cannot like Poland, because may be lost by it. And last-alas!-not least,- direct the war in general-just as the duries of your the opinion; that this aught to have been one of the there is Sebastopol. Every British heart has watch. Government are. Yet a soldier I was not at that last strokes, and by no means the first; in no case, What must be my feelings after I have witnessed of your scattered Israel. You have carried your Now to England, Sir! if the assembly desires ed the great bloody drama there with intense anx. time; I could not draw the plan for a battle or dihis untiring exertions in behalf of prostrate free- dead to the grave, and those who survived went to me to go on—if not I can stop. First and before lety. I am not wanted to tell you the tale of your rect it myself. But the fact is, had I been able to I had, by successful victories in Bessarabia and tom, and in relief of its marryrs in distress.—after suffer and to hope. Wherever oppressed freedom all, I desire to pay the modest tribute formy bigh heart. I am not wanted to describe how your brave add the skill of a soldier to patriotic devotions, no around Odessa, driven the Russians back from the I have enjoyed the intimacy of his affections and reared a banner, you railied around—the living state of the bare found there are entrenched camp with an articles from would have crept in our ranks and Hunga-Black Sea, and perfectly isolated the Crimea from the benefit of his support in public persecution, toe changed to a fighting hero. Many of yours fell, with so much glory walks the path of honor, of my instead of a fortress with a garrison, as your ty were now free-not all the Czars of the world the rest of the Russian Empire, then, taking my alike as in private distress of my own as well as of and wen might triumphed once more over virtue danger, and of death, nothing dannied by the reflection of my forces in a corthousand of my brothers in misfortune, and have and right, you resumed the wandering exile's walk- tion which could have escaped the mind of many of armies are pouring upon your shattered ranks, as may not yet be called upon to serve my country? remient focality somewhere above Olessa, -which, seen him especially devoted, with all the prese ing stick and did not despair. Many of you who them, that, the post of honor to which they have your Government appears not to have appropriated, Therefore I thought that the time of my exile may remember, might have been accomplished, as cirretent real of his noble soul to the cause of Poland were young when they last saw the sun rise over been sent is certainly not the best which might or it would be more than error to not as they did be best employed in preparing for possible emerall through the long period of gloom which unprin Poland's mountains and plains, have their hair have been chosen to begin a war against Rus. All I have wanted is to quote from public reports gencies, by learning what unfortunately I have not -I would have certainly sent some thirty thousand cipled men of hule taith cast over the very name of whitened and their strength broken with age, with sia with, and that wiser policy, by not fettering these few words: "The question is no longer known before, and modest as my humble abilities men to take Sebastopol; who, heroes as they are, the ill fa'ed land? Time-hallowed private affec- anguish and with misery, but the partiolic heart those auxiliary elements, which circumstances imtions, the faithful attachment to which is but an ev. keeps the freshness of its young in peratively advised to recur to, might have spared "seige of Sebastopol, though not raised, may be and discretion, guided by experience, may master Chief, as Lord Radian is, would have done the dence of his high morallity may have led him love of Poland, young in aspirations for her free- much of their beroic blood, all in promising richer "regarded as at a standstill. We are reduced to the mysteries of an art, I am a soldier now, and work up to this day, and would have found Max sometimes too much to identify with individuals a dom, young in hope and youthfully fresh in deter- results. Sir, I can tell something of what is hero- "the defensive," Such is the situation—the leaves feel competent to judge of military matters. With schizorr cut off from every hope of relief, fighting cause which if it would, cannot admit the nation to mination to break Poland's chains. What a rich ism. The unnamed demignds of Hungary, who have turned; Russia is the besieger, you are the this consciousness, I say, there have certainly been at the besi but for miditary reputation, as General be absorbed by a party. But he always acted with source of noble deeds, patriotism must be, to give fought the gigantic struggle of 1849, may well claim the besieged. And at what price has this situation some very serious mistakes connected with the op. Chassa did at Antwerp. a perfect good faith that has served well his Poland you strength so much to suffer and never to despair. I a place of immortal renown in the ranks of the been purchased ! Gentlemen, on the 5th of July, erations in the Crimea. I consider it an unaccountdest; and so much is sare, that Poland and op- You have given to all of us your younger breth- bravest of the brave. And I who have witnessed ten weeks before England embarked on that ex able mistake to have engaged in the siege at Se- lectly content with knowing the Russian fleet perpressed humanity never can have a friend more ren in the family of exiles. You have given us a this Leay history must go back for centuries to find pedition, ill-advised as well as ill-prepared, I, in a hastopol, without taking previously hold of the strain feetly paralyzed by the very presence of your wastserviced than him. To me, Sir, it has been a source mobile example, which will be fruitful in due time out a bank like that of lukermann, where 14,000 speech, the contents of which it would have been of Perekop in the north, and taking command by ly superior squadron in the Black Sea, (an easy of great consolation in my public misfortune and When the battle of Cannæ was lost, and Haxxizan men resisted victorionsly the valorous attack of well for Great Britain to mind, spoke these words sea of the bay of Keotsch in the east, so as to premy private sorrows, to have been able to boast of was measuring by bushels the rings of the fallen 60,000 well disciplined troops, and where almost to Glasgow: "Net one of five of your braves will vent, or, at least, retard the reinforcements, which lance) I would have been rather glad to know we such friends in exile as you, Sir, Sir Joshua, and Roman squires, the Senare of Rome voted thanks every man who fought on your side laid low one see Albion again. Of couse I used the number fig. it was easy to forsee, that Rossaia well send. And that the necessity of keeping Sebastopol well garthe late Lord Dudley. He has departed. I may to Consul TEXENTIVE VARNO, "tor not having des- of the enemy. The battle of Alma, defective as it unatively, as indicative of a great loss. Now it is that neglect, once committed, I certainly cannot isoned serves me like a diversion, by keeping so transfer to you, Sir, the affection I owed him. Yet, paired of the commonwealth. Proscribed patrioss was in dispositions and therefore barren in its re- a sad reality. Number your dead, your wounded understand the logic of shifting the basis of opera much smaller the main Russian army, which I as long as this heart of mine may yet continue to of Poland! I thank you, and history will thank sults, has been glorious in execution and covered and your disabled-more than 20,000 men out of tions down to the southernmost corner of the Peninthrob, that bean altar on which the pure you, that you have not despaired of resurrection with a lastre of immortality the renown of the 30,000 are already lost. My sad anticipations are sula, thus leaving the whole of the land free to decisively in the field, in no case would I have restal frame of gratitude never shall cease to blaze. and liberty. This is the thruks I had to give - British and French soldiery, but the banks of liberally folfilled. And here, at home? Why here draw land supplies to Sebasinpol; and leaving the served my disposable forces as you did by separat-Peace to his ashes and honor to his memory! The time draws night when the oppressed nations ermann, from the first in rank to the last, was a the number of widows and orphans applying for Russians not only entirely at liberty to send rein. Ing from the 120,000 on the Danube; in no case Now to the task of the day. All of us here pre- will call their oppressors to a last account, and the prodigy of valor, scarcely inferior to the miracle of support to patrixic charity amounts to 11,000 - torcements to the Crimes, but leaving to them, be- would I have invited Russia to bring down upon sent harmonize in the sentiments prompted by the millions of freemen, in the fullness of their right Agincourt. The history of 1854, whatever may be Soch is the position, gentlemen. Now, with that sides, perfectly upon and unimpended, to enter my divided force, 100 000 men, to a position the solemonity of the occasion. All of us claim an and of their self-conscious strength, pass judgment its records about the state-wisdom of those who position thus analyzed, I call on cotemporary age, Sebastopol in large or small numbers, just as they must alread about the state-wisdom of those who is claim an equal share in these sentiments, the emotion—it is the only effective guarantee of that some dead around Separate but to know all this. draw your fines bearing on the Beltee River, af- men, but in no case would I have permitted them